HAYWARD—MORE THAN FIVE HUNDRED attended the fiftieth institution anniversary celebration of Eden No. 113 October 12. Frank B. Leonard, chairman of the golden jubilee committee, extended a welcome. Grand President Eldred L. Meyer reviewed the Parlor's history, and urged that Hawaii be denied statehood.

Grand Secretary John T. Regan, on behalf of No. 113, presented fifty-year membership emblems to the following charter members of Eden or their representatives: Dr. A. J. Powell, James D. Smalley, Neal McConaghy, William Bellina, M. B. Templeton and John E. Geary. Charter Member McConaghy responded for the recipients.

Past Grand Lewis F. Byington reviewed California's history, and referring to the typical American spirit which has characterized that history declared that "We needn't fear a foreign army if this spirit of patriotism will continue to blossom."

On behalf of Hayward No. 122 N.D.G.W., a beautiful gavel was presented to Eden by Mrs. Emma Oakes, a charter member of Hayward. Numerous entertainment features were introduced. Committees in charge of the outstanding golden jubilee celebration included:

Fifty-year Emblems Presented.

Ferndale—At a largely attended joint meeting here October 14, the Humboldt County Parlors—Humboldt No. 14 of Eureka, Arcata No. 20 and Ferndale No. 93—received an official visit from Grand Trustee Charles A. Redding. Grand Inside Sentinel Harold Zimmerman was also a visitor. Dinner, prepared by the "pep" committee and Chas. Kistner was served at 7 o'clock.

During the evening fifty-year membership emblems were presented Charter Members Frank Herrick of Humboldt Parlor and Frank G. Williams of Ferndale Parlor, both presentations being made by Henry Giacomini. Charter Member J. A. Shaw of Ferndale was to have received an emblem also, but was absent in Canada.

The Parlors of Humboldt County will hold another joint meeting in the near-future to receive Grand President Eldred L. Meyer.

Would Salvage Historic Building.

Fresno—Fresno City had its annual Fiesta of Fortune September 22, and in the historical pageant Fresno No. 25 had an exact replica of Fresno County's first Court House, at Millerton.

This structure, erected in 1867 amidst the oaks on the banks of the San Joaquin River in the foothills some twenty-two miles northeast of the present county seat in Fresno City, is the last building of a once-prosperous community. When the Friant Dam, a unit of the Central Valleys Water Project, is completed, this structure will be covered by 200 feet of water. An effort is being made by the Native Sons and the Fresno Historical Society to salvage the historic building, which housed the Fresno County offices and also served as the county jail.—A.H.D.

Feature Exhibit at Harvest Festival.

Colusa—A feature exhibit at the third annual Colusa County Harvest Festival, held October 8, 9 and 10, was that sponsored by Colusa No. 69—a sand table showing Colusa as an Indian village in 1849 and also as a thriving community in 1894.

Actively identified with the festival, which was a huge success, were the following members of the Parlor: Postmaster and Supervising Deputy R. G. Power, general chairman; O. L. Hampton, assistant general chairman; F. H. Ford, secretary; Assistant Postmaster and Recording Secretary Phil J. Humburg, chairman historical exhibits; Financial Secretary Stuart B. Waite, chairman entertainments; A. B. Davison, chairman press and publicity.

Past Presidents Assembly Instituted.

Mountain View—Peninsula Assembly No. 15, composed of Santa Clara and San Mateo Counties past presidents, was instituted October 5 by Lieutenant Governor General M. O. Peterson, Past Governor General Frank Roemer, Secretary-Treasurer General John T. Regan and Acting Marshal General Raymond O'Neil.

The thirty-three charter members of the Assembly were initiated by a ritual team of San Francisco Assembly No. 1 headed by Governor Ray Conroy. The following officers of the new Assembly were elected, and installed by District Deputy Governor General Edward T. Schnarr:

THE SEASON OF GOOD WILL.....

To All Parlors, Grand Officers and Deputy Grand Presidents, N.S.G.W.

My Brothers:

The time of the year when the season of Good Will is so manifest is rapidly approaching.

As you know, the months of November and December have been designated as reinstatement months in our Order, and the one request I am making of each and every one of you is to see the Secretary of your Parlor, and secure from him application blanks and a few names of former Brothers whom you can contact in an effort to get their reinstatement applications.

Our Constitution provides that a former member who has been suspended for non-payment of dues may make application in the same manner as a new member, and be reinstated to membership by paying in advance an amount equal to six months dues. (Read Article VII, Section 5, Page 82, Constitution for Subordinate Parlors.)

Surely here is an opportunity to exemplify the spirit of Good Will and of Friendship! Seek out those worthwhile former members—many of them loyal Native Sons at heart—who, during the past few years, were forced to give up their membership but who now, with your invitation, will gladly come back into our fold. Won't you please take at least one hour of your time during these two months and extend this invitation to our former Brothers?

The Admission Day Class Initiations were great successes, for which I thank you. Don't overlook the fact that your Parlor, by a little extra effort, may qualify for one of the cash membership prizes that I have offered, and that the new membership contests close on the last day of this December. Former members who are reinstated in a Parlor of course count the same as new members.

We have already accomplished much this term! More new members have been initiated than in any similar time for many years past, and with your still further co-operation it is hoped that a gain in membership this year will be shown.

Any gain in membership, regardless of how small, will be a moral victory, and will be the means of still greater victories for our Order in the years to come.

My sincere thanks to each and every one of you for what you have already done in carrying out my plans to increase the numerical strength of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West.

Sincerely and Fraternally yours,

Eldred L. Meyer.

Grand President.

STATEHOOD FOR HAWAII OPPOSED

A BILL IS NOW BEFORE THE FEDERAL Congress proposing statehood for the Territory of Hawaii. The Order of Native Sons of the Golden West is on record as opposed to the plan. A Congressional Commission is now investigating the question, and under date of San Francisco, October 13, 1937, the Native Sons, through Grand President Eldred L. Meyer and Grand Secretary John T. Regan, dispatched the following to the Commission in Hawaii. It sets forth good and sufficient reasons why statehood should not be granted:

"To the Chairman and Members of the Congressional Commission for Investigation of the Hawaiian Statehood Question—Gentlemen: The Order of Native Sons of the Golden West herewith submits for careful consideration of your Honorable Committee a resume of the facts, together with memoranda of the authenticating records, which impelled the Grand Parlor of the N.S.G.W. in convention assembled in May 1935, to record its opposition to the proposed grant of statehood to the Territory of Hawaii. That action was taken notwithstanding sympathy for the citizens of Hawaii in their aspirations for the dignity of statehood and with appreciation of what they have accomplished in creating a fruitful and valuable part of the United States. It was done, however, with the conviction that the interest of nation and of Hawaii as well forbid the grant of such statehood at this time or for some time to come.

"None of the facts herewith presented was submitted to or given consideration by the subcommittee of the House Committee on Territories at the hearing held by it in Honolulu in September 1935, so far as is indicated by the Committee's printed report. They are facts, however, which Congress will expect to receive from your commission with any comment prompted by your investigation, as a necessary foundation for such decision or action as may be taken in connection therewith. We offer therefore no apology for this presentation and are prepared to furnish in support thereof any additional detail in our possession.

"POINTS OF THE BRIEF.

"1. Hawaii is the nation's western outpost, 2,000 miles from the mainland, and an integral part of its defense against foreign attack. Therefore it should be assured now, and for the entire future, of political control dependable under all possible condition.

"2. Governor Lawrence M. Judd, a lifetime resident of the Territory and intimately familiar with all conditions therein, in 1931, in vetoing a resolution of the Hawaiian Legislature asking for statehood, declared that such request should be postponed until time had shown how the Asiatic majority of its citizenry would exercise control of the franchise. The conditions which six years ago induced that statement on Governor Judd's part have so developed since as to furnish convincing proof of the wisdom of his suggestion.

"3. Asiatics constitute 75 percent of the total population of the Territory and of their number over one-half are Japanese. Conditions in Asia today, which are likely to become more pronounced in the near future, preclude the probability of assimilation of sentiment and mutual confidence between Hawaiian citizens of Japanese origin on one side and those of Chinese, Korean and Filipino extraction on the other.

"4. In any event, the Japanese outnumber the other Asiatic races combined and will steadily increase their majority because of their large percentage of women and the very small percentage of women in the other three races. There has been steady decrease of Chinese population in Hawaii for years. Under exclusion there will be steady decrease of all Asiatic population except Japanese.

"5. In 1936 the Japanese in Hawaii numbered 149,886 (40 percent of the total population). Of that number over two-thirds (105,000) were American citizens by birth ,90 percent of whom had been taught loyalty to Japan in Japanese language schools under alien Shinto Buddhist teachers. The official statistics show that the two-thirds of those American-born Japanese have retained their Japanese citizenship and are called upon thereby to obey Japan's orders in peace and in war, although free to relieve themselves of that obligation by a simple declaration before the Japanese Consulate.

"6. Among registered voters the Japanese constitute already the largest racial group. Their group is increasing more rapidly than any other group. The smallest racial group is the Caucasian. The official statistics show that two-thirds of those Japanese voters have failed or declined to rid themselves of the obligations imposed by their Japanese citizenship.

"7. The Japanese already occupy a prominent position in political matters, electing members to the Territorial Legislature and to prominent positions in the several county and city governments. Because of their number and purchasing power, their force and ability, they are rapidly becoming the ruling factor in the Territory. The entire fishing fleet of the Territory is owned or controlled by Japanese and consists of well-motored boats capable of remaining at sea for weeks or even a few months at a time. The States of Oregon and Washington for fifteen years or more have forbidden the ownership, control or use of similar boats by aliens.

"8. California contains twice as much Japanese population as the other forty-seven states combined. It has therefore some knowledge of the facts and problems involved. In California the individual worth and ability of Nisei (American citizens of Japanese ancestry) are thoroughly appreciated. But it is also realized that their ties to the motherland are still so close and the efforts of Japan to retain control of them through culture and family influence so persistent that to place under their control the destiny of an American state 2,000 miles from the mainland would certainly invite trouble.

"9. A striking proof of the influence controlling Hawaii is offered in the use during a large part of 1935 in the public high schools of Honolulu of a textbook on Japan prepared and issued under co-operation of the Institute of Pacific Relations, the Society for Cultural Relations of Japan, and the Territorial Board of Education. That was done notwithstanding protest made to the Board of Education in December 1934 (suppressed) and to the Territorial Legislature in March 1935 (referred to committee and pigeonholed). The same book was urged for use in the high schools of continental United States and in consequence a protest was filed in June 1935 with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction of California with proofs of gross misrepresentation in the book, in Japan's interest, of events in Asia during the present century and of the facts in connection with Japanese immigration in the United States. It was publicity, in connection with that protest, which forced withdrawal of the book.

"10. The prominent Caucasian interests in the Territory frankly recognized the growing

HOMELESS CHILDREN

A Worthwhile Non-sectarian Endeavor Sponsored and Supported by the Orders of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West.

The slogan suggested last year by the Native Sons and the Native Daughters Central Committee was "A Contribution From Every Member of Every Parlor!"

As there are members of the Orders who are not always able to attend a Parlor meeting, and do not hear the correspondence read by the secretary, but have done their full part in the work of the Homeless Children, it has seemed wise to put another reminder in the columns of The Grizzly Bear Magazine, so kindly given to aid in the "finding of homes for homeless children" or, as we might now say, "finding of children for childless homes," so greatly has the list of applicants increased during the past four years.

Again the same careful study has been given by the Central Committee to the needs of the work, and the finance committee has set $19,575 as the operating budget for 1937-1938. The Committee has given careful consideration to the apportioning of the $16,000 to the Parlors, and has aimed to be just and helpful in establishing the quotas as a goal toward which the Parlors may work. The Native Sons Parlors' quota, $2,600; Native Daughters Parlors, $2,-600; Native Sons and Native Daughters Parlors jointly, usually two Parlors in a county, $2,100; Alameda County Parlors Native Sons and Native Daughters, $2,100; Los Angeles County Parlors Native Sons and Native Daughters, $3,000; Orange County Parlors Native Sons and Native Daughters, $150; San Bernardino County Parlors Native Sons and Native Daughters, $200; San Diego County Parlors Native Sons and Native Daughters, $150; San Francisco County Parlors Native Sons and Native Daughters, $3,-600.

Number children placed by the Committee since April 1, 1937, 77; replacements, 4; number of homes secured, 81; total number placements since August 1910, 4,852; total number replacements, 544; total number homes secured, 5,396.

Children adopted since April 1, 1937, 72; total number adoptions, 4,054; applications since April 1, 1937, have averaged six each working day; total number of applications, 12,724.

Attention is called to the need of claiming exemption from the Federal tax on admissions, if the admission exceeds forty cents, before tickets for homeless children benefits are printed. Kindly complete the Parlor data, properly acknowledge, and forward claim to the Central Committee, 998 Eddy Street, San Francisco, in order that the beneficiary may sign and file promptly. And please make all checks payable to the Native Sons and Native Daughters Central Committee on Homeless Children.

A color scheme of vivid red and blue, to match the team's uniforms, was beautifully carried out in the banquetroom, the table at which sat the team being centered by a mound of tokay grapes atop which was a beautiful lighted ship. Mms. Elsie O'Brien, Alice Clayton, Flora Schmittgen and Frieda Dalton, co-chairmen of the occasion, were assisted by Mms. State Flag Given School.

Placentia—A beautiful California State (Bear) Flag made its initial appearance October 6 on the new auditorium platform of the Placentia Unified High and Grammar School, Grace No. 242 being the donor. Helen Anderson gave a brief and compact history of the flag, and President Alice Davis made the presentation and told a grizzly bear story that delighted the students.

Johanna Lemke, accompanied by Betty Steen, sang "I Love You, California," and the ceremonies were concluded with selections by the school organist, Mrs. Walter Kempin.

At her hilltop home overlooking beautiful Orange County, Erma Watts was hostess October 11 to the Parlor's sewing club. Grand Trustee Mary B. Noerenberg and her mother, Mrs. Brobeck, were among the special guests. A great deal of work for the October 15 and 16 rummage sale was accomplished.—M.E.

The Grand President expressed pleasure in the active work of these remote Parlors, and spoke in an interesting way of the projects of the Order and the growing recognition of its importance in the state. The guest of honor was the recipient of two gifts, some exquisite needlework made for her by Emma Evans, the oldest member of Eschscholtzia, and a picture of Mount Shasta.

Sunday, through the courtesy of a friend, the Grand President had the opportunity of viewing magnificent mountain scenery on a drive over the summit of the Salmon Mountains, and of enjoying the interesting sights in one of the oldest mining towns in the state, Sawyers Bar, the home of Mountain Dawn Parlor.—M.K.H.

Springs, the three Calaveras County Parlors—Ruby No. 46 of Murphys, Princess No. 84 of Angels Camp and San Andreas No. 113—held a joint meeting at San Andreas October 1 to receive Grand President Ethel I Begley on her official visit. Others in attendance were Past Grand Gladys E. Noce, three charter members of Ursula No. 1 (Jackson)—Henrietta O'Neill, Mrs. Podesta-Ferrari and Supervising Deputy Emma Boarman-Wright—and Deputy Hildred Mayo. The total attendance was approximately 100.

Nine candidates for San Andreas were initiated. Music for the occasion was under the direction of Oleta Meyer, who sang "I Love You, California," during the initiatory ceremonies. Group singing at the dinner and during the meeting was under the leadership of Adeline Squellati. Floral decorations effectively carried out the colors of the Order in red, white and gold. Mae Kent and Grace Tiscornia acted on the committee.—M.A.G.

Pioneers Entertained.

Willows—For the twenty-fifth time, Berryessa No. 192 entertained the Glenn County Pioneers at dinner September 27. The banquetroom was beautifully decorated in red, white and yellow, and the spirit of the happy occasion, so keenly anticipated by the guests, was uppermost. President Allene Murphy welcomed the Pioneers, and to each gave a silver remembrance. The following program was presented:

Vocal solo, "Fair Land of Gold," Allene Murphy, accompanied by Laura Cummins; pledge to the Flag, led by Deputy Bertha Richter; yodeling, Miss Vivian Hastain; vocal solo, "Little Old Lady," Allene Murphy, accompanist Laura Cummins, with impersonations in pioneer costumes by Frances Davis, Ethel Killebrew, Gertrude Hammond, Bertha Richter; cake walk, Frances Davis and Dr. Etta Lund; rye waltz, Leonora Neaty and Ethel Killebrew; tap dancing, Nora Lou Feeney; community singing.

Among the Pioneers present were Mrs. Milton French, who has attended all of the twenty-five dinners, and Mrs. Katherine Sehorn, who came to California in 1854 and has since resided in Colusa and Glenn Counties; although 82 years of age she recently took an airplane ride from Willows to Marysville and return. The dinner was under the capable chairmanship of Grace Bunnell and an excellent committee, who received much praise, as did also Adele Masterson, Florence Walcott, Myrtle Johnson, Vi Williams and Laura Shelley, responsible for the beautiful decorations, and Frances Davis, chairman of entertainment.—G.V.H.

Victory and Anniversary Celebrated.

Oakland—Since winning the state drill team championship at Santa Monica, the "Green Patrol" has enjoyed pleasant evenings given in their honor by various organizations. October 5 Argonaut No. 166 celebrated the victory of the team and also the twenty-ninth anniversary of the Parlor with a banquet. Mamie Ramos was chairman of the evening, and guests were Deputy Esther Ragon, President Marie Silva of Fruitvale and Dorothy Davis. Many oldtime members were present, as well as Charter Members Ada Spilman and Mary J. Little.

Past President Mary E. Brusie entertained at the banquet with a beautiful recitation of a Western romance. The gold cup won by the "Patrol" in the Santa Monica Admission Day parade was officially presented to the Parlor by Captain Margie Welsh, with a promise that the team will continue its good work. President Rena Valerga accepted the trophy on behalf of the Parlor, and thanked the team for its splendid work and the honor brought home.—M.W.

Plaque Dedicated.

Stockton—October 6, Joaquin No. 5 dedicated a Tuolumne County marble plaque for the Sequoia gigantea planted by the Parlor May 28, 1932, in Victory Park in memory of James Turner, last member of the Society of San Joaquin Pioneers of California. Past Grand Mamie G. Peyton, chairman of the dedication, gave a brief history of the society.

Among those who signed the roll was James Turner, who located in San Joaquin County August 1, 1850, and resided there until his death, at the age of 100 years, in 1932. Others participating in the program were Earle Rowland, Miss Josephine Liesy, Mrs. L. A. Mills, Mrs. Lewis Wright and Mrs. Charlotte Clark.

In recognition of Columbus Day, Joaquin had an Italian revue, October 12, announced in radio style by Miss Marion Grondona. Past Grand Carrie Durham presented a short program on history and landmarks. Supervising Deputy Ada Javete was the honored guest of the occasion. Mary Ricker was the general chairman, and an Italian dinner was in charge of Mrs Adelle Campodonico Parnell.—H.F.C.

Charter Members Conduct Meeting.

Fresno—Fresno No. 187 celebrated its twenty-seventh anniversary October 15 with a dinner. The members were dressed in old-fashioned costumes, as were the dolls which were used as table decorations, with a covered wagon as the centerpiece. Following the dinner these charter members, who were guests of the evening, conducted the meeting: Eva Paul, Nancy Brander, Sade Smith, Jennie Lessman and Avis Burke. The sixth charter member, Melissa Noonan, who resides in Santa Monica and is 81 years old, sent greetings and regretted her inability to attend. Each charter member was presented with a lovely gift.

A public card party was held at the home of Mrs. Harriet Boust October 23. The committee in charge included Mary Ward, Mary Aubery, Edna Wolfe and Jessie Boyd. Edna Wolfe, Iva Babcock, Mary Aubery and Avis Burke constituted a committee that met with the Native Sons and planned participation in the oldtimers day at Madera October 30. Fresno will have an open meeting November 5. In charge of arrangements are Edith Bartholomew, Maude Crosby and Olga Klette.—M.C.C.

Supervising Deputy Given Reception.

Oakland—Aloha No. 106 had an informal reception for Supervising Deputy Irma S. Murray October 5. President Thelma Dobyne made a presentation on the Parlor's behalf, and games were played. Refreshments were served at a table centered by a basket containing African marigolds, and placecards were of a floral design. A rummage sale held under the supervision of Mrs. Murray netted the Parlor a fine sum.

The annual Hallowe'en party held jointly with Athens No. 195 N.S.G.W. was an event of October 26. All in attendance were in costume, and after appropriate games seasonal refreshments were served at gaily decorated tables. The affair was in charge of Jennie Peterson and the social committee of both Parlors. The usual turkey whist party, also a joint affair of Aloha and Athens, will be held November 16 at Native Sons Hall.

Members of the homeless children committee are now meeting weekly, so that a full chest may be sent Miss Mary Brusie, secretary of the Central Committee, in the very near future. Alma Lilienthal is the chairman.—G.I.F.

NEWSY N.D.G.W. PARAGRAPHS.

Past President Jane Ezettie was presented with a gift by the officers at a party at the home of Mrs. Vidy. Plans are being perfected for the annual card party in November for the benefit of the homeless children.—E.I.

Eureka—A district meeting of the Humboldt County Parlors—Occident No. 28 of Eureka, Oneonta No. 71 of Ferndale and Reichling No. 97 of Fortuna—was held here October 8. Mrs. Mercy Mullin, only surviving charter member of Occident, was the honor-guest. A program was presented by Marie East Linser, Evelyn Jackson, Sadie Barry, Elizabeth Foster and Joseph Razaia.—G.H.

Oakland—Piedmont No 87 initiated a candidate October 21. Mrs. Carol King had charge of refreshments for the evening. Miss Helen McGuire was chairman of a whist party October 28. All members are working hard to make a success of the December bazar under the chairmanship of Gretta Murden.—E.C.

The big annual card party of the combined San Jose Parlors for the benefit of the homeless children will be held early in December. The past president club of Vendome, Mrs. Clara Gairaud president, opened after the summer recess in the beautiful home of Mrs. Lloyd Buffington. Assisting hostesses were Mms. H. J. Dougherty and Robert Leaman, Misses Beldon Gallagher and Lucy Blackwell.—C.G.

CALIFORNIA PIONEER OF 1848.

Editor Grizzly Bear—In the October issue of The Grizzly Bear, in the column headed "Passing of the California Pioneer," is a paragraph regarding my father, James Brown, who passed away at Mountain View in September. The article is incorrect, as it states that he crossed the plains in 1865. My father was a small boy who came with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Brown, with the Peter Lassen party in 1848. I am not sure, but I think he was probably the last of that party. I am writing this thinking you might care to have the correct record. Sincerely, ESTELLE BROWN MARQUART, Cambria, California, October 5.

James Ewing Brown, a native of Missouri, 90; as an infant-in-arms crossed the plains with the Peter Lassen party, arriving at Bidwell Bar, Butte County, in 1848; resided in Monterey, Santa Clara and Humboldt Counties; died at Mountain View, survived by a wife and four children.—Editor.

James French Dorrance

SANTA BARBARA PARLOR NO. 116 Native Sons of the Golden West is preparing to celebrate its golden jubilee the latter part of November with a banquet and entertainment calculated to rate a mention in the history of outstanding local events. The Parlor was instituted November 26, 1887, with a membership of fifty. Growing with the years, the Parlor at this writing numbers 232 members, with every prospect that the quarter-thousand mark will be reached by anniversary time.

Five charter members of the Parlor are still affiliated, four residing in Santa Barbara and the other in Los Angeles. They will be specially honored guests at the banquet. Included in the quintet are Caesar Lattaillade, Alphonso H. Den, Henry Meyers, Louis F. Ruiz and H. Wingate Lake.

Past Grand President Judge Fletcher A. Cutler of San Francisco will be the speaker of the evening, his subject being "The Growth of the Native Sons Order as an Influence for California Betterment." Other Past Grand Presidents who have been invited to attend the banquet include Justice Emmett Seawell of the California Supreme Court, Louis F. Byington and Harmon D. Skillin of San Francisco, and Herman Lichtenberger and John T. Newell of Los Angeles.

Grand President Eldred L. Meyer of Santa Monica has expressed interest in this golden anniversary observance and will head a delegation of present grand officers. From the south are expected Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth of Los Angeles, Grand Marshal Walter C. Richards of Wilmington, and Grand Organist Roger M. Johnson of Los Angeles.

Junior Past Grand President Hartley Russell of San Francisco will be at the banquet board if possible. Invitations have been sent to other grand officers in the north, including Grand Vice-presidents Joseph J. McShane, Jesse H. Miller and Henry S. Lyon, and Grand Secretary John T. Regan. An insistent invitation will go to Clarence M. Hunt, general manager and editor of The Grizzly Bear.

Past President Francis V. Vestal is general chairman of the golden jubilee celebration. His aides are Ray Latham, good of the order committee; District Deputy Grand President A. C. Dinsmore, candidates; A. J. Janssens, program; Walter Cummings, attendance; Paul Sweetser, initiation.

CURRENT EVENTS IN CHINA DISCUSSED.

October 21 Santa Barbara Parlor staged a most entertaining session which featured an oyster stew making contest for the local championship. Deputy A. C. Dinsmore competed with Senior Past President James Sloan at the stew pans. The product of each chef was so toothsome that the judges were unable to indicate a preference, and the two were declared co-champions. In the stew consumption test, members faced a past record of sixteen bowls consumed to the last drop. When half-way through his seventeenth bowl Thursday night Second Vice-president Frank Huffman was declared the winner.

An interesting program by talented outsiders was offered. C. Laurence Smith, news editor of the Santa Barbara News-Press, recently returned from long press service at Shanghai, discussed current events in China. Francis W. Hilton, Western story writer and author of the popular novels "The Pioneer Herd," "Mad Man Mesa" and "Hell Crazy Range," was another speaker. The program concluded with a stunt in behalf of the Homeless Children fund.

INITIATION DINNER

Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W. held a most successful initiation dinner at "La Hacienda," Santa Barbara headquarters of the Elks, Monday evening, October 25. Mrs. Eugene Ireland was chairman of the evening, Mrs. U. Dardi assisting. The speaker was Past Grand President Cora B. Sifford of Ventura, who spoke stirringly on "The Growth of Native Daughterdom." The dinner program was arranged by Mrs. Fred Acres, supervising district deputy, and Mrs. Martin J. Coen, district deputy. Mrs. Joseph Moses looked after the decorations.

The Parlor took over a storeroom for a salvage sale October 23 at which a satisfactory sum was raised. Mrs. Leslie Alderson, chairman of the sale committee, was assisted by Mms. Mable Erwin, Justine Meloling, R. Schuld, Frank Castro, William Megener, Henry Griffith and Albert Ames.

dangers as above referred to, when in 1920 they appeared before Congress with a request for protection against a widespread Japanese strike which it was declared was for the purpose of so injuring the sugar plantations that ownership or control there could be secured by Japanese capitalists. Later it was acknowledged by those same interests, confidentially but not publicly, that the welfare of the Territory and of the nation calls for a commission form of government if any change should be made. The general demand for statehood now made in the Territory is because business and political interests of the Territory will be better served in Congress by the votes of two Senators and a Representative rather than by the presence of a single Delegate without vote. As a result, the expression of opposition to statehood on the part of those in the Territory who recognize the dangers of such statehood, is discouraged.

question of superiority, the Caucasian and Japanese races are at the same time so strong in those characteristics which make for racial dominance, and yet so dissimilar, that the settlement of groups of the one in the land of the other is certain to provoke disaster. In California, while the high character of the Japanese is recognized, it has been manifested that assimilation is not possible. That is being demonstrated in the case of the Nisei, the second generation who have individually won the respect and admiration of those who know them.

"13. Included in the population of Hawaii are about 90,000 alien Asiatics, ineligible to American citizenship, admitted to the Territory as laborers under an express provision that they may not migrate to the mainland. They would be free to settle in any state of the Union if Hawaii were granted statehood.

"14. The foregoing facts, all substantiated by available records, indicate that Hawaii in the future will be governed either by Japanese or by Caucasians; and that the issue will probably be decided by the action of Congress, either in granting statehood to the Territory, or in withholding statehood until certain that no danger can result therefrom."

SAN BERNARDINO—AT THE CRESTLINE Clubhouse of Arrowhead Parlor No. 110 N.S.G.W., October 9, twenty-eight candidates were initiated—twenty-five for Arrowhead, two for Stephen M. White Parlor No. 263 of San Pedro and one for Los Angeles Parlor No. 45. The ritual was exemplified by the following:

Following the initiatory ceremonies Grand President Eldred L. Meyer gave an inspiring address and outlined the Order's position in opposing the granting of statehood to Hawaii. In the course of a stirring talk Raymond L. Haight of Hollywood Parlor No. 196 reminded his hearers of their heritage and of their duty to protect California and the United States from any and all types of "isms." Grand Trustee Wayne R. Millington was also a speaker.

Judge Donald E. Van Luven and Leon Gregory were co-chairmen of arrangements for the successful and well-attended gathering, and Louis Brandhoff was in charge of the excellent dinner which preceded the meeting.

RECEPTION FOR N.D. GRAND MARSHAL.

Ontario—Ten members of Ontario Parlor No. 251 N.D.G.W. had dinner at the home of President Wilma Tucker October 6 and then attended the meeting of Los Angeles Parlor. Members of the sewing club met October 8 at the home of Bee Herzberg, and October 22 at the home of President Tucker. They are sewing on articles for a bazar for the benefit of the homeless children December 1, 2 and 3.

October 14 the Parlor had a plunkett dinner, attended by more than a hundred. A round table discussion, presided over by Supervising Deputy Eva Bemis, was participated in by Grand Trustee Mary B. Noerenberg and Deputy Muriel Bray. The committee in charge of the dinner included Doris Tracy, Francis Mitchell, Christian Betty and Ruth Van Fleet. September 23, Bee Herzberg was chairman of a delicious potluck supper honoring those who helped on the Parlor's float, "The Madonna of the Trail," in the Santa Monica Admission Day parade. Nelson Van Fleet gave a talk on his European tour, and a skit, "The Three Floateateers," was presented by President Wilma Tucker and Marian Pierce.

November 4, Ontario will be the hostess to the other Parlors in this district—Santa Ana, Grace and Lugonia—at a reception honoring Grand Marshal Hazel Hansen, organizer of No. 251.—W.T.

Three new varieties of peaches, developed by George P. Weldon at the Chaffey Junior College of Ontario, San Bernardino County, are soon to be introduced.

San Miguel Mission, San Luis Obispo County, observed September 26 the one hundred and fortieth anniversary of its founding.

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

THREE MAGNIFICENT MURALS DEpicting scenes from California's history were dedicated in the assemblyroom of the California State Building October 16. They are titled "California's Name," "Flags of the Past" and "Flags of the President." They were executed by Lucille Lloyd, mural painter, with Ben Messick assisting, under the Federal Art Project of the Works Progress Administration. David H. McAllister accepted the murals for the state. Charles Gibbs Adams was program chairman, and Mrs. Anna Begue Packman the hostess.

Rev. Joseph Thompson delivered an invocation, and the speakers included Dr. Owen C. Coy and Albert V. Mayrhofer, director and president, respectively, of the California State Historical Association, Dean Arthur Clayson Weatherhead, Marshall Stimson, Ferdinand Perrett, Gilmore Brown and Mrs. Irene T. Heineman.

The dedication service was conducted by a special committee of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West which included Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz, Bernard G. Hiss, Grand Trustee Mary B. Noerenberg and President Marcella Wolfskill Palethorpe of Californiana Parlor N.D.

N.S.G.W. RITUAL COMPETITION.

At a meeting of the N.S.G.W. district deputy grand presidents at the home of Supervising Deputy Walter H. Odemar, October 3, it was decided to have a ritual competition in District No. 1 during November. Any Parlor may compete, and any member of a competing Parlor is eligible for that Parlor's team. The team making the highest score will be allowed to initiate the "Grand President's Class" some time in December. At the initiation, Grand President Eldred L. Meyer will award a cup to the Parlor from which comes the initiating team.

Parlors wanting to engage in the competition should select dates at once for tryouts, and advise Supervising Deputy Odemar. The following dates have been definitely fixed: Ramona Parlor No. 109, November 12; Los Angeles Parlor No. 45, November 18.

SEWING CLUB MUTUALLY BENEFICIAL.

President Esther Rinne of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. has set the goal for her term as fifty-two new members, and October 20 she presided at the initiation of eleven candidates. One activity of No. 124 which is proving mutually beneficial to the Order and the Parlor is the monthly sewing club, when one or more members share and donate the home, the food and the service. Many baby garments are made. The last gathering of Los Angeles' sewing club was at the El Monte home of Myrtle Hoffman October 16.

As a deviation from the "pioneers of the land," the history and landmarks committee of the Parlor October 6 showed what the "pioneers of the sea" endured, through colored pictures, "Clipper Ships," accompanied by a talk by Marshal Stimson. As a prelude to the talk, Los Angelenos quartet sang appropriate sea songs Members of Grace, Santa Ana, Ontario and Long Beach Parlors were guests of the evening. Recording Secretary Gertrude Allen was in charge of arrangements.

Los Angeles' November calendar includes: 3rd—Rudecinda and Compton Parlors guests; Armistice program, and refreshments; Elsie Amidon chairman. 10th—Card party, Women's University Club; Leonie Clos and committee of school teachers in charge. 13th—Sewing club party at the home of Mrs. Dora Davis and daughters, Edith and Laura; Sue Dehaaf and Elsie Ruiz, co-hostesses. 22nd—Sunshine friend party at the home of Juanita Porter; Clara Lindsey chairman.—G.R.A.

WORTHWHILE ORGANIZATION.

Compton—Compton Parlor No. 273 N.S.G.W. has made great strides ahead the past few months, and is proving to the residents of this city that it is a most worthwhile organization. Several new members have been added recently, and Compton is proud of the fact that it is the home-Parlor of Grand Marshal Walter C. Richards.

Former presidents who have done much to aid the Parlor's advancement are J. R. Young Jr., Roy C. Hood, District Deputy Roy W. Tarleton and Hector Hecox. October 16, Compton's crack initiatory team officiated at the initiation of a class of candidates. This team is now entered in the statewide competition which will terminate some time in December.—D.C.

U. S. ATTORNEY GIVEN FLAGS.

United States Attorney Ben Harrison was October 9 presented with a desk set of United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags by Arrowhead Parlor No. 110 N.S.G.W., with which he is affiliated.

Judge Donald E. VanLuven of San Bernardino made the presentation on Arrowhead's behalf. Other Native Sons in attendance were Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth, Past Grand President Herman C. Lichtenberger, Raymond L. Haight and President James A. Olivas of Arrowhead Parlor.

ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED.

Santa Monica—For the benefit of its always ready and willing drum and bugle corps, Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. sponsored a big show October 18. October 25 being the eleventh institution anniversary of the Parlor, a supper-banquet was held and all charter members were honor-guests. Past presidents filled the stations.

In honor of Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, a member of Santa Monica Bay, the Parlor will initiate November 8 a large class of candidates.

DESCENDANTS OF PIONEERS HONORED.

Sixty-five reservations were made for the October 12 luncheon of Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. honoring descendants of American pioneers. The speakers table was centered with a Spanish galleon in tribute to Christopher Columbus, discoverer of America, and the guest table had a covered wagon drawn by two oxen. A number of pioneers, among them natives of California, were honor-guests and they, with the October birthday honorees, were presented with corsages. A short history of their lives was given interestingly by Isabel Lopez Fages, presiding chairman, who presented Miss Laura Cooley, California history head of the public library; Gregg Lane, collector of Californiana, and Arthur Woodward of the Los Angeles Museum. Others honored were Misses Mary Foy and Minnie Joughin, Mms. Lucy Young, Flora Jacobson, Hattie Furman Stamps, Ethel Sandstrom, Grace Hale and Olive Lopez.

Speakers were Gregg Lane of the Southern California Historical Society, who stated that gathering Californiana bears a great charm for him. He said that no area has as much historical material as California. Miss Laura Cooley's subject was new history volumes, and she paid tribute to the works of Dr. Rockwell D. Hunt, Nellie Sanchez, Dr. Owen C. Coy, Marie T. Walsh, Begue Packman and others. Following lively tunes of the gold rush days by Californiana's quartet, with Mrs. Grace Hale at the piano, Arthur Woodward guided his hearers over the Santa Fe Trail to the west, telling of many hardy pioneers whose names have gone down in history. The talk was especially interesting to Californiana's members, as the president, Marcella Wolfskill Palethorpe, is a descendant of William Wolfskill, one of those daring trappers and explorers who helped to blaze the trail. He concluded with a description of costumes of early California.

Following the October 26 meeting, a Hallowe'en tea was enjoyed with Flora Jacobson, chairman of the officers committee, in charge. The Gertrude sewing circle, now preparing for the homeless chidren Christmas bazar, held two delightful October gatherings. The first was hostessed by the Misses Nellie and Lizzie Weston, and the second by Mrs. Fay Hammeras. Both were largely attended, and the good spirit which attends kind deeds was apparent. The November 1 meet of the circle will have Miss Minnie Joughin as hostess in the Tuttle home. Initiation will take place November 9; Mrs. Walter Harris, membership chairman, is expecting a goodly number of candidates.—O.L.

UNIVERSITY PARLOR NEWS.

One of the most stimulating meetings each month on the calendar of University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W. is past presidents night. October 20 Past President Maynard Garrison presided and swung back into his old duties in great form. The fifth annual Hallowe'en dance was an outstanding success. Many fancy costumes were on display, which made it difficult for the judges to award the prizes. The hall was bedecked in a most colorful autumn regalia and the refreshments of apple cider and doughnuts sent forth a real old-time Hallowe'en atmosphere. The party was a credit to Chairman Prentiss Moore and his committeemen.

Starting in the fall months the Parlor is going to set aside one meeting a month for the women Watch University's calendar and bring your wives and sweethearts to this open meeting. Entertainment, cards and refreshments will be provided, and an all round good time will be in order. "Bill" Quast will manage these affairs. President Solly Smith and the chairman of the membership committee, Lucian Griffin, are hot on the trail of new candidates. Five new candidates have been signed up for the November class and by the evening of the initiation there will be at least five more. George Shipley, Fred Crebs and Woodrow Wade provide games and entertainment after each meeting, so come up to University on Wednesday nights and you are sure of an enjoyable time.—J.P.H.

CANDIDATES DINNER GUESTS.

Long Beach—Honoring applicants for membership who were initiated later the same evening at a formal meeting, Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. gave a dinner October 7 at Lakewood Country Club. Special guests were Supervising Deputy Ione Gillet, Deputies Eva Mae Bemis, Leonie Clos and Rebecca Hasson, and Grand Trustee Mary B. Noerenberg. The tables were attractively decorated with brilliant hued marigolds, colorful autumn leaves and a horn of plenty. Nut cups on paper autumn leaves marked places for sixty-five guests. Members from several Parlors attended the dinner and meeting, and Grace Parlor No. 242 held a joint meeting with Long Beach. After the meeting refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated table, which also employed the autumn motif.

Mrs. Leola Temby entertained the thimble club at her home September 30, and Mrs. Josephine Reichman and mother, Mrs. Georgia Peirson, entertained the club at their home October 14. Covered dish luncheons and sewing sessions were enjoyed on both occasions. The thimble club committee, consisting of Mrs. Daisy Hansen (chairman), Margaret Burch and Leola Temby, with the assistance of Johanna Reed and Alice Waldow plan to have a bazar the 5th and 6th of November.—J.P.R.

WILL FEATURE INITIATION.

Grand President Eldred L. Meyer will pay a visit to Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. November 12, when initiation will be featured. T. Dwight Crittenden will put on one of his renowned clam dinners. Officers for the January-July term will be nominated November 19.

Trousdale, Ann Dippel and Frances Hancock. Following the ritual exemplification President Georgia Gardner presented a beautiful specimen of quartz gold, provided by Russell Wilson of the Black Oak Mine, to the Grand President. In the course of her talk Mrs. Begley commended the Parlor officers for their work, especially the president's flag charge. A pleasant afternoon ended with dainty refreshments served at poppy decorated tables.—A.L.D.

Byron—The costume party of Donner No. 193 October 6 was a grand success; a street parade was followed by a potluck supper and stunts. The usual contribution to veterans welfare has been made, and jellies and jams have been donated to the N.D. Home. October 28 the Parlor had its annual bazar. A membership drive is under way, and plans are being made for the anniversary celebration November 3.—A.N.

Santa Ana—Santa Ana No. 235 had a rummage and cooked-food sale October 15 and 16; Mms. Rose Ford and Mae West were co-chairmen. The proceeds will go towards general philanthropy and veterans welfare. A Hallowe'en dance, with Mrs. Margaret Mize as chairman, was held October 25. Mrs. Matilda Lemon, chairman of the civic committee for Orange County, has turned in $24.77 towards a fund for that work. To prepare for a bazar to be held in conjunction with a Spanish dinner in the near-future, the thimble club met with Mms. Gertrude Etzold, Marie Schroeder and Eunice Fox. A card party was recently held at the home of Mrs. Genevieve Hiskey.—M.L.

Centerville—Betsy Ross No. 235 had a reception for its twelve new members October 1. Deputy Julia King and Catherine Plumb were honor-guests. The harvest season was the motif for the table decorations, the centerpiece consisting of grapes and various shaped and colored gourds. Cards provided entertainment. October 8 the Parlor had a baby shower for Mrs. Dorothy Peblier. A large stork and pink and blue baby ribbon artistically decorated the refreshments table.—R.R.

Stockton—Charter members of Ursula No. 1 of Jackson were guests of honor at a dinner meeting sponsored by Stockton No. 256. Mrs. J. O. Gossett was the chairman, and a welcome was extended by President Louise Braghetti.

A poem entitled "The Wedding of the Rails" was read by A. H. Pope.

CHRISTMAS

(MINNA McGARVEY.)

Secrets, and whispering on the stair,
Mysterious packages ev'rywhere,
Love and good will making life so fair,
That's Christmas!

Sorrows that once were so keen and deep
Are softened by time and lulled to sleep;
Loved ones gone on would not have us weep;
That's Christmas!

Dear ones to cherish and treasure here
Loving them more with each passing year,
Knowing full well that they hold us dear,
That's Christmas!

God to adore and to bring Him praise
For all of our mercies and pleasant ways,
Hallowing always this blest of days,
That's Christmas!

MONUMENT HONORS FIRST WHITE MAN TO CROSS SIERRA.

Sonora (Tuolumne County)—A granite monument honoring Jedediah Strong Smith, erected by the history and landmarks committee of the Tuolumne County Chamber of Commerce, was dedicated October 17. Among the speakers were Carlos LaMoine, Rowan Hardin, Harry Noyes Pratt, Dr. William L. Hood, L. A. Mills and J. R. Hall. A bronze plaque on the monument reads: "Through this Region passed in May 1827 Jedediah Strong Smith and His Mountain Men, the First Recorded Crossing of the Sierra Nevada by White Men."

Smith was the first White man to cross the Sierra Nevada Mountain range, and was also the first White man to travel the entire length of California, from San Bernardino to the Oregon State line, while in search of profitable fur trapping territory.

Smith moved northward on an exploring trip until he arrived near the entrance to Yosemite Valley. Desiring to return to Salt Lake as quickly as possible he and his party attempted to cross the Sierra Nevada via a route on which has since been established the Sonora Pass highway over the summit. Smith and his men were repulsed by deep snow and low rations. The party returned to the valley and later Smith and two men, taking fifteen horses, made the hazardous trip over the mountains. They, however, were faced by starvation and had to eat their horses.

Native Sons of the Golden West

"OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF THE Subordinate Parlors, Native Sons of the Golden West—My Brothers: Californians and adopted Californians alike, with the rest of their brethren of the civilized world, are fast approaching the time of the year when all should take time from their daily routine to exemplify the Spirit of Good Will.

"We who are privileged to enjoy California, the heritage given us by those valiant Pioneer Men and Women, should not be unmindful of those who live in other lands torn by war and strife. Also, many of our own countrymen have, due to the whims of fate, during the past years been driven from their homes, their lands being returned to the desert.

"Living here in the Golden West, in a land of sunshine, fruit and flowers, virtually a land of milk and honey, let us then this Yuletide think of those less-fortunate than ourselves and, as true Native Sons, exemplify the Spirit of our Fraternity by assisting, in some material manner, our distressed neighbors.

"May I also remind you of our own Charity, the Homeless Children Work, so successfully sponsored by the Native Sons and the Native Daughters of the Golden West for the past twenty-seven years. A contribution to this laudable project would be most appreciated.

"It is my sincere wish that this Christmas will be most joyful, and that the new year will be one of bounteous blessings for each and every one of you, filled with good health and happiness.

"Yours in Friendship, Loyalty and Charity, respectfully and fraternally,

Eldred L. Meyer.

"Grand President N.S.G.W.
"Santa Monica, November 18, 1937."

PUBLIC CAREER DAVID C. BRODERICK

Peter T. Conmy

Grand Historian N.S.G.W.

(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR.)

THE PUBLIC CAREER OF DAVID C. Broderick is fairly well known among lovers of California history. Broderick's position on the slavery issue, the conditions under which he allowed Gwinn to be re-elected senator, and his duel with Terry are facts well known to almost all. Unfortunately Broderick's private life, the man divorced from California politics, his obscure origin in the East, are features of his career with which the great majority are not so familiar. For this reason some of the principal facts of his life are here presented.

That America is and has been a land of opportunity in which one may rise by his own efforts from poverty or near-poverty to great hights in civic and economic life is nowhere better illustrated than in the career of David Colbreth Broderick. He was born in Washington, D. C., February 4, 1820, at a time when his father, an immigrant from Ireland, was employed as a laborer on the construction of the capitol building. Rare indeed are the instances of history in which the son of one who has worked as a day laborer on a national capitol building has risen to a seat in the highest legislative body meeting therein.

When David Broderick was about fourteen years old his family moved from Washington to New York City. After a short time his father died. Of necessity, continuance of his education was rendered impossible after his father's death, and so David apprenticed to his father's trade, that of stone mason. After five years he graduated from his apprenticeship as a master of the craft. His mother died shortly after this, and then his brother was killed in an accident, divesting him of all known relations. The somberness of his boyhood seems to have impressed Broderick with a seriousness of character which he never lost. The joys of youth were not his. Before he was twenty Broderick had assumed the aspects of maturity which many men do not acquire until they have passed forty.

During the thirties and forties of the last century the men of New York City gave themselves to both prize and street fighting. To this Broderick was no exception. It was probably not his innate nature, for that seems to have been refined and gentle, but the environment in which he lived made him pugnacious. In some fights he was the victor; in others the vanquished. But whether winner or defeated he was lionized by the men of his neighborhood for his fighting. In those days, too, firemen were not chosen from civil service lists; nor was the position so attractive in emoluments or duties as now. Fighting fires in the tenements and factories of New York was a most hazardous occupation a hundred years ago. Broderick became a fireman and the foreman of Engine 34, partly because he was strong, partly because he was brave in the face of danger, and partly, too, because he was an adept at that additional duty which firemen had then, but do not have now, namely, prize fighting. As firemen were good fighters, and as the occupation demanded exceptionally strong men, every pugilist was not considered worthy of even the smallest laurels until he had whipped a fireman. Hence, we find Fireman Foreman Broderick putting out fires when buildings burned, and administering black eyes and breaking noses when in the ring.

From the political connections he made in the fire department Broderick secured a federal position and later owned a saloon. It is most interesting to note in passing that Broderick, although a saloonkeeper, was not a drinking man. Indeed, Lynch tells us that he never drank a drop of liquor, which is much to his credit, for the environment in which he lived was one of great intemperance. It is strange how some men rise above the vicious currents about them. As time went on Broderick continued this trend away from his environment. His interests lay not in the saloon, but in the Democratic Party.

He sought a voice in public affairs. He became a ward leader, and in 1846, at the age of twenty-six, was nominated for Congress. He probably would have been elected had he not overstepped himself. President Tyler came to New York and the leaders and sachems of Tammany Hall were sent as a committee to meet him. Broderick as a nominee went with them. Boarding the President's vessel the group waited on deck for him to appear. But Broderick went directly to the President's stateroom and led him before the delegation saying, "Make a circle, gentlemen, and the President will talk to you." This was too much for some of the older leaders. Furthermore, during the rest of the day Broderick remained with the President. The result was that the other men were precluded from associating with the President and worked to defeat Broderick at the polls. In fact, a member of the delegation ran as an independent candidate and split the Democratic vote. Thereafter his influence waned and he sought new fields.

The discovery of gold which lured thousands to California lured also Broderick. But gold was not his goal. Broderick sought a political career in California. When he sailed from New York he told his friends that if he ever returned it would be as a United States senator. And this prophecy he kept. Broderick came by the Isthmus route at a time when the fever was raging at its worst. In June of 1849 he reached San Francisco safely. This was the city that for ten years was to be his home. He was twenty-nine years of age when he arrived in California. He was thirty-nine when, in 1859, he went to his premature grave.

In December 1849 the first of San Francisco's great fires took place and Broderick played an important part in extinguishing the flames. The destruction of a large part of the infant city made a fire department paramount, and in June 1850 one was formally organized and David C. Broderick became foreman of the first engine company. But this was not for long. He had been elected to the State Senate, and during 1851-52 was acting lieutenant-governor. The result of his political ambitions came January 10, 1857, when he was elected United States Senator for a full term of six years. His career ended, however, September 16, 1859, when he died as a result of wounds incurred in the duel with David S. Terry.

Hold within all thoughts of love,
That the clouds of our Order never be gray
But filled with sunshine from above.'

"Christmas! The birthday of our great Saviour—a constant reminder of Him to whom we are indebted for our own existence!

"As the celebration of Christmastide draws near, our thoughts turn to the desire of giving. When we are giving our material gifts to those we love, let us give also to the Sisters of our beloved Order the precious and priceless gift of 'friendship,' and again pledge ourselves to preserve that friendship, and by so doing our pathways of life will be made brighter and happier.

"At this holiday season, I wish to express my sincere appreciation to every member of our Order for her co-operation and assistance in making this part of my term so successful, and for the great joy and pleasure it has given me.

"May the home of every Native Daughter be showered with God's choicest blessings on this Christmas Day, and may every year bring added happiness and joy.

"With kindest thoughts and sincere best wishes for joyful holidays, I am yours sincerely and fraternally in P.D.F.A.,

California Flags Theme of District Meet.

Salinas—November 6 was a gala date for the Native Daughters of District No. 25, comprising Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Benito Counties, the occasion being the annual tri-county district meeting. The festivities opened with a dinner at which 120 were seated at tables attractively decorated in a harvest theme—autumn foliage, fruits and vegetables, with candy receptacles in bright cellophane of varying colors. Novel song sheets, folded fan-wise, were decorated with replicas of the six outstanding flags that have floated over California—Spanish, English, Russian, Mexican, California Republic (Bear) and the Stars and Stripes. A song appropriate for each banner was later used in community singing.

Supervising Deputy Mayme Moran presided during the enjoyable program. Santa Cruz No. 26 presented an amusing stunt, Mrs. W. R. Brittingham rendered musical numbers, and Past Grand Bertha A. Briggs spoke on "California Under Twelve Flags," closing with a tribute to Old Glory. In the theme "California Flags," Copa de Oro No. 105 (Hollister) featured events under the Spanish standard; San Juan Bautista No. 179 presented the raising of the cross of St. George by Sir Francis Drake; Aleli No. 102 (Salinas) featured a gay group of Russian singers and dancers; Santa Cruz No. 26 presented the raising of the California Republic (Bear) Flag, and El Pajaro No. 35 (Watsonville) honored the Stars and Stripes. Each number was appropriately staged, costumed and dialogued.

Delegations from many other communities joined the diners at the close of the dinner, for the enjoyment of the program numbers. Honored guests were Grand President Ethel I. Begley, Grand Trustees Rose Rhyner, Pearl Reid, Claire Lindsay, Clarice Cook and Ethel Enos, Grand Inside Sentinel Emily Ryan, Past Grands Margaret G. Hill and Bertha A. Briggs, Supervising Deputies Ada Javette, Irene Griffin and Mayme Moran, Deputies Alma Nyland, Cecelia Ashadina and Orinda Giannini, and Chairman May MacDonald of the Grand Parlor Extension of the Order Committee. The Parlor presidents of the district outlined present projects and future activities.

Interest Youth!

In a communication directed to all Subordinate Parlors, Chairman May L. MacDonald of the Grand Parlor Extension of the Order says:

"If this Order is to carry out the aims and objects of its founders, it must incorporate into its body those that will carry on when most of its present membership shall have passed away. Interest youth, and youth will attract youth to our banners. To keep them in our organization, make meetings so interesting that they will make permanent membership a life duty.

"No organization can afford to stand still! Membership is the lifeblood of a fraternal or any other organized body; otherwise, it fades away. The time to get new lifeblood is now!"

Flower-Covered Car Wins First Prize.

Placentia—Postmaster Talbot Bielefeldt was the guest speaker at the November 4 meeting of Grace No. 242. He told of his experiences in Japan, where he taught school for nearly two years, and spoke on the history of China, where he was associated with a news agency in Peiping. A birthday party honoring President Alice Davis followed the meeting. The sewing club met November 9 at the home of "Mother" Anna Lemke, and as usual, when she entertains there was a large crowd. Special guests were Grand Trustee Mary Noerenberg and her mother, Mrs. W. B. Brodbeck, and President Marcella Palethorpe of Californiana No. 247.

A flower-covered car, entered by Grace in the Armistice Day parade at Fullerton, won first prize, a beautiful bronze trophy. Johanna Lemke, President Davis and Nellie Cline rode in the car, which received great applause along the line of march. The Parlor also assisted in preparing the Placentia community float. Super-

"California Pioneer History," "The Mission Period," "The Spanish Period," "Our Pioneers," "California's Admission to the Union," "Gold Discovery," "The Organization and Accomplishments of the Native Daughters of the Golden West" and "The Outstanding Projects of Our Order."

These speakers will be available for the public meetings of Parlors or any interested organization. Necessary information pertaining to speakers may be secured from Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler.

Hobo Party Greatly Enjoyed.

Santa Ana—Mrs. Walter Cook was hostess at a card party for Santa Ana No. 235 October 20. A pleasurable feature was an exhibition of the hostess' landscape paintings. A Hallowe'en dance October 25 proved a success and was enjoyed by many. The committee in charge included Margaret Mize (chairman), Genevieve Hiskey, Catherine Crumley, Margaret Evanson and Caroline Opp. The thimble club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Marsile November 4. In the evening the large group present motored to Ontario No. 251's reception honoring Grand Marshal Hazel B. Hansen.

President Mattie Edwards called a short meeting of the Parlor November 9 at which Hunter Leach, Elmer Gates and Edward Wheeler spoke on "Civil Service." The hall was transformed into a jungle for a hobo party. For the worst costumes, prizes went to Naomi Schoenrock, Hazel Flaherty and Mae West. Stunts, games and jungle games concluded a greatly enjoyed evening. November 12 the thimble club met at the home of Marie Schroeder and continued work on articles for the bazar.—M.L.

Neighbors Visit and Entertain.

Antioch—Antioch No. 223 was visited November 1 by a delegation of forty-two members of Stockton No. 206, headed by President Louise Braghetta. Preceding the meeting the Stockton drill team, Anna Kelley captain, attired in formals of yellow net and carrying red, yellow and white poppies, put on a splendid exhibition of intricate drills, which concluded with the presentation of a handsome basket of yellow chrysanthemums to President Lena Azevedo of Antioch.

The lodgeroom was decorated with a profusion of shrubs and fall flowers. Four candidates were initiated. Corsages were presented Past Grand Estelle Evans, Supervising Deputy Wilma Del Colletti and Captain Ann Kelly of the Stockton drill team. The Stockton glee club, Dorothy Braghetta director, delighted with several selections. At the meeting's close refreshments were served to more than 100 guests at elaborately decorated tables. Mrs. Emma Lynn was chairman of the evening.

The Contra Costa County district meeting will be held December 3 at the Antioch City Hall. Parlors co-operating include Stirling No. 146 (Pittsburg), Richmond No. 147, Donner No. 193 (Byron), Las Juntas No. 221 (Martinez) and Antioch No. 223. Supervising Deputy Wilma Lilley Del Colletti will preside, and Grand President Ethel I. Begley will be in attendance. Historic Chapel Rededicated.

San Diego—The San Diego Women's Clubhouse was filled to capacity at the annual open meeting of the Pioneer Society of San Diego County. Several hundred members of the society, including representatives of the fourth generation now growing up in this land chosen of all others by kindred long ago, welcomed members of San Diego No. 208. President Marie Snell presented flowers in the name of the Parlor to the oldest person present born in San Diego County, and also to the president of the Pioneer Society, Mrs. Sarah L. Harritt. Sad to relate, she passed away a week later.

Another special event was the rededication, October 31, of the chapel at Old Town. An all-day fiesta and oldtime barbecue followed the ceremonies. This chapel was the first to be established in California, and marks the beginning of the history of our noble State. Albert Mayrhofer was chairman of the restoration committee, and deserves much credit for his untiring efforts to complete the task.

The sewing club of San Diego met at the home of Carrie Chambers, who served a delicious luncheon. A guest of honor was Eliza Burns. Much work was accomplished for the bazar which is to be held soon.—E.M.F.

She was born in 1823 and died in 1897. Participating in the ceremonies were President Margaret Smith of Miocene, who presided; Myrtle Hoffman, soloist; Grand Trustees Towne and Noerenberg, and Mrs. Minnie B. Heath. HOMELESS CHILDREN BAZAR.

Armistice Day was impressively recognized by Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. following the business meeting November 9. The luncheon tables were adorned by myriads of tiny flags, and an interesting program was presented by Mrs. Margaret Harris and the veteran welfare committee. President Marcella Palethorpe presented the birthday honorees and honored guests, among the latter Colonel James A. Madison, chief of the medical staff of Sawtelle, where the Parlor carries on its veteran work; Miss Ann Schiebusch, Los Angeles County chairman veteran welfare committee, and Deputy Betty Sanders. A table was occupied by Captain Lorena Hermance and her seventeenth district ritual team, which put on a snappy and well-executed drill, following the presentation of the colors and salute to the flag.

Miss Schiebusch pictured in well-chosen words the work of the Order among the veterans, taking a bit of sunshine into many clouded lives, this being definitely a part of Native Daughter activities, coming under "love of home." Colonel Madison thanked the Order for its humanitarian project. He stated that the hospital at Sawtelle has the most scientific apparatus in the world. It now has 1,700 beds, and when its new department is completed will have 3,000. In the afternoon Superior Judge B. Ray Schauer of Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. talked on "Does War Ever End?" He stated that humans are the only ones who do not believe in the "survival of the fittest, but go to war and slay the cream of their young manhood. If capital as well as manpower could be drafted, war would soon cease."

During the business session two candidates

THE FORWARD LOOKING HARBOR DISTRICT OF THE GREAT SOUTHWEST

SAN PEDRO—"ONE OF THE MOST COMmendable programs of any organization in this section," says Tige Clinton in the San Pedro News-Pilot, "is that of the 'distinguished service award' of Stephen M. White Parlor No. 263 N.S.G.W. Without any real fanfare, without any prompting, without anything other than a desire to recognize the civic achievements of local organizations, the Native Sons programmed flag presentations several months ago, awarding Old Glory and the California Golden Flag to organizations that have written 'accomplishment' after their names."

As a result of this program, Stephen M. White Parlor has presented United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags to several organizations, as well as to many schools. Active in this commendable endeavor are President Dewey Richards, "Bill" Reuter, Harry Fairall, John Paralieu, Joe Brannen, John Swinford, George Fontes, Tom Allender and Francis Fetzer and many others.

FOUR INITIATED.

San Pedro—Rudecinda Parlor No. 230 N.D.G.W. initiated four candidates November 18, and had a shower of Thanksgiving goodies for veterans. The serving of refreshments was in charge of Mercy Jane Powers. The Florencita thimble club of the Parlor was entertained with a duck luncheon at the home of Lucia Guzman. November 17 the club met at the home of Katherine Hackett.—C.R.K.

were initiated. Lieutenant Mary Clarke told of the fine things being done for the Girl Scout troop sponsored by the Parlor, and urged members to attend meetings. Chairman Isabel Fages gave a report of the Hallowe'en hijinx at the imposing and spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holliday in the Hollywood Hills. Many guests were in costume, and the rooms were gay with pumpkin faces and other decorations, while the "doughnut" man with the huge nose cooked thirty-five dozen goodies in the patio. Music was enjoyed in the rumpus room, Mrs. Carmelita Verdugo and A. B. Fages presenting vocal numbers. A goodly sum was cleared for projects of the history and landmarks committee.

The Gertrude sewing circle held most successful and charming meetings at the homes of Miss Minnie Joughin, Mrs. Carrie Clayberg and Mrs. Amos Evans, carrying on work for the homeless children bazar. Donations of jams, jellies and cooked food are asked for that event. Flora Jacobson and committee gave the Thanksgiving tea, including a delightful fashion show and entertainment by the little Blackburn sisters, Dolly and Dimples. A cornucopia filled with lovely fruits centered the tea table.—O.L.

UNIVERSITY PARLOR NEWS.

Two very fine functions were held in the spacious lodgeroom of University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W. during November. The first was an inauguration of ladies night, sponsored and promoted by Bill Quast. The innovation met with considerable success, the womenfolks enjoying an evening of cards, entertainment and refreshments. The second, for which considerable praise should go to members of the Interparlor Committee, was the dance of November 20. A good crowd from all the Parlors was present for this enjoyable evening, and delightful music was furnished by Grand Organist Roger Johnson.

The month of December will be devoted principally to a membership drive, and competitions will be held between the initiatory teams headed by Dr. George Woods and Prentiss Moore. An attendance drive is also in progress, with Fred Norbury as captain of one side and Joe Hiss on the other. Visiting members are in for a lot of fun during December, so come up and visit University.—J.R.H.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Miss Grace S. Stoermer (Past Grand President ND) paid a visit last month to Old Mexico.

Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz (Santa Monica Bay NS) was a visitor last month to Yuma, Arizona.

Admiral W. H. Standley (Ramona NS) is now associated with the 1939 New York World's Fair.

Ralph Garnier (Ramona NS) and wife returned last month from an extended tour of Eastern states.

Chas. A. Koenig (Past Grand President NS), wife and daughter, Claire, were visitors last month, stopping over on their way to their San Francisco home from an Eastern vacation tour.

THE DEATH RECORD.

William Alexander McNeil, affiliated with Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W., died October 30, survived by a wife and three children. He was born at Los Angeles, December 1, 1889.

Mrs. Elizabeth Roeder-Dodge, affiliated with Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W., died November 4.

John Castera, affiliated with Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W., died November 10, survived by two daughters. He was born at San Francisco, October 31, 1868. At the funeral ceremonies George Beebe, a lifelong friend, paid a beautiful tribute to deceased.

Charles Frederick Off, father of Theodore R. Off (Ramona NS), died November 19.

Mrs. Ida Warren-Hunter, mother of Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz (Santa Monica Bay NS) and Warren Hunter (Los Angeles NS), died November 24 at Santa Monica. She was born at Los Angeles City, November 8, 1865.

PLAN CHRISTMAS FUNCTION.

Santa Monica—Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 245 N.D.G.W. held its regular monthly social meeting November 15 at the Venice home of Secretary Reta Smith. A potluck dinner was followed by a short business session at which plans for the December Christmas function were completed.

Announcement was made of the sudden death in Los Angeles November 14 of James Cussen,

CALIFORNIA'S QUEEN CITY

"If You Like California You'll Love Santa Barbara"

James French Dorrance

NOVEMBER WAS AN EVENTFUL month for Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West in the Santa Barbara area. The members of Santa Barbara No. 116 N.S.G.W. celebrated the golden jubilee of that Parlor's founding. Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W. moved into new quarters at the Veterans Memorial Building on the harbor front, and opened there appropriately with a program in which veterans welfare, a Grand Parlor project, was featured. Moreover, the Daughters are moving with great success toward the extension of the Order in Santa Barbara County. They have in prospect the establishment of two fine parlors, one at Lompoc, the site of La Purisima Mission, in process of complete restoration by the Federal Government, and the other at Santa Maria, in the heart of the famous Santa Barbara County salad bowl.

The reconstructed Monastery of La Purisima Mission at Lompoc, Santa Barbara County, is one of the most stately of California mission buildings, either original or restored. The mission grounds are to be landscaped, and a plant nursery has been established to hurry along the work. At Lompoc a new parlor will be established by the Native Daughters.

November 18 Reina del Mar's committee, including Mms. Wesley McCormick, president, Fred Acres, John D. Ross, Dorothy Yule, L. C. Miles, Mamie Miller, Gertrude Campbell and Dr. Anna E. McCaughey, visited Lompoc Valley, where they were received by Mms. J. M. Smith and F. W. Hall and arrangements were made for the institution of a parlor. Approach will be through historical values of the valley and the parlor will be designed to co-operate with existing forces. Lompoc already has many organizations, so care will be taken that the activities of the new parlor will not overlap. La Purisima Mission will be the parlor's foundationstone, and effort will be made to "develop the soul" of the mission. It is believed that this parlor may be instituted early in the new year.

N.S. Golden Anniversary

Saturday evening, November 27, Santa Barbara Parlor Native Sons celebrated its fiftieth institution birthday. Invitations had been sent to all Past Grand Presidents and grand officers, and all who were able to do so responded. There was banqueting in the most approved Spanish manner at El Paseo. Because of press-time limitations of a monthly publication, details of this golden jubilee dinner must perforce be detailed in the next issue of The Grizzly Bear. Particular guests of honor were four surviving charter members—Louis F. Ruiz, Henry Myers, C. E. Lattaillade and H. Wingate Lake. The latter writes from his present residence in Fresno to Recording Secretary Harry C. Sweetser:

"Besides the sentiment of receiving a letter from you, the motive of writing is particularly appealing to me and, without a lengthy acknowledgment, I would like to advise you that I shall, God willing, be with you at the jubilee dinner, which will, I am sure, prove to be another memorable occasion in my life. Please accept for yourself and convey to the members of Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 my fondest best wishes and deepest appreciation at being considered one of your group." Santa Barbara Parlor was formally organized in 1887 and held its earlier meetings in the "Old Clock" building at the corner of Carillo and State streets. Beginning with a membership of fifty, it has grown through the years to a present membership of 275. October 31, 1887, the first meeting was held in Santa Barbara City Hall to consider the formation of the Parlor. Five preliminary meetings followed, and the institution took place November 26, 1887.

The first officers of Santa Barbara Parlor were: past president, Charles de la Guerra; president, Walter B. Cope; first vice-president, James Daly; second vice-president, Frank W. McGuire; third vice-president, E. R. Den; recording secretary, John G. Steele; financial secretary, C. J. Murphy; treasurer, Will D. Hosmer; marshal, Sam Eliaser; inside sentinel, Thomas M. Hall; outside sentinel, Thomas E. Feehan; trustees, E. G. Heacock, John F. Metcalf and N. C. Den.

AN INEXPENSIVE CHRISTMAS GIFT that will be enjoyed throughout the year is THE GRIZZLY BEAR. Sent anywhere in the United States for $1.50; lower rate for clubs of ten or more. Remember your friends with a year's subscription for 1938.

N.D. Housewarming

Reina del Mar Parlor Native Daughters recently held a housewarming of its new Santa Barbara headquarters in the Veterans Memorial Building. A buffet supper was served and a patriotic program was presented, the participants including Gordon and George McCrea, sons of Past President Christine McCrea, who offered dances, Vice-president Dorothy Yule in readings, and whistling selections by Mrs. Arthur Ames. Mrs. Walter Lee, chairman of the hospitalization program of the American Legion auxiliary, gave a vivid picture of needs and showed that veterans greatly appreciate the efforts of the organization in making their existence happy, despite the suffering brought on by their disabilities. Her address was followed by a shower of gifts from Native Daughters. These will be forwarded to veterans in hospitals to add to their happiness. Announcement was made that Reina del Mar is prepared to meet fully its pledge to the Grand Parlor on veteran welfare program support.

In the absence of Mrs. Martin J. Coan, head of the Parlor's past presidents association, Dr. Anna E. McCaughey was authorized to plan a suitable remembrance for Santa Barbara Parlor Native Sons on the occasion of the golden jubilee of that organization. It was brought out that Reina del Mar came into being after six previous attempts to form a Native Daughter parlor here had failed. The Native Sons, then headed by Mayor Edmund Burke, drafted a group of women to aid in entertaining the Grand Parlor of Native Sons when it met here thirty-six years ago. Not alone was the Daughters' parlor instituted by the Sons, but that body outfitted them in their first regalia.

Charity Exemplified

The following officers for the January-July term were elected November 4 by Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W.: A. J. (Gus) Janssens, president; Frank Huffman, first vice-president; Ray Lathim, second vice-president; Walter Cummings, third vice-president; W. H. Rutherford, inside sentinel; Captain I. A. Bonilla, outside sentinel; Jack Lewis, trustee; Dan Taylor, marshal; Leland S. Holiday, junior past president.

Exemplifying the real meaning of the phrase "Help your brother native son when he is weak and needs your strength," Captain I. A. Bonilla, outside sentinel-elect, recently gave of his blood to help save the life of Andy H. Bredsteen, also a Native Son, who lay in the hospital in a critical condition following an abdominal operation. Bredsteen is now much improved and gaining strength rapidly. Captain Bonilla has given more than thirty-eight blood transfusions to sick persons who have been in need of them.

Livermore—Las Positas No. 96 celebrated November 18 its fifty-first institution anniversary at a banquet. At this annual affair the Parlor, in addition to observing its anniversary, launched plans for its Christmas tree party for the poor children of Livermore Valley and for the annual essay contest for students of the Livermore High School. Among the guests and speakers were Past Grands Chas. A. Koenig and Harmon D. Skillin, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Trustee Edward T. Schnarr and District Deputy Harold Farley.

Santa Clara Santa Clara No. 100 honored George Gebhardt, for twenty-five years its treasurer, November 3, the occasion being his seventieth birthday. A dinner with reminiscent talks was enjoyed. Alphonse Ruth and Robert Castro arranged the party.

There are thousands of fine eligibles just waiting to be extended an invitation to affiliate with the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West. Be a recruiter—extend the invitation today, not tomorrow!

San Jose—With Observatory No. 177 as the host, the Santa Clara County Parlors—San Jose No. 22, Santa Clara No. 100, Observatory No. 177, Mountain View No. 215 and Palo Alto No. 216—had a joint class initiation here November 30. A banquet preceded the ceremonies. Grand President Eldred L. Meyer was the honor-guest of the occasion.

ANNIE FITHIAN.

To the Officers and Members of Chispa Parlor No 40, Native Daughters of the Golden West—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of our departed sister, Annie Fithian, respectfully submit the following:

Whereas, The Almighty, in His infinite wisdom, has seen fit to call to the Heavenly Parlor on High, our beloved sister, Annie Fithian, thus taking from us one of our most devoted and loyal members—a faithful and true friend; we feel our loss is measureless and, hard though it be, we resign ourselves to His greater wisdom and console ourselves with the memory of an esteemed life just ended, we are sure that already she rests amid the rewards she earned while on earth.

The rolling stream of life goes on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of you who once sat there.
We saw you fading like a flower
But could not make you stay.
We nursed you with tender kindness
Until God called you away.
Oh, Annie dear, we loved you
And our hearts ache for you still.
Forgotten by some others,
But by us you never will.

Resolved, That in the passing of our sister the Parlor has lost a faithful member, the bereaved husband a devoted wife, and the family a loving sister; be it further resolved, that we extend to the bereaved family our deepest sympathy; that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our Parlor; that copies be sent the stricken family, that a copy be sent the Ione Echo, also one to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

SAN FRANCISCO

THE TWENTY-SIXTH ANNUAL HOMELESS children benefit ball, sponsored by all the San Francisco Parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West at the Civic Auditorium November 27, was a most successful as well as spectacular affair. It is believed that, when all returns are in, the financial results will be in large figures.

A competitive drum corps and drill team contest, in which sixteen teams participated, opened the evening's activities, and was followed by a program of novel features under the capable direction of Ivo Monti. A grand march, conducted by Floor Director Cornelius J. Ryan, was led by Mayor and Mrs. Angelo J. Rossi, Chairman and Mrs. Edward J. Wren, and Grand President Ethel I. Begley of the Native Daughters and husband. Dancing to the music of a well-known orchestra brought to a close a most entertaining and enjoyable evening.

The general committee, made up of representatives of all the San Francisco Parlors, was officered by: Edward J. Wren, chairman; Mrs. Orinda Giannini, vice-chairman; Mrs. Emily E. Ryan, recording secretary; Miss Bertha Mauser, financial secretary; Dr. George A. Gillespie, treasurer.

TELLS INTERESTINGLY OF RUSSIA.

Golden State No. 50, Buena Vista No. 68 and Arguello No. 257 Parlors N.D.G.W. were cohostesses at the luncheon and card party at the N.D.G.W. Home November 13. Mrs. Lilly H. Wales presided, Mrs. Jane McGrath led in the salute to the flag, and Mrs. Dorothy Anderson offered the invocation.

Past Grand Ariana W. Stirling, the speaker of the day, told of her recent visit to Russia and about the present government there under the rule of Dictator Stalin. "The memory of Lenin is revered," she said, "and it is possible to see him as though in life under glass. The country is beautiful. Strangers realize their every movement is under surveilance. Atheism is universal."

Past Grand Dr. Mariana Bertola, chairman Grand Parlor Home Committee, thanked Mrs. Stirling for her interesting talk. The china fund was increased $10, the gift of the hostess Parlors. The "Star Spangled Banner," with Betty Marquis at the piano, concluded the luncheon, which was followed by cards. Among the many others in attendance were Past Grands Emma G. Foley, Mae B. Wilkin and Carrie Roesch-Durham, and Supervising Deputy Katherine Keating.—E.G.F.

FIFTY-SIXTH ANNIVERSARY.

Pacific Parlor No. 10 N.S.G.W., instituted November 3, 1881, celebrated November 16 its fifty-sixth anniversary. Frank J. Klimm of the oldtimers presided, and among the speakers were Past Grand Edward J. Lynch, Judges Thomas M. Foley and Charles R. Boden, and Thomas C. Ryan. Entertainment was provided and refreshments were served. The following committee was in charge of the festivities: Bert D. Paolinelli (chairman), Thos. G. Wyatt, J. Sugrowe, H. Bastein, F. Soracco, C. J. Ryan, L. Giegerich, Harvey Morse, C. Creighton and E. McGough.

November 23, Pacific initiated the largest class of candidates in many years. The membership committee, headed by Thomas C. Ryan, is making fine progress, and hopes to have the Parlor's membership-roll up to 400 by the end of 1937.

GRAND PRESIDENT N.D. VISITS.

Grand President Ethel I. Begley was the honored guest at a dinner at the Women's City Club November 17, after which she officially visited Castro Parlor No. 178 N.D.G.W. The hall was beautifully decorated with red roses, and the Grand President was escorted to her station by an escort team of eight wearing dresses of red paper and carrying boquets of white roses. Other visitors were Grand Trustees Ethel Enos and Claire Lindsey, Grand Inside Sentinel Emily Ryan, Grand Outside Sentinel Lauretta Cameron, Past Grands Carrie Durham, Dr. Mariana Bertola, Estelle Evans, Mae Noonan, Evelyn Carlson and Anne Thuesen, Supervising Deputy Katherine Keating, Deputy Katherine Jenson, State Chairmen Sadie Brainard, Ruby Bried, Merle Sandell, Ann Dipple, Mae McDonald and Alice Lane, thirteen deputies and representatives of thirty-one Parlors.

Five candidates were initiated. Grand President Begley addressed the Parlor, and President Grace Brown presented a gift to her. Deputy Jenson was also given a remembrance. A Thanksgiving greeting was given by Bernice Monahan, and the N.D. Glee Club was heard in a medley of old songs. Refreshments were served at the meeting's close. Much praise was extended Alice Lane, chairman of the evening, and Eva Kearse, who made all the roses and decorations.—S.I.

ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVED.

South San Francisco Parlor No. 157 N.S.G.W. had its annual banquet in commemoration of Armistice Day November 10. It was a big success, and more than 200 members enjoyed a splendid evening. Grand Secretary John T. Regan presided as toastmaster.

The oration of the evening was delivered by Past Grand Lewis F. Byington. Jack Ryan spoke for the ex-service members, and expressed appreciation for the day's annual observance. The assemblage then stood in silence for one moment in memory of the four members of the Parlor who lost their lives in the World War.

Chairman Fred Klingler and the committee in charge of the affair deserve much credit for the very fine manner in which it was handled. In addition to excellent refreshments, they provided very enjoyable entertainment. The firemen's quartet, directed by Lieutenant William F. Murray, rendered several numbers, with George Kelly at the piano, and solos were sung by Frank Woods and Bill Best. Eddie Healey entertained with stories.

AN INEXPENSIVE CHRISTMAS GIFT that will be enjoyed throughout the year is THE GRIZZLY BEAR. Sent anywhere in the United States for $1.50; lower rate for clubs of ten or more. Remember your friends with a year's subscription for 1938.

Stanford Parlor No. 76 had something new in the way of social functions—a ladies' night, November 16, in charge of the womenfolks, with Mms. Carl Boegershausen and David McCarthy as the co-chairmen. As a feature, a one-act comedy, "The Gentlemen, God Bless 'Em," was presented. Mrs. Geo. Penaluna had charge of the entertainment features, and Mrs. Theo. Schmidt had charge of the refreshments. SAN BERNARDINO -ARROWHEAD PARlor No. 110 N.S.G.W. is now housed in new quarters—Native Sons Hall, formerly known as Knights of Pythias Hall, northeast corner of Sixth and F streets. With President James A. Olivas presiding, a house warming was held in the new home November 3. Good entertainment was provided and refreshments were served. Laurence G. Kelley arranged the program, and John Andreson Jr. was in charge of refreshments.

The Parlor was entertained November 10 by Eugene C. Ward, who showed pictures taken on a recent trip through Mexico and eastern United States. November 24, Arrowhead had its annual turkey dinner for Native Sons and Native Daughters and their families. Charlie Vatcher headed the committee in charge. Supervisor John Andreson Jr., for years the Parlor's treasurer, recently returned from an extended tour through the eastern United States and Canada.

NEW YEAR EVE DANCE.

Arrowhead will stage its fifteenth annual New Year Eve dance for the benefit of the homeless children at the Municipal Auditorium December 31. This event is one of the New Year Eve highlights of the San Bernardino Valley. Laurence J. G. Kelley is the general chairman, and assures the biggest and gayest dance so far. All Natives and their friends are urged to join Arrowhead in bidding farewell to 1937 and in welcoming 1938.

AN INEXPENSIVE CHRISTMAS GIFT that will be enjoyed throughout the year is THE GRIZZLY BEAR. Sent anywhere in the United States for $1.50; lower rate for clubs of ten or more. Remember your friends with a year's subscription for 1938.

N.S. PAST PRESIDENTS MEETING.

San Bernardino—A regular meeting of Arrowhead Assembly No. 14 N.S.G.W. Past Presidents Association will be held December 28 at Cherry-Colwell Hall, 260½ East Compton boulevard, Compton. Governor Walter C. Richards will preside, and all past presidents are urged to attend. The meeting will be preceded by a dinner served by Compton Parlor No. 258 N.D.G.W. at 7 p.m.

At the recent meeting of the General Past Presidents Association in Sacramento, Police Judge Donald E. VanLuven, one of Arrowhead's most popular members, was re-elected trustee-general.

TO PRESENT HISTORY PLAQUE.

Ontario—At a reception November 4, Ontario No. 251 N.D.G.W. honored its organizer, Grand Marshal Hazel B. Hansen, at a largely attended reception. Entertainment and dancing were provided, dainty refreshments were served, and Mrs. Hansen received many gifts. Among the guests were Grand Trustee Mary Noerenberg, Supervising Deputy Eva Bemis and members of Verdugo, Californiana, Santa Ana and Lugonia Parlors.

Armistice Day Ontario City had the largest parade in its history, and Ontario Parlor entered a unit which won many compliments. It consisted of Dorathea Taylor in scout costume riding a horse, a marching unit of sixteen members in oldfashioned dresses and sunbonnets, and a

A Worthwhile Non-sectarian Endeavor Sponsored and Supported by the Orders of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West.

AFTER THE MANY "MERRY CHRISTmases" lisped or shouted by the little fellows from everywhere in California as they left the office of the Central Homeless Children Committee in December 1937, the workers at 998 Eddy street felt quite sure that a "Happy New Year" would be forthcoming also, to every Native Son and Native Daughter, provided the children were not so absorbed in what Santa Claus had brought that, leaving their precious new possessions to go anywhere, might not appeal to them a bit: their "bikes," as one small boy insisted Santa Claus was to bring him one when a worker, with a hunch from mother, spoke of a "velocipede" that might come; their blocks, electric trains even for the six-months boys (father likes trains), dolls and doll houses, buggies, swings, footballs, baseballs and bats in greater abundance, to be sure, than any one child needed, and gifts which they could not be enjoying had it not been for the child-loving men and women, hundreds upon hundreds of them in California, each firmly convinced that his child is as perfect as any child could be.

For the little fellow for whom just the right niche has not been found because he is a boy instead of a girl; with brown eyes and olive skin, instead of blue eyes and fair skin; Catholic blood-parents, instead of Protestant blood-parents, or vice versa; with eyes a wee bit crossed, waiting for correction before placement, instead of being 100 percent perfect, there come the Native Daughters with boxes and bundles holding toys of every description, or dainty layettes, or both. Bahia Vista Parlor No. 167 and Brooklyn Parlor No. 157 have already played Santa Claus and with six days still ahead before this article goes to The Grizzly Bear Magazine, more toys and garments will arrive.

To the Parlors that have contributed so generously this year the members of the Central Committee, through every known medium, would like to express their appreciation.

The Parlors of both Orders, to December 18, 1937, have contributed the sum of $3,402.87, with three months and thirteen days remaining before the end of the fiscal year in which to reach the quota of $16,000.

Many Parlors have planned for their benefits, as we know from applications for amusement tax exemptions, and the Parlors will no doubt send in the results promptly, for which again a thank you will be due.

Grand President of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, Ethel I. Begley, at her official visit to Argonaut Parlor No. 166, presented to the Secretary of this Central Committee the returns from her penny march fund, "Given," as she added, "by the Native Daughters everywhere, not by me." One hundred eighteen dollars and eighty-seven cents being the amount contributed.

Editor Grizzly Bear: Here is a bit of news from the Native Daughters and Native Sons of Martinez. During the month of November every year the members of Las Juntas Parlor No. 221 N.D.G.W. and those of Mount Diablo Parlor No. 101 N.S.G.W. give a benefit card party for the benefit of the homeless children.

This year the party proved to be a great success. Last year we cleared $217; this year we raised that amount just an even $100, and are able to send $317 to the Central Committee. We are more than proud of this amount, and feel that our untiring efforts to make this party a success every year have not failed. We feel that this is a very worthy cause, and each and every one of the Native Daughters and Native Sons put forth best efforts to make it possible to add a worthy amount to the fund. It is one of the things we look forward to every year with great interest, and the people of our community seem ever willing to help us with our work.

We wish every success to each and every Parlor of Native Daughters and Native Sons in efforts to raise money for the homeless children fund. Sincerely, LEA McNAMER, recording secretary Las Juntas Parlor N.D.G.W., Martinez, December 7, 1937.

Humboldt County had the highest living Christmas tree, at Ferndale. One hundred thirty feet in hight, it is located on an elevation seventy feet above the city. It was decorated with 1,500 colored lights.

LEWIS AND SALVADOR

Dr. Peter T. Conmy

Grand Historian N.S.G.W.

(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR.)

THE EXPLORERS WHO CAME TO America were almost universally impressed with the general high integrity of the Indians that they found and with whom they had contractural dealings. Some historians have referred to the influence which this had on the philosophers of sixteenth- and seventeenth-century Europe as the "noble savage." That the Indians of America, and especially those of California, were people of high character is nowhere better exemplified than in the conduct of two Indians who arrived from Sutter's Fort in November 1846 while the Donner Party was encamped on the shores of Truckee Lake, now known as Donner Lake. The names of these Indians, who will always be remembered as men of courage, loyalty and high ideals, were Lewis and Salvador. Lewis was called after the famous partner of Clark in the historical Lewis and Clark expedition which explored the Missouri River to its source, and crossing the Rocky Mountains followed the Columbia River from its source to its mouth. Salvador received his name from the Spanish word for Saviour. The courage of the great Captain Lewis and the nobility of the Good and Gentle Saviour of Men were to some degree blended in the characters of the two Indians who bore these illustrious names.

It should be pointed out that when the Donner Party was in the vicinity of Humboldt Sink in Nevada State an inventory of provisions was taken and, fearing that there would not be enough food to see the party across the mountains, two men, McCutcheon and Stanton, were sent on ahead so that they might reach Sutter's Fort at once and return with help. They successfully crossed the Sierra, made their way to Sutter's Fort and were outfitted with provisions by the kind German-Swiss captain. Stanton was forced to return to the party alone because McCutcheon was taken ill. He was accompanied, however, by two Indian guides, Lewis and Salvador, who came with him voluntarily to be of assistance in helping the party over the mountains. Stanton, Lewis and Salvador met the party on the shores of Donner Lake on November 14, 1846.

The party had been there about fifteen days at that time. As day followed day the inclemency of the weather and the scarcity of food became more and more poignant. The death of one or two members of the party from lack of food and exposure made it apparent to many that few, if any, would survive unless something were done. Finally in mid-December a group of fifteen decided to cross on foot and return with help for the others. Lewis and Salvador accompanied this group as guides. This subdivision of the Donner Party is known in history as the Forlorn Hope. It is their conduct on this Forlorn Hope expedition that has given Lewis and Salvador a place in history, and causes them to be honored by all who respect the innate nature of human kind.

Rare, indeed, are the instances of history where men and women have suffered greater hardship and privation than was experienced by those who composed the Forlorn Hope expedition. The very elements of nature seemed to turn against them. Cold and blinding storms obliterated what trails there might have been, and drove into seclusion such living animals as might have afforded food. Several of the party, none too well physically at the outset, fell a prey to the ravages of disease and were liberated from their misery by death. One of these was the brave Charles Tyler Stanton, who had done so much to alleviate the plight of the entire party from the time that a food shortage was first discovered at Humboldt Sink. At one time it was agreed to kill one of the party for food, and lots were drawn, it falling to one Patrick Dolan to be slain. No one, however, would perform the hideous task of murdering him and hence nothing came of this proposal.

The terrors of the Forlorn Hope group came to a head in a terrific storm which raged intermittantly from December 23 to December 29. F. W. Graves in his dying moments urged that his body be eaten after his death. Within forty-eight hours he was followed by Patrick Dolan and a few days later Lemuel Murphy succumbed. Portions of the remains of some of these men were eaten. Eaten, yes, by the Whites, but not by the Indians, Lewis and Salvador. Says McGlashan: "The Indian guides, Lewis and Salvador, would not eat this revolting food. They built a fire away from the company and with true Indian stoicism endured the agonies of starvation without so much as beholding the occurrences at the other campfire."

Lewis and Salvador continued this practice of camping separately from the party until they learned that their own lives were in danger. Hence they fled ahead in the wilderness until they too were overcome by the ravages of exposure. It is reported that they plunged on for nine days with snow as their only food. Finally they were too ill to proceed further. They made a camp and awaited the inevitable summons. A few days later they were passed by the remaining seven Whites. They were still alive. It might be more correct to say that they were barely breathing. Just when they died is not known, and never will be known. Their bodies were found months later, sleeping in their last camp. Death was caused by starvation and exposure. Neither attempted the life of the other. One died first. The survivor had not touched the flesh of the other. They had obeyed the great commandment, "Thou shalt not kill." They had also shown respect for human flesh. They had entered this dreadful arena to help their fellow men; White men too, men who oftentimes mistreated the Indians. Lewis and Salvador were only Indians, but they were also men, yes, men of the highest character. They are heroes, and are worthy of the greatest praise. Of them it may be truly said, "Greater love than this no man hath, than that a man lay down his life for his friends."

The "Baby" Parlor, Taft No. 276.

Bakersfield—Deputy Grand President Mart E. Leonard realized a dream of nearly three years and made good a promise made at the last (Sonoma) Grand Parlor to Grand President Eldred L. Meyer when, as mentioned in The Grizzly Bear for December 1937, Taft No. 276 was formally instituted November 27. The ritual was exemplified by the officers of Bakersfield No. 42: Carl Luick, president; Ralph Hinderliter, senior past president; Ruffin C. Gleason, junior past president; Paul Broderick, first vice-president; Frank Ziegler (President Ramona), second vice-president; James Fix, third vice-president; Frank Espitallier, marshal; George Hansen, inside sentinel; Jack Armistead, outside sentinel.

Then followed the baby Parlor's institution by Grand President Meyer, assisted by Past Grand John T. Newell, Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth, Hal Bannister (Bakersfield Parlor) and Grand Organist Roger Johnson. Officers of 276 were then installed by Deputy Leonard, as follows:

Ernest J. Cuthbertson, president; Stanley Abel, senior past president; Arthur Jeans, junior past president; E. C. Emmons, first vice-president; Richard Casey, second vice-president; Charles Lalley, third vice-president; Joseph Blos, recording and financial secretary; J. R. Minner, treasurer; Lansing Bachelor, Albert Specht and Lloyd Tarr, trustees; Clinton Lellon, marshal; Stanley Christian, inside sentinel; Guy Berryhill, outside sentinel.

Among the many others in attendance at the ceremonies were Supervising Deputy Walter Odemar, Deputies Bernard G. Hiss, Alton Giggy, Ray LeMoine, Roy Tarleton, John O'B. Bodkin and Robert Dunn; Irving D. Gibson (Sacramento Parlor), M. U. Rosenthal (Hollywood Parlor), and the following Kern County officials, all members Bakersfield Parlor: Supervisor Stanley Abel, Assessor Thomas Burke, Tax Collector Perry Brite, Auditor Stonewall Woody, Recorder Charles Showmate and Fire Warden Harold Bowbay.

PIONEER SPIRIT EXEMPLIFIED BY N.S.G.W. GRAND PRESIDENT.

"Loyalty of men to the organizations with which they affiliate themselves is one of the greatest tributes to human nature that one can conceive. An example worthy of note was set by Grand President Eldred L. Meyer of the Native Sons of the Golden West this week. Tuesday morning Meyer was in Eureka. He had been invited to attend a meeting of Colusa Parlor on Tuesday night. He wired R. G. Power, district deputy grand president at Colusa, that he was leaving Eureka and wanted Power to wire him at Ukiah regarding road conditions.

"Power inquired regarding roads and wired Meyer at Ukiah as follows: 'You can't get from Eureka to Ukiah, but if you do you can't get to Colusa as road is out near Williams.'

"At 8:30 p.m. Meyer drove into Colusa. He had negotiated the closed highway between Eureka and Ukiah, driven to Napa, to Woodland, to Arbuckle, in the back way to Colusa with flood waters up to the running board of his car and was there for the meeting.

"Actuated by such an example, Power, Phil Humberg and C. J. Westfall Wednesday night drove through flood water two feet in depth to attend a gathering of nearby Parlors at Marysville Wednesday night, and Thursday Power and Humberg drove to Ukiah by way of Woodland and Napa to attend another meeting. Sutter Parlor at Sutter City not to be outdone by such examples sent four auto loads of members around the long way to the Ukiah meeting.

"Such examples of loyalty demonstrates that the spirit of the pioneer still lives in the breasts of their sons who would perpetuate their traditions."—Editorial Independent-Farmer, Yuba City, Sutter County, December 17.

Thirteen Initiated.

Eureka—More than a hundred members of the Humboldt County Parlors—Humboldt No. 14, Arcata No. 20 and Ferndale No. 93—assembled here December 13 to welcome Grand President Eldred L. Meyer. A dinner preceded the meeting, at which thirteen candidates were initiated. The ritual was exemplified by a team representing the three Parlors, with Supervisor Leonard Yocom of Arcata No. 20 as president.

Grand President Meyer addressed the enthusiastic gathering, telling his hearers of the growth and the accomplishments of the Order. Brief remarks were made by District Deputy Henry Sundfors, Herbert Newell, Leland Breshears, L. C. Sundquist and Darrel R. Flowers. On behalf of the host-Parlors, Supervisor Yocom presented a beautiful redwood burl radio lamp to Grand President Meyer.

Oldtimers Night.

Santa Cruz—Santa Cruz No. 90 had its annual oldtimers night December 8, and some 100 members gathered about the festive board. Arnold M. Baldwin was the toastmaster. President W. A. Deans, on the Parlor's behalf, presented fifty-year pins to Reuben H. Pringle, Frank K. Roberts and Ralph S. Miller, charter members of Santa Cruz, which was instituted August 21, 1887.

Grand Trustee Wayne Millington was the chief speaker of the evening and told of the Order's teachings and what it is doing. Reminiscent remarks were made by Judge J. L. Atteridge, W. S. Rodgers, Frank Helms, C. E. Canfield and other oldtimers. The successful affair was in charge of a committee which included Lewis Rittenhouse, George Penniman, Warren Penniman, John Lacey and Horace Burkett.

Young Men Should Carry On.

Marysville—In honor of Grand President Eldred L. Meyer the northern California Parlors had a largely attended joint meeting here December 15, with Marysville No. 6 as the host. Nine candidates were initiated, seven for Sutter No. 261 and two for Marysville, a team from the former, headed by Desmond A. Winship, exemplifying the ritual. On behalf of Marysville, Past Grand Seth Millington presented fifty-year emblems to Jefferson L. Wilcoxson, the only surviving charter member of that Parlor, organized in 1880, and Peter J. Delay, a member of the Order fifty-four years.

Concluding the meeting a banquet was served, with President Ivan Sperbeck as the toastmaster. Grand President Meyer spoke of the Order's growth and stressed the necessity of denying statehood to Jap-infested Hawaii. Past Grand Hilliard E. Welch said it was the duty of the young men of the Order to carry on. Other speakers were Supervising Deputy R. G. Power, Joseph Heenan, district attorney Yuba County, and Loyd E. Hewitt, district attorney Sutter County.

Flooded Highways Defied.

Ukiah—Grand President Eldred L. Meyer paid a visit to Ukiah No. 71, December 16, and defying flooded highways members of the Order from Marin, Sonoma, Sutter, Colusa and Mendocino Counties gathered there in force to greet him. Santa Rosa No. 28 sent its drum corps, and there was a great display. Twelve candidates were initiated.

Grand President Meyer was the speaker of the evening, and urged the new members to take an active interest in the Order and their respective Parlors. Among the many others present were Grand Inside Sentinel Harold Zimmerman, Supervising Deputy R. G. Power, District Deputies Daniel Francis and Wesley Beach, W. S. Antioch—Sergeant Richard Heidorn Trembath of the California Highway Patrol, a member of General Winn No. 32, met death December 4 in a motorcycle-auto crash near Crockett. He was aged 35, and was the only son of Supervisor and Mrs. R. J. Trembath. For seven years he was a member of the Contra Costa Highway Patrol, and was identified with the San Francisco-Oakland Bridge Patrol since the span was opened.

Meyer was the honor-guest, and reviewed the Order's accomplishments. Other speakers were Grand Inside Sentinel Harold Zimmerman, Tim Sullivan, Phil Humburg and Warren G. Davison. Earle entertained with pictures he had taken while stationed in the Hawaiian Islands, British Columbia and Alaska. The Parlor and Calistoga No. 145 N.D.G.W. had a New Year dance December 31 at Silverado Bowl.

Ferndale—In a spirited horseshoe game following the December 6 meeting of Ferndale No. 93, the married men defeated the single men by a 11-to-5 score. At the game's conclusion refreshments were served. W. W. Williams was presented with a fifty-year membership emblem at the annual turkey feast December 20. Wm. J. Tuohey as president heads the Parlor's new corps of officers. In the near-future Ferndale will present a set of flags to the Port Kenyon school.

Livermore—Las Positas No. 96 had its annual Christmas party for underprivileged children of Livermore Valley, and more than 300 of them attended. President Henry L. Reinstein was the general chairman, and chairmen of the several subcommittees included J. J. Kelly, C. G. Clarke, H. L. Wente, Jack Rose, Peter C. Reuss, George E. Peters, E. A. Wente, Fred S. Young, William Medau and J. M. Beazell. Angelita N.D.G.W. had charge of the entertainment.

Glen Ellen—Glen Ellen No. 102, instituted February 8, 1887, has voted to consolidate with Sonoma No. 111. But four of the charter members remain—Leopold Justi, Charley Weise, Harry Weise and M. E. Bones.

San Diego—San Diego No. 108 entertained Santa Ana No. 265 at a Christmas party at the Sequoia Club December 22. A turkey dinner was followed by appropriate entertainment. President Joseph C. Kelley, Deputy Grand President Albert V. Mayrhofer, Joseph Tighe, Henry Burkhardt, Fred Kaland and Lawrence Robinson composed the committee in charge.

There are thousands of fine eligibles just waiting to be extended an invitation to affiliate with the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West. Be a recruiter—extend the invitation today, not tomorrow!

Sonoma—Grand Trustee Charles Redding was greeted by many members of Sonoma No. 111 on the occasion of his official visit December 6. A turkey dinner was served, with J. F. Prestwood as toastmaster, and many fine talks were heard. The last Saturday in January 1938 the Parlor will sponsor a dance for the benefit of the homeless children.

Oakland—Piedmont No. 120 December 2 featured "Dick Hamb night," in honor of Richard M. Hamb, for forty years an active member of the Parlor and for many years its treasurer.

Palo Alto—Palo Alto No. 216 and Palo Alto No. 229 had a joint benefit whist party December 6.

San Francisco—Frank George Regan, affiliated with South San Francisco Parlor No. 157 N.S.G.W., died suddenly December 12. He was born here September 19, 1915, the son of Grand Secretary John T. Regan and Mrs. Agnes L. Regan of Genevieve No. 132 N.D.G.W. He was a brother of Harold J. Regan, Assistant Grand Secretary, and Edwin J. Regan of Weaverville, district attorney Trinity County, both identified with South San Francisco Parlor; Mrs. James Alexander and Robert C. Regan.

Byron—Byron No. 170 entertained Donner No. 193 N.D.G.W. December 7 at a delightful party at which entertainment was presented, cards were played and refreshments were served. Alex Chaim was master of ceremonies, and among the speakers were Charter Member Chas. Cople, Mrs. M. E. Rogers, Marie Mehrtens, Maude Plumley, Clara Houston and President Ed Krumland. The decorations consisted of holly berries and a centerpiece of a mountain topped by a golden bear.

Tracy—Tracy No. 186 elected officers December 9, Robert Hansen being named president. Installation will be held jointly with El Pescadero No. 82 N.D.G.W. in January. The Parlor is organizing a band under the direction of Robert Schulenberg. John Fisher heads the band committee.

Mountain View—Grand Trustee Wayne Millington officially visited Mountain View No. 215 December 22, when five candidates were initiated. James Bakotich, as president, heads the Parlor's new corps of officers to be installed in January.

No applications, no new members to fill the ranks. And California needs more Native Sons! Today's responsibility of every member of the Order is to contact eligibles. Don't leave this important duty for "George" to perform.

San Leandro—Estudillo No. 223 initiated four candidates November 19. December 17 the Parlor had its annual Christmas party for the children of its members and those of the members of El Cereso N.D.G.W. The arrangements committee included Frank Negus (chairman), A. Lopes, Al Schneider, George Phillips, Al Ferriera, Al Silva, Sam Souza, Frank Gonsalves, Robert Silva and Clarence Breves.

My Sister Danced With Grant

"She danced with Grant, right over there
Where you can see that pile of stone,
My sister was without a care,
And he was out here all alone.
That used to be a large dance hall
The music swept them right along,
She was the beauty of them all,
And he, a tanner, big and strong.
Annette was lovely as a flower,
A little one of joy—not tears,
He became a man of power
And she's been gone these many years.
She danced with Grant right over there
It doesn't seem so long ago—
How time is moving! I declare
I'll soon be ninety, 'fore I know."

Native Daughters of the Golden West

"OUR ORDER IS REALLY FOUNDED upon the principles of Americanism," says Chairman Nellie M. Cline of the Grand Parlor Americanism Committee in a communication to all Subordinate Parlors. "What made America, but the desire to follow the dictates of conscience in the quest for liberty, justice, tolerance and the pursuit of happiness?

"In these turbulent times, when there is so much unrest and dissatisfaction on all sides, let us set an example of true Americanism by being actively interested in our civic duties, participating in local affairs of every nature.

"A good Native Daughter is a good citizen! Never let it be said that a Native Daughter forgot to register, or after registering, forgot to vote.

"We, who are so fortunate as to be natives of this glorious State, have a real duty to perform in setting an example to others in showing civic pride, justice and, above all, tolerance."

The center of the floor was banked with a silvered Christmas tree, and at each corner was an attractive arrangement of silvered boughs and candelabra. The minutes of the Parlor's first meeting, December 18, 1912, were read. Seven candidates were initiated, and new officers, with Mrs. Isla Sisson as president, were elected.—C.R.S.

Gala Occasion.

Hollister—Thanksgiving was fittingly observed by Copa de Oro No. 105. Erma Pivetti gave the story of the first Thanksgiving. Refreshment tables were pleasingly decorated with chrysanthemums in wood shades and centered with a large horn-of-plenty from which tumbled seasonable fruits. A large group from Alell (Salinas), headed by Grand Trustee Rose Rhyner, paid a surprise visit and, in a clever stunt, presented Supervising Deputy Mayme Moran with a large boquet of fall blossoms.

December 1 was a gala occasion when five candidates were initiated and honor was paid to twenty-six members born in the months of July, August and September. Candidates, with their officer escorts, were seated at a table decorated with the colors of the Order and centered with a miniature covered-wagon. Red formed the color scheme of the July table, which was centered with an American Flag. The August (vacation month) table was decorated in white, with a centerpiece featuring a placid lake over which sailed tiny boats. The September table was adorned with a golden hue and centered with a Bear Flag and a group of tiny bears. After the serving of delicious refreshments, lights were extinguished. Alta Trowbridge, candidate hostess, entered singing a song of welcome and bearing a lighted cake topped with a saucy baby doll, complimentary to the new members. Hazel Bengard, July hostess, presented a lighted cake surmounted with tiny American Flags, as she sang "Yankee Doodle." Evelyn Pivetti, August hostess, appeared with a lighted cake topped with a miniature aeroplane and singing "Over the Bounding Main." The September cake, decorated with Bear Flags, was presented by Hostess Mayme Moran to the chorus of "I Love You, California." To attractive gifts wrapped in bright cellophane matching the table decorations were attached amusing horoscopes, which were read by the birthday celebrants. A clever game featured the names of the twenty-six birthday girls. Additional tables were decorated tastily with bright berries and lighted candles. The evening was voted one of the happiest of the past few months.

Gift Packages for Veterans.

The following came to The Grizzly Bear from State Chairman Merle Sandell of the Grand Parlor Veterans Welfare Committee with the notation: "I would very much appreciate having the enclosed article printed in The Grizzly Bear as I know all the Parlors will be interested.

"The N.D.G.W. Grand Parlor Veterans Welfare Committee distributed 300 gift packages containing writing paper, envelopes, socks, playing cards, cigarettes and lifesavers to six Veteran Facilities in California. Eighteen of these packages were for women patients and contained writing paper, envelopes, talcum powder, powder bags and puffs and lifesavers.

"One hundred and thirty packages of cigarettes and lifesavers wrapped as favors for the Christmas trays and 100 small sacks of tobacco were sent to Whipple, Arizona. All packages were attractively wrapped in white tissue, tied with ribbon, and special stickers were used bearing the emblem of the Order and greetings. A fund known as The Native Daughter Emergency Fund was arranged for at Letterman Hospital. The committee plans to remember the veterans again during the Easter Season.

"Chairman Merle Sandell was assisted in the preparation and the distribution of the gifts in northern California by Margaret Stambaugh, Amelia Mulbach, Charlotte Mulbach, Elizabeth Muller and Lucille Kimbark. Ann Schiebusch of Los Angeles Parlor took charge of the distribution of packages at San Fernando and Sawtelle."

Seven Initiated.

Vallejo—Vallejo No. 195 received an official visit from Grand President Ethel I. Begley December 15. A dinner in her honor preceded the meeting at which Celia Barseky presided. The Christmas theme was emphasized in the decorations, with the diningroom decked in red berries and evergreens. Seven candidates were initiated. The Grand President gave an instructive and complimentary address, at the conclusion of which the Parlor presented her with a gift.

Others in attendance at the interesting meeting were Grand Inside Sentinel Emily Ryan, Past Grand Margaret Hill, Margaret McGee of Ursula No. 1, a permanent member of the Grand Parlor, Supervising Deputies Irene Griffin and Edith Cavagnaro, Deputies Ruby Brien and Juliet Bliss, and May McDonald of the Grand Parlor Extension of the Order Committee. At the meeting's close buffet refreshments were served. —M.C.

Needy Family Remembered.

San Jose—Vendome No. 100 had a Christmas party December 22. Every member brought a package of non-perishable food, and the big box was given to a needy family. Installation will be held January 12 jointly with San Jose No. 81 N.S.G.W.

The past presidents club of the Parlor held its Christmas party also. Mrs. Imogen Clark was elected the 1938 president. Installation, to be held in January, will commence with a 6:30 dinner at the San Jose Country Club. Mms. Mabel Sontheimer, Fay Withycombe and Alice Kady are in charge of the evening.

Mrs. Ella Graham and Miss Dorothy Lorentz represented Vendome at the mass meeting recently called by City School Superintendent Bachrodt. Mrs. Clara Gairaud represented the past presidents club, and Mrs. Charlotte Ludemann the Santa Clara County Past Presidents Association.—C.G.

NEWSY N.D.G.W. PARAGRAPHS.

Napa—Eshcol No. 16 had a most successful card party November 22. A large crowd attended, and a neat sum will be sent the Central Homeless Children Committee. The Parlor's annual Christmas party was held December 13. There was a tree, "josh" gifts were exchanged and entertainment was provided. Matilda Flanagan was chairman of the evening. Several members attended the dinner and meeting of Vallejo No. 195 December 15 in honor of Grand President Ethel I. Begley.—E.I.

Grass Valley—Following a custom of years, Manzanita No. 29 had two Christmas parties December 21. The first, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, was for the members' children. At the second, in the evening, there was a decorated tree, Santa distributed presents, and a program was given under the direction of the dramatics club. Anna Rowe was general chairman for the parties. Vere Hansen heads as president the new corps of officers of Manzanita that will be installed January 18.—L.A.K.

Oakland—Dr. Robert F. Millar, brother of Past Grand Mary E. Bell of Buena Vista No. 68, died here November 27. He was a native of Dixon, Solano County, aged 70 years.

tive lately. A recent card party netted a neat sum, enabling the Parlor to make its annual donation of $50 to the homeless children fund. Fine programs for Thanksgiving and Christmas have been presented. At election of officers Margaret Robinson was selected for president. —M.R.

Sacramento—La Bandera No. 110 entertained December 3 at a gingham and overall party in honor of Mrs. Mary Wright, outgoing president. A "country idea" was carried out with entertainment, dances, etc. Checkered cloths and candles were used in the clubrooms, where typical country refreshments were served. Mrs. Wright was the recipient of a beautiful silver gift from the Parlor and various remembrances from friends. Past Grand Dr. Eva R. Rasmussen, Supervising Deputy Maud Fassett and Deputy May Curry were present. Captain Olwen Henley of the drill team presented the Parlor an exquisite gold trophy, first prize won in the November 11 Armistice Day parade.—L.E.H.

Daly City—At a well-attended meeting December 1, El Carmelo No. 181 honored its December-born members. It was a comic costume party, and many odd characters, furnishing much merriment, were portrayed. Tasty refreshments were served at tables decorated in a Christmas motif. The annual Christmas party for children of the members was held December 15 under the supervision of Rena Mathias. Alice Oldham heads the committee which is arranging for the January 5 official visit of Grand President Ethel I. Begley.—P.Q.

Antioch—At the district meeting December 3 of the Contra Costa County Parlors—Stirling No. 146 of Pittsburg, Richmond No. 147, Donner No. 193 of Byron, Las Juntas No. 221 of Martinez and Antioch No. 223—Supervising Deputy Wilma Del Colletti presided, and the hostesses were the presidents of the Parlors. Superior Judge A. F. Bray and Grand President Ethel I. Begley were the main speakers. Among others in attendance were Grand Trustees Ethel Enos and Claire Lindsey, Grand Inside Sentinel Emily Ryan, Grand Organist Mae O'Keefe, Past Grand Margaret Hill and State Civics Chairman Ann Dippel. After the meeting the grand officers were guests of Past Grand Estelle M. Evans at her Pittsburg home.—R.D.

Santa Ana—More than 300 attended the annual dinner and bazar of Santa Ana No. 235, November 22. It was a great success, and all proceeds will go to the homeless children fund. Assisting Mrs. Arthur Edwards, general chairman, were Mms. Edw. Wheeler, Carl Schroeder, D. W. Ellis, Walter Cook, Andrew Cook, Eunice Fox, Walter Hiskey, Estelle Dresser, Margaret Evanson and Hazel Flaherty, and Miss Gladys Edwards. A bridge party was held at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Etzold, and meetings of the sewing club were held at the homes of Mms. Horace Head, H. F. Witt and W. A. West. Owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Arthur Edwards, president, the Parlor's anniversary dinner has been postponed to a later date.—M.L.

Fort Bragg—Fort Bragg No. 240 initiated four candidates December 2, and a delightful Christmas party followed the ceremonies. Mrs. W. F. Fuller, Mae Cummings, Ina Lattu and Mrs. Joe Walsh were the hostesses.

Nice (Lake County)—While acting in the role of good samaritan to a visiting friend, Mrs. Laura Frakes-Toman of Amador No. 17, former Grand Secretary, suffered a very badly wrenched heart muscle, and is now critically ill in the hospital. This happened on the eve of her departure for Seattle. In order for her to make a complete recovery it will be necessary for her to remain in the hospital for the next sixty days. —E.P., December 16.

San Jose—Santa Clara County Past Presidents Association No. 3 had a Christmas dinner and party at the home of Mrs. Adaline Boysen December 14. A silvered tree and red berries were the decorations. At election of officers Miss Lysette Faber was chosen president. Installation will be held January 11, with Mrs. Clara Gairaud officiating. The welfare committee has been doing grand work. Several families have been taken care of, clothes, shoes, groceries and medicines being distributed. Mrs. Claire Borchers is mainly responsible for the work done.—C.G.

A red morning glory, developed in the Santa Maria Valley of Santa Barbara County, will make its world bow in 1938. It may be grown only from seed, and does not produce the tubers that have made pests of ordinary morning glories.

Eureka, Humboldt County, was willed $50,000 for a playground by the late William W. Carson. It is to be known as the "William Carson Memorial."

(JAMES FRENCH DORRANCE.)

SANTA BARBARA PARLOR NO. 116 N.S.G.W. closed the year 1937 with a brilliant dinner at which a class of ten candidates were initiated by Parlor Historian Paul Sweetser and his expert ritual team. With this meeting, December 16, the administration of President Leland Holiday was brought to a close. He leaves a record of consistent activities along all of the Parlor's lines of endeavor. Outstanding were the placing of a plaque in Gaviota Pass, where an earlyday massacre of General Fremont's forces was prevented by William and Benjamin Foxen, and particularly brilliant participation in Old Spanish Days parades.

Seventy-nine new members have been initiated into the Parlor since Holiday took over the presidency, and it has strong hopes of carrying off the Grand Parlor award for the Parlor taking in the most new members.

With the new year, Parlor command passes to A. J. (Gus) Janssens, who will find time from his official post as city license inspector to give an exceedingly active administration. In becoming president of Santa Barbara, Janssens fulfills a wish of his late father, Adelino A. Janssens, a past president of No. 116. He said recently:

A. J. (Gus) Janssens,
President Santa Barbara Parlor N.S.G.W.

"When my father was president of the Parlor he frequently said to me, 'Son, I hope that one day your fellow Native Sons will find you worthy to fill this office I hold. Do the job right, if it comes your way. I know of no other position in which you can be of greater service to your community and to the state of your birth.' If I can carry on with the same degree of success as has attended my immediate predecessor, Leland Holiday, I'll be happy.

"We have in mind several new features which should broaden our field of influence as a Parlor. Proposed, is a mounted group of Native Sons to be known as 'Los Nativos Barbarenos.' It will act as unofficial escort to our veteran Sheriff James Ross, even as the famed Los Angeles sheriff's posse attends the sheriff of that county. Our posse will be different, however, in that all members will be Native Sons. We plan to outfit our initiatory team with tuxedos and send it forth under the leadership of Paul Sweetser in an effort to capture the Grand Parlor prize for state supremacy.

"The fact that the Grand Parlor of Native Daughters comes to Santa Barbara in 1938 will bring especial responsibility to the Parlor which we are glad to assume. Particularly will we serve as escorts to the visiting Daughters. We have not forgotten that when the Sons enter-

SAN FR ANCISCO

FOUR HUNDRED ACRES OF NEW TERritory acquired by "peaceful penetration" were formally added to California when "Treasure Island" was dedicated with simple ceremonies November 21. This new island, in the center of San Francisco's harbor, will be the site of the Golden Gate International Exposition in 1939.

The United States Army and Engineer Corps, builders of the mile-land island, turned it over to William P. Lawson, California State Administrator for the Works Progress Administration—for Treasure Island was built by a $3,803,000 WPA appropriation sponsored by the exposition company. Lawson, in turn, conveyed it to San Francisco, which has "loaned" it to the World's Fair for its 1939 Pageant of the Pacific.

California's fifty-eight counties and eleven Western states shared in the symbolism of the brief pageant that added color to the occasion, but the major objective of the day was a "Voyage of Discovery" through the $10,000,000 construction program that has already dotted the island with huge buildings at all stages of completion. The afternoon closed with a military retreat ceremony at the exposition's ferry terminal building on Treasure Island.

With formal dedication accomplished, there will remain the completion of the $16,000,000 construction program, and then the presentation of a $50,000,000 World's Fair.

N.D.G.W. HOME PARTY.

The third N.D.G.W. Home luncheon and card party sponsored by the Grand Parlor Home Committee was held December 11. Darina No. 114, La Estrella No. 89, Dolores No. 169 and Portola No. 172 were the hostess Parlors. La Estrella, with a membership of forty-four, had eighteen members in attendance, and among others were Mrs. Ann B. Dippel, representing the Grand President, Supervising Deputy Katherine Keating, Past Grands Evelyn I. Carlson, May C. Boldemann and Emma G. Foley.

Miss Armida Donati presided and extended a welcome to the guests, Mrs. Coovas Logue offered the invocation, Mrs. Ann Duddy led in the salute to the Flag, and Miss Alice Boldemann presented a donation of $10 toward the china fund. Past Grand Dr. Mariana Bertola, chairman home committee, accepted the donation with thanks and appreciation, and Past Grand Carlson was thanked for the toyon berries that decorated the table. Grand Organist Mae Ethel O'Keefe entertained with songs, accompanying herself on the accordion.—E.G.F.

N.S. HISTORY BOARD MEETS.

The N.S.G.W. California History Board met December 16 at a Christmas dinner session. Matters of the lecture group were considered. The Board informally discussed the California Indians and Indian place names. In attendance were Past Grand Edward J. Lynch, Emmett Joy, Joseph Tinney, Rev. Thomas J. McKeon and Grand Historian Peter T. Conmy.

SANTA CLAUS VISITS.

At election of officers in Dolores Parlor No. 169 N.D.G.W. November 24, Captain Alvina Burkhart of the drill team was chosen president. The team has been quite active the past few months and has many interesting plans for the future. December 6 members of the team had a Christmas party at the home of Mabel Lewis, with Juanita Blanchfield as co-hostess Rose Cully, a recent bride, was presented a gift of pottery.

Santa Claus, with a pack of gifts, visited the Parlor December 8 for the Christmas party. Tables and hall were resplendent with the colors of the season. Holly from the Atherton garden of Past Grand Evelyn Carlson added much to the beauty of the decorations. Among those attending were Supervising Deputy Katharine Keating and Deputy Ellen Gooch.

A needy family had a happy Yuletide, for the Parlor contributed the amount necessary for a Christmas dinner of turkey and all the trimmings. In January Dolores will celebrate its twenty-ninth institution anniversary with a banquet.—J.B.

NATIVE SONS NEWS.

Mission Parlor No. 38 had its annual oldtimers night December 8, with Police Chief Quinn and Sheriff Murphy as honor-guests. A program of vocal and instrumental musical selections was presented. The arrangements committee included William Segale (chairman), Raymond J. McGrath, William Hartnett, Vincent Nigro, Al Donohue and Carl Hemmeter.

Stanford Parlor No. 76 had a Christmas party December 21, with Carl Boegershausen as master of ceremonies. The annual Christmas dinner, dedicated to the charter members and past presidents of the Parlor, was held December 28. Theo. Schmidt was the general chairman, and Arthur Poheim had charge of the entertainment.

San Francisco Past Presidents Assembly No. 1 had its annual Christmas party December 17. Governor General Peterson, Director General Stanley, Past Governor Generals Orengo and Erb, and Grand Historian Conmy addressed the meeting.

tained their Grand Parlor, the Daughters of Reina del Mar took over the ball and carried it to a great social success. When they meet in Santa Barbara, the Sons propose to spread them a barbecue that we hope will be long remembered."

Captain I. A. Bonilla of the city fire department and his efficient wife were in charge of the dinner that preceded the December 16 initiation. It was announced that City Engineer C. W. Moore was in the lead for the new membership award, having brought in fifteen new members.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS CHRISTMAS PARTY PLEASING HOLIDAY EVENT.

The Christmas party of Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W. at Veterans Memorial Building on the Santa Barbara harbor front, with Mrs. Frank Holtzbauer serving as chairman, assisted by Mrs. J. J. O'Brien, was a pleasing holiday event.

The program opened with community singing of Christmas carols. Then Robert Phelan showed motion pictures of the varied activities of the Parlor in 1937, including scenes at the dedication of Santa Barbara's new postoffice, where the Daughters acted as hostesses; the dedication of La Purissima Mission, the installation of a Fremont-Foxen memorial plaque in Gaviota Pass and the tree-planting at the "Queen of Missions" in which Founder Lilly Dyer and Grand President Florence Boyle participated. Mrs. J. C. Ludwig was soloist, accompanied by Miss Eileen Pritchard. William Dahlen gave selections on his musical saw.

THE REDWOODS

(CHARLES H. GREENFIELD.)

Famed monarchs of our Western coast!
Crowned glory by the seas!
Centuries old, in histories told,
These grand old Redwood trees.

In vain, man ever strives to scan
Their lofty topmost spires,
Lost to view, in heaven's blue,
Where sound celestial choirs.

Like multitudes of fluted giants
Their columns stand sublime,
Closely guarding Nature's secrets
Through centuries of time.

Through centuries of mighty conflict,
The fate of man eternal spun,
While these lordly forest monarchs
Over death their victories won.

Live on, you grand old Redwoods
Immortal monarchs tall,
While man shall wage his conquests,
Great nations rise and fall.

More than a billion dollars, estimates the American Road Builders' Association, will be available for highway purposes during 1938.

An underground cavern of natural wonders has been discovered in the Piute Mountains of Kern County.

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

COMPTON—COMPTON PARLOR NO. 273 N.S.G.W. held its second annual stag smoker December 3, and there was a very large attendance, all the Parlors of Los Angeles County being well represented. Hector Hecock was the general chairman, and the Parlor's treasury was enriched several hundred dollars.

December 7, Compton celebrated its fifth institution anniversary at a sumptuous turkey dinner prepared and served by Compton Native Daughters. Grand President Eldred L. Meyer was the honor-guest, and the dinner was in tribute to him—in appreciation of his faith in the Parlor. Walter G. Hopcraft was chairman of the evening, and presented a resume of the Parlor's accomplishments.

An outstanding feature of the evening was the presence of every past president—Dr. L. W. Cowan, first president, Ray Hecock, J. Reid Young Jr., Roy C. Hood, District Deputy Roy W. Tarleton, Hector Hecock and Fred J. Smith. Others in attendance were Don Castillo, the charter recording secretary, who still continues to faithfully serve the Parlor in that important office; Grand Marshal Walter C. Richards, Grand Organist Roger Johnson, District Deputy Ray LeMoine; E. E. Baldwin, Ralph Harbison, A. R. Leonard, Dr. L. W. Clark, George Fontes and Vince Hopkins, who assisted at the institution of the Parlor, December 8, 1932.

bazar for homeless children staged December 14, were shared with relatives and friends. The business meeting included election of officers, with Mrs. Marcella Wolfskill-Palethorpe being re-elected president. Mrs. Hattie Furman Stamps, the Parlor's "sweetheart" and oldest member, an inspiration to the organization, was made a life member. A check for philanthropic work was received from Dr. H. Clifford Loos, who was presented with a beautiful luncheon cloth started by his mother, Mrs. Minnie Loos, before losing her eyesight. The beautiful handwork was finished by another member, Mrs. Marguerite Dobson. Christmas cheer was dispensed by the general philanthropy, the veteran welfare, and the homeless children committees.

Homeless children day was celebrated at the noon luncheon, Chairman Dorothy Bell presiding. Honored guests were the December "birthdayites," Grand Marshal Hazel B. Hansen, Mrs. Winston Link, Miss Mary Brill, Madame Don Phillipini and Mrs. Marguerite Bobson. Chairman Hansen of the joint committee for homeless children activities in the south gave a comprehensive resume of the splendid work being done; she said there is a great need of money, the southern quota being $3,500. The last meeting of the Gertrude sewing circle, which sponsored the bazar under the able chairmanship of Mrs. Edith Adams, was held at the hospitable home of Grand Trustee Mary B. Noerenberg and her

Left to right—William Don Castillo, senior past president; Fred J. Smith, second vice-president; Roy C. Hood, president; Roy L. O. Adams, junior past president; Walter G. Hopcraft, third vice-president; Frank L. Tarleton, inside sentinel; Roy W. Tarleton, marshal; Hector Hecock, first vice-president and captain.

Compton Parlor's ritual team was awarded first honors in competition with Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 and Ramona Parlor No. 109; in the scoring, however, there was not ten points difference between the teams of the three Parlors. The contest, directed by Supervising Deputy Walter Odemar of District No. 1, was open to all southland Parlors. As a prize, Grand President Eldred L. Meyer promised a trophy.

Having won the contest, Compton's team, organized less than a year, had the honor of exemplifying the ritual at the group initiation held December 10 at the meetingplace of Ramona Parlor. Nine candidates were initiated, four for Ramona, three for Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 and one for Hollywood Parlor No. 196. Grand President Meyer presented a handsome victory trophy to the team, and commended the members of the team for their fine work. Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth was also a speaker, and Captain Hector Hecock responded for the team. Previous to the initiation Ramona served a Spanish dinner prepared by Charles Gassagne.

BENEFIT BAZAR GREAT SUCCESS.

For members of Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. the glorious month of December, the Yuletide season, was one of exceeding great joy. The various functions, including the benefit mother, Mrs. Brodbeck. A delicious luncheon was served and all work completed. The bazar was a complete success, both socially and financially. In the afternoon Miss May Muse presented vocal solos, accompanied by Miss Marian Downs, who also rendered instrumental numbers.

A letter of felicitation was sent Mr. and Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, who are now enjoying their beautiful new California home in Santa Monica. Miss Mary Clarke reports fine work being done by the Girl Scout troop sponsored by the Parlor. The Christmas tea December 28 was hostessed by Mrs. Matilda Murdock and committee. A delightful musical program was greatly enjoyed. The closing social function for 1937 was a tea December 21 at the home of Mrs. Maria Elena Welch, when she and her sister, Miss Arabell Hurlbut, honored President Marcella Palethorpe.—O.L.

CHRISTMAS PARTY BIG SUCCESS.

The Christmas party of Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. December 17 was a grand success. Over 300, young and old, were in attendance, packing the hall to capacity. There was a gaily decorated tree, and every child received a present and plenty of ice cream and cookies. Glen Packer had charge of the entertainment and did a fine job.

GIGANTIC WORK, TRIBUTE TO MAN'S GENIUS

(JOHN B. HAAS, President N.S.G.W. Los Angeles Luncheon Club.)

Los Angeles—The Native Sons Luncheon Club of Los Angeles was the guest of the Metropolitan Water District December 11 and 12. Twenty-six members responded to the invitation, traveling in seven cars. They were fortunate to have with them Assistant Engineer Rider of the district, Allen Patton of the legal department, and Otto Emme, a member of the Board of Directors. The start was made at 7 o'clock and although it was a wet, rainy morning, none of the enthusiasm and goodfellowship was dampened.

The first stop was made at Cajalco Reservoir, in the hills back of Perris. Here the plan of distribution to the various member cities was thoroughly explained by Rider. The immensity of this reservoir cannot be visualized, except by one on the ground. From here the cavalcade proceeded to Banning, where a stop was made for gasoline, through the courtesy of the district. Again assembling all units, the members proceeded to Cabazon. Here at noon a stop was made for dinner, and what a dinner! Everything from soup to nuts. We were afraid Paul Kiefer would die of overeating, but he survived.

At Cabazon, a shaft 250 feet has been driven, with a side tunnel to the main tunnel being driven under Mount San Jacinto. The details of tunnel building and the fight against a tremendous flow of water encountered were graphically described by genial Rider. Most of the members descended into the shaft and had a first-hand insight into the massive workings underground. Again the signal was given and the traveling members left for a section of the aqueduct being built out of reinforced cement. From here we proceeded on towards Indio, turning off just before reaching that town to the private aqueduct road. This road was built by the district for use in building the aqueduct. Some 150 miles of beautiful highway stretches across the desert, without any motor patrol.

Our next stop was at Division 3 headquarters for our evening meal. Here again we were royally entertained. After our assignment to rooms in the guest houses and a refreshing washup the triangle was sounded for eats. If our luncheon at Cabazon was sumptuous, our evening meal was perfect in itself. Division 3 is a permanent camp, for here is being built a power house and pumping plant to lift the water to a high elevation to obtain gravity for the long flow to the Cajalco Reservoir. After dinner the members assembled in the main guest house and listened to an entertaining and instructive lecture by Rider on the aqueduct generally, at the conclusion of which a million questions were answered by him.

We then broke up our gathering and went for a stroll in the moonlight. Somebody about this time announced that the first bell rang at 6 and that breakfast was served at 6:30. Can you imagine such a thing on a Sunday morning? But if you wanted breakfast, you had to be on hand. There would be no handouts afterwards. While a few stayed up a little longer, swapping stories, the majority were soon "hitting the hay." None was late next morning, and all enjoyed a breakfast fit for any epicurean. In fact, I believe some of the members were already showing signs of overeating, but kept valiantly on anyhow.

After gassing up again we were soon on our way to Parker Dam and the Colorado River, a hundred miles beyond. Euroute we stopped to see a section of an open canal, a veritable river itself. Here Rider took pains to explain the construction of open canal work. After a brief stay we were again on our way over a vast stretch of desert waste. It wasn't long before we were approaching the hills through which the Colorado winds its way. Here nature seems to have provided a natural setting for the Parker Dam. The dam is horizontal in construction, unlike the Boulder Dam, which is a gravity dam.

The dam itself was built 200 feet below the bed of the river. This was done to get rock bottom. It will be 400 feet in hight when done, the spillway taking care of the water necessary to be released down the river for Palo Verde, Yuma and Imperial Valley. The intake itself will be some two miles above the dam. Here mighty centrifugal pumps will lift the water into Copper Basin Reservoir, where a syphon will take it across to another lift at Division 1 headquarters.

Our last meal was at Division 1 headquarters, where we again had everything one could wish for a dinner. Here we were fortunate to have as a speaker the engineer who was installing the pumps. He gave us a five-minute talk on the technique of the machinery required to lift the water to the higher elevations.

After a vote of thanks to Rider and the engineer, also to Charley Son, to whom we are indebted for a wonderful trip, we were cheered on our way home with a full tank of gasoline, each one on his own. In truth, a most wonderful trip, a gigantic work, a tribute to man's genius. Never have the Natives been so royally entertained!

January 14, Ramona will have initiation, and January 21 the new corps of officers, with Hervery L. Kitchin as president, will be installed. Glen Packer heads a committee that is looking for a new meetingplace for the Parlor.

SOUTHERN HAM DINNER.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. will have initiation January 19. A southern ham dinner will be featured January 26 at the Philanthropy and Civics Club, Fourteenth and Wilton place, 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Minnie Hale is chairman. Reservations, 50 cents, should be made with Recording Secretary Gertrude Allen, CApitol 4327.

INTERPARLOR DANCE.

The N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Interparlor Committee will have its second annual card party and dance at the clubrooms of University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W., 721 West Jefferson street, January 22. Dancing will begin at 9:30 p.m. and continue until 12:30 midnight.

Les Drown, ways and means chairman, has full charge of the affair. The admission fee is fifty cents. An excellent orchestra is guaranteed. A large attendance is urged.—A.M.D.

ENJOYABLE CHRISTMAS PARTY.

Long Beach—Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. initiated two candidates December 16. After the meeting a most enjoyable Christmas party was held. One outstanding feature was the very humorous program prepared by the past presidents and enacted by them. Refreshments were served from a table attractively decorated with a small Christmas tree, reindeers, branches of holly and candles. Each place was marked with a unique Christmas favor. Following refreshments, gifts were exchanged and the names of the secret sisters for the past year were revealed. President Eugenia Smith gave each of her officers a beautiful gift, and this being the last meeting of her term, she was presented by the Parlor with a very lovely gift.

Mrs. Johanna Reed will be installed as president at an open installation January 6 at 8 p.m. Mrs. Eugenia Smith was scheduled to entertain the Parlor's thimble club Saturday afternoon, December 8, at her home, 3712 Cardiff avenue, Los Angeles, but because of circumstances arising the date was changed to Saturday afternoon, January 8, 1938. All members of Long Beach Parlor are invited to attend.—J.P.R.

N.S. LUNCHEON CLUB.

Dr. Rockwell D. Hunt, dean of U.S.C. Graduate School, addressed the Native Sons Friday Luncheon Club on "The American Way," December 3. His son, Clarence S. Hunt, was chairman of the day. December 10, William David Behnke spoke on "Why Hawaii Should Have Statehood." Walter Odemar was chairman of the day. December 17 the club had its annual

ONTARIO — THE HOMELESS CHILdren committee of Ontario Parlor No. 251 N.D.G.W. December 1, 2 and 3 sponsored a benefit dinner and bazar at the home of Chairman Sidney Herzberg. The baby motif was carried out in all the decorations and looked lovely. Following the luncheons and dinners, the guests played bridge. Mr. Herzberg and Mrs. Stewart entertained with music on Friday evening while the guests danced. Proceeds are for the homeless children fund.

Lugonia Parlor No. 241 of San Bernardino and Ontario Parlor held a joint initiation December 8. Preceding the meeting a dinner was served, contributed by both Parlors. Ruth Roberds and Wilma Tucker conducted the meeting jointly, and officers of both Parlors served together. Four candidates were initiated into Ontario and two into Lugonia. Grand Trustee Mary B. Noerenberg, Supervising Deputy Eva Bemis, Deputies Isabel Graves and Muriel Brey, and Florence Schoneman, "mother of Lugonia," were among the approximately one hundred in attendance.

On the forty-sixth anniversary of the day Ontario City was incorporated, December 10, members of Ontario participated in the dedication of the new City Hall by presenting to the city a plaque to mark Euclid avenue. Mrs. Nelson Van Fleet made the presentation. Others on the committee were Lillian Graves and Daisy Kiler. Engraved upon the plaque is a representation of the old mule car which traversed Euclid avenue in the early days and for which Ontario was once famous. This car was unique in the annals of transportation in that the mules pulled the car to the head of the avenue, an elevation rise of 1,000 feet, and then rode down by gravity on a special platform constructed at the rear of the car. Theresa Stafford rendered the flag charge at the close of the ceremonies.

Ontario celebrated its sixth institution birthday December 20. A dinner was held at the clubhouse, to which the families and friends of the members were invited. In charge of arrangements were Daisy Kiler, Marian Pierce and Frances Mitchell. Gifts were exchanged, and a program carrying out the Yuletide spirit was given.

PARTY FOR OLD MEN ARRANGED.

San Bernardino—The sewing club of Lugonia Parlor No. 241 N.D.G.W. had an all-day meeting December 10 at the home of Mrs. Ada McInerney. December 15 the Parlor had a bazar and cooked food sale. A party for the inmates of the old men's home at the County Hospital was arranged by Lugonia for December 19; Margaret Boehm was in charge. Members and their friends were entertained at a Christmas party December 22. Entertainment was provided and refreshments were served.

The postoffice at Coutolenc, once a flourishing Butte County mining camp, has been abandoned after seventy-seven years.

A ninety-nine-year-old coin, dated 1838, has been found at Fort Humboldt, Humboldt County.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE POSTAL SERVICE

(ELIZABETH COLE.)

WE STICK A STAMP ON A LETTER and put it in a mail box or down a chute with ease and confidence. We know that it will quickly reach its destination. Like many other conveniences we accept in these modern days of comfort and up-to-date routine, there is a story of development behind the postal service that is full of historical romance and interest. Naturally, from the earliest times people have wished to convey messages to each other. In the Bible we read of letters, those of Solomon for instance. But for hundreds of years very few of the people could even write or read, so they had to pay the learned men to do this for them.

Herodotus, a Greek historian in the sixth century B.C., tells of how messages written on tablets of bronze or on clay tiles were carried by messengers on horseback along the main roads. At intervals there would be a station where another messenger was in readiness to convey the message to the next station and on and on until it reached its destination. This was called the post, meaning from station to station, and the word first was used to designate the messenger, then the letter he carried, and finally it has come to be used for the whole mail service.

Herodotus might be called the father of this service. It is to him we owe, too, the tribute paid to these courageous messengers whom we now know as postmen, in words which, translated, are on the New York City Post Office Building: "Neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds." In the early centuries the messengers had to travel through woods full of wolves on tiny paths at "grete perill to their lyves."

In France about 1450 under Louis XI the first real postal system may be said to have begun. He established a regular royal messenger service with definite routes and relay stations equipped with horses. He had 230 couriers to convey messages from his court. These men carried a golden horn to announce their approach and were dressed in gaily colored costumes as was the custom of those days. His system was copied and developed by other countries throughout Europe and later was used by the early settlers of our country.

Young boys seemed to be the ones to whom the thrilling adventures of the post most appealed and we read frequently of 15- to 20-year-old couriers bravely fording streams, fight-

Christmas party, with Walter Odemar, Leo Youngworth and Maynard Garrison as the Santa Clauses.

FAITHFUL SECRETARY RETIRES.

Hollywood Parlor No. 196 N.S.G.W. has conferred a life membership on J. H. Plummer, who gave Plummer Park to Los Angeles City. At election of officers Ellery E. Cuff was selected for president, and William Hortenstine was chosen for secretary. The latter succeeds Edward J. Reilly, for years the Parlor's faithful secretary who, on account of failing health, was forced to relinquish the duties of that office. [Faithful Ed passed away December 21.—Editor.]

ELEVENTH ANNIVERSARY PARTY.

Glendale—Verdugo Parlor No. 240 N.D.G.W. has elected Evalyn Wilson to carry on as president for a second term. December 14 was the Parlor's eleventh anniversary, and as a surprise gift Mrs. Gussie Anderson presented Verdugo a silk California State (Bear) Flag. Grand Marshal Hazel B. Hansen gave an interesting talk on the San Joaquin district meeting. Mms. Margaret Donlan and Vera Carlson were in charge of the refreshments, and the birthday cake was presented by Mms. Geraldine Leonetti, Gussie Anderson and Alma Sexton.

The Christmas party for the children December 21 was in charge of Deputy Betty Sanders and Elsie Bledsoe. At the Parlor's December 28 meeting past presidents filled the several stations.—A.S.

BIG CROWD ATTRACTED.

Ocean Park—The annual lobster feast of Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. attracted a crowd of more than 500 members December 6 from all the southland Parlors. Several new names were added to the Parlor's rollcall during December. Robert W. Garey, as president, will head the corps of officers for the January-July term.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Judge Ruben Schmidt (Ramona NS) has been elected presiding judge of the Los Angeles County Superior Court.

Superior Judge Thomas P. White (Ramona NS) has been appointed an associate justice of the Second District Court of Appeal.

Eldred L. Meyer (Grand President NS) of Santa Monica returned December 20 from an extended trip through the northern part of the state. He was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Mary Meyer (Santa Monica Bay ND), and his son, Robert.

THE DEATH RECORD.

George O. Davis, a charter member of Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W., died at Venice, December 9, survived by a wife and three children. He was born at Nortonville, Contra Costa County, September 9, 1874.

Mrs. Anna Katzenberger, mother of Frank G. Katzenberger (Ramona NS), died December 12 at the age of 69.

EMPLOYES' EFFORTS APPRECIATED.

Additional compensation was distributed to employes of California Bank December 15, according to an announcement of President A. M. Chaffey. All officers and employes in the organization's employ one year or more received one-quarter month's salary, with a maximum payment of $50. Those employed less than a year shared in the distribution proportionately.

"The senior officers and directors of California Bank," said Chaffey, "took this means of commending the staff whose diligent efforts in behalf of the bank have in great measure been responsible for the institution's consistent and healthy growth." A recent analysis of the condition of the bank over a period of years reveals a deposit growth since July 1934 of slightly more than 53 percent, Chaffey disclosed.

California's 1937 rice crop reached a new record, 4,712,000 bags. Compared with 1936, this was an increase of 460,000 bags.

HATTIE MORTEL CRIDER.

Manzanita Parlor No. 29 N.D.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft expressions of love and appreciation to our beloved sister, Hattie Mortel Crider, beg to offer the following:

Another cherished friend and noble daughter of our fraternity has finished her earthly task and been called home. Those of us who were privileged to know her long and well realize how great a loss we bear and how difficult it will be to miss her smiling face and cheerful greetings when we know she will no more revisit her former home. She was one of the early members of Manzanita Parlor and ever retained a keen interest in its success.

Tonight, we bow to the inevitable, and mourn her passing, but are steadfast in the trust that the kind Lord of All Good will grant her a happy place in His glorious Home

"And when for us the sunset gates unbar
We hope to see her smiling stand,
And safe beneath the evening star
To feel the welcome of her beckoning hand."

We wish these words to be sent to her bereaved family also, that a copy of them be spread upon the minutes of this meeting, and also that a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

Respectfully in P.D.F.A.,

ANNIE F. CONLIN,
ANNE WHITING,
KATE ROLAND,
HAZEL GEORGE
President.

Her life has been as broad generous and beautiful as our own glorious Golden State. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to her bereaved family; that copies of these resolutions be sent the family, also The Grizzly Bear for publication, and that one be spread on the minutes in full.

ing off bandits, killing their own game to eat on the way, and in all kinds of weather successfully carrying on their perilous duties. "Haste, post, haste!" and "Ride, villain, ride, for thy life!" were how the senders of messengers would goad these daring men on in the seventeenth century.

Mail coaches later were used, and in them passengers might ride also. Lumbering along over the poor roads these two- and four-horse-drawn vehicles were a picturesque sight we all have become familiar with through seeing them on countless Christmas cards. Again a horn announced their arrival, and that is why later on we probably have had the postman's whistle, used even yet in some parts of our country.

In the early days the person who received the letter had to pay the postman and this continued for many years. He would go about in a scarlet coat and ring a bell, and the larger his tip the faster would he hurry on his route, collecting again from the letter-receiver. You can imagine the irony of having to pay for a surprise dunning bill or a comic valentine. Many people didn't have the money to pay, so unclaimed letters frequently would lie around on some tavern table or get thrown into the rubbish. The dead-letter office, as this situation later led to, was flourishing even then.

Leading citizens of the town were usually appointed as postmasters and frequently these men themselves would go about from house to house delivering the letters. In our country, Abraham Lincoln was the postmaster at New Salem, Illinois. He carried the letters in his high hat and would read them aloud to the illiterate. He collected and dispensed news all along the way. Many of the postmasters, since they came in such personal contact with what was going on, were also the publishers of the local newspapers. Postmasters were men of outstanding character and possessed a high type of loyalty and efficiency. Benjamin Franklin was the Postmaster General in 1743.

Women, too, served as postmistresses. The service to Buffalo from New York was called the "fe mail" because of the women who carried the mail over that route in the first part of the nineteenth century. Women and men alike held their positions for years, and one old woman who died at 91 had carried the mail forty-five years and walked over 90,000 miles.

When the gold, discovered in California, lured so many Easterners to that far-off state, the Overland Mail caused great excitement. From St. Louis to Los Angeles the mail was carried by stagecoach in twenty days, an epoch-making event in history. Billy Cody, only 11 years old, and Kit Carson were two of the overland messengers.

April 3, 1860, with great celebration and cannon firing, the first of the Pony Express riders started the mail from St. Joseph, Missouri, for San Francisco. He was Alexander Carlyle, cheered as a great hero, and was chosen because of his light weight to ride a fleet horse and become a relay messenger. He died of tuberculosis, probably due to the hardships endured while hastening the mails. Every ten or twenty miles the horses and riders were changed, and great dangers from the Indians assailed these dauntless young boys. They rode from St. Louis to Sacramento, and the mail reached San Francisco aboard a boat ten days after their departure. Buffalo Bill again rode for the Pony Express which, because of expense and because of the toll of life it took from horses and riders, existed only a little over a year.

And no less are the dangers that assail the

The first stamps were used in Paris in the seventeenth century, following the introduction of a special wrapper, which was sold for the purpose of enclosing the letter. In England they first called stamps "go-frees" and offered prizes for the best designs for them. What a fuss people made over the innovation! "They wouldn't stick," "The postmaster would keep the money," and all kinds of complaints were uttered at having to go to this bother of buying and sticking on a stamp. In our country at first stamps were printed locally by the various postmasters and in 1847 the first national stamp was issued. About 1860 stamp collecting began and lucky are the philatelists who have any of the Civil War and other stamps of the olden days.

Orange County, according to a United States survey, is the nation's chief citrus fruit producing county. Los Angeles County is second, and San Bernardino County third.

Fresno County tops all counties of the United States in the production of grapes, according to the Federal Census Bureau.

FAMOUS CALIFORNIA TREES.

In a census of famous and outstanding trees in California, being compiled for publication by Professor Woodbridge Metcalf, agricultural extension forester of the University of California, are these facts:

First honors for the Valley oak go to the Henley, in Round Valley, Mendocino County. It is 103.8 inches in diameter and 145 feet high.

The Torrey pine championship goes to one at Carpenteria, Santa Barbara County, with a diameter of 53.7 inches and a hight of 97 feet.

As for the walnut, the Lyman, at Yuba City, Sutter County, challenges all others. It is 73 inches in diameter and 105 feet high.

In Memoriam

WILLIAM ALBERT SCHROEDER.

Whereas, God in His infinte wisdom has seen fit to come again into our midst and summoned home our beloved brother, William Albert Schroeder;

Resolved, That while we are sorrowful that our Parlor has lost a true and upright brother whose memory will ever be an inspiration to all of us, yet do we bow our heads in submission to the will of the Divine Ruler.

And while we deeply sympathize with and share the grief of his family in the loss of their father and brother, we feel that our departed brother has merely gone on ahead to join that celestial band of pioneers beyond the borders of that heavenly frontier to which we will come as travelers in search of rest. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the sympathy of this Parlor be tendered to the daughters and sisters and brother of our beloved brother; that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Parlor, that a copy be sent to the bereaved family, and one to The Grizzly Bear Magazine.

Respectfully submitted by

To the Officers and Members of Argonaut Parlor No. 8 N.S.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft a resolution expressing the sentiments and heartfelt sympathy of the members of the Parlor on the death of our brother, James Goldie Nisbet, respectfully submit the following:

Whereas, The Supreme Ruler of the Universe has again seen fit to enter our midst and take from us our brother, James G. Nisbet, a true and loyal Native Son whose unswerving loyalty to Argonaut Parlor and to the principles of our Order made him an outstanding member of our Parlor, one who was ever ready to help in any of the Parlor's business and social activities; and also because of his worth as a citizen and public official, we feel that in his death our Parlor and the entire community which he served so well have suffered an almost irreparable loss. Walks o'er the earth with silent tread
And bears our best beloved away,
And then we call them dead.

GRIZZLY GROWLS

CLARENCE M. HUNT

THE JAPS' REAL NATURE IS BEING brought forcibly to the attention of the peoples of the world by their conduct of an undeclared war—a war of unprecedented barbarity and thievery—now being waged against the Chinese. They are uncivilized, treacherous, have no regard for the truth, and treaties and agreements mean nothing whatever to them. Among the nations of the world, Japan has proven itself to be, and so has been rightfully labeled, "public enemy number one," and therefore unworthy the respect of any civilized nation.

Representative Thomas of New Jersey declared in Washington just the other day that Jap spies are busy now in the Panama Canal Zone. Doubtless his statement is correct. For years they have been most active in California, where Japan has colonized thousands of its nationals at most strategic locations, and where Japan has many fast auxiliary naval craft disguised and operating as fishing boats. There is no doubt but that a great percentage of the Japs in the Pacific Coast states are actively identified with the army or the navy of Japan.

For many, many years The Grizzly Bear has been giving extended publicity to the "peaceful invasion" of California and other Pacific Coast states by the Japs, and has urged the Federal Government to take action. Nothing, however, has been done, and the Japs are now entrenched here in mighty force, to do the bidding of their worshiped ruler.

Regardless of their protestations otherwise, Japan and its nationals have naught but hatred and contempt for this nation! Unless there be a decided change of policy on the part of the Federal Government as regards the Japs now in this country and the additional Japs being sent here regularly by Japan, this nation will, in time, find itself in the same position as is China today! There positively can be no other result, and Japan's success in China will hasten the day when we, too, must pay the price of Japan's "peaceful invasion."

"FIFTY YEARS IS A LONG TIME," heads a lengthy editorial in the Gilroy, Santa Clara County, Dispatch of December 11, which says: "This Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hawkins, of Hollister, will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Few couples, even outside Hollywood, live to celebrate such a happy event, and we wonder if the modern generation that may have notions of marriage in its head realizes just how much 'give and take' is involved in sticking out together a half century of domestic partnership. Perhaps if we publicized such events more, soft pedaling on sensational divorce suits, with perhaps a medal or a trophy or even a pension of some kind for couples who can give such sterling proof of their worth, we might be able to scotch the present day growing tendency to look upon the marriage contract as something easily entered into and just as easily broken. However, in mentioning the happy event Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins are about to celebrate, it wasn't a particular aim to moralize about it, but to try and evoke in the reader's mind just how long fifty years is or what happened fifty years ago.

"For instance, do you know some of the few events that transpired the year Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins took their vows to love, honor and obey each other? In California alone, to begin with, and sort of off the State history record, this writer didn't even know there was such a place as California on the Hawkins' wedding day. He had just celebrated his first birthday by crawling out of the didie stage, and according to his critics has been all wet ever since. But let us to the serious calendar of events:" The editor of the Dispatch then publishes most of the important items that appeared in "The California Fifty Years Ago" article of the December issue of The Grizzly Bear, and then concludes:

"Where did we get all these items? Out of the Native Sons' Grizzly Bear, a group and publication that keeps a record of your State's colorful history. . . . and incidentally it is such couples as the Hawkinses that helped make California 'The Golden State' and who rear the Native Sons and Native Daughters . . . to these pioneer parents and their offspring, as represented in the N.S.G.W. and the N.D.G.W. organizations we present day residents of the State, whether 'near' native sons and daughters ourselves, or just newcomers, we owe much; so much that we often wondered why a Parlor of one or the other or both was never established in our own pioneer community of Gilroy. We leave the thought with anyone who may be interested in the idea."

Grand Secretary John T. Regan advised the Dispatch editor that from 1886 to 1912 a Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West existed in Gilroy, and told him that, if the proper cooperation could be had, another parlor could be instituted there in the very-near future.

WHEN THE "HAVE NOTS" START, WHAT?—Addressing the international relations section of the Commonwealth Club of California, San Francisco, recently, Captain George H. Bowley of the United States Navy, commanding the U.S.S. Pensacola, remarked:

"While our relations with all Europe are at present friendly, and we can look disinterestedly (we think!) from our continental position of isolation on the European turmoil, we must remember that we have few, if any, real friends, and that we are looked at with envious eyes by many.

"The problem of the war debt must be settled sometime, and it will be difficult, if not impossible, to do so without acrimonious feelings. . . . We must remember that we are classed among the 'haves,' and that when the 'have nots' start to help themselves, they are going to try to take that which seems to them to be the easiest to take."

AND THEY'RE IMMUNE!—There are at present some 2,400,000 persons employed by state and local governments. Their annual aggregate payroll is approximately $3,500,000,000. These people are exempt from the Federal income tax. Why?

"OVERPRODUCTION IS A FICTION," says Henry Ford. "Up to date all we've ever had is underproduction. Produce a plentiful supply of necessities and get a system of distribution that really distributes, and the job of production will not leave us any time to think of overproduction. We only hear that term in times of a profit-made scarcity."

MORE JAP PROPAGANDA!—"The Japanese Chamber of Commerce of New York," comments the Ione Valley Echo, "is sending out pamphlets to the newspapers of the country explaining how abused the Japanese government has been by the big, bully Chinese; how much it would hurt this country if we should declare a boycott against Japan, and many other laughs. It reads like much of the stuff we receive from Wall street, and we nearly cried our eyes out when told of how the cruel Chinese resented Japanese troops holding practice on Chinese soil, and the dangers Japanese aviators had to undergo dropping bombs on Chinese women and children in Shanghai."

SALUTE THE FLAG!—The Georgia Supreme Court upheld the Atlanta School Board's expulsion of a student who refused to salute the flag, and December 13 the United States Supreme Court refused to review that decision. So, it would appear that the expulsion of a student from a public school for refusal to salute the flag is constitutional.

THE DESERT

GOD'S GARDEN OF PEACE.

(NELLIE M. COFFMAN.)

God gave to mankind the beauties of earth,
Of mountains and of lowland and sea,
Rivers and lakes, forests and glades,
These wondrous gifts gave He.

But He kept for His own a garden,
Rugged, forbidding, austere,
Surrounded by peaks uplifted—
Snow-capped throughout the year.

And He draped it with marvelous colors
At dawn and at set of sun,
And hung high in the sky the wonderful stars
To light it when day is done.

And He walks in His garden at twilight
And all who would have surcease
From life's toil and struggle, may find it
In the desert, God's Garden of Peace!

THE CHERRY NATIVE TO CALIFORNIA—HISTORY OF ITS PRODUCTION.

H. M. Butterfield, specialist in agricultural extension at the University of California, in a published history of the cherry industry says cherries are native to California, but were used as ornamentals for the most part, previous to the importation of the sweet fruit by the Spaniards and by early American settlers.

The first definite mention of the sweet cherry varieties came in 1850 when W. H. Nash and R. L. Kilburn of Napa County received a shipment of Black Tartarian and Napoleon, or Royal Ann, plantings from New York by way of Cape Horn. These cherries were planted in the vicinity of Calistoga.

The home of James Shinn, one of the earliest cherry growers in central California, still stands at Niles, Alameda County. The lumber for this cabin was also brought around the Horn. Shinn, John Lewelling, William Meek and a handful of their associates were the men who made the San Lorenzo and Hayward, Alameda County, regions the cherry bowl of the United States.

From the time that George H. Beach of Marysville, Yuba County, grew a Napoleon cherry 3½ inches in diameter, back in 1858, cherry growers of the state have been striving for records of one kind or another in the production of this fruit.

SUNBEAMS

(EDEN E. REXFORD.)

I think God gives the children,
As thru the land they go,
The most delightful mission
That any one can know;
He wants us to be sunbeams
Of love, and hope, and cheer,
To brighten up the shadows
That often gather here.

Then let us live our mission
Of sunshine day by day,
And scatter joy and brightness
Above us all the way;
Let's chase away life's shadows
With loving tho't and deed,
And be the sunshine makers
Of which the world has need.

Albino Redwood—Discovery of an albino redwood tree by the State Division of Forestry in the Santa Cruz Mountains, north of Big Basin Redwood State Park, has been reported. The tree is said to be identical to the ordinary redwood, except that it has no color, even the branches being white.

THE COLLEGE OF CALIFORNIA
FROM SECTARIAN COLLEGE TO STATE UNIVERSITY, 1855-1868

Dr. Peter T. Conmy

(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR.)

THE CAMPUS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF California at Berkeley is exceptionally large and unusually beautiful. As many persons have toured the university grounds they have been known to praise the State of California not only for its beneficent maintenance of such a large higher institution of learning but also for the beauty of the hillside area itself. The State of California does merit its full share of praise for the great university that crowns its school system. For the grounds on which the university is built, however, the State is not to be thanked. The grounds of the University of California at Berkeley were a donation to the institution from the old College of California, a private, sectarian school which offered itself to the State as the nucleus of a university, and to which it gave the extensive site owned in Berkeley as a campus.

In 1855 there was but one institution in California offering instruction of college grade, namely Santa Clara College, founded in 1851 by the Jesuit fathers in the town the name of which it bears. Santa Clara College was operated as a Catholic institution. There were people in California, however, who felt that there should be another college within the state Protestant in nature, or at least non-Catholic. In the very early fifties bills calling for a state university were introduced in the Legislature. Nothing came of them, however. Hence, private enterprise undertook the founding of a college. A charter was secured from the State Board of Education in 1855 which read as follows:

"We, the State Board of Education of the State of California, in accordance with the provisions of an act to provide for the incorporation of colleges, do hereby incorporate the College of California, situated in the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, of which college the following named persons are the trustees, to wit, Frederick Billings, Sherman Day, Samuel H. Wiley, T. Dwight Hunt, Mark Benjamin, Edward B. Walsworth, Joseph A. Benton, Edward McLeary, Henry Durant, Francis W. Page, Robert Simson, A. H. Wilder, Samuel B. Bell. John Bigler, Governor; S. H. Marlette, Surveyor-General; Paul K. Hubbs, Superintendent of Public Instruction. Sacramento, April 13, 1855."

By virtue of the above instrument the College of California now had a legal existence. It lacked a practical existence, however, because there were no students sufficiently trained for college work. Hence, for some five years it was operated under the principalship of Henry Durant as The College School, being in fact a college preparatory school or academic high school. This period from 1855 to 1860 was a time of intense activity on the part of the officials of the institution. There were two great problems that must be solved, namely, (1) preparation of a class for admission to the college by 1860, and (2) the matter of a site for the college.

The first problem was met by the faculty. In 1857 there were forty students in the school. There was great diversity, however, as to the amount of schooling which each pupil had. Some of them had grammar school educations, while others of high school age had but a primary training. The faculty's problem, therefore, was very difficult. It was one of coaching individuals, and lacked the standardization of classes, which facilitates the teaching of any group and the administration of any school.

The second problem, that of selecting a site for the college, was the business of the trustees. These men were for the most part graduates of Yale or Harvard, and their vision of the new college was high, forward-looking and progressive. They realized that a college must have a campus of beauty and natural resourcefulness. Consequently, they explored the territory in and about Oakland. They had several locations under consideration, one in Brooklyn Township, one in Martinez, one in Oakland, one in Napa, and one touched by the waters of Strawberry Creek in Berkeley. This last was favored by the trustees, because it was a hillside location of much natural beauty, possessing a splendid water supply, and with ample drainage and opportunity for sanitary sewerage. This site was selected, but the college was left in its grove of trees in Oakland.

College classes were inaugurated in 1860. The type of instruction offered was classical, that is to say, the College of California was modeled after Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth and Brown, the famous New England classical colleges, where Latin and Greek, higher mathematics and religion formed the core of the curriculum. While not limited to any particular church, the professors were required to be evangelical Protestant Christians.

In 1862 the Federal Congress enacted the famous Morrill Act, which granted lands and monetary subsidy to states which maintained a state college in which military science, agriculture, mining and the mechanical arts should be taught. The passage of this law resulted in a renewed demand for a state university in California. As this movement spread, and as it became more and more evident that the people of the state would establish the University of California, the trustees of the College of California saw that their small enrollment would drop considerably after a state institution was opened.

Hence, they performed an act of magnanimity which has never been equaled in the educational history of California. They voted to donate their institution, the College of California, with all of its equipment and its future site in Berkeley, to the State as a nucleus for a University of California, provided that it should always remain the college of letters of the state university. The State lost no time in accepting this generous offer and, March 27, 1868, the State University was chartered. The regents of the university were not ready to open the doors of the new institution immediately, and so the College of California operated during 1868-69 in Oakland. In August 1869 the University of California took over the College of California, as its College of Letters, and moved to Berkeley. The College of Letters become in later years the College of Letters and Science, the largest college in the great university of the West, and the continuation of the old College of California.

No account of the College of California would be complete, however, without mentioning the name of Samuel Hopkins Wiley, that valiant pioneer clergyman who did so much to establish a classical college on the Pacific Coast. He opened one of the first schools in the state in Monterey, in 1849, and most of his long life of ninety-six years was devoted to the cause of learning. In 1910, when the University of California conferred upon him the degree of doctor of laws, President Wheeler said, in part: "Samuel Hopkins Wiley, founder, prophet, seer, beholder! It has been given you to see the hilltop of vision transmuted into the mountain of fulfillment, and a dim, focused future dissolve into a firm, clear present . . . On you, foremost benefactor of California, first citizen of the State, I confer the degree of Doctor of Laws."

Native Sons of the Golden West

A Gain in Membership

"MY BROTHERS:

"I am extremely happy to give you the good news that you have waited for—a GAIN IN MEMBERSHIP has been recorded for our Order.

"I hasten to thank each and every one of you, my fellow Grand Officers and Grand Parlor committeemen, as well as the officers and the members of the Subordinate Parlors for having made this gain possible. I wish to extend my special thanks to the Supervising Deputy Grand Presidents and to the Deputy Grand Presidents for their untiring co-operation in seeing that the hope of every loyal Native Son has been faithfully carried out.

"Nothing gives me greater pleasure than to make this announcement. Our gain in membership is now being compiled by Grand Secretary John T. Regan and will appear in another column of The Grizzly Bear Magazine.

"In traveling the entire length of our State, in witnessing many fine initiations in our Subordinate Parlors, I have felt supremely confident that the good work already accomplished by our Past Grand Presidents would not be in vain. Now that we have secured a gain in membership I appeal to you to aim for a still greater gain during the calendar year for our incoming Grand President, Joseph J. McShane.

"My Brothers, your work this year has been excellent, the Native Sons of the Golden West are making new history, our success and future prosperity depend on your continued support and activity.

"My sincere and grateful thanks to each and every one of you for making this Grand Parlor year's gain in membership possible.

"Sincerely and fraternally,

Eldred L. Meyer.

Reports on Grand Parlor Preparations.

San Jose—Observatory No. 177 received January 11 from General Chairman W. P. Isham a report on preliminary preparations for the meeting of the Grand Parlor in the Municipal Auditorium May 16-19. Officers of the Parlor were installed January 18 by District Deputy Chris Baldo.

Grand Trustee Wayne R. Millington officially visited Observatory January 25. This occasion was dedicated to the new members initiated during 1937. An interesting program was presented and refreshments were served.

Fifty-Year Jewel.

Weaverville—At an impressive ceremony December 20 A. C. Meckel, oldest living member of Mount Bally No. 87 in point of membership, was presented a fifty-year jewel. The presentation, a complete surprise to Meckel, was made by Senior Past President J. J. Jackson, who spoke of his appreciated service to the Parlor in well-chosen words. The ceremony was beautified by the singing of Eltapome No. 55 N.D.G.W., the song being an original composition by Past President Clara Weinheimer dedicated to Meckel, and pictured his service to Mount Bally.

The honored guest gave a touching acknowledgment of the gift and spoke of the great pleasure the Parlor had always given him and of what the fraternal gatherings had meant to him. Meckel was initiated December 17, 1887, shortly after his eighteenth birthday. The only reason for his not being a charter member is that he was a year too young when the Parlor was instituted in 1886. In the January following his initiation he was given an office, and has held every office, at one time or another, continuously since that time, rising to the president's chair in 1896. At the present time he is treasurer of the Parlor, which office he has held for thirty-eight consecutive years. Mount Bally challenges any other Parlor to name an officer of longer continuous service.

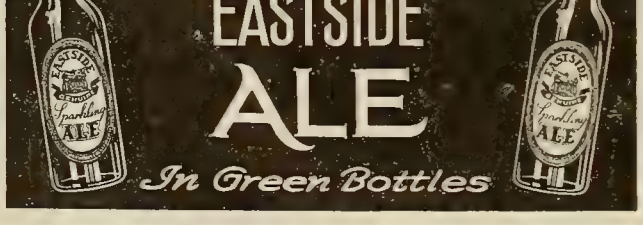
At the close of the presentation ceremonies, the members of both Parlors, with their husbands and wives and a few invited guests, sat down to progressive whist, which was enjoyed until midnight, when dainty refreshments were served. Over sixty were out, and enjoyed a pleasant evening.—N.F.W.

There are thousands of fine eligibles just waiting to be extended an invitation to affiliate with the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West. Be a recruiter—extend the invitation today, not tomorrow!

Safety Committee Named.

Oakland—President A. J. Garbarino of Oakland No. 50 has appointed a safety committee to study traffic conditions in Oakland and endeavor to find a way to aid in reducing the tragic toll of life and property in Alameda County. This committee will speak before all Parlors in Alameda County, labor and fraternal organizations, and the county schools. Composing the committee are the following:

Mayor W. L. McCracken, honorary chairman; City Manager J. F. Hassler, Past Grand Harry G. Williams, Police Chief B. A. Wallman and City Councilman T. W. Fitzsimmons, honorary co-chairmen; Charles J. Garoni, general chairman; Lewis E. Lercara, legal adviser; Art DeLuchi, Ernest DeLuchi, Morry C. Pessano and Theodore J. Markert.—C.G.



Charter Members Active.

Mountain View—Mountain View No. 215, organized November 28, 1902, has just completed one of the best years in its history. Due to the energetic efforts of President Joe Semino, who devoted all his spare time to the Parlor, thirty new names were added to the membership-roll. There was a great deal of visiting other Parlors, promoting a friendly feeling. Five charter members are still active in Parlor affairs: Ottis Fellows, Walter McCombs, William Campbell, James Dale and Charles Vincent. Fellows has held the important office of financial secretary the past twenty years.

Mountain View, with a membership of ninety-two, now has one of the best initiatory teams of the state, composed of Joe Semino, president; George McDonald, past president; James Bakotich, first vice-president; James Call, second vice-president; Tom Arata, third vice-president; Sam Marinello, marshal; Laurence Anderson, outside sentinel. The Parlor is very active in sports, having indoor baseball and basketball teams. James Bakotich, president for the January-June term, will keep up the good record of his predecessor, already having lined up a number of prospective new members.

GRAND PRESIDENT ETHEL I. BEGLEY, in a communication to the Subordinate Parlors January 4, said, in part: "Another year has passed, and 1938 is now in its infancy. The young, eager to live, will speed the old year on its way, for in youth all life is promise—the future, everything. Let us all strive for increase in membership. For happier times we need the courage of youth to hurry on to new and better things—new and more opportunities. The past can never be anything more than a record of what has been done. The future is limitless in its opportunities for what can be done.

"During the World's Fair in 1939, in just one year, we have before us an opportunity to show the world true California hospitality, and we are asking the recognition that is due us as an organization; but we must have the co-operation of every member of our Order, remembering that the eyes of the world will be upon us.

"The year 1938 finds America, as in so many past years, with so much more to be thankful for than other nations. While they have war, or the imminence of war, we have peace! While they are destroying, we are building! We should permanently possess this peace by doing our part as builders of our great nation, by pursuing the path leading to the noble ideals of our pioneer fathers and mothers.

"In reviewing our accomplishments of the past, we are inspired to greater success in the future, ever mindful of that true expression 'It is never too late to begin.' Let each and every member of our Order make her New Year resolutions not of words of promise, but of action and decision: to work for and support every project of our Order, and to keep in mind always our obligation; to avoid mistakes made in the past, and resolve to make good in the future.

"Charity is one of our great virtues—sharing in some measure the plight of those in need. With charitable deeds in our minds, and with true friendship in our hearts, we cannot help but succeed and progress. May this year bring to us a greater happiness, and a real joy to every member of our Order."

Thirtieth Anniversary Observed.

Alturas—Alturas No. 159 had a very happy and successful year under the direction of the retiring president, Neva Asher. Fourteen new members were added to the rolls during the term, and initiation is scheduled for the February meeting. The Parlor has contributed to every Grand Parlor project and many local projects. The troop of Girl Scouts sponsored by the Parlor put on a very delightful program at the Christmas meeting, and each scout, as well as the leader, received a treat from a beautiful tree.

January 6, fifty members sat down to a potluck supper served at tables beautifully decorated with acacia and pink snapdragons. A gorgeous birthday cake, made by President Asher, graced the center of the table in honor of Alturas' thirty years of existence. Small cakes, with lighted tapers, marked each place. Two candidates were initiated, and Mabel Cary, the new president, announced plans for her term.

Alturas Parlor recently conducted the funeral of Mrs. Francis Huntley, a member of Camellia No. 41, Anderson. She was one of the oldest Native Daughters in the state, and passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Van Allen, in Adin. Individual gifts and a large box of Christmas goodies were sent inmates of the Modoc County Hospital Christmas Eve with the compliments of the Parlor.

A school of instruction was conducted January 16 by Supervising Deputy Eva Bemis at San Bernardino. The card club met January 18 at the home of Miss Caroline Opp, and January 20 the thimble club met with Mrs. Al. Dresser.

Mrs. J. E. Pleasants, a charter member of Santa Ana, was the featured speaker at a luncheon of the Anaheim Ebell Club recently. She discussed the career and domestic life of Mme. Helena Modjeska, deceased, one of Orange County's famous residents. She told in detail of her coming to America from her native Poland, and of the commencement of her career as an actress in San Francisco in 1877. Mrs. Pleasants some years ago compiled a history of Orange County, and is now engaged in writing a history of the county's pioneers.—M.L.

First N.D. Joint Installation.

San Jose—A large crowd witnessed the first joint installation of officers of Vendome No. 100 and San Jose No. 81, January 12, in Pioneer Hall, beautifully decorated in foliage, heavily silvered. The dinner hall tables were in white, gold, green and red. Deputies Helen Treugrove and Julia Compton officiated, Mrs. Gertrude Mathews was the installing soloist, and Clara A. Gairaud was at the piano. San Jose No. 22 and Observatory No. 177 N.S.G.W. presented corsages of gardenias to the new presidents, Mms. Pearl Bishop and Mary (Dolly) Weller. Refreshments and community singing concluded the pleasant evening.

The past president club of Vendome met January 10. A banquet early in the evening was followed by installation of officers, with Mrs. Imogene Clark as president. Mrs. W. C. Kady was the installing chairman, and Mms. Mabel Sontheimer and Fay Withycombe were the social chairmen. The decorations carried out the early spring motif.—C.G.

NEWSY N.D.G.W. PARAGRAPHS.

Stockton—Officers of Joaquin No. 5, with Miss Evelyn Wells as president, were installed January 25 by Deputy Frances Huck. Honor guests of the occasion were Past Grands Carrie R. Durham, Mamie G. Peyton and Mattie M. Stein, Grand Trustee Clarice Cook and Supervising Deputy Ada Javete.

Hollister—The January 5 meeting of Copa de Oro No. 105 was a happy evening at whist, with the awards made in a novel manner. At each table the two players having highest scores were given awards which they carried, unopened, to the next table. This procedure continued through the final game, when the awards went to the two at each table having highest scores. During the business session officers presented gratifying reports of activities during the past six months. The second vice-president gave an interesting talk on Benjamin Franklin, and from The Grizzly Bear for January read the story of "Lewis and Salvador."

Oakland—Officers of Fruitvale No. 177 and Fruitvale No. 252 N.S.G.W. were jointly installed January 7, Esther Ragon and Albert Koch becoming the respective presidents. A large crowd enjoyed the ceremonies as presented by Deputies Erma Caton and Walter Ansell. Dancing and refreshments completed the evening.—A.E.S.

Oldham had charge of the reception. HOMELESS CHILDREN

MAY THE N.S.G.W. AND N.D.G.W. Central Homeless Children Committee once more call the attention of the Subordinate Parlors contemplating a benefit for the Homeless Children to the fact that an application for exemption from collection of federal amusement tax must be filed prior to the date set for benefit if price of admission exceeds forty cents. The claim for allowance is subject to consideration of the Collector of Internal Revenue, and early filing is ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY. If the Parlors wait until a day or two before the event, an exemption cannot be granted. This claiming and securing of exemption is an easy way to save money, if the affair to be given is for the benefit of "Our Charity," the Homeless Children, and the Central Committee is willing to furnish blanks immediately upon request, properly endorsed as the beneficiary.

Since the last issue of The Grizzly Bear, from December 18, 1937, to January 18, 1938, the joint contributions of Native Sons and Native Daughters have been $543.12; Los Angeles joint committee, $500; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Hunt, $10; Native Sons, $50; Native Daughters, $326.01; Native Daughters milk fund, $57.21, making a total of $1,486.34 for the month. Friends have contributed $63; board refund, $259.53, and dividends $21.05. There are two months and ten days before April first 1938—the end of the fiscal year.

Eighteen children were placed during the month, and one was replaced, making a total of 4,961 children. The 5,000-mark for different children will soon be reached. The homes supplied have reached 5,448, while fifty-six applications have been received during the month.

Lomitas No. 258 N.D.G.W., a comparatively new Parlor in Merced County, has contributed $65 this year, and many of the smaller Parlors have done surprisingly well. The secretaries write of the enthusiasm of the younger members.

Enthusiastic letters from proud foster parents continue to pour in, also a corresponding number from waiting applicants urging haste in finding them a child, and also from foster parents urging that a second child—a "brother" or a "sister" be placed in their homes so that "Peggy" and "David" will not be the ONLY child. Satisfactory, all of these, in a way they furnish proof of the success of adoptions, but cause no end of regret to those who would enjoy placing a child needing a home in every childless home. The "first come, first served" policy, everything being equal, is not easy to follow, when here, there and everywhere come requests that certain particular persons be given preference because they are so fine and need a child so badly.

Not only in California, but all over the United States, babies seem to be at a premium, the list of applicants far exceeding the number of children. But if conditions were reversed, what a tragedy it would be!

It is consoling to have so great a choice, and bodes well for the future citizens; a hackneyed phrase but, after all, everyone loves a baby. The real test of the success of adoption comes only after the "troublesome age" has been successfully met. "What is the troublesome age?" That is a chapter by itself.

birthdays the 20th. Members and their families spent an enjoyable evening playing cards and partaking of delicious refreshments. The Parlor's sewing club met during January at the homes of Christine McFarland and Kate Hill. At Christmas time a family of four children was made a little more comfortable and cheerful with a supply of clothing and toys provided by Parlor members.—M.E.

Albany—With Boy Scouts forming a guard of honor, officers of Albany No. 260 were installed, Mae Rutan becoming president. Deputy Ethelda Hall officiated, and was assisted by Past Grand Sue J. Irwin. Eva Peterson was the recipient of a past president pin, and other presentations were made. Concluding the ceremonies, an entertainment program was presented.

San Jose—January 11 Mrs. Clara Gairaud installed the officers of Santa Clara County Past Presidents Association No. 3, Miss Lizette Taber becoming president. Mrs. Nettie Richmond was

Responsibilities of Natives In Community Endeavor

James French Dorrance

WITH HEADS OF KINDRED CIVIC organizations filling the "sidelines" and a delegation of Lompoc visitors as honor guests, members of Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W. and Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W. filled the Santa Barbara Veterans Memorial Building the night of January 18 as high officers conducted impressive rights of installation.

A. J. Janssens, son of a former head of Santa Barbara No. 116, was installed as president of that Parlor, and Mrs. Dorothy Yule, the San Francisco-born executive secretary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hervey Jackson of Rancho San Carlos, was inducted into like office in Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126. Their respective official staffs also were presented with the ensignias of office and took their pledges of faithfulness in the same joint ceremony.

Tribute was paid the retiring presidents, who really did not retire but passed on into the past presidents association. Pins were presented Leland Holiday and Mrs. Wesley McCormick for their executive work in a constructive year which saw both Parlors advanced in membership and participating jointly in many of the public ceremonies of the year, including Old Spanish Days in Santa Barbara Fiesta and the dedication of the Santa Barbara Post Office.

The fact that the coming fiscal year will involve the entertainment of the Grand Parlor of Native Daughters, June 19-23, with 600 delegates and adherents, will mark the highlight of the new administrations. Several times during the installation ceremonies, officials of the Sons pledged the Daughters their hearty support in carrying off this honor, which has come but once before to the Channel City.

The selection of Harmon D. Skillin, chief assistant district attorney of San Francisco County and former Grand President of the Native Sons, proved a happy choice as speaker of the evening. Percy Heckendorf, Santa Barbara County's own district attorney, who introduced the visitor, had premonition of the constructive address which was to come, when he offered introductory promises. Heckendorf pointed out that only with our community responsibilities fulfilled are citizens prepared to meet their national responsibilities.

Speaking from the subject "Responsibilities of Native Sons and Daughters in Community Endeavor," Skillin built his address on the three great loves of the allied Orders—love of God, love of country and love of home. He pointed out that while the Orders were non-sectarian and that no question of creed ever arose, every member on entering pledged belief in a supreme being, every meeting was opened with solemn supplication and closed with benediction.

Of the love of country phase, Past Grand President Skillin said: "If those citizens without the Orders had love of country instilled in their hearts as have Native Daughters and Native Sons, the United States need not worry about communism or any other ism tearing down our constitutional structure." He pointed out the Orders' participation in the dedication of public buildings, including recently the Santa Barbara Federal Building. Each cornerstone, he said, was laid with dedication to "truth, liberty and toleration." He praised the Native Daughters for their veterans welfare activity, carried on, he said, "with no rolling of drums or blasts of trumpets."

The famed bells of the "Queen of Missions" will ring their greetings when the N.D.G.W. Grand Parlor comes to Santa Barbara June 19-23.

Skillin closed with a tribute to home building as performed by the joint committee of Native Sons and Native Daughters for the placement of homeless children, the set-up having placed happily 5,000 children in childless homes since it was instituted in 1910 by Fairfax Wheelan of Pacific Parlor No. 10 N.S.G.W. of San Francisco. He had a word also for the plans of the Daughters to organize the girls of their communities, forming groups in the 8- to 16-year age bracket from which to draw membership of the future.

Larry Butler, accompanied by James Whitehouse, sang "None But a Lonely Heart," "There's a Gold Mine In the Sky" and "Dusty Road." After the program refreshments were served.

"TREASURE HUNT" ORGANIZED BY NATIVE DAUGHTERS

Although the 1938 Grand Parlor of Native Daughters of the Golden West does not convene in Santa Barbara until June 19, members of Reina del Mar No. 126, the hostess Parlor, have effectively organized for the happy duty in store for them. The fact that this is only the second time in the history of the Order that the Channel

"IF YOU LIKE CALIFORNIA, YOU'LL LOVE SANTA BARBARA"

City has been named for Grand Parlor honors, brings an interest that promises to be community wide. Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 of Native Sons is doing some organizing on its own account, under President A. J. Janssens, and Grand Parlor delegates who leave their own menfolks at home will not lack for escort or entertainment. Civic organizations with which the two Parlors have worked on past community endeavors, including the Chamber of Commerce, the Convention Bureau, American Legion and various patriotic organizations, have voted co-operation. The convention days June 19 to 23—promise not only to be history making for the Order, but also to be crowded with pleasure for the delegates.

Barbarenos are experienced in the matter of entertaining conventions. The Native Daughters realize that this entertainment may not be handled effectively and with the wide-handed old Spanish days hospitality of which Santa Barbara is proud, without a sizeable war chest. To the end that their particular chest may be filled, they have organized a "Treasure Hunt," for which President Dorothy Yule predicts entire success.

That Reina del Mar may not be overburdened, all of the southland Parlors, feeling that the honor of entertaining the Grand Parlor is regional, are planning co-operation. Grand Parlor officers who belong to southland Parlors are aiding in the planning, particularly in arranging the program. Past Grand President Grace Stoermer and Grand Trustee Mary B. Noerenberg of Los Angeles have visited Santa Barbara and offered inspirational speeches which helped to mobilize interest of Reina del Mar's 140 members.

Following the lines of community chest organization, Reina del Mar Parlor has organized a "Treasure Hunt," with Dr. Anna E. McCaughey, state Grand Parlor chairman, as colonel; Mrs. Cora B. Sifford, Past Grand President of Ventura, as counselor; and with fifteen captains selecting their own fifteen lieutenants. In raising Grand Parlor entertainment funds, the members of the fifteen teams will be able to argue that this Grand Parlor is not merely another convention, but a highly constructive force with many objectives of statewide importance.

The second meeting of the month has been set aside for team reports on progress in the "Treasure Hunt." Grand Marshal Hazel Hanson of Glendale and Past Grand Sifford will be present to address the workers. Dr. McCaughey's appointment as convention chairman comes direct from Grand President Ethel I. Begley. As majors of the drive, Colonel McCaughey has selected Mms. Amelia Acres and Elizabeth Coen, the latter to be represented by Mrs. Flora Miles. The Past Presidents Association will serve as counselors to each team.

The teams will line up as follows: No. 1—President Yule, captain; Lucille Castro, lieutenant; Jane Vick, counselor; Wren Burdick, Maidene Davis, Barbara Lamb, Anna Pomatto, Eva Rezzonico and Gloria Smith. No. 2—First Vice-president Ida Ireland, captain; Charlotte Hall, lieutenant; Marion Roeser, counselor; Mary Gondolfo, Mamie Harrison, Joy Bonillo, Gertrude Campbell, Hortense Mahr and Della Mullenary. No. 3—Second Vice-president Ruth Henry, captain; Inez Sharp, lieutenant; Amelia Myers and Ida Lord, counselors; Virginia Horsley, Marcelina Hualde and Elizabeth Rothaermel. No. 4—Third Vice-president Florence Holtzbauer, captain; Kathryn Jordano, lieutenant; Nellie Platz, counselor; Hazel Ashley, Angie Gutierrez, Acacia Lataillade, Angelina Riva, Josephine Lilibridge and Adela Voorhees. No. 5—Recording Secretary Vivian Cavett, captain; Jennie Mock, lieutenant; Edna Sharpe and Frances Warren, counselors; Barbara Simpson, Elizabeth Bires, Owena O'Neill, Renate Maccianti and Ervina Schutte. No. 6—Financial Secretary Mamie Miller, captain; Dorothy Poole, lieutenant; Elise Bottiani, counselor; Irene Hauan, Dorett Graham, Della Knight, Della Johnson, Mildred O'Neill and Lorraine Rossi. No. 7—Treasurer Anna E. McCaughey, captain; Alice Castagna, assistant captain; Wilma Kiesner, lieutenant; Irene Quinn and Nellie Fanning, counselors; Agnes Brockelsby, Eva Clem, Florence Longawa and Jessie Anchordoguy. No. 8—Marshal Justine Meloling, captain; Louise Bishop, lieutenant; Julia Haynes and Mae Martin, counselors; Frances Bonn, Lucy Pensa, Josephine Nelson and Betty Swanson. No. 9—Trustee Teresa Janssens, captain; Frances Ames, lieutenant; Mary Dardi and Lydia Brady, counselors; Elizabeth Dismucke, Anna Harp, Christine Hall, Anna Ortega, Grace Sartwell and Audrey Zane. No. 10—Trustee Alta Schuld, captain; Charlotte O'Brien, lieutenant; Katherine Leslie and Margaret Callis, counselors; Josephine Gifford, Pearl Kiesner, Estella Myers and Mayme Dascomb. No. 12—Inside Sentinel Julia Moses, captain; Emma Martin, lieutenant; Florence Belt and Flora Miles, counselors; Audrey Cooley, Olive Huestes, Abbie Luth, Margaret Mahler, Rose Pottberg and Eileen Pritchard. No. 13—Outside Sentinel Sylvia Griffith, captain; Delia Longmire, lieutenant; Cora B. Sifford and Soledad Birabent, counselors; Mary Davens, Nina Bottiani, Eileen Shorten, Nell Ream and Christine Moller. No. 14—Past President Edna McCormick, captain; Clara Stearns, lieutenant; Dora Mitchell, counselor; Ella Alderson, Katherine Banks, Elizabeth Foss, Lillian Fraser, Rose Poole and Doris Vleck. STATE'S MINERAL PRODUCTION SHOWS INCREASE FOR 1937.

The total value of the mineral production of California for the year 1937 is conservatively estimated by the statistical section of the Division of Mines, Department of Natural Resources, under the direction of State Mineralogist Walter W. Bradley to have been $351,487,000. This estimated total is an increase of approximately $23,683,000 over the 1936 production total value, and is the largest since 1929. The principal increases in value of output over those of the previous year were shown by petroleum, gold, natural gas, brick and hollow building tile, silver, copper, lead and quicksilver.

The value and the amount of the petroleum output showed an increase over that of 1936, with a total quantity of about 237,666,000 barrels, an increase of about 11 percent over that of 1936, and an estimated value of $240,000,000.

Receipts of bullion at the United States Mint and smelters showed an increased output of gold of some 87,000 fine ounces. The estimated output was 1,164,000 fine ounces, with a value of $40,740,000. Thus 1937 had the highest annual gold value since 1861, and the largest in fine ounces since 1862, with the exception of 1883. All other major metals on the California commercial list showed an increase in output, with the exception of zinc. The silver and the copper yield each had a total value over the million-dollar mark.

FEDERAL ESTIMATE.

The United States Bureau of Mines puts California's 1937 gold production at 1,164,400 fine ounces, the highest since 1883. The gross value of the output topped every year since 1861, the figure being $40,754,000. In 1936 the yield was 1,077,442 ounces, worth $37,710,470.

The center of the gold producing area was the Grass Valley-Nevada City district, where every leading mine topped its previous year's yield. Mother Lode mining in El Dorado, Calaveras, Amador, Tuolumne and Mariposa Counties also boosted the gain.

FINE SHOWING OLD INSTITUTION.

During the year ended December 31, 1937, The Anglo California National Bank of San Francisco completed one of the most successful periods in its history. Resources totaled $234,376,725 as of December 31, 1937, according to its statement of condition. Deposits totaled $207,518,596, and were at the same high level as a year ago.

During the past year cash and securities increased $4,635,963 to a total of $121,818,666. The profitable operations of this sixty-four-year-old institution are reflected by an increase of $319,766 in surplus and undivided profits to a total of $5,453,974. The total capital funds, amounting to $20,853,974, are the largest in the history of the bank.

The Riverside County Fair will be held February 4-6 at Indio in conjunction with the Coachella Valley Date Fiesta.

SAN FR ANCISCO

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12, AND SUNday, February 13, the grand officers of the Native Sons of the Golden West will participate in the dedication of a building on Treasure Island, site of the Golden Gate International Exposition, to be devoted to the mining industry of California. George Miller, in charge, announces the following program for February 13:

Master of ceremonies, State Senator Andrew L. Pierovich; address of welcome, Mayor Angelo J. Rossi of San Francisco; address, "Golden Gate International Exposition," President Leland W. Butler; address, "Mining Industries of the West," Thos. E. Campbell, executive vice-president mining exhibits and former governor of Arizona; dedication and laying of plaque, Grand President Eldred L. Meyer and other N.S.G.W. grand officers.

Instrumental music will be supplied by the Angeles Camp, Calaveras County, band, and vocal selections will be rendered by the Welch choral singers of Grass Valley, Nevada County. The plaque to be placed will be of granite taken from the American River, and will have an inscription concerning the mining industry concluding with: "Dedicated by the Native Sons of the Golden West, February 13, 1938."

HISTORIC SITE MARKED.

The N.D.G.W. Extension of the Order Committee participated in the dedication of the new Santa Fe terminal on Fourth street December 29. In commemoration of the First Grand Parlor being held on this historic site—in Pioneer Hall 1887—a bronze plaque was placed, and dedicated by Grand President Ethel I. Begley. Past Grand Anne C. Thuesen was responsible for thus marking this landmark.

Miss Rena Taube was chairman of the evening, and a very delightful program included: vocal selection, Elsie Dethlefsen; address, "California's Historic Sites," Lewis F. Byington, Past Grand President N.S.G.W.; presentation of colors and salute to the flag, Grand Inside Sentinel Emily Ryan, Grand Outside Sentinel Loretta Cameron and Grand Trustee Claire Lindsey; "Star Spangled Banner," assemblage, led by Mrs. Ruby Bried. Among the 300 in attendance were Past Grand Margaret Hill, Grand Trustee Clarice Cook, Civics Chairman Ann Dippel and Chas. A. Koenig, N.S.G.W. Past Grand.—E.J.O'M.

ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED.

The tenth anniversary of the dedication of the N.D.G.W. Home building was observed January 8 at a luncheon and card party. Mrs. Margaret Grant presided and led in the flag salute, and the invocation was given by Mrs. Agnes M. Curry. Mrs. Dora E. Brayton, chairman of the arrangements committee, attended to the table decorations.

The speakers table was beautifully decorated in the colors of the Order. The white linen cloth made a lovely foundation for a miniature tree of shiny red and gold balls placed upon a mirror around which were banked twenty-two tall red candles in poinsettia holders—red for courage, white for purity and yellow for Golden California; the lighted candles symbolized faith in the Order and in the good people who made this Home a reality.

The speakers included Director Eugenie Schenk of the county welfare division, who gave interesting data on that work, and Past Grand Dr. Mariana Bertola, chairman Grand Parlor Home Committee, who reported on the progress of the Home and the fulfillment of its purpose. Grand Organist Mae O'Keefe supplied musical selections. Among others in attendance were Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Treasurer Agnes M. Curry, Grand Inside Sentinel Emily Ryan, Past Grands Genevieve W. Baker, Emma G. Foley and Evelyn I. Carlson, and Supervising Deputy Katherine Keating.—E.G.F.

500 WITNESS PUBLIC INSTALLATION.

Worthington officiated, assisted by Supervising Deputy C. J. Ryan and District Deputy Jack Reed, and Fred W. Zimmerman Jr. became president. Addresses were made by Grand President Ethel I. Begley, Grand Inside Sentinel Emily Ryan and Grand Organist Mae O'Keefe of the Native Daughters; Deputy Worthington, Supervising Deputy Ryan and Past Grand Chas. A. Koenig.

On behalf of South San Francisco, a past president emblem was presented Fred Klingler by Deputy Worthington, and Junior Past President Arthur Brooks presented to President Zimmerman the Fred R. Squires Sr. emblem to be worn by him during his incumbency of office, and then passed on to his successor. President Zimmerman addressed the assemblage, outlining his plans and asking the co-operation of all members in keeping South San Francisco the largest Parlor in the Order. Dancing was enjoyed at the close of the ceremonies.

For their many years of faithful service to the Parlor, Genevieve No. 132 presented fitted overnight cases to Hannah Toohig and Branice Peguillan, the presentation addresses being made by Nora Scheflin and Rena Taube. President Alice Drolla has planned a busy term.—R.T.

At public ceremonies January 10, Elsie Dethlefsen was January 10 elevated to the presidency of Golden Gate Parlor No. 158. January 20 marking thirty years as a part of the Order, a banquet and reunion were held. On or about February 14 the Parlor will again visit the little children in ward two at San Francisco Hospital. Grand Trustee Claire Lindsay has charge of this worthy project—B.N.

Members of Dolores Parlor No. 169 enjoyed a New Year party January 12, with Mrs. Mary Elb as the chairman. Four candidates were initiated, and they were invited by Captain Alvina Burkhardt to join the Parlor's drill team. In charge of the celebration was the following committee: Major Charles L. Tilden, first president of National, honorary chairman; Frank M. Buckley, general chairman; P. J. Newman, R. H. O'Hea, H. C. REPRODUCTION STUDIES OF OLDEST LIVING THINGS UNDER WAY.

Reproduction studies of the sequoia gigantea, now under way by the National Park Service with the aid of the Civilian Conservation Corps in Mariposa Grove, Yosemite National Park, California, are expected to throw some light on the problem of the present status of the trees.

The sequoias produce seeds, which the mountain streams help to distribute. Apparently, however, there is little new growth and no extension in the size of the groves. Is it the soil, the weather, the exposure, or the capacity of the ground cover to retain moisture that is causing this seeming stagnation? These are the questions which it is hoped the studies will answer.

The sequoias are considered the oldest of living things, survivals of that long ago when plants and animals grew to giant size. Once these trees encircled the globe, as fossils exhumed in our present era testify. Today they are found only on the western slopes of the Sierra Nevada from the American River on the north to Deer Creek on the south, between elevations of 4,000 to 8,000 feet, chiefly between the 5,000 and 7,000 foot altitudes.

The coast redwood is the sequoia sempervirens and occurs in the Coast Range of California (with slight incursion into Oregon) only as far south as Monterey and always within the coastal belt of sea fogs.

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

AN ESTIMATED 1,500,000 PERSONS viewed the magnificent four-mile-long forty-ninth annual Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena New Year Day. "Playland Fantasies" was the theme, and numerous gorgeous floats appeared in the flotilla of flowers. Many of the designers' ideas of fantasy ran to bugs, butterflies and toadstools, but they were beautiful bugs, bewitching butterflies and realistic stools for toads.

"The parade this year," declared one commentator, "ran to greater extremes of beauty and ugliness than in recent years. It is doubtful if there ever has been a more exquisite entry in this famous parade than that of the Union Oil Company, nor one more possessed with beauty and the theme of the pageantry than the grand sweepstakes winner entered by Burbank." Among the official awards were:

Sweepstakes prize, Burbank; grand prize, Union Oil Company; theme prize, Long Beach; Pasadena challenge trophy, Pasadena Light Department; president's trophy, Twentieth Century-Fox; countries and states, Australia first, Alabama second.

Prizes awarded in municipal classifications based on population of the cities: Class A, Glendale first, San Francisco second, Portland third. Class A-1, Santa Barbara first, North Hollywood second, Alhambra third, Pomona special prize. Class A-2, Altadena first, Venice second, South Gate third, South Pasadena special prize. Class A-3, Culver City first, Lynwood second, San Gabriel third, San Fernando special prize. Class A-4, Sierra Madre first, Manhattan Beach second, San Marino third, Newport Harbor special prize. Class A-5, cities over 50,000, Oakland first, Los Angeles second. Class A-6, counties over 50,000, Humboldt.

"ACCEPT ALL PROPAGANDA WITH HEALTHY SKEPTICISM."

Public relations, propaganda and San Pedro Harbor vied with one another in making a most interesting day for members and guests of Californiana Parlor No, 247 N.D.G.W. January 11.

The morning session was taken up with business affairs, and the installation of officers by Deputy Betty Sanders, assisted by Ethel Bledsoe as acting grand marshal. A number of new officers will assist Marcella Palethorpe in her second term as president. It was announced that $110 will be sent to the Central Homeless Children Committee from the Christmas bazar. Thirteen scrapbooks were sent to the Ruth Home for children. A silver spoon has been presented by the Parlor to Betty Walker's baby girl, born December 30. Past President Flora Jacobson presented a beautiful white satin Bible and altar cover to the Parlor.

Grand Trustee Mary B. Noerenberg presided at the well-attended public relations luncheon, at which representatives from civic, cultural, film, radio and newspaper worlds were present. The afternoon program consisted of a very enlightening lecture by Dr. Carlton C. Rodee on propaganda groups and their effects on domestic affairs. He urged his hearers to accept all propaganda, good and bad, with healthy skepticism. Lloyd Roberts gave a brief talk on the harbor, emphasizing it with fine motion pictures.

At the December tea, Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish presided at the program, presenting Hugh Wellington Martin, baritone, assisted by Blanche Hennion Robinson, accompanist, and Lillian Sanborn, daughter of Mrs. Matilda Murdock, chairman for the tea, in interesting readings. Mrs. Irish extended a welcome to Californiana members to her lovely new California home in Santa Monica hills for a party in the near-future.

The Gertrude sewing circle enjoyed a potluck luncheon and meeting in real Californiana style at the home of Mrs. John P. Welch, recording secretary, January 17. Marybelle Chapman and committee were hostesses January 25 at the month-end tea. The program savored of Mexico and South America. Mary Anderson gave a talk and showed some excellent motion pictures. She was assisted by Charles L. R. Smith.—O.L.

RUMMAGE SALE.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. will have a rummage sale February 23, 24 and 25. Miss Flora Holy is the chairman. Other coming events on the Parlor's calendar include:

Among the many in attendance were Grand Trustee Mary Noerenberg, President Marcella Palethorpe of Californiana Parlor and Mary Meyer, representing the Native Daughters, Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, Past Grand Herman C. Lichtenberger and Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth.

On the Parlor's behalf, Grand Trustee Youngworth presented a past president ring to Frank J. Ziegler Jr., and on behalf of the officers of the Parlor Ziegler presented a fountain pen to District Deputy LeMoine. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

PAST PRESIDENTS CLUB FORMED.

Glendale—January 11, President Evalyn Wilson presided at the first meeting of her second term as head of Verdugo Parlor No. 240 N.D.G.W. Committees were named to take charge of arrangements for the visit of Grand President Ethel I. Begley in March, and Harriette Weeks, Ethyl Kern and Mary Miller were appointed social chairmen to serve two months each during the term. Supervising Deputy Ione Gillette and Deputy Flora Jacobson were visitors. Mms. Harriette Weeks and Aletha Gregory were in charge of refreshments.

January 17 past presidents of the Parlor met at the home of Betty Sanders and formed a past presidents club, with Mrs. Vera Carlson as chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Ravn as secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Ada Steele as publicity chairman. The club will meet the third Thursday of each month from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The first meeting will be February 17, at the home of Chairman Carlson.

Mrs. Gussie Anderson has presented United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags to the Parlor. A life membership has been presented by Verdugo to Mrs. Florence McMillan, a charter member, who was in line for the presidency when illness curtailed her activity. Mrs. Mary Miller and members of the Parlor's history and landmarks committee visited the exhibit of California mission pictures at the Southwest Museum. To raise funds for delegates to the Grand Parlor, a card party was held January 22 at the home of Doria Phillips.—A.S.

THE LETTER BOX

Comments on subjects of general interest and importance received from readers of The Grizzly Bear.

PREDICTION NOT FULFILLED.

Editor Grizzly Bear: If my memory serves me correctly, there was, at one time, a Native Daughter Parlor in Gilroy, Santa Clara County, La Paloma (meaning the dove) No. 116, a group of very likeable girls.

I also remember the prediction pertaining to that Parlor made by the district deputy grand president, Mollie Kennedy, in her report to Grand President Stella Finkeldey: "I found that although the membership is only 20 the sisters are very enthusiastic in the work and I predict that eventually La Paloma Parlor No. 116 will be in a flourishing condition."

Lack of material to draw from, distance to travel, etc., however, caused the Parlor to surrender its charter.—LAURA FRAKES TOMAN, Past Grand Secretary, Nice, Lake County, January 7, 1938.

Captain Jay D. Hall of the Los Angeles Fire Department, affiliated with Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W., died January 12, survived by a wife and two children. He was born at Santa Barbara City, June 15, 1894.

CALIFORNIA PEACHES ONCE SOLD FOR THREE DOLLARS EACH.

The hard-pressed California peach grower who finds it difficult to dispose of his crop at any price, may find some consolation in the fact that peaches grown in California once retailed for $3.50 each. These particular peaches were grown at Coloma, El Dorado County, the heart of the gold rush country, in 1854. A year later peaches from certain trees brought $1 each. Most of these peach trees originally came from Alameda County, but they seemed to grow more profitably in the Sacramento Valley than elsewhere. These facts are set forth in an interesting review of the industry by H. M. Butterfield, specialist in agricultural extension in the University of California.

Butterfield shows that the first trees were planted in the gardens of the Franciscan missions and in the rancho orchards. These red or Indian Blood peaches disappeared with the introduction of other varieties. George Vancouver, Fremont, and most of the other hardy spirits who took leading parts in the founding of California, tasted and enjoyed those early peaches and mentioned the fruit in their chronicles.

By 1850 the industry had grown to be one of the most important in the state, horticulturally speaking. One of the most noted early peach growers was General John Bidwell, founder of the city of Chico, Butte County, who started his nursery in 1851 and imported peaches grown at Mission San Luis Rey.

California gas tax collections for 1937 broke all records, $51,395,502, according to the state controller.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

The Tri-Weekly Bugle, a temperance paper, was launched this month at Santa Barbara City.

During a storm in Trinity County an enormous landslide on Morrison Gulch carried a placer mine and all improvements a half-mile away into Coffee Creek.

Baled hay was worth $20 a ton in southern California this month.

John A. Benson, the land fraud, was returned February 18 to San Francisco from Denmark, whence he fled to escape prosecution.

The East Los Angeles residence of Ed. Dunham was burglarized February 19 of a 200-pound safe containing $1,200 in diamonds and some coin.

Owen Gawell, owner of the Manzanita Mine at Nevada City, Nevada County, was robbed February 21 of $7,100 in bank stock and a note for $4,500.

Joel Russell, former candidate for governor on the Prohibition ticket, died February 19 at his Hayward, Alameda County, home.

The design of F. Marion Wells was chosen for the James W. Marshall monument at Coloma, El Dorado County.

The California Theater property in San Francisco was sold February 24 to Mrs. McDonough for $127,000.

WANDERLUST

(J. A. McARTHUR.)

He wandered through his youthful days
To a hundred foreign shores.
He met them, not with smiles or tears,
As they swung wide, inviting doors;
But accepted all such honors shown
As his just due, and his alone.

He journeyed through strange tropic lands,
Over endless trying miles.
He saw men die with sin'ster smiles,
On the desert's burning sands.

Then at last there came the day,
When no longer he could roam,
For he was bent and old and gray,
And far away from home.

His mind recalled his childhood land,
When no longer he could roam;
But, too late, for death don't wait,
So he died without a home.

—Weekly Calistogan.

NATURAL BATH TUBS DISCOVERED IN YOSEMITE.

In Yosemite National Park, California, a new group of pot-holes, which may have served as bath tubs for Nuchus Indians, have been discovered just a half-mile west of Wawona, up Big Creek. The area which includes the pot-holes is of unusual geological and ethnological interest, and is very beautiful with its swift-flowing streams, steep barricades of granite boulders on one bank and gradual sandy slopes on the other.

Scattered along the Big Creek every few rods are projecting ledges and expanses of rocks in which have been worn innumerable circular holes. Several are as perfect tubs as any humanly designed. One measures five feet in length, four feet in width, and five feet in depth, and is so worn down on one side that the water just barely washes over the rim into the cavity, keeping the contents fresh and clear. Arrowheads found near the holes prove that Indians either lived or camped nearby.

All possess that too-symmetrical form of nature-made holes, and their existence is probably due to gradual erosion in which sand, in suspension in the water, whirls around in a circle and acts as an abrasive. Once a depression has been started, the erosion is speeded by the addition of larger rocks and bits of driftwood to the grinding sand. The giant size of several of these pot-holes would indicate several thousand years of wearing away.

Cloverdale, Sonoma County, will feature its thirty-ninth annual Citrus Fair February 18-22.

"A WARNING THAT JAPAN SEEKS TO banish the White race from Asia once and for all," was voiced January 4, according to the International News Service, "by Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu who, in 1934, startled the world with the declaration Tokio was then already preparing for war with the United States. Suetsugu said:

"The yoke of the White races over the yellow must disappear. The mercantile interests of Whites must vanish in the sun of Japan's mission. When the Whites are banished from Asia I am convinced the yellow race will enjoy that happiness which heaven reserves for it, and the end of the hegemony of the Whites really will inaugurate the era of justice and humanity of which Europeans and Americans are constantly speaking.

"I do not fear to insist in the face of the entire world that the White yoke must go. Naturally, rapid realization of this liberation will bring a general conflagration, but whatever precautions we take the result will be the same—a general conflagration."

Believe it or not, Japan has for a long time been preparing for war with the United States, and still continues that preparation. The Federal Congress of the United States should, therefore, be most liberal in providing for the defense of this country. And, taking a "hunch" from Admiral Suetsugu, the Japs should be banished from the United States, for they are a decided menace to the future wellbeing of the country.

"Sickly Yellow for Our Golden State," headed an editorial in the San Bernardino Sun of January 7 which well says: "California, famous for its golden sunsets and its golden oranges, uses a sickly yellow on its 1938 automobile license plates! And as if that were not enough, the grand State of California becomes 'Cal' on the plates that have plenty of room for the full spelling. . . .

"There is a strange lack of vision in the motor vehicle department at Sacramento. We wonder where the experts of Californians Inc., All-Year club and the chambers of commerce were when the official decision was reached to alter the traditional coloring and spelling of the state's name. Such organizations can do nothing about the 1938 plates—it is too late. But may we not have a voice of protest that might remedy the error for 1939 and other years of the future?

"Apparently what California started out to do was to ape last year's New York state license. Why ape any state? But to drop the full spelling of California—that is a crime that defies explanation."

"Disregard for treaty obligations," says President Franklin D. Roosevelt, "seems to have followed the surface trend away from the democratic representative form of government. It would seem, therefore, that world peace through international agreements is most safe in the hands of democratic representative governments —or, in other words, peace is most greatly jeopardized in and by those nations where democracy has been discarded or has never developed."

Peace is jeopardized by those nations which regard treaties to which they are parties as scraps of paper and of no value, and by those governments which deal not with the truth and believe that might makes right.

Speaking in Oakland, at a dinner in observance of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of Saint Mary's College,—which came into being before any of California's great universities—Dr. Monroe E. Deutsch, vice-president and provost of the University of California, declared:

"Saint Mary's College is founded upon the belief that along with intellectual training should go religious. We must admit that training of the mind, as so often given, is not by itself enough. One who is termed highly educated, but is base in character, has merely been given a sharper tool to use to the detriment of society. He will selfishly seek his own advantage whatever the cost to others. Society has trained him to become its abler enemy. We must somehow inculcate a sense of responsibility along with intellectual keenness. Character education, ethical training cannot be neglected. And Saint Mary's College is aiming at the goal by combining religious training with purely intellectual."

According to figures made public by the Federal Government, several individuals in the United States last year drew salaries from $150,000 to $562,311. Such pay, to a corporation executive or a "so-called" movie star, is ridiculous and nothing short of a financial crime!

Clerk Alice Pendleton of Washington County, Utah State, declared at a meeting of county officials in Salt Lake City that during 1937 her office issued some 190 marriage licenses to Filipino men and White girls from California who, after becoming man and wife, immediately returned to California to make their homes.

California law prohibits the marriage of Filipinos and Whites, and California should hunt out and banish from this state those who are evading the law by being married elsewhere. This situation presents another good argument for Federal marriage and divorce laws that will apply in all states.

In a San Francisco address, former President Herbert Hoover advanced a program which included these, among other points: "We must fight for our independence to the last shred of our material and physical strength. And the world should know that if we are to have peace. The greatest assurance from aggression against us is preparedness for defense. We must be respected not only for our justice, but for our strength. We should limit our arms solely to repeal aggression against the Western Hemisphere. We must preserve our neutrality. We should not engage ourselves to use military force in endeavor to prevent or end other people's wars."

The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, Japan's chief propaganda agency in the United States and the world's most powerful pro-Jap religious organization, is again at work. January 9 it denounced the Oriental Exclusion Act as "decidedly unchristian and unstatesmanlike." It had nothing to say, however, about Japan's unholy course in China!

From C. A. Bodwell Jr., affiliated with Petaluma Parlor No. 27 N.S.G.W., The Grizzly Bear received the following resolution, adopted by Sonoma County Pomona Grange and sent to thirty-three additional Granges of the state:

"Whereas, Commercial fishing privileges and rights within California waters should in justice be available only to citizens of the United States, and whereas, in certain coastal areas of our state there exists the deplorable situation wherein aliens not citizens and aliens ineligible to ever become citizens have a practically complete monopoly of such commercial fishing, and whereas, American citizens desirous of entering the fishing industry do find numerous and various obstacles thrown in the way of such ambitions, with the resulting end that they are practically prohibited from entering that industry, and whereas, in addition there exists a very grave political and military danger in the existence of such a large number of aliens as are at present in possession of fleets of deep sea fishing vessels on our coast, it is hereby

"Resolved, That this Sonoma County Pomona Grange protests the existence of present commercial fishing conditions in our California coastal waters, and most decidedly favors the enactment of statutes or initiative constitutional amendments for correction thereof, and it is additionally resolved, that copies of this resolution be sent to all California Pomona Granges, asking their endorsement of the action herein indicated and to so inform the State Senate Interim Fish and Game Committee."

The apple appears to have played an outstanding part in both the history and the horticulture of California, according to a review of the apple industry made public by H. M. Butterfield, specialist in agricultural extension at the University of California. History shows that one of the first things the Russians did after arriving at Bodega, Sonoma County, was to plant apple trees, and that may justly be said to have been the start of the industry in that county. These trees were supposed to have been planted in 1820, and traces of this old orchard still remain.

History also shows that Captain Joseph Aram, one of General Fremont's chief aides, made a quick trip from Sacramento to San Jose in 1846, with his company of troops, to disperse a band of marauding Mexicans who were threatening the town, and remained to start a nursery in which the apple prominently figured. Captain Aram was one of those to write California's first state constitution at Monterey, and he represented San Jose in the first Legislature.

The number of apple trees increased rapidly in California's first ten years of statehood, but since that time the increase has been relatively slow. The crop has varied between 5,000,000 and 10,000,000 bushels in recent years, but since 1930 has been under the latter figure.

ACROSS A DESERT STATE

I asked an old, old trail
To tell me who had passed
If smiling youth had left a trace
Of treasures that would last.

Across a desert state
Deep furrows marked the way
But not a whisper came to me
Of bravery that day.

Oh, I can stand here dreaming
But nothing now reveals
The strength and courage left
In ruts of wagon-wheels.

TAKE YOUR LICKIN'

(H. E. WHEATON.)

In the world's great field of battle,
Where each man should do his best,
Looking forward to the victory
When his sun sets in the west,
He should plan to be a winner,
Reaching goal the best he can—
But perchance he fails, then should he
Take his lickin' like a man.

If the odds are all against you,
And you feel you can not win,
Don't give up and play the piker,
Catch your breath and buckle in,
It may be you'll win the victory,
Holding up as you began—
But in case you lose, don't fail to Take your lickin' like a man.

(BETTY L. WHITSELL.)

I am a little narrow road
That sometimes you can see beside
The new broad highway.
I wonder at this age of speed
Because in other years
Man stopped to rest
To see a flaming sky or watch
A rainbow,
Finding hope or joy
As he went by.
It never mattered just how far
He traveled in a day
There seemed to be abundant time
To watch the clouds, to hear a bird,
To even smile.
I have known the tread of oxen
And the rattle of the stagecoach.
I am a little narrow road
I am too old now,
But I have hidden beauty
And memories.

THE POLITICAL CAREER OF RAMAULDO PACHECO

First Native California Governor During the American Period

Dr. Peter T. Conmy

(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR.)

THE DIFFICULTY WHICH THE SPANISH and the Mexican residents of California experienced in retaining their land grants following the establishment of United States control and ownership of California has given the general impression that the native Californians fared badly at the hands of the Americans. It would seem also that this same impression was shared by those familiar with that masterpiece of fiction, Helen Hunt Jackson's "Ramona," wherein the dispossessing of the Indians, and especially Alessandro, husband of Ramona, is vividly described. Conceding that there were abuses from time to time, admitting that a large number of injustices were perpetrated, still the truth remains that in general the residents of California prior to American occupation received their full measure of rights under the law. The first Constitution of California, written in 1849, respected the fact that Spanish was the language of so many by ordering that the reports of the State Legislature and all state officers be printed in Spanish as well as in English. This mandate of the Constitution was carried out, and today in the Bancroft Library of California History at Berkeley the official reports in Spanish may be found. When the Second Constitution was drawn up thirty years had elapsed, and English was so predominant that the provision requiring official reports to be in Spanish was omitted. The erroneous impression above referred to concerning unjust treatment of the native Californians has also given rise to the idea that the native Californians failed to take an active part in political affairs after the American conquest. This is not true, however. The Spanish Californians continued as active citizens of the American State of California. The political careers of Vallejo and De la Guerra as United States citizens are well known. The Spanish Californian who had the most remarkable political career in the American period was Ramauldo Pacheco, who became governor in 1875.

Ramauldo Pacheco was born in Santa Barbara, October 31, 1831, during the governorship of Manuel Victoria. His father was killed in December 1831, ere he was two months old, in an altercation between the troops of Governor Victoria and the rebel, Pablo de Portilla. Of Pacheco's education little is known, but the historian, Hittell, states that it came in part from private tutors and "in part from a school at Honolulu in the Hawaiian Islands."

From this it is to be inferred that Pacheco's boyhood was spent in the Hawaiian Islands. Just when he returned to California is not definitely known, but it probably was during early youth. It is reported that Pacheco was a man of great strength, giving himself to hunting and horsemanship as sports, and avoiding intemperance. Like most residents of Santa Barbara County of his time he was a cattleman. What his opinions were concerning the taking over of California by the United States and the subsequent movement for statehood in 1849 is not definitely known. Pacheco emerges in the political records of California in 1857, when he was elected a state senator from the district which comprised Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo Counties. At this time he was a Democrat in political affiliation and his election to the State Senate as such was characteristic of the bent of the entire nation toward Democracy as indicated by the election of President Buchanan the year before.

Pacheco served, by virtue of this election, in the ninth and tenth sessions of the Legislature, held in 1858 and 1859, respectively. The political events of the next two years caused Ramauldo Pacheco to change his affiliations. He was greatly impressed by the election of Lincoln in 1860 and the secession of the eleven Southern states in 1861. This was a period of great testing of men's loyalty. To Pacheco there was but one clear course. That was loyalty to the Union. The native Spanish Californians had always abominated slavery, and any attempt to split the Nation to perpetuate such an institution had no appeal to Pacheco. Therefore, the fall of 1861 found him again a candidate for election to the State Senate, but this time as a member of the Union Party. He was elected, and served in the sessions which met in 1862 and 1863. In the latter year Pacheco again changed his party and was nominated by the Republican convention for state treasurer, to which office he was elected September 2, receiving some 64,984 votes, as against 43,730 for Robert Cravens, his Democratic opponent. Four years later he was defeated for re-election by Andrew Coronel, who led him by the small margin of 3,000 votes. In 1868, however, Pacheco was again chosen State Senator from Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo Counties.

The abilities of this loyal Spanish Californian were recognized by the Republican state convention in 1871, by which he was nominated for lieutenant-governor. His running mate was Newton Booth and they were elected, governor and lieutenant-governor, respectively, September 6, 1871, taking office in 1872. Newton Booth was one of California's great governors of the post Civil War years. His ambitions, however, transcended the executive mansion at Sacramento. Booth aimed at the toga of a United States senator. Consequently he made overtures to the Legislature, which at that time had the power of naming California's United States senators. It was considered very inappropriate for a governor to consort with members of the Legislature to procure his advancement to the United States Senate, and there was much opposition to Booth. This he was able to overcome, however, and December 20, 1874, he was elected for the full term March 4, 1875, to March 4, 1881, succeeding John S. Hager, term expired. It was expected that he would immediately resign the governorship, but for reasons which are hard to understand he held on until five days before his term as senator commenced. Hence, February 27, 1875, Lieutenant-Governor Pacheco took his oath as governor for the balance of the term, about ten months.

Pacheco's term as governor was uneventful. The historian, Theodore Hittell, calls attention to the fact that the Native Sons of the Golden West was organized during the term of the first native governor. Pacheco, however, was not eligible for membership at the time, as the original constitution of the society provided membership only for those born in California on or after July 7, 1846, the day upon which the Stars and Stripes were raised at Monterey. Later, however, this was modified so as to permit the admission of those born prior to that date. Perhaps the outstanding achievement of Pacheco's short term was his message to the Legislature which convened in December 1875, in which he suggested the necessity for the state defining its power to control corporations. He recognized the necessity for a general statewide policy on irrigation, and recommended against granting irrigation franchises in perpetuity. He stated that public education was a worthy object of expenditure. He also praised the practice of appropriating for the fish conservation project.

Pacheco might have aspired for a full term as governor but did not do so. He sought re-election as lieutenant-governor, however, as an independent, since the Republican convention had failed to nominate him for either governor or lieutenant-governor. The year 1875 in California was Democratic, and William Irwin and the entire Democratic ticket were elected. Pacheco received 33,000 votes for re-election. Defeat at this election did not spell death for the political career of him, however. On the contrary, there were important years ahead. In 1876 he was elected to the House of Representatives by one vote over his opponent. He was re-elected in 1878 and in 1880, thus serving some six years as a Congressman and retiring from office March 4, 1883. His terms in Congress brought him before some of the leaders of the nation. His ability to speak Spanish and the sympathetic understanding which he had for Spanish people led President Benjamin Harrison to appoint him Minister to the Central American States in 1890. Following the retirement of Harrison, Pacheco returned to California. He died in Oakland, January 23, 1899, being at the time, in the seventy-eighth year of his age, the most distinguished son of Hispanic California.

The Golden Gate International Exposition, costing $41,256,384, will open February 19, 1939, on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay, according to President Leland Cutler.

Sacramento City is making plans for a Golden Empire Centennial in 1939.

BOOK REVIEWS

CLARENCE M. HUNT

"REPUBLICAN HISPANIC AMERICA: A HISTORY."

By Dr. Charles Edward Chapman; The MacMillan Company, Publishers, New York; Price, $3.

The author of this timely and informative volume, Dr. Charles Edward Chapman, Professor of Hispanic American History in the University of California, was the first Traveling History Fellow of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, and a few years back contributed many valuable history articles to The Grizzly Bear Magazine. The book is dedicated by Dr. Chapman "To Herbert Eugene Bolton, world-famous historian, as everybody knows, but equally as fine a friend." Quoting from the author's preface:

"If there might be some cataclysm of nature which would sink all Hispanic America beneath the seas, like fabled Atlantis, and yet preserve every inch of territory under the flag of the United States, it would, nevertheless, be the greatest catastrophe that had ever happened to the mighty republic of the north. Not only is Hispanic America a tremendous and increasingly important region in itself, but is also vital, as it is, to the United States and the world as a whole. For example, to use economic factors as an index of all relationships, if at one fell stroke all business connections between the United States and Hispanic America were wiped out, there would be a financial whirlwind in this country, beside which the recent serious depression would seem like a gentle zephyr. That would not have been true a century ago, for Hispanic America had not then taken a prominent place in world affairs. On the other hand, if one might look a century ahead, the disparity could be even greater, but in the direction of a Hispanic America which, by that time, might have advanced to a position of leadership.

"There are some who think that in the twenty-first century there will be Hispanic American patriots who will urge their countrymen to study the lesser nations, such as England, France, Germany and the United States, because of their 'still existing importance,' rather than that the point of view will be, as at present, one which looks down at Hispanic America coming up. Myself, not being a prophet, I would (if I could) prefer to wait and see what happens, but I believe that the actual all-round development and the relative position of Hispanic America will be enormously greater than now. It is probable that in total population and many other respects it will have left the United States far behind. Does not this make Hispanic America well worth knowing now? Indeed, is it not outstandingly important for citizens of the United States to know these neighbors of ours and to prepare our children to know theirs? One lives better with those he knows intimately than with strangers. It is time to put forth more strenuous efforts than ever before to bridge the gap in information as between our people and theirs. . . .

"To sum up, it is the aim of this book to tell the history of Hispanic America truthfully and interestingly. The one characteristic, without the other, is almost equally unfortunate. . . . Both in the synthesis and in the national histories, I have endeavored to remember that there are those who might wish to carry away with them something of the story, and I have been careful to see that they are not overladen with impediments."

Included in this 463-page volume, which is illustrated and has three maps, are a "National Histories Appendix," dealing with each of the several countries comprising Hispanic America, an "Essay on Authorities," and an index.

Native Sons of the Golden West

JUDGE HENRY CLAY GESFORD, PAST Grand President of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West and a charter member of Napa Parlor No. 62, died February 4 at San Francisco, survived by a daughter. He was born near Saint Helena, Napa County, June 19, 1856, and affiliated with Napa Parlor April 10, 1885. Judge Gesford's first attendance at the Grand Parlor as a delegate from Napa Parlor was at the Tenth (Nevada City 1887) Session, and at that meeting he was elected Grand Marshal. At the Nineteenth (San Luis Obispo 1896) Session he was chosen Grand President, and presided at the Eleventh (Redwood City 1897) Session.

Funeral services for Judge Gesford, held at Napa City February 7, were attended by Past Grands Judge Frank A. Dunne, Lewis F. Byington, William P. Caubu, James A. Wilson, Charles L. Dodge, Chas. A. Koenig and Harmon D. Skillin, Grand Trustees Lloyd J. Cosgrove and Edward T. Schnarr, and Grand Secretary John T. Regan. Nathan Coombs of Napa Parlor delivered the eulogy, in part as follows:

Judge Henry Clay Gesford, Past Grand President N.S.G.W.

"In the veins of Henry Clay Gesford flowed the blood of the old South. In the early immigrant days his parents, Preston C. Gesford and his good wife, came from Kentucky to California. Gesford as a young man was tall, handsome and ambitious. He had a magnetic personality and a dignified and judicial bearing. He went to the public schools of Napa County and then to the San Jose State Normal. Ambitious for a higher and better education, and to become a member of the Bar of California, he taught school and earned enough money to go to the College of Iowa, from which he graduated with high honors. He then took a law course at Ann Arbor, Michigan graduating with distinction and honor, and was the valedictorian of his class.

"After graduating from Ann Arbor, Gesford returned to Napa County and successively held the offices of County Superintendent of Schools, District Attorney and Superior Judge from 1893 to 1921, inclusive. He also represented in the State Senate the senatorial district embracing Napa and Yolo Counties.

"In 1899 Gesford was elected Grand President of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West an honor which he highly appreciated. He cherished his associations with the members of Napa Parlor, and the Past Grand Presidents and officers of the Grand Parlor. He was a charter member of Napa Parlor and shortly before his death was presented with a fifty year jewel. He had also received fifty year jewels from the Odd Fellows and the Knights of Pythias.

"While Judge Gesford was identified with many fraternal orders he was really at heart a family man and loved and cherished his family associations which consisted of his deceased wife, a daughter Mattie Gesford Jones, and a granddaughter Barbara Jones. Like all early Californians, he was a builder. He grew up you might say, with his country state and county. He was a contemporary of Frank L. Coombs, Judge Frank H. Dunne and other distinguished Native Sons. He was keen and alert of mind right up to the day of his death."

Life Membership Honors Awarded.

Sacramento—Sacramento No. 3 and Sunset No. 26 joined in honoring their past presidents and oldtime members January 24. It was also the fifty-third anniversary of Sunset. A banquet was held, attended by 200. Fifteen of the officers and members of Quartz No. 58 came from Grass Valley, and many other Parlors in the Sacramento Valley were represented.

Dr. June B. Harris was toastmaster and the principal speaker was Grand Third Vice-president Henry Lyon. United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson and Chauncey B. Conn, members of Sunset for more than fifty years, were given life membership cards by that Parlor. Superior Judge Malcolm C. Glenn presented the card to Conn, a charter member, and a letter was written to Johnson apprising him of his election to life membership and asking if, on his next visit to California, he could arrange to attend a meeting of the Parlor for the purpose of receiving his card personally.

Recording Secretary Edward E. Reese of Sunset received in reply the following, dated Washington, D. C., February 8: "I cannot tell you how much pleasure your letter of January 12 gave me. It is indeed an honor to be a Life Member of Sunset Parlor. I wish that I could tell you that I could be present at one of your meetings when I return to California, but my plans are so uncertain that it is an utter impossibility for me to do so. With my grateful thanks to Sunset Parlor, and my best wishes for its glorious future, I am sincerely yours, HIRAM W. JOHNSON."

Noyo Harbor Project Endorsed.

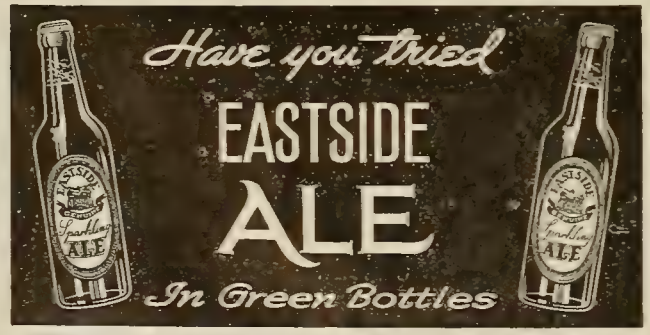
Fort Bragg—Alder Glen No. 200 had its annual turkey banquet January 28, and there was a large outpouring of the members. Following the feast, at which enthusiastic addresses were delivered, three candidates were initiated at the meeting which followed:

At this meeting a resolution was adopted endorsing the Noyo Harbor project, which is being presented to the United States Army engineers to be submitted to the present session of Congress. A hearing was held in Fort Bragg January 19 before Lieutenant-Colonel J. A. Dorst and Captain H. S. Pond. Noyo Harbor is about half-way between San Francisco and Eureka, and is the only logical harbor of refuge between these two places. It is a deep-water harbor, and not only would afford a safe harbor for the United States Navy, but it has commercial possibilities such as fishing and packing plants.

There are thousands of fine eligibles just waiting to be extended an invitation to affiliate with the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West. Be a recruiter—extend the invitation today, not tomorrow!

Sonoma County Activities.

Santa Rosa—At joint public ceremonies, largely attended, the officers of Santa Rosa No. 28 and Santa Rosa No. 217 N.D.G.W., with Alvin Orr and Marie Smith as the respective presidents, were installed by Deputies Wesley Beach and Zora Tompkins. A large delegation of Ukiah Natives traveled more than sixty miles to be in attendance. Dancing and refreshments were enjoyed after the installation.



Carl Plow is the new governor of Sonoma County Past Presidents Assembly No. 9 N.S.G.W. and plans a busy term. To the Parlor having the largest number of past presidents at the next three meetings the Assembly will present a fine hand-carved gavel. Plans are being made to mark several historic landmarks. The Assembly's efficient ritual team has asked all the Sonoma County Parlors to be permitted to initiate their next classes of candidates.

Santa Rosa No. 28 will celebrate March 10 its fifty-fourth institution anniversary, and has appointed the following committee to make arrangements for its observance: James Bertino, Earl Donner and Elmer Hughes. March 17 the Santa Rosa Parlors will sponsor a Saint Patrick Day dance for the benefit of the homeless children.

Fiftieth Anniversary Banquet.

Oakland—James J. McElroy, a past president of Piedmont No. 120 and a former grand trustee, recently returned from a trip around the world. Native Daughters of the Golden West

MRS. MARGARET GROTE-HILL, PAST Grand President of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West affiliated with Alta Parlor No. 3, passed away at San Francisco January 24, as briefly announced in The Grizzly Bear for February. Surviving are her husband and two children. She was elected Grand President at the Twenty-ninth (San Francisco 1915) Grand Parlor Session, and presided at the Thirtieth (Fresno 1916) Session.

Impressive funeral ceremonies were conducted January 27 by Grand President Ethel I. Begley, Grand Marshal Hazel B. Hansen, Past Grands Anne C. Thuesen, Mae Himes Noonan, Evelyn I. Carlson, Emma G. Foley and Mary E. Bell. The honorary pallbearers were led by Mayor Angelo J. Rossi and Grand President Begley. Past Grand Dr. Mariana Bertola delivered the eulogy, saying, in part:

"Margaret Grote Hill, teacher in the San Francisco schools for more than thirty years, Past Grand President of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, wife and mother, has passed into the Great Beyond.

"A great man once said: 'Every good act is charity. Giving water to the thirsty is charity. Smiling in your brother's face is charity. Putting a wanderer on the right path is charity. A man's true wealth is the good he does in this world. When he dies mortals will ask how much property did he leave, but the Angels will ask, "What good deeds has thou sent in before thee"?'

"Margaret Grote Hill will have a long list of good works; she will stand high in all good deeds that demonstrate charity; she will stand high in all that implies duty. She will carry the banner when the roll is called for those who loved their country, their state and their flag. She was patriotic to the very core. The boys and the girls who bear the imprint of her teaching and acknowledge the imporance of her influence attest this.

"She gave herself unstintedly to the N.D.G.W. . . . She knew every charge of our Order by heart, and often filled in where officers were absent. I know of no other who had this sort of memory. She had the charity 'that smiled in a brother's face.' She was at every Sunday breakfast or Saturday luncheon at the N.D.G.W. Home. The Home received her assistance and support. She helped to move the 'stones and thorns' from the road. The Home will miss her—her smiling face, her cheery word. The Order will miss her because she helped build the Order with 'good deeds,' not for self aggrandizement, but for the Order's sake. . . .

"To her family we extend our heartfelt sympathy, but we know, too, that His promise was 'I go to prepare a place for you. In my Father's House there are many mansions.' We know that she will occupy a place in one of these mansions. We feel that she has just crossed a bridge into another country and is waiting there. One by one we will all cross that bridge to give an account of our good deeds, for that is all we shall take with us—neither riches, nor pride, nor arrogance, but 'good deeds'. . . .

"Farewell, Margaret Grote Hill! Farewell for a short time only because in the years to come we will meet in one of His mansions. Farewell, sister, wife, mother and friend. Farewell, until we meet in the Grand Parlor Eternal"'

Among the more than 600 who attended the ceremonies were: Junior Past Grand Hartley Russell, Grand First Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Historian Peter T. Conmy, Grand Trustee Edward T. Schnarr, Past Grands Chas. A. Koenig and Harmon D. Skillin of the Native Sons; Grand Vice-president Edna B. Briggs, Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Treasurer Agnes M. Curry, Grand Inside Sentinel Emily Ryan, Grand Outside Sentinel Loretta Cameron, Grand Organist Mae O'Keefe, Grand Trustees Clarice Cook, Ethel Enos and Claire Lindsey, Past Grands Edna Briggs and Estelle Evans.

February 2, Dr. J. M. O'Donnell spoke before the Parlor on his recent Hawaiian trip, with moving pictures of points visited. Abraham Lincoln was honored. In the meetinghall decorations a large picture of the martyred president was draped with the national colors, and large baskets of bright berries mingled with flags. Faye Frusetta gave an interesting talk on the highlights of Lincoln's life, and Elma Libao, Rose Guilhamet and Myrtle Palmtag presented a clever sketch featuring the boyhood of Lincoln. The refreshments table was centered with a log cabin, and miniature cabins were at each plate.

Manzanita is making plans for the celebration of its fiftieth (golden) anniversary March 28.—V.H.

In Memoriam

MARGARET GROTE HILL.

The Committee on Resolutions for the General Association of Past Presidents, Native Daughters of the Golden West, beg to submit the following:

Whereas, The Great Ruler of the Universe has chosen one of our beloved Past Presidents to be with Him in Paradise—Margaret Grote Hill, a member who has stood for so much that is good and noble, one who has endeared herself to our hearts and our organization, and whose smile and kindly words we shall forever miss. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the officers and members of the General Association of Past Presidents, Native Daughters of the Golden West, do hereby extend our deepest sympathy to her bereaved family, to her Parlor and to her Association, and may God comfort all in their sorrow.

"Thy sun hath set to us, but shines elsewhere
In Heavenly Light.
The 'encircling gloom is gone, and all is fair'
In Heavenly Light.
Thy home is reached, thou dost not ask to see the distant scene,
For it is near to thee.

And thou art 'ever thus' no need to pray
In Heavenly Light
For guidance on a dark and rugged way
In Heavenly Light.
The day of sorrow and of doubt is gone,
Thy love remembered and thy haven won.

And now thy faith is sight, and thou dost know that 'God is Light.'
And over 'moor and torrent' we must go
Through the dark night
Till in the glorious morning light we see
The 'angel faces' of the blest and thee."

We desire that a copy of these resolutions be sent to her family, her Parlor and her Association, that they be spread on the minutes of the General Association, and that a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

Lovingly submitted,

EDNA D. SAMPSON,
LEAH M. WILLIAMS,
ANNA G. LOSER,
Committee.

WILMINGTON --- SAN PEDRO

THE FORWARD LOOKING HARBOR DISTRICT OF THE GREAT SOUTHWEST

SAN PEDRO—GRAND FIRST VICE-PRESident Joseph J. McShane was to have officially visited Stephen M. White Parlor No. 263 N.S.G.W., February 11, but was suddenly called to his San Francisco home, so Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth visited in his stead. Two candidates were initiated.

District Deputies Ray LeMoine and Roy W. Tarleton headed large delegations of visitors from Los Angeles and Compton Parlors, and among the many others present were Grand Marshal Walter C. Richards, Grand Organist Roger Johnson, and Charter Member Wendell Hards of No. 263. Arrangements for the evening were in charge of Walter Brooks, Harry Fairall, William A. Reuter, Ray Cook and John Hackett.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED.

February 18, Stephen M. White Parlor celebrated the thirteenth anniversary of its institution and oldtimers night. Preceding the meeting an elaborate turkey dinner, prepared and served by a group of Native Daughters, was much enjoyed by the biggest attendance in years.

Senior Past President William A. Reuter presided, and the other stations were filled by Past Presidents Ed. Baldwin, Larry Powers, John Paralieu, Francis Fetzer, Patrick Doran, Ben Lassere and George Gligo. Fred Buckley related the story of the explosion aboard and the sinking of the steamer Chuky February 15, 1928, the Parlor's third anniversary. John Paralieu, first vice for the evening, proved he is really a shylock.

PAST PRESIDENT HOSTESS.

San Pedro—Mrs. John M. Hackett, just retired as president of Rudecinda Parlor No. 230 N.D.G.W. was hostess to her 1937 assisting officers February 3. A turkey dinner was served the following guests: Virginia Bruckner, Marcella Sandoval, Lucy Ascolesi, Letitia Sarciaux, Margaret Kreider, Mercy Powers, Katherine Ross, Bernice Drant, Carrie Rogers, Dessie Buyo, Rowena Berenstein, Anna Menveg, Katherine Dodson, Anna Spickler and Carrie Kuhlmann.

The Parlor's first meeting under the presidency of Virginia Bruckner was held February 10. After the meeting a valentine party was held, with the traditional hearts as favors. "Secret sisters" were the recipients of many cards and gifts. February 16 the Florencita thimble club luncheon was held at the Wilmington home of Lucy Ascolesi.—R.B.

JOINT INSTALLATION.

San Pedro—At largely attended ceremonies the officers of Rudecinda Parlor No. 230 N.D.G.W. and Stephen M. White Parlor No. 263 N.S.G.W. were jointly installed January 28 by Supervising Deputy Ione Gillette and District Deputy Ray LeMoine, Virginia Bruckner and Ralph Bagdasar becoming the respective presidents. Colorful spring flowers attractively decorated the hall. Catherine Hackett, retiring president of Rudecinda, was the recipient of a gift of pottery, presented by her 1937 staff of officers.

Brief talks were made by Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, Grand Marshal Walter C. Richards, and Deputies Flora Holy and Gertrude Riddle. Music for the occasion was furnished by Grand Organist Roger Johnson. Dancing and refreshments followed the ceremonies. Co-chairmen of the affair were Anna Menveg and William Hackett.

SAN BERNARDINO

CITY AND COUNTY — THE GATE WAY TO GOLDEN CALIFORNIA

SAN BERNARDINO UNDER THE AUSpices of Arrowhead Parlor No. 110, officials of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West February 5 dedicated San Bernardino's new $150,000 City Hall. There was a very large attendance, including official representatives of most of the southland counties and incorporated cities.

Police Judge Donald E. VanLuven was chairman of the day, and the program included: Invocation, Rev. L. V. Lucas; address of welcome, Mayor C. T. Johnson; address, "My San Bernardino," United States District Attorney Ben Harrison; dedicatory address, Grand President Eldred L. Meyer. Several selections were rendered by the San Bernardino Federal Concert Band, directed by Mortimer Herron.

Following the program the impressive dedicatory ceremonies were conducted by Grand President Meyer, who was assisted by Past Grand John T. Newell, Grand First Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, Grand Marshal Walter C. Richards, Grand Organist Roger Johnson and Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth. Supervising Deputy Walter Odemar headed a large number of district deputy grand presidents of District No. 1, which includes the southland Parlors.

"The Oriental question," said Grand President Meyer in the course of his dedicatory address, "is not just a local California or Pacific Coast problem, but one that affects the welfare of our entire Nation. It is, indeed, gratifying to find that after years of fighting this Oriental menace by the Native Sons, other patriotic bodies have at last awakened to realize the danger and are now actively engaged in opposing these Orientals. No other nation in the world but ours would tolerate an alien power violating the laws of the country. Japan has the impertinence to do this, her latest affront to the Pacific Coast being the activities of her much-discussed fishing fleet off the coast of California and her floating canneries operating in our Alaskan waters, in detriment to American fishermen.

"All patriotic citizens should urge their congressmen and senators to co-operate in having the Copeland bill, now pending in the Federal Congress, become a law. This bill aims to correct these evils and to protect American citizens. The quickest way to bring Japan to her knees is for us, as good American citizens, to refuse to buy any product made in Japan. That is, apparently, the one and only thing Japan fears."

"San Bernardino's new City Hall is unique in the history of municipalities," remarked United States District Attorney Harrison, "in that it was erected without mortgaging the future of the community. It typifies the character of San Bernardino's residents. It entails no debt, it was paid for as it was built, and it thereby exemplifies the substantial people of San Bernardino and San Bernardino Valley. They have built well, but not lavishly."

After the dedication Arrowhead entertained the Native Sons at its Crestline Clubhouse in the San Bernardino Mountains at a splendid dinner, followed by a brief meeting and a program. President Roy E. Glover presided, and Grand President Meyer presented to the Parlor a handsome gavel with a silver band inscribed as follows: "Presented by Grand President Eldred L. Meyer to Arrowhead Parlor No. 110 N.S.G.W. February 5, 1938. Winner Grand Parlor membership contest third consecutive year."

In appropriate words Judge VanLuven accepted the gift for Arrowhead. Other speakers were Grand First Vice-president McShane, Grand Trustee Youngworth, Grand Marshal Richards and Deputy Grand President John Bodkin. Les Shelbach sang a song which he hopes to have the San Jose Grand Parlor approve as the Order's official song.

"CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA CITRUS FRUITS—AN EPIC STORY."

That is the title of an attractive and well illustrated booklet prepared by the Santa Fe Railway lines and dedicated to California and Arizona. In the introduction, President S. T. Bledsoe of the railway says:

"In tribute to the daring pioneers who laid the foundations of the great citrus empire of the Southwest, the Santa Fe takes pleasure in reviewing the epochal events which have marked that industry's phenomenal rise to supremacy among the horticultural enterprises of the world. . . .

"To those who founded and built up the citrus industry in the Southwest, the nation owes an eternal debt of gratitude. It is our hope that this book will give you a fuller understanding of the many problems faced and solved, and a deeper appreciation of the many contributions to the common good by the Southwestern citrus industry."

No let-up in the epidemics of grasshopper plagues which have occurred in the West in recent years is in sight this summer. A survey of the Federal Department of Agriculture shows that even wider grasshopper infestations than occurred last year are likely.

Los Angeles County had its eighty-eighth birthday anniversary February 18, having been created by special Act of the State Legislature February 18, 1850.

Native Daughters Are Getting Ready for June Grand Parlor

James French Dorrance

SANTA BARBARA APPRECIATES THE honor of entertaining conventions, supports a convention bureau under its Chamber of Commerce to bring bigger and better gatherings, and is rushing to completion a National Guard Armory capable of seating 2,600. None of the forty conventions booked for 1938, however, is arousing more general interest in the community of 40,000 souls than is the Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, which meets in Santa Barbara, for the second time in the Order's history, next June 19 to 23.

Native Sons and Native Daughters inspecting in the Blaksley Botanic Gardens the island ironwood which, acting jointly, Santa Barbara and Reina del Mar Parlors were instrumental in having named Santa Barbara County's official tree. —Faulding Photo.

The fact that the forthcoming Grand Parlor will be the second ever held in the southern part of the state is lending entertainment support to Reina del Mar from the other Parlors of the southland. Parlor presidents, or their representatives, from San Diego, San Bernardino, Orange and Los Angeles Counties met here recently to discuss Grand Parlor preparation and program. Grand Trustee Mary B. Noerenberg, Grand Marshal Hazel B. Hansen, Past Grand Presidents Grace S. Stoermer and Cora B. Sifford, Miss Dorothy Schlingman, assistant secretary for the state placement of homeless children committee, and Mrs. Marion Parks Partridge, Reina del Mar historian, spoke at the conference. Leslie W. Hayes, manager Santa Barbara Convention and Tourist Bureau, conducted the guests through the new armory building and discussed with them hotel accommodations for the 600 or more delegates and their escorts. The conference served to crystalize the participation of the southern California Parlors in reaching the Order's objectives and in making the June Grand Parlor a memorable one.

As a beneficiary in the Santa Barbara Community Chest, through the milk fund which it sponsors, Reina del Mar had an active team in the successful fund-raising campaign for the chest which has just closed. Mrs. Eugene Ireland, chairman of the Parlor's department of civics, and her team put their division over for 116 per cent. Mrs. John D. Ross, also active in Parlor affairs, was a major in the drive. A silver cup was presented to her division for its perfected service in the drive for funds.

The local Daughters long ago learned that consistency and continuity of program make for success in the community field. They instituted the milk fund in a period of stress, after an act of God had considerably shaken the community. They have continued to carry the responsibility, which has grown to such an extent that last year the fund served 140 families of 331 children, a daily average of 107 quarts of milk, in addition to cottage cheese and butter for special diets. The total number of quarts paid for was 39,137.

Native Sons Organized For Busiest Year

Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 Native Sons of the Golden West, under the leadership of President Augustine J. Janssens and with the continuing aid in an advisory capacity of Junior Past President Leland Holiday, finds itself more fully and enthusiastically organized than ever before for what well may prove the busiest year of its endeavor for its favored region and for the honor and glory of California, the Golden State of the Union. With a fully-paid membership of 265 California-born men of every walk of life, many of them California-born sons of Native Sons, the Parlor's major objective is truly a community one—the creation of what shall be known as "Old Mission Park."

For some years the city has owned acreage in front of the "Queen of Missions," historic structure that stands, without doubt, not only Santa Barbara's best-known religious structure but its outstanding tourist attraction as well. Known to visitors from every state and every country in the world for its sheer architectural beauty, as well as one of California's foremost historical landmarks, a national semi-monthly broadcast has lately been built up by KTMS, the broadcasting station of the Santa Barbara News-Press, the program of bells and choir and historical narrative going to listeners-in everywhere over what is known as the "blue network."

Now come the Sons with expertly drawn plans to make a beauty spot of the empty tract that now gives the stately mission an inartistic foreground. This will be developed into an early California hacienda in miniature. There will be built up a central section of an old Spanish farm, its main structure an adobe and tile farmhouse, with a miniature Indian village attendant. Here will be gathered priceless relics of early days, and even the shrubbery with which "Old Mission Park" is to be planted will be native Californian.

Another objective of the busy year will be the formation of a riding group, superbly mounted on some of the fine saddle horses with which Santa Barbara County abounds. "Vaqueros Nativos" was the first name suggested for this group, but this probably will be changed to "Los Caballeros Paisanos" (native gentlemen). Authentic riding costumes of the glorious '40s will be provided the group. Twenty-five members already have signed for participation. It is expected that the full troop, mounted and costumed, will be ready to ride attendance on the Grand Parlor N.D.G.W. which comes to Santa Barbara for the best part of a week, late in June. The Parlor has volunteered to take entire charge of the barbecue which will be served Grand Parlor visitors, true in every detail to the barbecues of the "Days of the Dons."

When Old Spanish Days Fiesta in Santa Barbara again comes around to double for a week the population of the Channel City, Native Sons will again be seen in hospitable role. They will be responsible for the entertainment of the Los Angeles sheriff's posse, and the annual banquet, probably at one of the suburban country clubs, again will be a memorable event. Another important item on President Janssens' list of "must dos" is the revival of the Ventura Parlor of Native Sons, which has been inactive for many years. Steps already have been taken to fan it back to life.

Santa Barbara Parlor Native Sons is banded closely by varied ties to Reina del Mar Parlor Native Daughters. The closeness of this alliance was shown recently when the two held their installation of officers at a joint ceremony in Veterans Memorial building on the harbor front, with many civic leaders looking on. Work for homeless children, a float in the Fiesta parade, the reception for Spanish pioneers which is the pre-Fiesta event, and charter-members night are some of the program highlights for the forthcoming months.

TREES

(JOYCE KILMER.)

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.
A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;
A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;
A tree that may in Summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;
Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

Passing of the California Pioneer

(Confined to Brief Notices of the Demise of those Men and Women who came to California prior to 1870.)

WILLIAM W. McCURRY, NATIVE OF Missouri, 86; as an infant-in-arms, crossed the plains to California in 1852 and resided in Amador, Merced and San Joaquin Counties; died at Stockton, survived by a wife and four children.

PRUNING SHEARS COMPETED WITH MINERS' PICK IN EARLY DAYS.

Pruning shears ran close competition to the miners' pick even when the California gold fever was registering its highest temperature, according to H. M. Butterfield, specialist in agricultural extension at the University of California.

The California pear industry was forging ahead in the very heart of the "bonanza belt" by 1850. Two years before, A. P. Smith had arrived in the state with a pick and a wash-pan, but he saw more possibilities above than he did below the soil. So, he purchased a plot of land from General John A. Sutter and set out the first pear orchard in the Sacramento Valley. Twelve years later the industry was flourishing in many other parts of the state.

The pear was not a native of California. It came in with the patient, plodding Franciscans when they left Mexico to establish the chain of missions in California in 1769. Practically every mission of the twenty-one in the chain had a stand of this luscious fruit, and some of the trees still remain.

As early as 1838 the pear appeared at Sonoma, where it was planted by General M. G. Vallejo. History records that a number of the old-time explorers and adventurers, among them Vallejo, Bryant and Fremont, were able to refresh themselves by eating the California pear. In fact, Vancouver found the fruit at the Mission Santa Clara as early as 1792.

SAN FRANCISCO

"THE HALL OF THE MINERAL EMpire," a million-dollar building under construction at the site of the Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay, was dedicated February 13 by officials of the Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West. Despite the inclement weather, some 600 people were in attendance.

The dedicatory ceremonies were conducted by Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, Grand Second Vice-president Jesse H. Miller, Grand Third Vice-president Henry S. Lyon, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Trustee Charles A. Redding, and Past Grand Presidents Lewis F. Byington and Charles L. Dodge. Speakers included Mayor Angelo J. Rossi, former Governor Campbell of Arizona, Past Grand Byington and Grand President Meyer.

"Our Order is patriotic, historical and fraternal," said Grand President Meyer in the course of his remarks. "Many people claim that fraternal orders have outgrown their usefulness, and have no place in the modern scope of things. On the contrary, I believe that patriotic orders such as ours . . . have a very definite place in maintaining our present form of government . . . This date, February 13, . . . is the first Sunday of the week set aside for all patriotic citizens to observe National Defense Week.

"In line with this proclamation, it has been made clear that aliens ineligible to become citizens of this country are enjoying privileges denied our own people—being permitted to operate a fleet of fishing boats off the coast of California and in our Alaskan waters apparently without any regulation. These aliens go even further, violating all fishing statutes and maintaining floating canneries, all of which is detrimental to American fishermen.

"It is my understanding that the smaller boats of these aliens are so constructed that, on short notice, they may be converted into mine layers and act as auxiliary boats to an enemy's navy in time of war. United States Senator Copeland, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, has introduced a bill in Congress—a bill which all patriotic citizens should support— . . . which will correct this evil, and will automatically strengthen our national defense and protect American citizens. Nothing but the apparent reduction of her national income seems to terrify Japan.

"In dedicating this modern Hall of Mining, the Order of Native Sons is carrying out its main objectives, promoting good citizenship, and keeping alive forever the memory of those mighty men and women of '49—a period filled with heroism, of unbelievable adventure, of grim, indomitable courage, of unfaltering self-reliance and of unmatched physical endurance. These were the attributes of those pioneer men and women of less than a century ago. In conducting these rites our Order is striving to co-operate with . . . those loyal citizens who exemplify the virtues of loyalty and patriotism, which should be the foundation stone of every public building within our country. Our Order feels proud and privileged to be invited here today to dedicate this magnificent Hall of Mining to the principles of TRUTH, LIBERTY, TOLERATION, and happy to co-operate with the officials of the Golden Gate International Exposition. . . ."

THE LETTER BOX

Comments on subjects of general interest and importance received from readers of The Grizzly Bear.

STATE HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION NEEDS MORE MEMBERS TO CARRY ON.

"Editor Grizzly Bear—All Natives will be interested to know that one of the objectives of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West has received great impetus through the co-operation of Dr. Walter F. Dexter, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. We have always maintained that California history should have a permanent place in our schools and have promoted this in every way possible.

"Early in 1937 the California State Historical Association took the matter up with the new State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and we are happy to report gratifying results. In June 1937 the State Board of Education, seeing the value of the California History Nugget, authorized its publication and free distribution to the elementary schools of the state—the cost to be paid from the state textbook fund. The first issue of the Nugget under the new scheme has already been distributed, and others will follow in rapid succession. Six issues will be out before the end of the current school year.

"The publication of the Nugget is made possible through the work of the California State Historical Association, which plans and assembles copy and illustrations for the magazine. To balance the publication program of the Association, the California Historical Review is also being prepared, to be released during the early summer. Next year this will become a quarterly review, giving attention to articles of more mature and scholarly nature than are suitable for the Nugget.

"While the State Department of Education is aiding in the printing of the Nugget, the Historical Association must take the responsibility of its preparation, and must finance the Review and other monographs from its own funds. The Association must have more members, and it is hoped that all Parlors and individual members will respond at once to insure the success of this new and worthwhile program.

"Membership in the Association is $3 per year. In return for this contribution, members will receive the California Historical Review of 150 or more pages, and the six numbers of the Nugget each year. Since the Association's funds are now depleted, it is hoped that a large membership list may be had for the publications of 1937 and 1938, as well as for the coming year.

"May I recommend to the Native Sons and Native Daughters this worthy work, and urge them to support it by joining the Association. Sincerely yours, A. V. MAYRHOFER, President California State Historical Association. San Diego, February 19, 1938."

N.D. GRAND PRESIDENT WILL VISIT SAN BERNARDINO-ORANGE PARLORS.

San Bernardino—Grand President Ethel I. Begley of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West will officially visit the Subordinate Parlor in Orange and San Bernardino Counties—Santa Ana No. 235, Lugonia No. 241 of San Bernardino, Grace No. 242 of Placentia and Ontario No. 251—at a joint meeting to be held here in American Legion Clubhouse, 388 Fourth street, March 9.

Supervising Deputy Eva Bemis of District Thirty-one is in charge of the joint meeting, which will be preceded by a dinner. A practice, which all officers of the Parlors are expected to attend, will be held at 1:30 p.m. of March 6 at San Bernardino.

HONOR FOR AD IN GRIZZLY BEAR.

The bank's advertisements are prepared under the direction of Rod Maclean, manager of the advertising and publicity department of California Bank.

"I know the philosophic views that truth is only approximate; that people differ on what constitutes truth. But despite all hair splitting there are enough standards of truth and morals at any one period to lead men and women upward."—Herbert Hoover.

"Clothe thee in alms, clothe thee in benevolence, clothe thee in humility. These are all more precious than gold; these make the beautiful even yet more lovely."—St. Chrysostom.

IT RUNS IN THE KELLY FAMILY OF SACRAMENTO

Sacramento Having a Native Son president in the house is the habit with the Kelly family of 2915 "C" street. When William L. Kelly was recently installed as president of Sacramento Parlor No. 3 the family celebrated the third time one of the sons had achieved the leadership of the organization. Parker B. Kelly and James J. Kelly had previously filled the presidency. Parker B. served first, followed, in order, by James J. and William L. The brothers often entertain at the Parlor meetings with Irish jigs. William is also a local baseball pitcher of considerable ability.

Federal Government bills in the future may provide that funds they appropriate shall not be spent for the hire of aliens. The provision is in two bills passed by the House.

"Death Valley National Monument" is the title of a well illustrated booklet, dealing with Death Valley, famed as the scene of a tragic episode in the gold rush days of 1849, issued by the Federal Interior Department National Park Service. This monument embraces nearly 2,000,000 acres of primitive, unspoiled desert country, and is a region of superlatives.

The Imperial County Fair will be held March 5-14 at Imperial City.

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

MRS. ETHEL I. BEGLEY OF SAN Francisco, Grand President of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, will officially visit the Subordinate Parlors of Los Angeles County—Los Angeles No. 124, Long Beach No. 154, Rudecinda No. 230 of San Pedro, Verdugo No. 240 of Glendale, Santa Monica Bay No. 245, Californiana No. 247 of Los Angeles and Compton No. 258—in joint session at the Elks Club March 11. A dinner will precede the meeting.

To make arrangements for the gathering, a meeting called by Supervising Deputy Grand President Ione Gillette was held at the Women's Athletic Club. In attendance were the presidents of all the Parlors, Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer, Grand Trustee Mary Noerenberg, Grand Marshal Hazel Hansen and the deputies of District Thirty.—A.S.

FLAGS PRESENTED HIGH SCHOOL.

Substituting for Grand First Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, who was called back to his San Francisco home by a death in his family, Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth officially visited Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W. February 10. Initiation was held and refreshments were served. Speakers of the evening included Grand Trustee Youngworth, Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, Past Grand John T. Newell and Grand Marshal Walter C. Richards.

For the benefit of the homeless children, the Parlor sponsored a dance February 12. The arrangements committee included Arthur Rotter (chairman), Peter DeCatte, Ray Botello, Walter Smith, Harry Davis, Michael Botello, Robert Jack and Ray Corella.

Los Angeles observed Washington's Birthday, February 22, by presenting United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags to the George Washington High School. For the Parlor, Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz made the presentation address, which was responded to by Principal Thomas E. Hughes. Andrew M. Stodel, in full charge of the program, was assisted by Past Grand John T. Newell, W. O. Gilkey, Walter Smith and Michael Botello. The Parlor joined with Compton Parlor No. 273 in presenting the Holy Bible to the recently instituted Taft Parlor No. 276 February 26.

"OUR INSULAR POSSESSIONS" DISCUSSED BY WELL-KNOWN EDUCATOR.

Honoring America's great patriots, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, the Americanism committee of Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. had charge of the luncheon and afternoon program February 8. Mrs. Inez Sitton presided and honor guests introduced were the February "birthdayites," Supervising Deputy Ione Gillette, Grand Trustee Mary B. Noerenberg and Deputy Betty Sanders. Mrs. Arthur J. Mansbach of the Girl Scouts of America explained how tiny tots, called "Brownies," start on scout work, and showed a doll to describe the costume. Miss J. dePew followed with a description of the valuable training work of the older girls.

The afternoon talk was given most interestingly by Dr. Adam C. Derkum, whose topic was "Our Insular Possessions," touching Cuba, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Samoan Islands, Guam and the Philippines, where he passed twenty-four years in school work. He stressed the fact that although Filipinos are nationals, they are not citizens, of the United States, their entire training and schooling, notwithstanding, being identical with that in this country, thus changing the entire system of government. Mrs. Sitton read John Steven McGroarty's tribute to Washington and Lincoln, including the story of the small Negro child who went to sleep in the arms of the statue of Lincoln, stopping all traffic for the moment.

The Gertrude sewing circle of Californiana enjoyed a delightful potluck luncheon at the hospitable home of Mrs. Barns G. Ward February 7. The next gathering of the circle will be at the home of First Vice-president Marion Johnson. Mrs. Ada Hendricks and committee were hostesses February 22 at a colonial tea and musical program, with patriotic decorations. The program was directed by Miss Bertha Kearney, seven artists participating.—O.L.

"PANAY" BOMBING VIEWED.

At the February 11 meeting of Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. Glen Packer delivered a very interesting talk on "Reminiscences of Abraham Lincoln," and Charter President Reginaldo F. Del Valle related some of the early history of the Parlor. Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer and other Native Daughters of the local homeless children committee were visitors.

February 25 the Parlor was entertained with movies of the recent bombing of the U.S.S. "Panay" in China waters. "The pictures," commented a viewer, "advance another good reason why California should get rid of its Japs." Recording Secretary John V. Scott has been confined to his home by illness since January 22, and William C. Taylor, a former "live-wire" secretary, has been pinch-hitting for him.

Ramona's March calendar includes: 11th, initiation. 18th, oldtimers night, with something special in the way of entertainment. 25th, talking pictures; open meeting for the whole family.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS ASSISTED AT LONG BEACH'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

Long Beach—Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. celebrated the thirty-first anniversary of its institution February 17 with a program and refreshments. Visitors were Supervising Deputy Ione Gillett of District Thirty and Deputy Rebecca Hassen. Charter members present were Kate MacFadyen, "mother" of the Parlor, who spoke of its early days and the progress made in the past thirty-one years, E. Mabel Emery and Eleanora Martin. Refreshments, favors and decorations were in the George Washington motif. The following members who had birthdays in January and February were also honored: Daisy Hansen, Violet Henshilwood, Alice Waldow, Eugenia Smith, Mollie Calker and Mildred Jordan. In charge of the refreshments were Josephine Reichman, Mary Stultz and Nell Cooke.

Native Daughters assisted the local Chamber of Commerce in the fifty-year celebration of Long Beach's founding, February 10. A banquet honoring residents of the city for fifty years was held, with Leo Carrillo as guest speaker. The Parlor, officially represented by President Johanna Reed and Kate McFadyen, under the chairmanship of Ruth Johnson presented old-fashioned nosegays and buttonhole carnations to the oldtimers.

Plans have been made to meet with other Los Angeles County Parlors in a district meeting at the Los Angeles Elks Club March 11 to greet Grand President Ethel I. Begley on her official visit. Long Beach will present a class of seven candidates, to be initiated with those from other Parlors. Members of No. 154 are taking an active interest in the following civic organizations with which it is officially connected: the Golden Bear Troop of Girl Scouts, sponsored by the Parlor, the Co-ordinating Council and the Long Beach Social Welfare League.—N.D.C.

PRESIDENT INITIATES GRANDFATHER.

Santa Monica—Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. had an official visit from Grand First Vice-president Joseph J. McShane February 14. Eight candidates were initiated, among them being the grandfather of President Robert W. Garey, William E. Garey, born at San Bernardino in 1856, who was very much impressed with the ceremonies.

Speakers of the occasion were Grand First

"Washington's ideals have proved their worth. . . . Some of us have lost sight of this. Some have become infected with foreign isms and would like to experiment with our democracy. The only valuable ism for us is Americanism, whose first exponent was and is Washington."

SAN BERNARDINO NATIONAL ORANGE SHOW

WHEN THE TWENTY-EIGHTH Annual version of the National Orange Show opens its portals to the world March 17 a quarter-million visitors are going to see an entirely new and different spectacle, and San Bernardino is going to bask in the glory of a great new achievement. Every semblance of the past, with the exception of the official name of the event, has been torn up and tossed into the discard. Youth has taken the reigns and youth must be served with all the enthusiasm, buoyant effort and dare-to-do that has made the old world move on for these many centuries.

The venerable old building rears its head in the spirit of the occasion with its face lifted, its hair marcelled and its complexion beautified with the skill of moviedom's most dextrous make-up artist. The austere and forbidding entrance has been supplanted by a new forecourt that harbors a playful fountain amid a setting of gorgeous bright-faced pansies. The complete transformation is instantly apparent, and as one enters the vast auditorium his gaze is enveloped in a spectacle that rivals the fondest tales of a fairyland.

The massive interior has been entirely remodeled to present an uninterrupted vista. And, the most elaborate and profuse decorations ever seen in such a show greet the eye. Movieland's monopoly of such words as magnificent, stupendous, colossal and gigantic is shattered by the lavishness of the Orange Show. Imagine 70,000 yards of seductive velours, soft clinging sateens, shimmering metal cloth and aristocratic silk blended into a scheme that completely exemplifies the birth of a new show and a new theme —"California's Golden Fruit and Flowers."

More communities, more civic organizations and more citrus growers and packers are contributing to the success of the exhibition this year than in any previous year. And more ingenuity is being called upon to produce displays that will be as breath-taking as they are beautiful. Pasadena's Tournament of Roses is completing a spectacular display typical of that annual festival. Los Angeles, Pomona, Cucamonga, Riverside, Redlands, Colton and all the other communities are represented in the grand manner.

A complete packing plant will be in daily operation, so that visitors may see exactly how the fruit is graded and packed, and select boxes for shipment to desired destinations direct from the show.

Thirty thousand feet of display space has been added to provide room for innumerable interesting industrial displays, and the stage has been enlarged to accommodate the prodiguous revue of entertainment that will be presented. There will be a different show each day. This is an entirely innovational feature of the 1938 National Orange Show and, contrary to the customary practice, there will be no added admission charge to see and hear the stars in the mammoth stage entertainment.

The educational exhibits, such as the minerals and the laboratory tests of oranges, will be greatly augmented. The Flower Show is a new feature, and is being directed by the City Beautification Movement of San Bernardino. The most gorgeous flowers grown in the Orange Empire will compete for valuable trophies. The beauty of this exhibit will be the reflecting pools in the midst of the show itself. As a comedy relief for the gorgeousness of the show, a Fun Zone made up of the usual amusements found along the pikes of the country and at all circuses and carnivals has been arranged.

The National Orange Show will open with fitting ceremonies Thursday evening, March 17. A world of credit is due the officials in charge, all of whom serve without compensation, to bring new glories and new fame to the Orange Empire and to San Bernardino. This year's president, Everett H. Swing, is setting a precedent that will be tough for his successors to exceed. But Swing disclaims the credit and passes it on to the board of directors and the committeemen who have devoted almost two months of their time, to the exclusion of their businesses, to create this, the twenty-eighth successive National Orange Show.

VACATION MEMORIES

(LAVINIA ROBERTS.)

We rode great open spaces under silvery clouded skies, with the god Thor lacing ribbons with forked lightning's eye. We saw the tallest tree-tops, touching moon and starlit dome; sat enchanted 'neath the redwoods as a violin sang a poem. We skimmed the highest mountains; felt the ocean dash its spray, where winding through pine forests ferned Oregon's coastway lay. We spiraled up the highway where wide Columbia rolls, her falls and promontories bathed in heavenly sunset gold. We skimmed the yellow wheat fields, that augured bounteous harvest; where sawmills gave forth perfume as from a cedar closet. Each Empire State displayed its garb in exposition fashion, and we were proud to shake their hands as members of one great nation.

We entered the oldest of national parks, beholding the Yellowstone studio of art,—two and one-half million acres, pulsing to old Faithful's heart. There we rested in a cabin, high up in the pines, where a river's singing waters smoothed the wrinkles from our minds. We rambled on through forests, and 'round a lake-shore blue, although it was named Yellowstone, it excelled the sky in hue. We viewed deep crevassed canyons, splashed with varied tints, magnificent carved amphitheatres, where eaglet wings caught the rainbow's glint.

We journeyed to the Tetons, grand Titans of west; I think that they took me to Heaven, and so, I liked them best. We once more skirted northward, to the chalets of the sun, whose warm rays seek the glaciers, and lake their kisses down. We followed west and homeward, toward the Garden of the Gods; we swang across the Golden Gate, into this land of ours,—CALIFORNIA!

(The above came to The Grizzly Bear from a Santa Barbara friend with the following notation: "I enclose herewith a free verse travelogue, inspired on a motor trip through California and Oregon to Yellowstone, and back, with a grandeur of scenery, I believe, unsurpassed"—Editor.)

GRAND PARLOR

OFFICE OF THE

ELDRED L. MEYER
922 SAN VICENTE BOULEVARD
SANTA MONICA, CALIFORNIA

HONOR THE ORDER'S FOUNDER.....

Officers and Members Subordinate Parlors,
Order of Native Sons of the Golden West.

My Brothers:

During my term as your Grand President, it has been a source of pleasure and gratification to have received your loyal support and co-operation in all my plans that I have outlined to you.

You will recall that one of my main points in my Membership Campaign was to request all of the Subordinate Parlors to have an initiation on their meeting night nearest April 27th, the birth date of the Founder of our Order, General A. M. Winn.

As this memorable date approaches, I now earnestly urge you to hold this initiation. This is an occasion in which all the Native Sons of the Golden West should be proud to take part.

General Winn was truly one of our great Pioneers of the Gold Rush Period—a man of noble character, and one whose daily life exemplified the cardinal virtues of our fraternity—Friendship, Loyalty and Charity.

This initiation offers an opportunity for you to invite the youth of our State to become affiliated with the Order his birth entitles him to join.

Strive to make this initiation outstanding and one that will long impress the candidates initiated on this night.

We should not be unmindful of our obligations to the one who made it possible for us to enjoy our association and membership in our great California Order, the Native Sons of the Golden West.

Sincerely and fraternally,

Eldred L. Meyer.

Grand President, N.S.G.W.

P.S.—May I also remind you, all candidates now initiated will be credited to our incoming Grand President, Joseph J. McShane.—E.L.M.

PROGRAM

The tentative San Jose Grand Parlor program provides for registration Sunday, May 15, commencing at noon, and a reception in the evening. Monday there will be a night session of the Grand Parlor, to permit members of the Order in the Bay region to attend. A large class of candidates will be initiated by the grand officers, and a substantial prize will be awarded the Parlor presenting the largest number of candidates in proportion to its membership as of December 31, 1937. The annual memorial services and the finals in the high school speaking contest will also be held Monday evening.

Tuesday evening has been set aside for the annual banquet. Wednesday will be the play day of the meeting, with no Grand Parlor session. There will be an auto tour of water conservation dams and other interesting places, with a noontime barbecue. In the evening, the grand ball. Thursday, new grand officers will be elected and installed.

CANDIDATES.

Subordinate Parlors are required by the Order's laws to elect their Grand Parlor delegates the first meeting nights in April, and it is very likely that after the elections several hats will be shied into the Grand Parlor office ring. The Grizzly Bear has communicated with all rumored candidates, and from replies received up to the time of going to press the following list has been compiled:

Other grand officers spoke briefly in the banquetroom, where refreshments were served by Sebastopol No. 143 N.S.G.W.

California Program Delights.

Oroville—At the request of Mrs. Sonora Steadman, president of the Oroville Monday Club and a past president of Gold of Ophir No. 190, Past Grand Florence D. Boyle had charge of the club's March 1 program, and it was voted a most enjoyable as well as educational one, featuring, as it did, California songs, music and dancing.

There was a display of flags that have flown over California, and Mrs. Boyle, in the course of a talk, touched on the various periods of California history. Mrs. Ellen Walker rendered California songs, and Carmelita Girdler appeared in Mexican and Spanish dances. With four of the participants attired as men, with top hats and long-tailed coats, Hattie Clark, Lauretta Ross, Margaret Gilbert, Rena Keith, Hattie McCoy, Addie Roderick, Ellen Baker and Mamie Grubbs gave a square dance. John Grubbs, an oldtimer, gave the calls, and Carey Strang furnished the music.

Founder Pays Surprise Visit.

Mojave—Desert Gold No. 250 was delighted to receive a surprise visit March 14 from Founder Lilly O. Reichling-Dyer, who accompanied Grand Vice-president Edna B. Briggs on an official visit. Other guests were Grand Trustees Mary B. Noerenberg and Evalyn G. Towne, and Miss Ann Schiebusch of Los Angeles No. 124. Candlelight initiatory ceremonies were conducted by President Dorothy Root and her corps of officers, and two candidates were initiated.

Founder Dyer spoke interestingly on the organization of the first Parlor, Ursula No. 1 of Jackson, Amador County, Grand Vice-president Briggs recounted the Order's projects, and among other speakers were Grand Trustees Noerenberg and Towne, and Deputy Gladys Cooper. Several presentations were made. At the meeting's close a Spanish dinner was served in the banquetroom by Mms. David Yarbrough and George Donley, and Miss Ruth Spalding. Pottery and hand-painted placecards of miniature Spanish dancers decorated the tables.

Anniversary Observed.

Oakland—Piedmont No. 87 celebrated its forty-second institution anniversary at a banquet February 23. The tables were beautified with boquets of red roses, and the favors were in keeping with Washington's Birthday. Augusta Huxsol, chairman of the occasion, was assisted by Greta Murden, Mary Belrose and others.

March 17 a Saint Patrick's Day social was featured. Ella Mullin, Kate Ford, Mollie Dohrman and Margaret Robinson appeared in the most attractive costumes. Entertainment was provided by Katherine Dombrink, Misses Stearns and Donahue, Mrs. Ruhlff and J. Dohrman, the latter presenting a movie, "Hawaiian Harvest." In the banquetroom, at tables decorated in green and white, a corned beef repast was served under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Belrose.—E.L.

Active in Flood Relief Work.

Placentia—On behalf of Grace No. 242, President Alice Davis presented to the Wilshire Avenue school in Fullerton February 25 a California State (Bear) Flag. Mrs. Helen Anderson gave a talk on California history, including the Bear Flag incident, and Mrs. George Stevenson sang "I Love You, California." Mrs. Mary Russell was in charge of the arrangements.

Members of Grace took a very active part in relief work in Placentia and Fullerton, where hundreds of flood refugees were housed. Lucana McFadden, Red Cross chairman of the district, worked incessantly on rehabilitation, Rena Johnson managed the kitchen where a daily average of 400 meals were prepared, and other members distributed clothing and helped with the care of little children.

For Arbor Day, Nellie M. Cline, state Americanism chairman, had leaflets on "State Emblems" distributed to the pupils of Placentia schools. While attending to her duties as city clerk, Mrs. Cline tripped and broke her leg, and is confined in the Fullerton General Hospital. —M.E.

School Dedicated.

Auburn—A new unit of the Auburn Grammar School was dedicated at open-air services Washington's Birthday, February 22, by Auburn No. 233 under the leadership of Moya Bemis, who gave a brief history of the school. On the Parlor's behalf, United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags were presented the school by President Mary F. Perry, and they were accepted by President H. M. Cooper of the Board of School Trustees. Vocal selections were rendered by the Auburn Union Grammar School glee club. The day was a perfect one, and hundreds attended the ceremonies.

In honor of Recording Secretary Mildred Macy, charter president of Auburn, the Parlor served a 7 o'clock supper February 28. The table was decorated with boquets of the gorgeously colored firebush. The honor-guest was showered with handkerchiefs.—V.E.O.

GRIZZLY GROWLS

NOTE—Expressions of opinion in these "Growls" are, unless indicated otherwise, those of the Managing Editor.

CLARENCE M. HUNT

GRAND PRESIDENT ELDRED L. MEYER of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West under date of March 26 sent the following letter to Dr. James A. B. Scherer, former president of the California Institute of Technology of Pasadena:

"As the Grand President of the Native Sons of the Golden West, I wish to take this opportunity to commend and to congratulate you for returning to Japan the imperial decoration which was conferred upon you.

"In returning this emblem, you are exemplifying true Americanism.

"It is to be hoped that your patriotic gesture will point the way for other educators to realize that while their intentions of fostering international goodwill have been sincere, the actions of Japan toward our Nation have, on the contrary, been those of contempt and deceit."

A bill is before the Federal Congress to deny American citizenship to any person believing in, or affiliated with an organization advocating, a change in the present form of government of the United States. It should have unanimous passage, and be strictly enforced.

The Livermore Herald is authority for the statement that "Taxpayers in California pay an actual 99 different taxes—city, county, state, district, federal—for a total of $2,000,000 a day."

P. J. Clark, San Diego Purse Seiner Fishermen's Union agent, declared the other day that eighty alien-owned fishing boats in California waters are subject to seizure. Why are they not seized? We will hazard the guess that most, if not all, of them are not overly interested in fishing!

United States Senator Pittman of Nevada has expressed the belief that, in view of world conditions, "the cheapest thing this country can do . . . is to spend a few billion dollars to warn the world that we alone, without alliance and without assistance from any other country, will destroy any government that attacks us." He is certainly correct. Adequate preparedness is the only thing that will assure this country's security!

A committee of the Federal House of Representatives was conducting a hearing the other day on a bill dealing with Jap fishing boats in Alaskan waters. Representative Sirovich of New York interjected: "It's time this pussyfooting with the Japanese is done with. I'm in favor of sending our torpedoes, planes and bombers up there and getting rid of all of them." As a matter of fact, it's past time, and we're going to pay well for the pussyfooting! We should have gotten rid of all of them before they became entrenched.

"This democracy," declared Dr. Rufus B. von KleinSmid in the course of a dedication address at Redlands, "will survive only if the life of Lincoln and his ideals are lived over again and again in the citizenry of our country. Lincoln sought for the truth always. We must put not so much dependence on material things, but more on the great truths and spiritual things."

In a forceful argument for adequate national defense, Rear Admiral Clark H. Woodward said, "Diplomatic success depends more today on the calibre of the nation's guns than on the calibre of its diplomats."

Mexico is investigating all aliens, and has decreed and is enforcing a "Mexico for Mexicans" policy. Wise Mexico! This country should emulate it, and declare and rigidly enforce a "America for Americans" policy. To do so would be of inestimable benefit by reducing the number of unemployed citizens and by cutting out the enormous cost of relief to aliens.

Federal Representative Rankin of Mississippi has proposed indefinitely postponing statehood for Hawaii, saying: "To make Hawaii a state would simply mean bringing to Washington two Japanese senators and two or three representatives—or congressmen dominated by Japanese influences in the islands."

To grant statehood to Hawaii would, as a matter of fact, simply mean deliberately placing in the Federal Congress representatives of Japan dominated by Jap influences in Japan.

What this country sorely needs is a sit-down strike by taxpayers until such time as the outlandish cost of government is reduced to a sane figure! That will eliminate wastefulness and inefficiency in government, the main causes of the enormous tax-load.

United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, speaking in the Federal Senate, said: "At this time, when all the peoples of the world are on edge and jittery, I want no one man to have the right in secrecy to deal with the destiny of my country. I should like to know . . . what the foreign policy of the United States is. I do not know it. Other Senators do not know it. No one knows it. The Senate ought to assert itself and learn the foreign policy of the United States before it embarks on a journey which parallels one we took in 1917."

Secretary of State Cordell Hull, in a radio address last month, had this to say regarding national defense: "In a world in which the rule of force has not as yet been firmly and surely supplanted by the rule of law, it is the manifest duty of a great nation to maintain armed forces adequate for its national defense. . . .

"It is the duty of the Federal Government to ensure the safety of our country and to determine what 'means of security' are, at any given moment, needed to provide against 'the means and the danger of attack.'

"The responsible heads of our naval establishment offer convincing reasons in support of the program, now before the Congress, to render adequate the means of our national defense. No policy would prove more disastrous than for an important nation to fail to arm adequately when international lawlessness is on the rampage."

A SUNNY DAY

(CHARLES H. GREENFIELD.)

Rich splendor
Robes the hills today
As storm clouds
Slowly melt away;
Like sentinels
Standing proud, serene,
They guard the vale
That lies between;
And bending down
Upon their crest,
The glistening blue
Meets East and West,
And crowns their summits
Tall and bold,
With diadems . . .
Of pure gold.

WILMINGTON --- SAN PEDRO

THE FORWARD LOOKING HARBOR DISTRICT OF THE GREAT SOUTHWEST

NATIVE DAUGHTERS PARTICIPATE IN SAN PEDRO JUBILEE.

San Pedro—The Florencita thimble club of Rudecinda Parlor No. 230 N.D.G.W. met at the home of Anita Brooks for luncheon March 16. President Lucy Ascolesi presided. Letitia Sarclaux, former recording secretary of the Parlor, has sufficiently recovered from a serious illness to be up and around again.

Members of Rudecinda, dressed in pioneer costumes, participated in the jubilee parade held March 1 in commemoration of San Pedro's fiftieth anniversary as an incorporated city. The parade, which depicted San Pedro's growth, was followed by a barbecue at which 800 people were served.

The town of Traver, San Joaquin County, was being "boomed," and real estate men were selling town lots.

The steamer San Jose left April 6 for New York, and 37,604 gallons of California wine made up part of the cargo.

Adolph Rudolph, owner of a Santa Ana, Orange County, bakery, was publicly horsewhipped April 8 by a German domestic girl in the employ of L. Geldena.

Fire at Riverside April 1 destroyed a pavilion, the express office and other buildings.

The postoffice at Goodyear Bar, El Dorado County, was ordered discontinued this month.

The Bodie House, a large frame hotel at Bodie, Mono County, was destroyed by fire April 14, and Edward McCarthy was cremated.

A $17,000 gold brick was brought into Oroville, Butte County, from the Cherokee mine April 15.

Running in front of a mowing machine, the 3-year-old son of John H. Miller had both legs amputated April 19. Miller was operating the machine.

At the horse races in San Francisco April 21 Theodore Winters' horse San Jose jumped over the fence in the last race and killed Sydney Marsh.

Joseph Austin and George Hoffman of Plumas County, hunting in the Butte Creek tules, killed five swan April 23 that were of immense size.

Senator B. F. Langford of San Joaquin County was fined $250 at Jackson, Amador County, April 25 for maintaining a dam across the Mokelumne River, near Lancha Plana, thereby violating the fish laws.

HOMELESS CHILDREN

END OF ANOTHER YEAR

HAS YOUR PARLOR SENT ITS CONtribution to the Native Sons and Native Daughters Central Committee on Homeless Children? This is the final reminder for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1938. The certified accountant will audit the books the 12th of April. After that date contributions will be too late for the Committee's annual report, and the reports to the Native Sons and Native Daughters Grand Parlors.

To March 20, 1938, the date this notice reached The Grizzly Bear Magazine, the receipts from the Parlors and members of the Orders totaled $7,310.31—$1,088.68, Native Sons of the Golden West; $2,246.94, Native Daughters of the Golden West; $2,119.77, joint Native Sons and Native Daughters; San Francisco joint, $115.01, the annual benefit proceeds not having reached the office, which is true also of the Alameda joint, with $462.52 contributed by Parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters, and $500 given by Los Angeles joint committee. $16,000 has been set as the quota for the Native Sons and Native Daughters, with contributions from friends, refund on board, dividends, etc., making up the remainder of the budget.

Up to date, 184 children have been placed, 34 more than during last year, making a total of 5,122 different children in homes for adoption.

The Central Committee appreciates the letters which have come from the Parlors, with well wishes to the Committee, telling of the members' disappointment that inclement weather has, in many instances, affected the receipts of their benefits for the children. Other Parlors express pride in having been able to increase their contributions. Every letter means more than dollars and cents, greatly as the latter are needed, and proves a fine spirit of unity between the two Orders in the cause which they have chosen to sponsor. All of which bodes well for the work of the homeless children, and is most welcome today, when the lack of unity in spirit and in service is evident everywhere.

AUTUMN LEAVES

(MISS ESTHER CRONE.)

The autumn leaves come flut'ring down,
Dyed in gold and ruby red;
Then turn to dull and somber brown
Before they're nestled into bed.
They fall so gently, lay so soft,
Nor struggle they to hold to life;
Tree branches wave to them aloft
Farewell to summer's happy rife.
So may we, in our autumn day
Of years, when tuned to final call,
Let mother earth tuck us away
As gently as the leaves that fall.

SANTA BARBARA

CALIFORNIA'S QUEEN CITY

"If You Like California You'll Love Santa Barbara"

James French Dorrance

OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF REINA del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W. and Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W. are being drawn closer together as the time for the June 19-23 Grand Parlor of the Daughters draws nearer. It has been so many years since the Channel City has had the honor of entertaining a Grand Parlor of either of the state Orders that the entire community is showing a supporting interest. Santa Barbara's reputation for hospitality, extended according to old Spanish traditions, will not be found wanting.

Dr. Anna E. McCaughey, Grand Parlor arrangements chairman, satisfied that the physical aspects of convention entertainment are attended to, is bending her efforts to stress the serious side of the forthcoming Grand Parlor. She hopes it will be the most constructive session in the history of the Order. Grand President Ethel I. Begley has indicated that it should be a call to California women to sustain their birthright by meeting the issues of these difficult times. President Dorothy Yule of Reina del Mar in her message to the membership of the Parlor has stressed friendship and civics as Native Daughter precepts to be especially accented during the year. To quote from her message of March 15:

Preparing for the next Native Daughter Grand Parlor, which comes to Santa Barbara June 19-23, Reina del Mar, the hostess Parlor, has appointed majors and captains for a number of teams to conduct a "Treasury Hunt." Here they are in conference: standing, Mms. Mable Erwin, Fred Acres, Martin J. Coan and George McCrea; seated, left to right, Mms. R. Schuld, William Wegener, Paul Miller, Joseph Moses, Justine Meloling and Henry Griffith, Dr. Anna E. McCaughey, President Dorothy Yule, Mrs. Frank J. Holtbauer, Mrs. John D. Ross, Miss Vivian Cavett, Mrs. Patrick Henry and Mrs. Wesley McCormick.—Bartels photo.

"Our Grand President chose 'Friendship' as one of the words she wished to impress upon our minds during her year of office, not because it is a sentimental word, but because by keeping the word foremost in our minds in connection with our work we might be more impressed with the significance of its meaning and the principle it involves.

"Friendship is defined by the dictionary as 'mutual regard cherished by kindred minds.' Our Order is founded on friendship—a mutual regard with which we, as kindred minds, cherish our native land, its history and its pioneers. It is friendship that urges us to work and play together as we are working and playing at present in behalf of our principles and our purposes.

"Our present purpose in the Treasury Hunt is inspired by the friendship which we bear to our Order. In endeavoring to raise the means of entertaining Grand Parlor in Santa Barbara this year we are finding the value of friendship, not only among ourselves as members of working teams, but the friendship that the merchants, the general public, the entire community bear toward us. It is the fine co operation of purpose, the willingness, and the sacrifice displayed among our members in working toward certain goals that attract the friendliness of those who are not members of our Order and urge those who are qualified to join.

"And so our Treasury Hunt is much more far-reaching in its ultimate attainment than merely raising money. It is also developing good leadership. Some of you may feel indifferent as to whether or not you ever become leaders in the organization; others do not feel confident of their ability to lead. Let me say that there is a grand satisfaction to be gained in assuming responsibilities, and a great deal of pleasure in unselfish labor."

Despite inclement weather Reina del Mar made much over the occasion of the official visit March 7. A goodly company assembled and gave royal welcome to Grand Vice-president Edna B. Briggs, who came through the storm from Sacramento to "pinch hit" for Grand President Ethel I. Begley, regretfully detained in San Francisco by family illness. Mrs. Briggs delivered a stirring message.

This Arbor Day party was in charge of the Past Presidents Association, thirty-one members strong, headed by Mrs. John D. Ross. Mrs. Frank Holtzbauer, tree chairman of the Parlor, presented President Louis Schoen of St. Anthony's College a replica of the tree which the Order will plant on the campus of the institution, near the Queen of Missions, when weather and soil conditions are right.

Mrs. Fred Acres presented the honored guests, including Miss Pearl Chase, member of the honor roll and originator of California Conservation Week, and M. Van Renssalaer, director of Blaksley Botanic Garden. Mrs. Marion Parks Partridge, historian of the Parlor, spoke on "Birthright—a Challenge," addressing herself particularly to the Ethel Begley class of twelve candidates up for initiation that evening. Fifteen applications for membership were presented by Mrs. Wesley McCormick, past president in charge of extension of the Order.

Saint Patrick was fittingly honored by Reina del Mar on an evening of his birth week when supper was served for 100. President Dorothy Yule paid glowing tribute to the Irish patron and, turning to blank verse, recited an original poem, "The Saga of the Captains." This poem told the story of progress made by the Parlor's thirteen teams in their "Treasure Hunt" to provide entertainment funds for the Fifty-second Grand Parlor of the Order which will bring 600 Native Daughters to Santa Barbara next June.

Dr. Susanne Parsons spoke on the educational phases of the cancer prevention campaign, and President Yule appointed Mms. Patrick Henry and Eugene Ireland, chairmen of the education and civics committees, to carry on for the Parlor. Dr. Anna E. McCaughey, Grand Parlor arrangements chairman, told of the progress of fund raising and spoke of the great interest being aroused in the extension of the Order.

The Parlor board of officers were hostesses of the evening, with Mms. Wesley McCormick and Frank Holtzbauer responsible for the green and white decorations. Mms. Paul Miller and A. E. Janssens were co-chairmen for program, assisted by Mrs. Edwin Prideaux, Miss Dorothy Poole and George McCrea. Miss Jessie Achordsquy danced a sailor's hornpipe and Miss Margaret WORKING OUT DETAILS FOR PROPOSED OLD MISSION PARK.

Withholding an announcement that will carry statewide interest, while details are being worked out for the establishment of Old Mission Park as a suitable foreground to the world-famous "Queen of Missions," Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W. made much of Saint Patrick's night.

The mayor of Santa Barbara, Patrick J. Maher, actually born in Ireland; Deputy Sheriff John D. Ross, representing his father, Sheriff James Ross; Chief of Police William J. Garrity, and Major W. H. I AM AN OLD MAN

Walking on tired feet
Down the trail,
Leaving behind me
Little towns of other days
Echoing mystery.
For little streams hold
Boyish dreams,
And every hill has arms
Gesturing yet to me.
I am an old man
Scarred with failures
And whipped by time
Yet limping with joy
Over the rocks
And tangled sod.
Tragedy stalks in cities
But I know
The ways of God.

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

JAPANESE WARTIME BARBARITY against China, the hostility displayed by the Mikado's army and navy towards Americans in China as also against all Caucasians, and our government's long delayed recognition of the Japanese war threat against ourselves, have caused the formation of the Pacific Coast Relations Committee in Los Angeles to carry on, as opportunity may offer, a campaign against any Japanese aggression. The committee is, in fact, the successor of the Los Angeles Anti-Asiatic Association which did so much to put the anti-alien law on California's statute book. The new name was selected as more descriptive of the policy of today. First, it removes all suggestion of any opposition towards Chinese and other Asiatics with whom we have no quarrel; second, the name suggests a potentially broader field of action. A number of Native Sons are outstanding members, although the committee is entirely independent and takes in adopted as well as native Californians. Leo Youngworth is president, Herman C. Lichtenberger vice-president and treasurer, and Arthur R. Hinton secretary. At its first meeting, the committee unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"Newspapers of recent date published a statement of Japanese policy which that government proposes to pursue in relation to the undeclared war on the Chinese nation and, serving notice on all countries, it declares it 'will brook no interference in China and is determined to pursue its own course to the bitter end.'

"This means that the Japanese are going to continue their bombardment of defenseless cities and the slaughter of their inhabitants, women, children, aged non-combatants and helpless people. This kind of warfare is contrary to the principles of all civilized nations, many of which have registered strong protests against such methods, but the slaughter of the innocent and helpless non-combatants still continues.

"This statement leaves no room for doubt that Japan is determined to brook no interference by anyone, and calls for drastic action by all civilized nations. This also means that the United States of America will either have to rush to the defense of China or use other drastic measures to put a stop to this unfortunate situation.

"The time has arrived for our country to serve notice on Japan that this country will be obliged to sever all relations with Japan and have no further intercourse with this arrogant and mendacious nation unless Japan gets out and stays out of China. War is unthinkable, but must be resorted to when a peace-loving people fail to reach a peaceful settlement of a controversy such as we now face. We believe that Japan can be made to see the error of its way by a method which will reach the pocketbook of that nation. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the Pacific Coast Relations Committee that all friendly and business relations be severed with Japan, and that the people of the United States and particularly of California immediately discontinue the purchase of any product or merchandise raised or made in Japan or by Japanese, and that we immediately stop employing any of its citizens. And be it further

"Resolved, That we pledge ourselves to assist our country in every way to carry out any policies adopted by the Government of the United States of America in conformity with this resolution."—A.R.H.

PUBLIC SPEAKING FINALS.

The final public speaking contest for senior high school students of Los Angeles County, a section of a statewide contest sponsored by the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, was held March 4 in the auditorium of the John H. Francis Polytechnic High School in Los Angeles. Harold E. Barden, member of the state committee and chairman for Los Angeles County, presided.

As a result of previous elimination contests in which twenty senior high schools of Los Angeles County were represented, the following contestants, with the subjects named, won the right to compete in the finals: Neal McKinley, Burbank High School, "Sutter's Fort;" Shirley Flinkman, Santa Monica High School, "From Manila Galleon to China Clipper;" Catherine Bourland, Fremont High School, "John C. Fremont, Soldier of the West;" Marjorie Watson, Garfield High School, "Juan Bautista de Anza."

The judges were Dr. Alta B. Hall, associate professor of speech, University Southern California; Miss Grace S. Stoermer, Past Grand President N.D.G.W.; Justice Thomas P. White of the District Appellate Court; Superior Judge B. Ray Schauer; Walter Odemar, Supervising Deputy Grand President N.S.G.W.

Miss Catherine Bourland of Fremont High School was awarded first place and was presented with a gold medal. In addition, she may present her address before the Native Sons at their San Jose Grand Parlor. Miss Shirley Flinkman of Santa Monica High School won second place. The winner in each high school represented was presented with a silver medal by Grand President Eldred L. Meyer of the Native Sons. To the winner in each semi-final an autographed copy of "A Short History of California" was presented by the author, Dean Rockwell D. Hunt of U.S.C.

Catherine Bourland, 16-year-old Fremont High School co-ed who won first place in Los Angeles County in a public speaking contest sponsored by the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, is shown at left, with Shirley Flinkman, 15, of Santa Monica High, second place winner. Miss Bourland will go to the state finals at San Jose in May.

The addresses in this contest were on phases of early California history, each contestant making a choice from a list of twelve subjects submitted by Reynald Bianchi, state chairman of the contest.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS DISTRICT MEETING.

Friday evening, March 11, the Los Angeles County Parlors of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West were hostesses at a district meeting at the Elks Club to Grand Vice-president Edna B. Briggs. The meeting was preceded by a supper attended by approximately 200.

Hansen, Supervising Deputies Ione Gillette and Eva Bemis, Deputies Rebecca Hassen, Flora Jacobson, Flora Holy, Betty Sanders and Olinda Kirby, Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, who extended greetings on behalf of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, and Roger Johnson, Grand Organist N.S.G.W.

Parlors participating in the ritualistic work were Los Angeles No. 124, Long Beach No. 154, Rudecinda No. 230 of San Pedro, Verdugo No. 240 of Glendale, Santa Monica Bay No. 245, Californiana No. 247 of Los Angeles, and Compton No. 258. Twenty-two candidates were initiated, eight for Verdugo, seven for Long Beach, three each for Californiana and Rudecinda, and one for Compton.

The hall was attractively decorated with baskets of spring flowers. The officers and members participating in the escort work made a striking picture in apple green frocks of silk net and taffeta, using gold and pastel pink as a color contrast.

Grand Vice-president Briggs gave a very interesting talk on "The Pioneers of California," and at its conclusion was presented with a very beautiful clock by the members of District No. 30, Supervising Deputy Gillette making the presentation address. During the evening a collection was taken for the flood sufferers and a goodly sum was netted.—E.S.

At the meeting, Compton's prize ritual team initiated a class of eight candidates, the largest in the Parlor's history. Speakers of the occasion were Grand First Vice-president McShane, who complimented the Parlor on its progressive spirit and accomplishments, and Grand Marshal Walter C. Richards. Among the many others in attendance were District Deputies Robert Dunn, Roy W. Tarleton, R. Geisler and John Bodkin, and representatives of Taft, Los Angeles, Santa Monica Bay, Stephen M. White, Santa Ana, Arrowhead and Hollywood Parlors.

BIRTHDAY MEETING.

As storm conditions were so bad, and President Esther Rinne was marooned in her Venice home, Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. had no meeting March 2. But there was a large turnout March 16, when Mrs. Betty Graydon gave an instructive talk on "Laws for Women in California." The Parlor is striving hard to win the homeless children award. The rummage sale conducted by Flora Holy added a large sum.

"CALIFORNIANA IN REVIEW."

A large number of members and friends welcomed Grand Vice-president Edna B. Briggs to Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. March 8. An informal reception, arranged by President Marcella Palethorpe, was followed by a delightful luncheon honoring Mrs. Briggs, Grand Marshal Hazel B. Hansen, Grand Trustee Mary B. lost their homes in the flood. At a charming Saint Patrick's tea, March 22, new members of the Parlor proved charming hostesses.

The Gertrude sewing circle had a glorious and happy day March 14 at the home of First Vice-president Marian Johnson. A delicious potluck dinner was served at noon, and a great deal of sewing was accomplished. The next meeting will be May 2, at the rural home of Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish. Under the auspices of the Pioneer Society, the seventy-ninth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Hattie Furman Stamps was celebrated March 11, and a large number of Californiana members attended the happy event. Mrs. Sophia Stewart of Los Angeles Parlor favored with vocal numbers.—O.L.

SPRING DANCE.

Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. is sponsoring a spring dance on the fourteenth floor of the American Storage Building, 3634 Beverly boulevard, Saturday night, April 2. Good music will be provided, and a good time is assured. All Natives and their families are invited. Admission, 50 cents per person.

April 15, Ramona will have initiation, followed by refreshments. April 22 will be fire department night, and there will be demonstrations and entertainment features.

PARTY FOR NEW MEMBERS.

Long Beach—In honor of its seven new members initiated at the district meeting in Los Angeles March 11, Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. had a party March 17. Feted also were those members whose birthdays occur in March. Table decorations of real shamrocks, tiny pipe placecards and green candles carried out the Saint Patrick's motif. Daisy Hansen was chairman for the evening and was assisted by other past presidents.

Under the chairmanship of Ruth Johnson, representative to the Co-ordinating Council, the Parlor plans a shower to assist the Council in inaugurating the first toy library in Long Beach for underprivileged children. To stimulate interest in attendance, members are engaged in the exchange of "secret sisters" and in celebrating the birthdays of all members with parties after the second meeting of each month.

Ways and means programs in effect include monthly benefit card parties; the collection of tags and labels, with Mary Stultz as chairman; a rummage sale, with Eugenia Smith in charge, scheduled for May; a cooked-food sale in the fall. Individual members are saving pennies, that the Parlor may reach its quota for the homeless children.

Mrs. Clara Fay opened her home March 31 to members and their friends and served a chicken pie luncheon for the benefit of the Parlor. She was assisted by a committee of past and present officers. The thimble club met March 24 for a covered-dish luncheon and all-day session of sewing at the home of President Johanna Reed.—N.D.C.

UNIVERSITY PARLOR NEWS.

University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W. served an excellent dinner to members and candidates prior to the initiation of three candidates March 16. Grand Parlor delegates will be elected April 6, and considerable competition is anticipated.

March 30 University put into effect a new idea—"Ladies Night Out." An enjoyable evening was spent by the members and the womenfolks visiting the "high spots" about the city. —J.E.M.

MONTHLY DINNER A SOCIAL FEATURE.

Glendale—Glendale Parlor No. 264 N.S.G.W. enjoyed its monthly get-together dinner March 17. Favors were typical of the birthday of Saint Patrick. Visitors were present from Ramona and Hollywood Parlors, and a number of eligibles were guests. An entertaining floor show was presented. The monthly dinner is a feature of the Parlor's social activities.

Claude E. Agard, secretary of Glendale for several years during the Parlor's early life, has again taken over the duties of that important office. Nate P. Sexton, recent secretary who resigned because of serious illness, met with added misfortune during the recent devastating storm, his North Hollywood home being flooded and badly damaged.

DEATH VALLEY VISITED.

Members of the Native Sons Friday Noon Luncheon Club again traveled the open road and paid a visit to Death Valley. M. U. Rosenthal and wife piloted the caravan which, in addition to them, included Mr. and Mrs. John Bodkin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Odemar, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Garnier, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Baxter, Judge and Mrs. Charles Haas, William Page, Charles C. Costillo and John B. Haas. It was a glorious trip, with a royal reception at Barstow on the way home.

Already the third cavalcade is forming. The "ramblers" next will follow the old Butterfield stagecoach road through Warners Hot Springs, stopping one night at Julian, through the Ocotellas, back by way of the Mexican town of Tecate, San Diego and Pala Mission.

A World's Cowboy Championship and rodeo is to be held at Sacramento April 29 and 30 and May 1.

Whittier, Los Angeles County, has voted $485,000 bonds for improvement of schools.

Sacramento will have its annual flower show at the State Fair grounds April 23 and 24.

CALIFORNIA

(FRED GIBBS.)

Where a chain of snow crowned mountains
Penetrate the grey of morn
That is California
When the springtime is being born.
When the purple distant hillsides
And the valleys spread with gold,
Behold, that's California
When her poppy fields unfold.
When forests, seas and rivers
Whisper distant lullabys,
California then is singing
Beneath her sunny skies.
Where her mountains and her forests
Overlook the sea and plain,
There she blends the charm and beauty
Of her native wild domain.
Where chasmed gorge and canyon
Whip the rivers into spray,
That, too, is California
Where her crystal waters play.
Where lakes lie deep and peaceful
In dead volcano scars,
There she hoards the moonlight silver
And reflects the midnight stars.
Where the mystery of her deserts
Match the riddles of the sea,
There alluring California
Casts her spell of witchery.
Where nature's mingled magic
Charms the native soul to please,
That is California
In the realm of fantasies.
Where fertile verdant valleys
Lie most level to the sea,
That is California's
Treasure land, of rare fertility.
Where rivers blend their silver
With the gold of setting sun,
Behold our California
When the western day is done.

"WHY NOT MAKE THE NATIVE SONS BETTER KNOWN."

Editor Grizzly Bear: May be a joke or an oddity, but the truth! Just how well do the Japs know your California and Native Sons of the Golden West? Last November, while a photographer and I were visiting Japan, collecting souvenirs, we were successful in our line, and stayed at two separate hotels for various reasons. The photographer speaks Japanese.

One evening, when the photographer was making an appointment by phone for a guide to a certain place, he had to speak Jap. The hotel manager was a little curious, as a United States Navy man speaking fine Jap was not just right. So, we were reported to the Prefectual Office.

At once, M. Amatatsu of the Foreign Section called on us to find out the purpose of our visit to Japan. We were grilled for three hours on various subjects, then we shook hands and he left. The second visit he stayed an hour. The third day he was funny. I knew our room had been searched while we were out, but our information was on board ship before the search. This time he quizzed me as to what the B.P.O.E., N.S. and N.D. meant.

Not thinking about lodges at the time, I was slow on catching on. But as I was on a spot, I worked around to find out that he meant he had found papers of some lodges and thought they were some secret government orders. The B.P.O.E. was simple to explain, for the Elks are in many countries, but the Native Sons and Daughters do not have lodges in the Orient. Although there are at present Native Sons and Native Daughters in China and the Philippines, there are no lodges.

The Jap was finally convinced that we were O.K. when I wrote out on paper the meaning and benefits of the N.S. lodges. So, why not make your lodge better and wider known?

(The above came to The Grizzly Bear from a subscriber in the Orient whose name is, for various reasons, withheld. It was dated Alongapo, Zambales, P. I., February 3, 1938, and was received March 7.—Editor.)

NEW ANIMAL FIND MADE IN SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

A kind of porcupine has been found in eastern San Bernardino County, the first record of this animal in that region. Evidence of mountain sheep, now fast disappearing in California, have also been found in the same county. Both discoveries are reported by the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology of the University of California.

The race of porcupine represented by the San Bernardino discovery has been known heretofore only in the inter-mountain region, and is unlike the kind found in northern and central California.

The locale of the newest porcupine find is in the Providence Mountains. It was located by an expedition under the direction of David H. Johnson. The expedition also found that the bird known as the gilded flicker has extended its range from the Colorado River Valley to the Providence Mountains.

THINK THIS OVER!

The order of Native Sons of the Golden West is, we believe, with the exception of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, the only organization that limits membership exclusively to NATIVE-BORN AMERICANS.

Knowing the serious conditions in this country today, this fact alone should impel every Native Son of California to immediately SEEK AFFILIATION with that American-born and American-operated institution, the man-power and wealth of which are pledged to the protection of American institutions in times of peace as well as in times of war.

KEEPING FAITH WITH Order of Native Sons of the Golden West's Founder
GENERAL ALBERT MAVER WINN

Eldred L. Meyer.

(GRAND PRESIDENT N.S.G.W.)

"AS MONDAY, MAY 16TH, DRAWS NEAR, all members of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West are aware that another session of the Grand Parlor, the Sixty-first, is about to convene. This year we assemble in another of California's historic cities, San Jose, Santa Clara County, rich in the State's early history and the place where the first State Legislature met, in 1849.

"Our Order grew up with the State of California, and since its inception, nearly sixty-three years ago, has had a prominent part in the upbuilding of the Golden State. Strictly a California fraternity composed of 100-percent native-born Californians, it is the dream-child of General Albert Maver Winn. The Founder was one of the early-day pioneers of Sutter's Fort, Sacramento, and, like many patriots, his memory lingers on, a constant urge to those who are pledged to perpetuate the memory and the traditions of the pioneer days of California. His daily life exemplified the cardinal virtues of our Order: Friendship, Loyalty and Charity. Undoubtedly no other fraternity in the world enjoys the unique distinction of having been organized by a man who, himself, was barred by the laws of the organization from membership therein.

"General Winn was born in old Virginia, April 27, 1810—one of those hardy pioneers who had grim, indomitable courage and self-reliance, faculties which proved no obstacle is too great to successfully cope with. He was one of the first to scale the high Sierra. These were some of the attributes of the Founder of our Order. In the early and exciting days of the State's history, General Winn proved himself a fighter for law and order, and in 1850 Governor Burnett made him Brigadier-General of the State Militia. In this same year he is credited with being successful in suppressing squatter riots in Sacramento, and in 1873 he became the Mayor of the Capital City.

"He had a warm affection for the young men of those days and, when he found that the old fraternities would not admit men under the age of twenty-one years, he decided to form an organization that would invite into its fold the youth just blossoming into manhood. For twenty years his mind had been running on some lasting method to perpetuate the stirring days of early California and the Gold Discovery Period. Finally, he concluded that nothing better could be devised for this purpose than to organize a group of native Californians, — an imperishable monument that would last through all time—the sons of the Pioneers.

"While making preparations for the Fourth of July celebration in San Francisco in 1875, General Winn proposed that a feature of the parade be a division of natives of California, although at that time there were but two hundred and ninety-five names of native Californians on the great register of California. A meeting was held in the police courtroom in San Francisco June 29, 1875, and it was decided to take part in the Fourth of July celebration and also to form this new fraternity, the Native Sons of the Golden West.

"An outstanding attraction in this Independence Day parade was the ninth division, given over to the Native Sons. Marshaled by William D. Spear, with a stuffed bear, silk stars and stripes and an improvised Bear Flag, these young Californians, attired in miners' costumes, made an impressive display, winning great applause. July 11th the boys again assembled, adopted a set of laws, elected officers and chose the name of Native Sons of the Golden West. From this meeting dates the entry of the Order into the ranks of patriotic, historical and fraternal societies. It is my understanding that our Order is still honored by having within its ranks several members who marched in that memorable parade and who attended the initial meeting of the fraternity. One of these is the first secretary, Charles "Original" Smith, now affiliated with Ramona Parlor No. 109 at Los Angeles, a frequent attendant at that Parlor's meetings, notwithstanding the fact that he resides on Catalina Island and is approaching his eighty-third birthday.

Eldred L. Meyer of Santa Monica, Grand President of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West.

"The new organization started with a flourish, and September 9, 1875, made its first showing to celebrate California's admission into the Sisterhood of States. March 6, 1876, the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West officially entered upon its fraternal career, being incorporated at that time, and the Bear was adopted as the official emblem of the Order. The First Grand Parlor was held in San Francisco, in 1878, with W. C. Hawkett of California Parlor No. 1 as Grand President. Today we have approximately 150 Subordinate Parlors located from one end of the State to the other, the membership of which consists of men whose loyalty and patriotism, and unswerving devotion to State and Nation have been proven by their continuous devotion to the principles of our Order.

"We point with pride to the fact that since the Order's inception it has taken an active part in assisting in the restoration of the Missions and other historical landmarks of the State, gratefully recognizing the Spanish Era as well as the American Period. The Native Sons of the Golden West have been honored by being permitted to dedicate many of California's public buildings, and from our own funds plaques have been placed thereon. These ceremonies are preceded by the Grand Officers' rendition of our own all-California Dedicatory Ritual. Outstanding honors were conferred upon our Order when we were invited to dedicate the magnificent Golden Gate Bridge, the longest bridge span in the world.

"The Order has erected monuments commemorating many important events in the State's history. We annually support two traveling history fellows at the University of California who visit the archives of the world in gathering the authentic history of California and the Pacific Coast. This history may now be reviewed in the Bancroft Library at the University of California at Berkeley. We were instrumental in securing the adoption of the Bear Flag as the State Flag of California, and the passage of legislation whereby Admission Day was made a full legal and school holiday.

"Annually the Native Sons and the Native Daughters throughout the State jointly celebrate California's birthday on Admission Day, September the ninth. Last year's celebration was held in my home-city, Santa Monica, and no humble words of mine can express my joy and appreciation for the remarkable demonstration of loyalty by thousands of Native Sons and Native Daughters, many of whom traveled great distances, at a personal sacrifice of time and money. It was acclaimed by the press and the public alike as the largest and most beautiful public demonstration of patriotism ever held in the Southland. No greater reward could we desire than to know that California's birthday was properly observed and celebrated, and that the people in this part of the State have a full conception and knowledge of this historic date. Both Orders received publicity of world-wide proportions, and the literary exercises were broadcast by radio in eleven Western states. We have conducted oratorical contests on historical and patriotic subjects in the public schools.

Much credit can be given our Order for the passage of the 1924 Immigration Act, which has prevented aliens ineligible to citizenship from being admitted into the United States. We have consistently opposed statehood for Hawaii, taking the position that if statehood should be granted the Hawaiian Territory it would open wide to thousands upon thousands of Orientals the immigration gates to the mainland, and would nullify the 1924 Immigration Act. Recently, at a conference with the State Assembly Interim Committee on Fish and Game, it was recommended that the committee adopt and submit to the next Legislature a report that will result in legislation designed to rid the coastal waters of California of alien-owned Japanese fishing boats, which are in serious competition with our own citizens. It was pointed out that these alien-owned boats are also a serious menace to our national defense, for in time of emergency they could render great aid to an enemy navy.

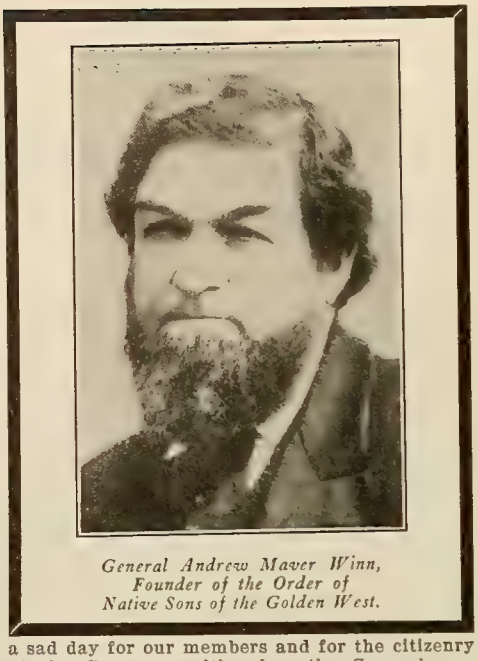
"The promotion of home industry for State products was urged by our Order before any other organization had given this matter a thought. We joined in a united protest against the lowering of the United States tariff on California figs and raisins. We have joined with many patriotic orders in opposing all forms of political 'isms' inimical to our Government. The State's natural resources have been conserved by legislation that we have fostered over a period of years.

"Charity, the sweetest of all virtues, has not been overlooked. Since 1910 we have placed over 5,000 homeless children in homes that had not been blessed with children of their own, thereby removing them from institutions and other places and providing them with a mother's love and care. This laudable work has been carried on jointly with our sister Order, the Native Daughters of the Golden West.



"During the World War, no other fraternity in California furnished, in proportion to membership, so many gallant patriots for Uncle Sam's Army and Navy as did our Order—the acid proof test of patriotism! Annually, with our sister Order, we hold appropriate Memorial Day ceremonies for our departed brothers. To inculcate patriotism in time of peace, our Order, through its Subordinate Parlors, has presented hundreds of sets of flags, United States of America and California State (Bear), to the State's schools and courtrooms.

"An honorary and appointive officer of the Grand Parlor of Native Sons, known as the Grand Historian, has delighted many public gatherings with informative addresses on the romantic history of California, and he has released many fine history articles, all voluntary contributions. The California History Board, also, has done splendid work in promoting interest in California history, and is deserving of the commendation of the whole Order.

"An outstanding contribution to our Fraternity and the entire State of California is The Grizzly Bear Magazine, the Official Organ of both the Native Sons and the Native Daughters. It has been issued continuously since May of 1907, and in addition to recording the fraternal life of the two Orders it features authentic history articles of California and the West. Since February of 1908 it has been edited by Clarence M. Hunt, since June 21, 1895, a member of Sacramento Parlor No. 3; no more ardent Native Son ever held membership in our Order.

"The very important part the Native Sons have played in the progress and the development of this great Commonwealth is the result of the far-seeing vision of our Founder, General Winn. During the past year a gain, both in membership and in assets, was recorded. A new Parlor was instituted at Taft, and immediately actively engaged in promoting the objects of our Order. It secured the privilege of having the Grand Officers dedicate the city school department's new natatorium and psycotherapy pool April 29. Plans are now being formulated for the instituting of an additional Parlor in Los Angeles County, to be known as East Los Angeles Parlor. This work has been voluntary on the part of our enthused members. We have, step by step these past years, made our worth known in a dignified manner and without the fanfare of trumpets, and a prosperous future is assured us by an appreciative citizenry pleased, indeed, to have their sons affiliate with the Order their birth entitles them to join.

"Briefly, this is our proud record of sixty-three years of service to State and Nation. To our members, California is the noblest and the greatest child of the Union of States. The traditions of her early history have also an enchantment for all Californians. Our Founder's contributions to the State were numerous. It was a sad day for our members and for the citizenry of the Commonwealth when the General was called home by the Grand President of the Universe. He died in Sonoma County, August 25, 1883, at the age of 73 years, and was carried to his final resting place in the old City Cemetery at Sacramento by his comrades, the Native Sons of the Golden West. The flags of the Capital City were lowered, every fraternity was represented in the funeral procession, and the courts and the schools were ordered closed, a fitting honor to our adopted Californian. Our Order erected a massive granite monument to the memory of General Winn, and it was dedicated Thanksgiving Day, 1888.

"In our hearts is a lasting monument of love for our Founder, General Albert Maver Winn, who made it possible for us to enjoy the fellowship of the great California fraternity, the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West."

NATURE'S CONSERVATION METHODS.

Nature's success as a conservationist was strikingly exhibited during the present winter when sections of California were visited by gales of unprecedented violence. Trees were uprooted, buildings unroofed and structures blown down.

But in Muir Woods National Monument, where some of the oldest and mightiest trees on earth are preserved, only one redwood, a mere sapling, twenty-seven inches in diameter, was damaged.

"Tamalpa," an Indian play, will be staged as the twenty-fifth annual drama in the amphitheater of Mount Tamalpais, Marin County, May 22.

"Gayway" is the name selected in a contest for the fun zone of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition.

OUR CALIFORNIA

(ERNEST S. TRUESDELL.)

When Nature in her subtle way
Carved out her hills of rock and clay,
She chose her soil of finest mold
To scatter treasures, manifold.
Here's where coquettish Beauty smiles
The length of seven hundred miles.
'Tis our California, the mecca old,
Whose fame rests not alone on gold,
But on man's brain and honest toil,
A climate mild and fertile soil.
We hail you, our beloved State,
Where fruits and flowers predominate!

Our California, let your praises ring—
Enchanted land of splendid things.
Gold made the magic spark to light
Your glorious torch with Empire's might.
Land where the High Sierra lie
Etched in grandeur against the sky.
Mountain and valley and fertile plain
Storied and fabled by Harte and Twain.
O, charming land, where Nature dwells
In rugged hills and shady dells.

Dear California, let's bless that day
When Commodore Sloat at Monterey
Raised aloft that emblem, grand,
To wave forever o'er your land.
Land where the Padres and Monks of old
Founded the Missions with pealing bell.
Land where the Grandees once did rule,
Aristocrats of ye olden school;
There the vaqueros of long ago
Their lariats did deftly throw.

Land where the Argonauts, bent with toil,
The precious gold dug from the soil.
Land where the deer bound wild and free;
The home of the mighty redwood tree
Which stirs from its tip to its bole
The finer things in the human soul.
Your fields of waving golden grain
Matured by sunshine and the rain.
Behold the miles of billowy wheat,
A wealth of gold at the mountain's feet.

O glorious State, in splendor decked
By the magic touch of the Architect.
Land of the sunshine, land of mists,
Land of the fruits by Nature kissed.
Land where grapes, the sweetest, grow
Acre on acre, and row on row.
Land of the cattle, drove on drove,
And land of the sunny citrus grove.

Hail, California, our land so fair,
Fling to the breeze your Grizzly Bear;
Unfurl it from mountain down to the sea
And let's pay homage, dear State, to thee.
Hail, California, the Queen of Pearls!
Who'd barter you for all the world?

(The above came to The Grizzly Bear from William Peters, secretary of Arcata Parlor No. 20 N.S.G.W., with the statement: "The enclosed poem by Ernest S. Truesdell was presented to Arcata Parlor, and we have his permission for its publication in The Grizzly Bear." —Editor.)

HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT OF SAN JOSE
THE NATIVE SONS 1938 GRAND PARLOR CITY

Dr. Peter T. Conmy
Grand Historian N.S.G.W.
(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR.)

THE ADVANCING SPANISH SETTLEMENT of Alta California, inaugurated by the founding of San Diego Mission in 1769, reached San Francisco Bay in 1776 when Mission Dolores was established in what is now the heart of the City of San Francisco. The founding of Mission Dolores was preceded by the establishment of the Presidio of San Francisco two weeks earlier. At no time had San Francisco been a great Indian center, and the reason for placing both mission and presidio there was to fortify the harbor against possible foreign attack and to plant a Spanish settlement that could not easily be overturned. Shortly after the founding of San Francisco it became aparent to Governor de Neve that if a pueblo were to flourish on the shores of San Francisco Bay it must be located in a place that would tap a more fertile country than the barren hills in the vicinity of both the Presidio of San Francisco and Mission Dolores.

It was soon found that at the southern extremity of the great bay there was a large Indian settlement, and in order to minister to the spiritual needs of these natives, Mission Santa Clara was founded January 12, 1777. This mission enjoyed a rapid growth. It was one of the most successful missions of the chain and the largest in the northern part of Alta California. But Santa Clara was a mission; that is to say, it was a spiritual establishment. It was controlled by men who were interested in the training and the Christianizing of the Indians. No man realized more clearly than de Neve that if the Spanish empire in California were to be rich and powerful it must have pueblos, settlements of Spanish civilians who would both engage in agriculture and promote trade. He also recognized the agricultural possibilities of the great Santa Clara Valley, which stretches geographically from San Francisco on the north to San Juan on the south. He saw that the proper place for a pueblo was the vicinity of Santa Clara Mission, which was a central location in the valley and at the same time near the great Bay of San Francisco.

Accordingly, June 3, 1777, he wrote the viceroy, asking permission to found a pueblo at this point. Impatiently anxious to establish his municipality, de Neve did not wait for the viceroy's reply, but late in November sent Don Jose Maraga, Lieutenant Commander of the Presidio of San Francisco, with nine soldiers and five civilians, each of them the head of a family, to found a pueblo near Santa Clara Mission. The small company arrived there November 29, 1777, and selected a site on Guadelupe Creek for the settlement. They named it San Jose de Guadelupe and as such it was officially known until 1836. In that year the insurgent governor, Alvarado, tried to win supporters in San Jose by devious means. To indicate that San Jose was to him especially dear, he called it San Jose de Alvarado. After his retirement in 1842, the old name was not revived and it came to be known as San Jose.

San Jose grew slowly. It was followed in 1781 by the founding of Los Angeles, and these two cities bear the unique distinction not only of being the first municipalities, but also of having a continuous existence since Spanish days. The first population of San Jose consisted of about seventy persons. In 1831 it had five hundred forty-two. The settlement was built along Guadelupe Creek for water purposes. The first settlers were coaxed on by de Neve, who gave them, in the name of the king, both house lots and farms. He also gave them certain equipment and money. The chief products were wheat, corn and beans; later fruits were raised.

March 6, 1777, the king gave his formal approval to the new settlement. In 1783 it was decided to grant the original settlers a fee simple to the lands they were holding. The names of these pobladores were: Ignacio Archuleta, first alcalde; Jose Manuel Gonzales; Manuel Domingo Amezquita, born in Sonora in 1739; Jose Tiburcio Vasquez, born in Sonora in 1735; Jose Antonio Romero, born in Guadelajara in 1750; Bernardo Rosales, born in Durango in 1744; Francisco Avila, born in Sonora in 1744; Sebastian Alvitre; Claudio Alvires, born in Sonora in 1742. These names represent families that are the cornerstone of San Jose.

During the first fifty-four years of its existence, San Jose was almost wholly agricultural. It was governed by an alcalde elected by the inhabitants. The first alcalde was Ignacio Archuleta. There were also a corporal and three soldiers. For many years during the Spanish period Don Marcario Castro was alcalde. It was during the Spanish period that one of San Jose's most beautiful streets was built. Reference is here made to The Alameda, which connects Santa Clara with San Jose. This road was improved in 1799 under the direction of Fr. Magin Catala of Santa Clara Mission. He had willow trees planted on each side for both beauty and shade. This fact is also mentioned to show the close connection between Mission Santa Clara and the Pueblo of San Jose de Guadelupe. In foundation, each supplemented the purposes of the other. In the matter of boundaries, each claimed to embrace the other. This dispute was finally decided by making Guadelupe Creek the general boundary.

Until 1803 the ecclesiastical status of the Franciscan fathers, that of missionaries apostolic with no authority to minister to the White people unless they came to the mission, was strictly adhered to. In that year, however, the Bishop of Sonora, Mexico, in whose diocese California was located, gave the Franciscans permission to act as pastors of the White population. This action made possible the erection of a church in San Jose. It was an adobe structure with a tule roof, located near where the present St. Joseph's Church stands. It was dedicated July 12, 1803, under the title St. Joseph's. It was replaced in 1835 by a better structure, and this, in turn, by the present church mentioned above.

A quicksilver mine was discovered about 1824 in the neighboring locality of New Almaden. Immediately the agriculture of San Jose was supplanted by this new industry. The importance of this cannot be overestimated, because the quicksilver mine at New Almaden was the first one of its kind successfully operated in North America. Along with this development came a parallel growth of trade in hides and tallow. As the economic production of the community developed, there was a corresponding increase in its consumption, the commodities being secured from the American and Russian ships which brought their cargoes to San Francisco Bay.

Distinguished foreigners commenced to come before 1820. John Gilroy (1814), Robert Livermore (1816) and Antonio Sunol (1818) branched out from San Jose to the neighboring communities which now bear their respective names. In 1844 Pedro Sainsevain built the first flour mill, and thenceforth a goodly portion of the wheat of the valley was converted in this mill. The decade from 1840 to 1850 was prolific in the immigration of Americans. A few of the more prominent names are mentioned here: Henry Woods, Lawrence Campbell, Charles Weber, Josiah Beden, Grover Cook, Peter Springer, Henry Pitts, James Rock, Peter Davidson, Thomas Fallon, Julius Martin and Thomas J. Madden.

When news of Fremont's difficulty with the authorities at Monterey and the Bear Flag revolt reached San Jose, the prefect of the district, Don Jose Castro, prepared to defend the settlement from attack and capture. Whatever his objection to Fremont may have been, Castro disbanded his men when he was informed that Commodore Sloat had raised the Stars and Stripes at Monterey. Castro, in common with other leading Mexican Californians, welcomed the American conquest. Captain Fallon bears the honor of having raised the American Flag in San Jose in July 1846. In the winter of 1846 and 1847 a group of American immigrants applied to the priests at Mission Santa Clara and Mission San Jose for shelter during the winter. This they were granted. They then proceeded followed by San Francisco, Sacramento and other settlements. The demand for a state government originated at a convention held in San Jose December 11, 1848. The constitutional convention which met in Monterey in September 1849 recognized San Jose's central position and provided that the capital should be located there. Accordingly, the first Legislature began to meet there December 15th, and five days later Governor Burnett and other state officers took their oaths.

It was in San Jose also on that same day that General Bennett Riley by official proclamation surrendered the military rule of California into civil hands. San Jose was not destined to be the capital for long, however, for several reasons. First, complaint had been made concerning lack of suitable accommodations. This, however, was not a serious objection, for offers of land and buildings were made by citizens. Second, other localities desired the capital, notably Monterey, San Diego, Santa Cruz, Gilroy, Eureka, Sacramento, San Francisco and Vallejo, the latter a projected settlement promised by General Vallejo with money, land and buildings. Third, it was desired to have the capital located at a point on the Bay of San Francisco which would be directly accessible to ocean-going vessels. October 7, 1850, the people voted to move the capital to Vallejo, which was accomplished June 17, 1851. In 1893, by E. C. Seymour, and in 1903, by Louis Oneal, constitutional amendments calling for a return of the capital to San Jose were introduced in the Legislature for proposal to the people. They failed of enough legislative votes to place them upon the ballot.

A fact not generally recognized, is that San Jose was the first educational center in California. Santa Clara College and the College of the Pacific were both founded there in 1851. The State Normal School opened in San Francisco in 1862 was moved to San Jose in 1870. In 1851, at the request of Bishop Alemany, the sisters of Notre Dame opened, in San Jose, the Notre Dame College for girls, which became one of the leading institutions of its kind in California. Although little is known concerning the history of education in the Spanish period, there is evidence that as early as 1811 a school taught by the corporal was operated in San Jose Pueblo. In 1844, Governor Micheltorena, by official proclamation, ordered a school opened there. The first public school was organized in 1847. The public high school dates from 1865. In 1859, San Jose had a seminary for young women operated by a Mrs. Buckman. In 1861, Freeman Gates established the San Jose Institute and Commercial College.

The construction of the Southern Pacific Railroad in the sixties was a boon to the further growth of San Jose, for in this manner San Jose became connected with the harbor of San Francisco. There has always been some transportation between San Francisco and San Jose via the bay. In the early days, using the neighboring settlement at Alviso as an embarkation point, boats carrying freight and passengers plied the bay. This was too expensive and consumed too much time, and so was abandoned. El Camino Real, which connected San Francisco and Santa Clara Mission, became a paved highway when the automobile came into general use. A few years ago a shorter highway, the Bayshore, was constructed. In 1936 this was extended into San Jose. These improvements in transportation have tended to add to the wealth and the population of San Jose.

In 1797 another mission, named Mission San Jose, was founded in Alameda County, about eight miles east of Milpitas. This mission tended to build up the Alameda side of the great bay, and fed into the Pueblo of San Jose. It had an attendant effect on increasing the importance of the growing city.

With natural mineral and agricultural wealth augmented by the culture which the schools brought, and taking advantage of the freedom and democracy which the American conquest assured, San Jose has developed steadily. As she has grown slowly, she has grown solidly and surely. Not being a "boom" town, San Jose has attracted a generally conservative and law-abiding population. In 1920 the population was 39,642, but by 1930 had increased to 57,651. It is estimated that today there are about 80,000 persons in the community. All cities have their nicknames which, to a certain extent, portray the character of the people. New York is Gotham, Chicago the Windy City, and San Francisco the Gray City. San Jose has always been fondly called the Garden City—city of flowers and sunshine, where the dreams of Spanish and Americans have merged to make one of the loveliest communities in all California.

SAN JOSE, THE METROPOLIS OF "THE VALLEY OF HEART'S DELIGHT"

Frank Lowery
SAN JOSE CHAMBER COMMERCE.)

WHERE ONCE THE PIONEER SPANish padres attempted to civilize the wild California Indian and fought off the attacks of bandits and wild animals, today stands the City of San Jose, metropolis of the Santa Clara Valley, known the world over as the center of the dried fruit packing and canning industry.

Gone are the marshlands and wilderness of those days, and in their places are fine streets and a city of modern business buildings and industries. Nearby stands Mission Santa Clara, where the padres once lived, the only landmark of the conquests of this sturdy band of men.

San Jose was founded November 29, 1777, under authority of Spain, and was known as "Pueblo de San Jose de Guadelupe." It has existed continuously since that time. While the Father of our country, George Washington, and his armies were fighting the British in the Revolutionary War, San Jose was founded and established by the Spanish. At the conclusion of the Revolutionary War, San Jose had been in existence for seven years.

Located but fifty miles from San Francisco, and forty-two miles from Oakland, San Jose was but a day's journey from these two cities in pioneer days. Its growth was natural, and its citizens took an active part in the development of what was then a new frontier.

The first United States of America Flag was raised in San Jose, July 14, 1846, and just three years later, San Jose was the first capital of the State of California. The first Legislature convened there December 15, 1849, and San Jose became the first incorporated city of California under State Legislature authorization March 27, 1850.

The "Valley of Heart's Delight" in Blossom Time.

The site of that first capital has been adequately marked by the Historic Landmarks Committee of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, while the present city administration buildings are located in the center of the original plaza of the "Pueblo de San Jose de Guadelupe."

A Frenchman, Louis Pellier, had the foresight, in 1856, to have his brother bring "LePetit d'Agen," a little prune of Agen, a district where the Pellier family resided in France, to San Jose. By 1867 prune grafts had been so developed that growth of prunes was becoming a leading business for the many ranchers and orchardists who had settled in the fertile Santa Clara Valley. Today, Santa Clara Valley produces more than forty percent of the world prune crop.

Santa Clara Valley has acquired the name of "The Valley of Heart's Delight," and with its vast fertile acres has developed into the leading producing area of prunes, apricots, pears, cherries, apples, walnuts and various vegetables.

Today, the tiny pueblo which rested on the banks of the Guadelupe River, has grown to a city of more than 75,000 persons. Where padres once trod are paved streets and modern office buildings and business establishments.

Surrounding the Mission Santa Clara is the University of Santa Clara. Atop Mount Hamilton, nearby, is Lick Observatory, a division of the University of California, known the world over for its astronomical achievements. Alum Rock Park, deeded the city by King Philip II of Spain in 1777, is widely acclaimed for its many mineral springs and their health-giving waters.

The first normal school ever established in California is located in the heart of the city—San Jose State College. It has an enrollment of 3,000. The Rocicrucian Order University and Planetarium are also located in San Jose.

The valley abounds with blossoms late in March and the first two weeks of April, when the annual Blossom Festival is held at Saratoga, a community but eleven miles distant nestled in the foothills of the Santa Cruz Mountains. At that time the entire Santa Clara Valley may be seen in bloom, and it is annually visited by over 10,000 persons during the peak of the blossom season.

GOVERNMENT SEAT SANTA CLARA COUNTY

San Jose (Ho-say), founded November 29, 1777, is "The Valley of Heart's Delight" largest community and the county seat of Santa Clara County. It is located eight miles from the southern end of San Francisco Bay, fifty miles from San Francisco and forty-two miles from Oakland. The 1930 Federal census put San Jose in the list of "cities over 50,000" class, with a population inside its official lines of 57,651. The city as a whole readily shows a population today of more than 80,000. It is the largest canning and dried-fruit packing center in the world. There are sixty-nine daily trains between San Jose and San Francisco.

The San Jose Deep Water Port, to be built by the city with the assistance of the Federal Government, will save the shippers of this territory hundreds of thousands of dollars annually, it is anticipated by the advocates of the port, who have been working for several years to make it a reality. The projected port, eight miles from San Jose, will enable ocean-going vessels to load millions of pounds of dried and canned fruits and other products of the region, and the land adjacent will doubtless prove to be desirable locations for many factories.

Air transportation facilities are furnished the city by the two airports. The new five-million-dollar United States Navy Dirigible Base, now under construction within six miles of San Jose, will attract thousands of visitors. El Camino Real or Coast highway, the Bayshore highway, the San Jose-Oakland highway and the new San Jose-Point Richmond highway all furnish San Jose with excellent paved highway facilities to cities in the San Francisco Bay region. Other fine paved highways lead to ocean beaches, mountains and other great valleys.

The city has several parks, including Alum Rock of 692 acres, with mineral springs, natatorium, plunge baths, mud baths, picnic grounds and children's playground. The Hillview Golf Club and the San Jose Country Club, eighteen-hole courses, are within six miles of the business district. Of 180 miles of streets, 136 miles are paved, and the paving program is continuous.

San Jose has had the city manager form of government since July 1, 1916. The total investment represented in the public educational system plant of San Jose is approximately nine million dollars, with a total enrollment of 20,000 students. The facilities are the San Jose State Teachers College and Junior College, one high school, four junior high schools, one evening high school, one continuation school, one polytechnic school and thirteen elementary schools. All the fraternal, patriotic and benevolent societies and all the service clubs are represented here, and there are more than sixty churches.

San Jose is a residential city, with attractive streets, residences, gardens, first-class theatres, and a retail business district noted for its variety of smart shops and stores. Its building and loan resources are exceeded only by those of San Francisco and Los Angeles. It is one of the leading cities in the United States in total of building permits.

The annual Santa Clara County Fiesta de las Rosas, held at San Jose in May, attracts hundreds of thousands of visitors to witness the floral parade, the entries of which are made entirely of flowers in their natural state. The city has seventy-two percent of possible sunshine during the year, and for homes, business, recreation and pleasant living it has elements that appeal strongly to visitors and home seekers.

Each season of the year.
One loves it best in April
When the fruit trees are in bloom;
And a mass of snowy blossoms
Yield a subtle sweet perfume.
When orchard after orchard
Is spread before the eyes
With the whitest of white blossoms
'Neath the bluest of blue skies.
No brush could paint the picture
No pen describe the sight
That one can find in April
In "The Valley of Heart's Delight."

NATIVE SONS WELL ORGANIZED IN SANTA CLARA COUNTY

SANTA CLARA COUNTY IS WELL ORganized so far as the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West is concerned, having five Subordinate Parlors. A brief history of each is here presented, being compiled from data supplied on request of The Grizzly Bear:

San Jose Parlor No. 22 of San Jose was instituted by District Deputy Grand President Charles W. Decker October 13, 1883, with forty-one charter members. Although it had but $34 in its treasury the second year of its existence, it is now the Order's richest Subordinate Parlor, possessing assets of approximately $74,000. This wealth was accumulated, largely, through operations of a Hall Association, formed by the local Parlors with the object of erecting a building. The project was abandoned, and San Jose Parlor now owns the Hall Association, the officers of which are: John A. Corotto, chairman; Charles A. Merritt, vice-chairman; G. D. O'Connell, secretary; Charles O'Connell, treasurer; Edward Haley, Paul D. Cambiano, Charles M. Baldasini, Frank L. Nelson, J. S. Williams Sr., John M. Burnett, Joseph Lawrence, directors.

San Jose was the home-Parlor of the late Past Grand President Thomas Monahan, a true friend and one of the Order's most popular members. The Parlor at present has 236 members, the oldest in point of membership being Stephen L. Worden. He joined May 30, 1887, and last year was presented a fifty-year emblem. The Parlor has engaged in many of San Jose's notable municipal enterprises, and in May of last year, in co-operation with Observatory Parlor, dedicated a monument to the city's earlyday firemen.

San Jose's present officers are: Cornelius F. Mangin, president; Martin J. Haley, junior past president; Harold Semichy, first vice-president; Ernest C. Lorentz Jr., second vice-president; Frank T. Bondi, third vice-president; Joseph Lawrence, recording secretary; Gerald M. Origlia, financial secretary; Charles M. Baldasini, treasurer; James W. Foley, marshal; Irwin T. O'Connell, inside sentinel; W. John Batten, outside sentinel; Dr. Edwin E. Porter, surgeon; Elwood Hart, organist; Joseph V. Belloli, Fred N. Breeze, Walter Laranjo, trustees.

Fallon, Past Grand President Charles A. Thompson, August England, Frank Vargas, Alphonse Ruth, Frank Wood, Dr. George W. Fowler and Charles Newton.

Observatory Parlor No. 177 of San Jose was instituted August 13, 1891, by Grand President Robert M. Fitzgerald, with fifty-eight charter members. L. J. Chipman was the first president, and Jos. H. Perry was the first recording secretary. Of the charter members, three remain on the membership roll: Alexander J. Hart, Charles T. Richmond and David J. Gairaud.

The Parlor interests itself in all local affairs of a worthwhile civic nature, and in all national and state procedures with which its welfare is concerned.

Malovos Jr., inside sentinel; Louis Doerr, outside sentinel; Dr. E. L. Cottrell, Dr. Geo. L. Barry, Dr. E. F. Holbrook, surgeons; Wallace P. Isham, Milton G. Moenning, Eugene T. Peters, trustees.

Mountain View Parlor No. 215 of Mountain View was instituted November 28, 1902, by Grand President Lewis F. Byington, with twenty-two members. Henry A. Rengstorff was the first president, and J. I. C. Kennedy was the first recording secretary.

Weisshaar was the first president, and Patrick A. Crowley was the first recording secretary. Of the charter members, the following are still affiliated with the Parlor: John Lucas Greer, Irving P. Hansen, treasurer; Henry Alberson, marshal; Leonard Nelson, inside sentinel; Louis Baldo, outside sentinel; Columbus Baldo, John E. Baker, Joseph H. Lewis, trustees.

CALIFORNIA PRUNE INDUSTRY STARTED BY FRENCHMAN IN 1848.

The California prune and plum industry began as a leader and, despite many ups and downs, remains a leader in the agricultural field, according to a history of the industry by H. M. Butterfield, specialist in agricultural extension at the University of California.

The plum was here when the mission trails were first broken into Alta California, back in 1769. The California plum seems to have come into prominence with the arrival of Seth Lewelling in Sacramento from Oregon in the spring of 1851. Thereafter the plum was to become one of the chief experimental subjects of Luther Burbank, and that was the beginning of the Burbank and the Satsuma varieties, which achieved widespread fame.

The prune industry seems to have gotten its start with the arrival of Louis Pellier at San Jose from France in 1848. He had heard the gripping story of Sutter's Mill, but quickly decided that he would find his gold above the soil instead of below it. So he started a little nursery which prospered from the start and which made the French prune a by-word in California's agriculture.

For a number of years the prune industry centered in San Jose. Later it spread out to Saratoga, and in succeeding years found new havens in the Sacramento Valley and many other parts of California. San Francisco seems to have had its first experience with prunes on a commercial scale in 1859, when J. Q. A. Ballou of San Jose put some on the market.

"I pray God that this nation may keep its anchors firmly grounded in intellectual liberty and spiritual freedom."—Herbert Hoover.

BOOK REVIEWS

CLARENCE M. HUNT

"MARIA."

By Josephine H. Patton; Lederer, Street & Zeus Co., Inc., Publishers, Berkeley; Price, $2.25.

This romance of Santa Clara County during the days of early Spanish settlement has the endorsement of Vendome Parlor No. 100 N.D.G.W. of San Jose. It is a true love story of James Lick, the donor of the observatory that bears his name, and the beautiful daughter of a prominent Spanish family in the Santa Clara Valley.

Says Author Patton in the foreword: "This story . . . is a gesture toward the preservation of the traditions of the early families of California—the Spanish families. Theirs was such a colorful life, so full of romance. . . . May this simple gesture have its part in preserving passing memories—memories that a progressive, modern mode of living is rapidly obliterating. This is my tribute to my beloved California, my native state."

The book is dedicated in loving memory to the padres who peacefully established a Christian civilization in California. Also, to the early Spanish families that followed.

"If you can fill the ever-fleeting minute with unremitting toil and think it fun, you're heading for success."—Grenfell Kleiser.

Fort Point, built in 1850 for the defense of the Golden Gate Channel, is to be restored by San Francisco as an historic monument.

THE LETTER BOX

Comments on subjects of general interest and importance received from readers of The Grizzly Bear.

OAKLAND PUBLIC LIBRARY HAS INDEX VALUABLE HISTORY ARTICLES.

Editor Grizzly Bear: It may interest some of your readers to learn that there is in the Oakland Public Library a subject index to the many valuable historical articles published in the first sixty volumes of The Grizzly Bear Magazine. Begun in January, 1934, as an S.E.R.A. project, it has been continued to date by the reference department of the Library.

The plan of the Oakland index differs from that of Leslie Underhill's excellent list of "Historical and reminiscent articles in first twenty volumes of The Grizzly Bear Magazine," which appeared in The Grizzly Bear of April 1917. The latter was a list of articles arranged in order of publication and with an author index, while the former is arranged alphabetically by the subjects of the articles. From this subject index the series of articles entitled "California Fifty Years Ago," which began in October 1908, and has been continued almost without interruption up to the present month, was at first omitted. For this series a separate card index has been compiled, which will not be merged with the other but which will retain its identity as a "Grizzly Bear index," after the first portion has been combined with the reference department's general card index to western history.

As the "California Fifty Years Ago" series is based upon contemporary newspapers, it is evident that its index will serve as a convenient clue to the dates of noteworthy events and circumstances connected with the history of the state during the period covered (October 1858 to April 1887).

Both of these indexes to Grizzly Bear Magazine may be consulted in the reference room of the Oakland Public Library. Yours very truly, MABEL W. THOMAS, Assistant Librarian and Chief Reference Librarian. Oakland, April 11, 1938.

No more he placers in the streams
And sees the beauty of each day.
Upon the porch he lives in dreams
Of wondrous youth that did not stay.

His step once quick, has now grown slow,
He sits alone, with half-closed eyes
But hope—the same as long ago
Gives him a remnant of surprise.

And tho he is four score and ten
And has been shoved across life's stage,
With memories, he troops again
And leaves behind his doting age.

SIXTY-FIRST N. S. G. W. GRAND PARLOR

(CLARENCE M. HUNT.)

THE SIXTY-FIRST GRAND PARLOR OF the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West will convene at San Jose, Santa Clara County, Monday, May 16. Sessions of the Grand Parlor will be held in the San Jose Municipal Auditorium Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Grand President Eldred L. Meyer of Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 will preside throughout the Grand Parlor deliberations and at their conclusion will automatically become the Junior Past Grand President. Grand President Meyer has devoted unlimited time to the Order, and as a result of his untiring efforts fine progress has been made during his term and, for the first time in several years, a gain in membership has been recorded.

The San Jose Grand Parlor will be unique, in that for the first time in a quarter-century there will be a night session, to give any of the thousands of nearby members of the Order who have never had the privilege of attending a Grand Parlor meeting but would like to do so, an opportunity to attend. The feature was proposed by the Santa Clara Grand Parlor Committee, and Grand President Meyer readily consented, with the proviso that a class of not less than a hundred candidates appears for initiation by a team of grand officers. The Subordinate Parlor presenting the largest percentage number of candidates will receive a $25 cash award.

The reports of Grand Parlor officers and committees to the Sixty-first session will deal with the Order's activities during 1937. The Grizzly Bear has, during the year, given full publicity to the important events and accomplishments. Grand Secretary John T. Regan's report will detail the condition of the Subordinate Parlors as of December 31, 1937. Those with 450 or more members, also their assets-figures, are:

Parlors.	Members.	Assets.
South San Francisco No. 157	797	$55,309.92
Castro No. 232	755	9,403.56
Ramona No. 109	608	41,420.29
Arrowhead No. 110	596	26,058.95
Stockton No. 7	520	38,992.27
Stanford No. 76	459	24,614.86

Other Subordinate Parlors, with assets of $20,000 or more, also their membership-figures, are:

Parlors.	Members.	Assets.
San Jose No. 22	243	$73,123.40
Sacramento No. 3	274	39,829.05
Pacific No. 10	352	39,765.18
Amador No. 17	142	37,407.72
Redwood No. 66	178	31,351.26
Napa No. 62	239	30,594.47
Observatory No. 177	179	27,868.57
Santa Lucia No. 97	42	24,397.68
Placerville No. 9	204	22,864.22
National No. 118	197	22,677.55
Presidio No. 194	321	22,524.25
Eden No. 113	134	21,917.21
Sunset No. 26	256	21,824.55
Quartz No. 58	172	20,800.35
Piedmont No. 120	404	20,574.56
Excelsior No. 31	117	20,480.86

From these figures, it will be noted that South San Francisco Parlor No. 157, San Francisco, is the largest, numerically, in the Order; that San Jose Parlor No. 22 is the wealthiest, financially, and that Santa Lucia Parlor No. 97, Salinas, has the greatest percapita wealth.

At the close of 1937, the Subordinate Parlors had convertible assets totaling $1,193,654.27, including $339,540.16 cash on hand. Their receipts for 1937 totaled $270,217.62, and their disbursements totaled $270, 517.78. Subordinate Parlors which pay benefits relieved 1,416 members to the extent of $88,274.01.

HISTORY OF SANTA CLARA COUNTY

(SAN JOSE CHAMBER COMMERCE.)

IN SEPTEMBER 1776 THE VICEROY OF Mexico penned a communication to Don Fernando Rivera, the officer commanding at San Diego, informing him he had received information that two missions had been founded in the vicinity of the Bay of San Francisco. On arrival of the dispatch, Don Fernando, without loss of time, made arrangements for visiting the places designated. After a long journey covering many days he, with twelve soldiers, arrived at Monterey, where he learned that only the Mission of San Francisco had been founded. Hence he started for that place accompanied by Father Tomas de las Pena who, with another, had been appointed to perform the religious duties of the expedition.

On the journey they came to the spot afterwards occupied by Santa Clara Mission and, being captivated by its many charms and advantages, he resolved to build a mission. The party then continued on their way to San Francisco, where they arrived November 26. After visiting the presidio the commandante set out for Monterey, and dispatched Father Joseph Murguia from San Carlos Mission to found the new mission in the Santa Clara Valley, then known by the name of San Bernardino.

Toward the last days of 1776 the soldiers and their families who were to take part in the establishment of the new mission arrived at San Francisco and January 6, 1777, Padre Pena, the officer in command of the presidio, the soldiers and their families took up the line of march in quest of the chosen spot. January 18, 1777, the formal ceremony of founding Santa Clara Mission took place. This was the first settlement in Santa Clara County. San Jose was the second settlement. Three miles south of the mission, at the junction of the Guadalupe and Los Gatos Creeks, the Pueblo de San Jose de Guadalupe was founded November 29 the same year, 1777, by a party of men, women and children from the Presidios of Monterey and San Francisco.

Up to that time much of the food for the Spaniards in California had been transported all the way from Mexico. Felipe De Neve, then Spanish governor of the Californians, sent out these colonizers to cultivate the land in the Santa Clara Valley, so that his forces might not be compelled to rely upon distant Mexico for supplies. There were only sixty-six in the band of hardy pioneers who laid the foundations of the present San Jose. To each was given land, ten dollars a month, a soldier's rations, a yoke of oxen, two horses, two cows, a mule, two sheep, two goats, and utensils and seed for their small farms. Plants, seeds, cuttings, etc., were sent them from Mexico and even from far-away Spain. Payment was made in products of the soil.

At that time the Santa Clara Valley was a natural park of huge white and live oaks, and deer were grazing in the valley. Upon the peaceful herds descended at times the grizzly bears and other predatory animals that ranged the forests of the mountain slopes. The mission fathers, in order to protect the roadway they had made between Santa Clara Mission and Pueblo de San Jose from the wild cattle of the region, planted four rows of willow trees on either side of it.

Soon, in the fertile valley, native plants and others brought from Mexico were enhancing by their blooms the beauty of the countryside. As early as 1792 Vancouver saw and wrote of a small orchard of apricot, peach, pear, apple, olive and fig trees flourishing at the Santa Clara Mission. By 1800 enough fruit was grown in the valley to supply the needs of the mission and the pueblos of California. Five years later the settlers had more fruit than they could dispose of in its natural state. In 1834 the church properties were secularized, and then the orchards deteriorated rapidly.

Although Spaniards were in control of the country until 1848, men of other nationalities had settled in the Santa Clara Valley many years before that time. A Scot named John Cameron arrived in 1814, when there were only twenty houses made entirely of adobe. He was known in California as John Gilroy, and the City of Gilroy was named in his honor. Robert Livermore, who came in 1816, gave his name to the valley just south of Mount Diablo. From a whaling vessel, Philip Doak landed at Monterey in 1822 and went on to San Jose. Other "gringos" followed in increasing numbers.

March 1846 marked the beginning of the final chapter in the Spanish occupation of the valley and, on the 5th day of that month, with a party of sixty-two, including the famous scout, Kit Carson, and Colonel John C. Fremont, they descended upon the country. Don Jose Castro, prefect of the district, told the colonel that he must leave, so the party marched to the summit of the Gavilan Mountains, south of the valley, and there raised the American Flag. In July of the same year the American emblem was hoisted by Captain Fallon in San Jose. The town, however, was still under the authority of the Spanish alcalde and ayuntimiento (mayor and council). By treaty, the United States acquired title to California in 1848, and the reign of the Spaniards was over. The first California Legislature met in San Jose December 15, 1849.

From this time to the present the inhabitants of the Santa Clara Valley have centered their efforts more and more on the production of various kinds of fruit. Pears grown in Santa Clara and San Jose were the first fresh fruit to be offered for sale in San Francisco. Strawberries were planted in the valley in 1853 and there were many orchards of dwarf apple and pear trees.

A Frenchman, Louis Pellier, gave great impetus to the growing of fruits in the valley when, in 1856, he brought from his home district of Agen in France several prune scions and planted them on his land near San Jose. Since that date many varieties have been introduced into California, but the original Pellier product is still the great commercial prune of the state. About that time fruit tree nurseries were established, and the orchard industry began to expand. It has been growing rapidly ever since. Today the Santa Clara Valley grows more than one-third of the prune crop of the world, and 127,500 acres in the county are covered with orchards. San Jose is dependent for its prosperity upon the fruit production of the valley.

California which, since 1848, has been famous for its gold, has other mines, little known but important. Perhaps only a few know that Santa Clara Valley has produced more quicksilver than any other part of the world, except Spain. Among the first oil fields to be developed in California were those of the Moody Gulch region, seventeen miles southwest of San Jose. From 1878 to 1886, eighty thousand barrels of the finest paraffin base oil were obtained from these wells.

Other Santa Clara County communities are: Campbell, "The Orchard City," in the midst of California's greatest orchard district; Gilroy, commercial center of a prosperous territory; Los Altos, the "Commuters' Paradise," a home community; Mountain View, close to the United States Navy's West Coast Dirigible Base; Palo Alto, the "Pasadena of northern California," home of the Leland Stanford Jr. University; Saratoga, famous for its annual Blossom Festival; Willow Glen, the county's newest city; Cupertino, Los Gatos, Milpitas, Morgan Hill and Sunnyvale.

HOMELESS CHILDREN

A Worthwhile Non-sectarian Endeavor Sponsored and Supported by the Orders of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West.

THE "ONLY - CHILD - IN - CALIFORNIA Club" initiated three hundred and seventy-eight new members from April 1937 to April 1938, as naturally both fathers and mothers vie with one another in extolling their foster child's intelligence, health, lovableness, personality, appearance, and all the rest which enable a child to win his way into the hearts of the whole family.

Unfortunately, from the applicant's point of view, there has been a long list of men and women who, having made up their minds that a home is not a home without a child, cannot believe the demand for children so far exceeds the supply. They forget that while there are children always awaiting placement, they may not fit into the homes offered and that a child placing agency must consider the age, sex, nationality and religion of the child to be placed.

During each year from one hundred and sixty to one hundred and ninety children are placed, by the N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Central Homeless Children Committee, thus cancelling a corresponding number of applicants. Other applications have been withdrawn for good and sufficient reasons: one family may have secured a child elsewhere; others expecting a child of their own; another family may have been called upon to assume financial responsibility for the care of a child in the immediate family, while reduction in income—loss of jobs or a change of residence to another state or county—cancel other applications, numbering this year 214. However, as fast as one application is withdrawn there come in each day's mail three or four new requests for children to adopt, consequently about the same number of waiting families remains; 631 filed applications this year.

Pressure is being put on the Homeless Children Committee by many who request that immediate attention be given their business, social, professional or fraternal friends, whom they consider able to give unequaled opportunity to a child. In justice to the hundreds of outstanding men and women with true understanding of the other fellow's needs who are waiting patiently for their turn to prove their fitness as parents, the Central Committee wishes to emphasize the fact that in justice to all child-loving men and women who have filed a written application the Committee must continue to adhere strictly to the policy of accepting the homes in the order of the filing of applications.

It is an unhappy situation for every child-placing agency alive to the emptiness of a childless home, and unable to change it, but reversed conditions would be tragic to contemplate—children with no parents, and no homes available.

Parents come to the office in panic and distress to relinquish their own, and children must be considered, and 119 this year have been able to care for their children after the six weeks' period. Some parents have been able to meet or are meeting the expenses. Others are helped through the Native Daughters' Milk Fund. To All the Child is of first importance.

As to finances: receipts from April 1937 to April 1938 have not equaled the receipts of last year, notwithstanding the fact that many Parlors have increased their contributions this year. The Orders of Native Sons and Native Daughters contributed $14,461.42—Native Sons, $1,915.11; Native Daughters, $2,900.79; State Joint Committee $1,709.98; Alameda County, $1,454. 44; Los Angeles Joint Committee, $2,010.00; San Francisco Joint Committee, $3,115.01; San Jose Joint Committee, $500.00; individual Native Sons, $15.00; individual Native Daughters, $142.50; Native Daughters' Milk Fund, $698.59. Our many friends contributed $886.97; board refunded, $3,398.29; interest, dividends, etc. make up the total of $18,983.16. A sincere thank you is due both Orders for their efforts during the year just ended.

GRIZZLY GROWLS

CLARENCE M. HUNT

THE ATTENTION OF CALIFORNIANS is called to H. R. 8998, introduced in the Federal Congress January 17, 1938, by Congressman Connor of Wisconsin, and referred to the House Immigration Committee. It proposes to amend Section 13c (Subdivision 4) of the Immigration Act of May 26, 1924, as amended June 13, 1930. The amended act of 1930 included among aliens ineligible to citizenship who may be admitted to the United States anyone who "is the Chinese wife of an American citizen who was married prior to the approval of the Immigration Act of 1924."

The present bill, H. R. 8998, proposes to amend by striking out the words "who was married prior to May 26, 1924," so that any Chinese wife of an American citizen, regardless of when the marriage took place, may be admitted.

If the proposed amendment is adopted, Japan naturally will demand entrance also for any "Japanese wife of an American citizen," a demand which cannot then be fairly denied. If granted, there can be and probably will be inaugurated another influx of Jap picture brides, with consequent rapid increase of the Jap population and practical annulment of the provision excluding all ineligible aliens.

In view of the serious situation, Californians are urged to call the attention of the Immigration Committees and of colleagues in the Senate and the House of the Federal Congress to the situation, with a request that the bill referred to, and any bill of a similar nature, be refused favorable consideration.

Dr. Henry Neuman, leader of the Brooklyn Society for Ethical Culture and a nationally known figure in the field of education, says:

"Though America will long have to wrestle with her own terrific problems, the tragic happenings elsewhere on the globe must make us prize all the more heartily the blessed opportunities we enjoy here.

"Even if it were true that dictators could really make good on their promises to give their people jobs and security, we dare not forget that slaves had security too. The one priceless benefit which no autocrat can possibly bestow is the chance for human beings to grow as men and women by using their own heads, co-operating freely in making collective decisions, and taking the responsibility for their choices. Democracy may be slow and blundering, but nothing else gives people a better chance to raise their stature as persons.

"That is why modern educational methods give us our basic hope. All through life young and old, in home, school, church, workshop, community, must learn by practice how people who differ can work together for the best good of all. Neither social institutions nor individual character alone will save us. Each needs the other. A constantly better interplay is the aim which dignifies the great business of education."

The cost of the California State Government increased $16,000,000 to a total of $216,000,000 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, according to State Controller Riley. The total is excessive, and taxpayers should, by united action, force a material reduction.

At a convention of the Federation of Catholic College Clubs in Boston, Massachusetts, a resolution was adopted protesting the "low and often indecent character of many of our present-day radio and theater programs, and much of our current literature."

Declaring that "Economists generally have regarded them as wholly inconsistent with any rational system of progressive taxation," President Franklin Roosevelt, in a message to the Federal Congress April 25, recommended:

That effective action be promptly taken to terminate the future issuance of tax-exempt government securities and to end tax exemption on government salaries of all kinds. Referring to "the exemption from state or federal taxation of a great army of state and federal officers and employes," the President said:

"The Federal Government does not now levy income taxes on the hundreds of thousands of state, county and municipal employes. Nor do the states . . . levy income taxes on the salaries of the hundreds of thousands of federal employes. Justice in a great democracy should treat those who earn their livelihood from government in the same way as it treats those who earn their livelihood in private employ."

The President is right, and as a matter of justice the Congress should approve these recommendations and enact the necessary legislation to put them in effect.

The following came to The Grizzly Bear from Oroville, signed by The Independence Club of Butte County:

"Our Fellow Americans: The Independence Club of Butte County, an organization interested in the welfare of this nation and its people, respectfully solicit your co-operation in a boycott of Japanese goods.

"We believe the American people, as a whole, condemn the atrocities of the Japanese fascist murderers who have rained death and destruction on innocent women and children in Shanghai, and in Nanking and Canton. Every day, every hour, thousands of thoughtless purchases, large and small, are helping the Japanese aggressors carry on their destructive war. . . .

"The movement to boycott Japanese goods can be successful only if organized, wide publicity will make every individual thoroughly conscious of the 'made in Japan' label, and also of the fact that money spent with, loaned to, or goods purchased from Japan, will ultimately result in the murder of Chinese women and children, and the destruction of their homes and their all.

"That great American statesman and humanitarian, Senator Norris of Nebraska, urged the nine-power conference to denounce Japan's war against China, and at the same time proposed an American boycott on Japanese goods. Hoping for your approval and your co-operation, we are very sincerely, The Independence Club of Butte County."

THINK THIS OVER!

The order of Native Sons of the Golden West is, we believe, with the exception of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, the only organization that limits membership exclusively to NATIVE-BORN AMERICANS.

Knowing the serious conditions in this country today, this fact alone should impel every Native Son of California to immediately SEEK AFFILIATION with that American-born and American-operated institution, the man-power and wealth of which are pledged to the protection of American institutions in times of peace as well as in times of war.

BOOK REVIEWS

CLARENCE M. HUNT

"A HISTORICAL, POLITICAL AND NATURAL DESCRIPTION OF CALIFORNIA BY PEDRO FAGES, SOLDIER OF SPAIN."

By Herbert Ingram Priestley; University of California Press, Berkeley; Price, $1.50.

This is a description of California—written by Pedro Fages for the Viceroy in 1775—newly translated into English from the original Spanish by Herbert Ingram Priestley, Professor of Mexican History in the University of California, Librarian of the Bancroft Library, and a former Native Sons Traveling History Fellow. Quoting from Professor Priestley's introduction to this interesting history work:

"The document here rendered into English is one of the earliest descriptions of California. It comes from the pen of one of the participants in the first expedition of the Spaniards to Monterey in 1769, and possesses the value of having been composed just at the close of the author's first period of activity in California; it is thus free from the burdensome detail of an actual diary, and yet is not characterized by the vagueness and unreliability common to reminiscences. As Fages indicates in his title, the work was written as a continuation to the two previously printed accounts of the Galvez expedition, which he mentions by name. The first, . . . published at Mexico over the date August 16, 1770. . . . The second and longer account of the expedition, . . . dated October 24, 1770. . . .

"In addition to the two printed works mentioned, Fages used in his writing the diary of Miguel Costanso and his own letter to Bucareli written at Monterey, November 24, 1773. To these sources he added from his own experiences and observations the more interesting and valuable parts of the document here translated and published. It seems never to have been printed in the original. . . .

"Pedro Fages," continues Professor Priestley, "has a large place in the history of Spanish California. . . . He was in command of the military force aboard the San Carlos, on which he reached San Diego on May 1, 1769. . . . September 10, 1782, he received his appointment as governor of the Californias, in which capacity he served until April 16, 1791. . . . The date of his death is supposed have been in 1796. He outlived most of the generation of notables who effected the occupation of California."

"THE COVERED BRIDGES OF CALIFORNIA."

By S. Griswold Morley; University of California Press, Berkeley; Price, $2.00.

The author of this unique and interesting book, professor of Spanish at the University of California, Berkeley, has made a hobby of discovering and photographing the covered bridges of the state. Twenty-nine existing ones on roads are listed—twelve in Humboldt County, five in Siskiyou County, three in Santa Cruz County, and one each in Butte, Calaveras-Tuolumne, El Dorado, Lake, Mariposa, Nevada, Stanislaus, Trinity and Yuba Counties—and also three trail and foot bridges.

Also listed are fifteen destroyed covered bridges, but the author says the list is certainly incomplete. Among the destroyed ones referred to is the "Macy Street, over Los Angeles River." Of this, Professor Morley says: "For many years the Macy Street bridge was the only highway bridge across the Los Angeles River. The story is told that in 1875 or perhaps earlier half a dozen six-mule teams engaged in carting grapes from the vineyards eastward of Los Angeles were blocked for days by a flood and were unable to ford the river until their grapes had spoiled; whereupon the owners raised such a loud complaint that the bridge, long needed, was erected."

Quoting from Professor Morley's introduction: "Why is a bridge roofed? There is only one reason: to protect in the cheapest way wooden floors and trusses. . . . That the principle is sound is proved by the durability of bridges now in service, and their freedom from repair. . . . Contrary to common belief, construction of covered bridges has not ceased. Humboldt County goes right on erecting them: one on Sprowl Creek in 1934, two on Elk River in 1936. A roof is the cheapest preservative for wooden trusses. Cheapness of lumber governs the use of the covered bridge: they are economical where wooden trusses are cheaper than concrete and steel. And so, in California, the heavily wooded northern half of the State holds nearly all of them."

"The Covered Bridges of California" is profusely and beautifully illustrated, and has a map showing by counties the covered bridges now standing in California. Typographically, the book is most attractive.

THE POPPY SHRINE.

(ESTHER CRONE.)

The glory of the Poppy Shrine
Can ne'er by tongue be told.
Its brilliance doth the sun outshine,
Like the "Burning Bush" of old.
This surely must be sacred ground;
No spot could be more fair
And we as pilgrims, Heaven bound,
Should pause to worship there.

Cliff swallows are nesting under the eaves of the newly completed adobe buildings which are a part of the restored La Purisima Mission, California. They add much to the atmosphere of the old Spanish shrine.

El Monte, Los Angeles County, will have its fourth annual Pioneer Days Fiesta May 21-22.

Redlands, San Bernardino County, will have a Golden Jubilee Fiesta May 19-21.

"If You Like California You'll Love Santa Barbara"

RITUAL DEMONSTRATION WILL BE FEATURED AT N.D.G.W GRAND PARLOR

James French Dorrance

WITH THE FIFTY-SECOND GRAND Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West coming to Santa Barbara June 19 to 23, inclusive, activities of both Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 and Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W. have taken on convention slants. In fact, the Daughters have talked and programmed little else than convention preparation—that and the recruiting of the largest class of initiates in its history, by way of showing practical interest in extension of the Order.

When the Channel City Parlor was voted the honor of entertaining the 1938 Grand Parlor, there was assumption that some other southland Parlor would receive the honor of demonstrating the ritual, but the sister Parlors are one in turning this ritualistic honor back to Reina del Mar.

That this fifty-second Grand Parlor may be made particularly memorable, officers and members of Reina del Mar are sparing no pains that their ritual demonstration shall be something to talk about. They hold that ritual should be more than a mere recitation, and they propose to give their demonstration historical background. In this they are aided by Laura Bride Powers, their first historical advisor, who now resides in Monterey, and their present historical advisor, Marion Parks Partridge, now residing in Pasadena. The ritual team is being drilled by Mrs. Fred Acres, supervising district deputy; Mrs. Elizabeth Coen, deputy grand president; Mrs. Dorothy Yule, Parlor president, and Mrs. Justine Meloling, Parlor marshal. A historical luncheon is also planned, the program of which is being worked out by State History Chairman Esther Sullivan of Marysville and Historian Partridge of the hostess Parlor.

Mrs. Dorothy A. Yule
President Reina del Mar Parlor N.D.G.W.

Preparation for the material phases of Grand Parlor entertainment goes on apace. The Parlor's "Treasure Hunt" has been very successful. Native Daughter thoughts, as well as funds, have been crystalized at four dinner meetings, the most recent of which celebrated Reina del Mar's thirty-seven years of continued activity in behalf of a better community. The Parlor's history is marked with many achievements of historical preservation; a steady effort in behalf of homeless children, a project dealt with in cooperation with Santa Barbara Parlor of Native Sons, and close co-operation with civic organizations of kindred aims.

Hostesses for this organization birthday party, literally "drawn from a hat," were Mms. T. Males (chairman), William A. Birss, Mabel Erwin, J. H. Wheeler, A. C. Hauan, Josephine Lillibridge, Patrick J. Maher, Bernard Borderre, Wren Burdick, Ella Alderson, Edward S. Castagna, Ben Ashley, Forrest Brockelsby and Katherine Martini, Misses Jessie Anchordoquy, Florence Jauregui, Owena O'Neill, Florence Bonn, Barbara Simpson, Emma Martin and Wilma Pearl Kiesner.

A feature of the evening was a series of caricatures of the Parlor's thirty-six past presidents with the aid of art backgrounds. These were prepared and presented by Mrs. Erwin and the Misses Kiesner and Anchordoquy. A musical program was contributed by Larry Butler, accompanied by James Whitehouse, and Mrs. O. Russum, accompanied by Mrs. Edwin Prideaux. Celebrated simultaneously were the fifty-third wedding anniversary of Mrs. Harry Myers, senior past president, and the fifteenth anniversary of Mrs. Lawrence Vale Brady. The birthdays of several members also were remembered.

Special attention was called to the dramatic offering of five of the Parlor's teams that are hunting "treasure" to cover the expense of the forthcoming Grand Parlor—"April's Fool," a three-act comedy by J. Tobias, directed by Mrs. Charles Dalpazzo, a friend of the Order. The Easter morning breakfast given by the Parlor as part of its Grand Parlor Treasure Hunt was so signally successful that it likely will be made an annual function. Mrs. A. J. Janssens, as chairman, was faithfully assisted by a large committee. Musical talent in sufficient numbers volunteered a continuous program of selections from 8 until 12:30 o'clock. Nearly 300 breakfasts were served.

ANNUAL BARBECUE

Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 Native Sons of the Golden West has been giving sober thought to Grand Parlor affairs, and is sending four delegates and four alternates to San Jose May 16-19—Past President Leland Holiday, A. C. Dinsmore, Harry C. Sweetser and D. P. Taylor, delegates, James E. Sloan, Captain W. H. Rutherford, Wesley McCormick and O. F. Huffman, alternates. It was voted to revive an "old Spanish custom" and the Grand Parlor delegates have been directed to give a banquet to the rank and file on their return from San Jose, at which they will report highlights of proceedings in the north.

Paul Sweetser will be in charge of the next banquet meeting of the Parlor, May 19, aided by Capt. I. A. Bonilla of the good of the order committee and Vince Grocott of the entertainment committee. General entertainment, which has featured each meeting during the past year, will be continued through 1938. Plans are being made for the initiation of a large class after the forthcoming Grand Parlor. The Parlor now has a membership of 280, and expects to have no difficulty in passing its goal of 300 set when the expansion movement was begun.

WHAT ABOUT YOUR WILL?
HAVE YOU MADE ONE?

After providing for your family, there could be no better place to leave your money than where it will help to make good citizens out of homeless girls and boys.

Every attorney belonging to the Order of Native Sons would be exemplifying a part of his Order's ritual if he would bear in mind "Our Charity" when his clients consult him regarding a worthy charity for which to make provision in their wills.

Grand Parlor of the latter organization, have assumed full responsibility for a barbecue which will be served the delegates. Details of this affair are being carefully worked out, the Parlor chefs feeling that nothing within their power will be too good for California's lovely daughters. Santa Barbara Parlor's own annual barbecue will be given June 12 at the ranch of Senator Edgar Stow in the Goleta area. Stanley Barber is chairman for this event, and W. J. "Bill" McCaffrey will again assume barbecue responsibility.

THE HIGH SIERRA

(RAYMOND C. WANN.)

I see, against the eastern skies,
For dawn is bright and clear,
The mountain peaks which seem to rise
Like temples, far and near.

And, as they point their lofty spires
In mute but telling pose,
I feel within me vague desires
To know what they disclose.

And all the secrets of those clifts
Which man may never know—
So deep, eternal—are the drifts
Of mingled rock and snow.

But while I may not know, alas!
Or learn the hidden lore
That lies beneath that frozen mass,
Or mine the golden ore;

I know that summer's warming ray,
Like prayer, will melt the snow
And bring the waters, day by day,
To quench the thirst below.

If it were not for such a boon,
Unwrought by human hand,
This plane, below, would be but soon
A desert in the land.

Yet, as I view the highest peak,
Beneath the Morning Star,
I seem to feel, or hear it speak
Of higher things—by far!

HONORING GRAND PRESIDENT Eldred L. Meyer of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West and his wife, Mrs. Mary Meyer, affiliated with Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 245 N.D.G.W., the Native Sons Parlors in District No. One, embracing Santa Barbara, Kern, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange and San Diego Counties, sponsored a dinner-dance at the Santa Monica Deauville Beach Club, April 28, that was largely attended and an outstanding social success.

Arrangements for the testimonial were made by the district deputy grand presidents, with Deputy Robert Dunn and Supervising Deputy Walter Odemar in direct charge. Assisting was a large committee from Santa Monica Bay, the Grand President's home-Parlor, headed by First Vice-president Gene Elliott.

Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz was the master of ceremonies, and on behalf of the fourteen southland Native Sons Parlors presented a handsome gift to Grand President Meyer. During the evening entertainment features were introduced.

THIRTY-SEVENTH BIRTHDAY.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. celebrated April 20 its thirty-seventh birthday anniversary by having the past presidents conduct the meeting. Mrs. Paul Robinson presided, and the past officers related the highlights of their terms of office, thus adding much merriment to the occasion.

Founder Lilly O. Reichling-Dyer gave a constructive talk on centering activities and philanthropies on worthwhile projects like the homeless children work, instead of scattering them among small, unimportant things. Jennie Raymond and committee served refreshments, including a beautiful birthday cake.

Los Angeles' May calendar includes: 4th, election Grand Parlor delegates. 11th, Mothers Day celebration; supper at Women's University Club, 943 South Hoover street; Ann Schiebusch chairman. 14th, sewing club meeting at the home of Louise McNary; 18th, nomination of officers; 26th, card party at the home of Mrs. Wells, 936 West Fifty-fifth street; Dahlia Vucovich chairman.—G.A.

Allen, Albert W. Metz, George Purdue, Owen Adams and Walter Fisher.

During the evening Los Angeles and Hollywood Parlor No. 196 N.S.G.W. presented District Deputy LaRue a beautiful pen and pencil set, John Bodkin making the presentation address.

Honoring the founder of the Order, General A. M. Winn, Los Angeles Parlor initiated four candidates April 21. The Parlor will have its annual rabbit feed May 5. Eligibles will be special guests. All Native Sons are invited.

At the luncheon, Mrs. Eloise A. Hafford, director of education for the Ruth Home of El Monte, gave a talk full of startling, but most interesting information, and Dr. F. W. Emerson spoke on "Juvenile Crime Prevention." Talented 10-year-old Patricia Provost was heard in a delightful group of instrumental numbers. Burr McIntosh closed the program with many of his poems and happy suggestions.

Mms. Florence Woodhead Odiorne, Ethel Hearst and Martha Decker were hostesses at a potluck luncheon April 23 at the Santa Monica beach home of the former. It was one of the jolliest gatherings in the history of the Gertrude sewing circle, which will be entertained May 2 at the Palos Verdes home of Mrs. Florence Behm-Irish.

Henry G. Bodkin was chairman of the evening, and Judge Joseph P. Sproul was the toastmaster. Short, but interesting, talks were made by Vierling Kersey, superintendent Los Angeles schools; Raymond L. Haight, Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, Supervisor John Anson Ford, Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz, Ernest Orphila and others.

TO HONOR PIONEER MOTHERS.

A benefit card party was held April 30 at Los Amigos Farmhouse.

Pioneer mothers of Long Beach and vicinity will be honored guests of Long Beach May 7, when the Parlor will have its annual Mothers Day luncheon at Community Hall. Leola Temby, the general chairman, will be assisted by Kate McFadyen and Bertha Hitt. Plans are also being made for an advertising luncheon June 9 at the home of President Johanna Reed. At that time a quilt made by the thimble club will be disposed of. Bertha Hitt is the chairman.

The memory of Jotham Bixby, Long Beach pioneer, will be commemorated in the late summer, when the Parlor, with the co-operation of the Board of Park Commissioners, places a sun dial, bearing a dedicatory plaque, in Auditorium Park. History Chairman Violet Henshilwood is in charge of arrangements.—N.D.C.

IN A MUSEUM

The little cracked doll seems out of place,
Under glass with a Paisley shawl,
And the dress of faded yellow lace,
Can tell me nothing at all.

For the little doll is an earthly thing,
Yet it speaks of a heavenly child,
And I look through the glass still wondering,
What became of the one who smiled.

YOSEMITE'S BIRD GUESTS.

In Yosemite National Park, California, the bluebirds reverse the usual order of their coming. Instead of serving as the harbingers of spring, the bluebirds fly into the valley just before winter sets in. They come to feed on the mistletoe berries clustered on the oaks. The winter wren and hermit thrush also fly down from the north to augment the autumn bird visitors to the famous park.

Michel Jr., Joseph Fitzhenry and L. J. Lindsay.

CALLING ALL PARLORS!

SOMETHING NEW FOR A GRAND PARlor meeting! A night assembly of the San Jose session Monday, May 16, so that all Native Sons within a reasonable radius may attend an important business meeting of the Grand Parlor. This is a part of a most interesting program that is being detailed by the Grand Parlor Committee.

As a special feature, a Grand Parlor initiatory team will exemplify our beautiful ritual for a registered class of candidates that will come to San Jose for this night of seriousness and frolic.

The plan set forth and heartily endorsed by the Board of Grand Officers and our Most Worthy Grand President, Eldred L. Meyer, is to apply the $2.50 award, which is allowed Parlors for each candidate elected and initiated, toward his registration as a guest of the Grand Parlor.

Milton G. Moenning,
Past President Observatory Parlor No. 177 N.S.G.W. and Chairman Registration for 1938 Grand Parlor. Many years a member of the Order.

This will entitle him to all the privileges of a delegate—admission to the annual banquet, barbecue, grand ball and other entertainment—with the single exception of a vote in the Grand Parlor. This arrangement, we believe, affords a wonderful opportunity to the fortunate individual and will add to our membership and to our prestige throughout the state.

The Santa Clara County Parlors welcome all to San Jose, and thank you for the co-operation which, we feel, will be forthcoming. Let us do everything possible to make the 1938 Grand Parlor an outstanding one in the long line of successes previously attained.

Yours in Friendship, Loyalty and Charity, W. P. ISHAM, General Chairman, J. M. WATERMAN, General Secretary, San Jose 1938 Grand Parlor Committee.

Memorial Day Must Be Observed.

The Grand Parlor Printing and Supplies Committee—Chas. T. O'Kane (chairman), Edward H. Weber and Thomas Dillon—has advised the $100,000 Plunge Dedicated.

Taft—At the annual Health Day Festival of the Taft elementary school district, April 29, the city's new $100,000 plunge and psychotherapy pool was dedicated at ceremonies conducted under the auspices of Taft No. 276 and Miocene No. 228 N.D.G.W. The program included a historical portrayal of colorful California in pageant and pantomime by 2,000 schoolchildren.

James A. Joyce, superintendent of Taft schools, extended words of welcome, and the dedicatory ceremonies were conducted by Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, Past Grand John T. Newell, Grand First Vice-president Joseph J. McShane, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Trustee Leo V. Youngworth and Grand Marshal Walter C. Richards. Speakers included Grand President Meyer, Governor Frank Merriam and Superintendent of Public Instruction Walter Dexter.

President Alfred Krull of No. 41 was chairman of the evening, and Guy Foulks presented a plaque to Morse.

Other speakers, and their subjects, were: Ruby Bach, "Discovery of Yosemite;" Merle Baker, "Villains and the Vigilante;" Hazel Foulks, "California Romances;" Kenneth Hodge, "California via the Pacific;" June Holden, "California's Biggest Show;" Marian Hopfield, "Romance of Gold;" Edna Mae Markofer, "Eliza Ann Brooks, Pioneer." The Natives of Elk Grove were among the very first to sponsor oratorical contests. The first, held in 1915, was won by Edith Stone.

Historic Sites Plaqued.

San Diego—Bronze plaques marking historic San Diego sites were placed April 3 by the historic landmarks committee of San Diego No. 108, Albert V. Mayrhofer, Joseph C. Kelley, Henry W. Hache, Albert Vallin, J. T. Tighe, Clifford Walther and Chester D. Gunn.

One of the plaques marks the spot where the first religious services in California were conducted and San Diego was proclaimed Spanish soil by Don Sebastian Viscaino, Spanish navigator who arrived here in November 1602. Another was erected at the tip of Ballast Point, the entrance to the harbor, which Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo passed in 1542. The old whaling station where the try-pots for rendering whale blubber were located is the third site marked.

SUNDAY PLACEMENT BREAKFAST AT WHITTIER STATE SCHOOL.

Placentia (Orange County)—Featured by a delegation of grand officers and members of Grace Parlor No. 242 N.D.G.W., the fifty-fifth monthly placement breakfast was held at Whittier State School March 27. Nellie M. Cline, State Chairman of Americanism, made possible the attendance through contact with School Superintendent E. J. Milne. Numbered among the guest speakers were Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer, Grand Marshal Hazel B. Hansen, Grand Trustee Mary E. Noerenberg, President Alice Davis and Secretary Mary Rothaermel. Each spoke briefly to the boys who are prepared to leave the school.

Thirty-five boys were guests at the breakfast, each being seated next to a visitor. When called on, the boys gave their names, ages, special vocational training received at the school and future plans. A number of the boys graduated with honors, and all thanked the superintendent for the splendid training received. The breakfast was prepared and served by boys who will soon be ready to leave the school and they, in turn, will be guests on Placement Sunday. Artistic menus in yellow and green were also designed and printed by the boys.

Mrs. Mary Rothaermel was highly commended for volunteer work done throughout the year, assisting with chapel services. Unfortunately, Nellie Cline was unable to be present, being confined in the Fullerton Hospital recuperating from injuries received in a fall. A telegram of good wishes sent by her was read.

At the conclusion of the breakfast hour the group attended the Placement Sunday assembly in the auditorium. An instructive address was given by Rt. Rev. Msgr. T. J. O'Dwyer, school trustee, who urged the boys to pattern their future lives after those of good and wise men. Miss Johanna Lemke sang two numbers, "Morning," by Oley Speaks, and "The Great Awakening," by A. Walter Kraemer. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Betty Steen. The buildings on the school grounds are of English architecture, and the cottage system of training is used. Each cottage is supervised by a house father and mother.—M.E.

California's New State Park—Out of unoccupied lands in western Imperial County and eastern San Diego County the State Park Commission is to create Anza State Park. Combining nearly a million acres of scenic desert and mountains, Anza Park will begin at Painted Wells, about twenty-five miles west of El Centro, and extend west to Mount Laguna and Cuyamaca Lake.

National Air Mail Week will be celebrated May 15-21, and in connection therewith a new six-cent airmail stamp will be issued by the Postoffice Department.

Foreign Trade Week will be celebrated May 23-28 at the Los Angeles-Long Beach Harbor.

Pacific International Air Races will be held at the Oakland Municipal Airport May 28-30.

Native Daughters of the Golden West

CRUISE TO ALASKA

"STOCKTON—FOR A LONG TIME, WE of Caliz de Oro No. 206, have wanted to do something especially interesting, and now we feel we have at last found just what we have been looking for. And so, we invite you all—Native Daughters and Sons and your friends—on a cruise to Alaska.

"We feel that we have one of the most delightful ways to spend a vacation this summer. We will visit Portland, Pasadena's greatest rival for the title of "City of the Roses;" the new huge Bonnyville dam; Seattle, a truly scenic city; then through the Straits of Juan de Fuca and up the inside passage to Ketchikan, center of the great fishing industry of Alaska; on to Wrangell, famed for its totem poles and odd Indian relics; then Petersburg, close to the face of Taku Glacier; Juneau, capital of modern Alaska, site of the Territorial Museum and the Alaska-Juneau gold mine, and out to Mendenhall Glacier and Auk Lake, beauty spots in any language.

"Then we arrive at Skagway, where we board the train and follow the trail of the sourdoughs of 1898 to Lake Bennett. Boarding the steamer again, we visit lovely Sitka, brimfull of gripping Russian and native history; the block house; St. Michael's Cathedral with its treasures and, because the steamer is off the line that forms Alaska's most important transportation link with the States, it often calls at ports not shown on the itinerary. These are surprise ports, usually located off the regular run in secluded coves or small clearings. And there will be other surprises for those who go with us to Alaska. We will see that you have a grand time!

"Remember, you and your friends are cordially invited to join us June 25 from Stockton, June 24 from Los Angeles. Ask the secretary of your Parlor for folders, or write Caliz de Oro Parlor for further particulars."—Mrs. T. L. Bawden, recording secretary.

"Green Chickens" Defeat "Pink Rabbits."

Chico—At impressive ceremonies presided over by President Olive Pearl, Annie K. Bidwell No. 168 initiated eleven candidates. Officers, escort team, initiates and members were in formal gowns. A presentation to the relic department was made by Ellen Crowder. For the social hour in the banquetroom, the "U"-shaped tables were beautifully decorated with baskets of white iris and spirea.

A lovely Easter scene was arranged, a lighted candle giving the effect of sunrise, and standing nearby was a shepherd with his band of sheep. Home-made cakes and ice cream were served, after which the crowd was divided into two groups, the "Green Chickens," captained by Irene Henry, and the "Pink Rabbits," captained by Violet Meyers, for a group of Easter contests. The "Green Chickens" were victorious. Opal Meriam was chairman of the entertainment committee, and was assisted by Edna Boyd and Annie Stockstill.—I.H.

Study Club Meets.

Bakersfield—El Tejon No. 239 initiated a candidate at candlelight ceremonies April 4, and a surprise bride's party for Mrs. Robert Y. Kinsell-Horins was also held. At the April 12 meeting Mrs. Ralph Sanders reported much storm destruction in Red Rock Canyon. One of the Parlor's activities is the making of layettes for needy children. Much of the proceeds from the poppy sale go to this cause. May 1 a marker will be placed on Kern River at the point where Father Garces crossed the stream.

The study club of the Parlor met at the home of Mrs. Karl Bozeman. Mrs. Ralph Sanders related reminiscences of 90-year-old Mrs. L. E. Rankin, who has resided many years in Walker's Basin. Mrs. Anna Moffet told of Commodore Sloat's raising of the American Flag at Monterey. Other speakers were Mms. P. L. Bozeman and William Dumble.—M. F.

Treasure Island Evening's Motif.

Albany—Albany No. 260 received an official visit from Grand Vice-president Edna B. Briggs March 23. Other visitors included Past Grands Sue J. Irwin and Anne Thuesen, Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Trustee Claire Lindsey, Supervising Deputy Irma Murray and Deputy Ethelda Hall. Treasure Island was the evening's motif, a huge replica of the San Francisco Bay Bridge and Yerba Buena Island being a feature. Favors, designed by Antoinette Stallone, were pirate cutouts containing a welcome note to the Grand President. Grayce Higgins and Yvonne Ellis, dressed as pirates, brought in a treasure chest containing gifts for the grand officers.

The Parlor each holiday takes gifts to the bedridden women in the blind home. At Easter the committee, President Mae Rutan, Mae Ellis, Daisy Olafsen and Marie Vargas, visited them and gave each gifts of home-made jelly, candy, Easter eggs, powder and perfume.—D.M.

Fifty-first Anniversary.

Stockton—Joaquin No. 5 celebrated its fifty-first anniversary April 21. The meeting was preceded by a dinner honoring the three remaining charter members, Misses Hannah Gray, "mother of the Parlor," and Clara Steir, and Mrs. Carrie Roesch-Durham, Past Grand. A spring motif was used in the decorations. Among others present were Grand Trustee Clarice Cook, Supervising Deputy Ada Javete, Past Grands Mamie G. Peyton, Mattie M. Stein and Pearl Lamb, and Deputy Frances Huck.

FIFTY-SECOND N.D.G.W. GRAND PARLOR

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FIFTY-second annual Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, which convenes June 21 at Santa Barbara, are progressing satisfactorily. Grand President Ethel I. Begley of Marinita Parlor No. 198, San Rafael, will preside throughout the deliberations and, at their conclusion, will automatically become the Junior Past Grand President.

Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 of Santa Barbara has full charge of arrangements for the Grand Parlor, and has a large committee, headed by Dr. Anna E. McCaughey, working out details. Reference to the Parlor's Grand Parlor activities can be found on other pages of this issue of The Grizzly Bear.

While several have announced their candidacies for Grand Parlor offices, the ranks of the contestants for the coveted honors are expected to be considerably enlarged when Subordinate Parlors elect their delegates. The first meeting night in May is the prescribed time for those elections.

It is safe to predict that Grand Vice-president Edna B. Briggs of La Bandera Parlor No. 110, Sacramento, will be elected Grand President without any opposition. For the other elective Grand Parlor offices, the following list of candidates has been compiled from information obtained by The Grizzly Bear from reliable sources:

Grand Vice-president—Orinda Gunther-Giannini, Orinda Parlor No. 56; Grand Marshal Hazel B. Hansen, Verdugo Parlor No. 240.

Grand Secretary—Sallie R. Thaler, Aloha Parlor No. 106, incumbent.

Grand Treasurer—Agnes M. Curry, Portola Parlor No. 172, incumbent.

Grand Marshal—Grand Trustee Claire Lindsey, Golden Gate Parlor No. 158; Grand Trustee Clarice E. Cook, Caliz de Oro Parlor No. 206.

Grand Inside Sentinel—Grand Outside Sentinel Loretta M. Cameron, Twin Peaks Parlor No. 214.

Grand Outside Sentinel—Nora H. Gray, Marguerite Parlor No. 12; Norma Hodson, Phoebe A. Hearst Parlor No. 214.

Grand Organist—Mae Ethel O'Keefe, Darina Parlor No. 114, incumbent.

Grand Trustees (seven to be chosen)—Grand Inside Sentinel Emily E. Ryan, Las Lomas Parlor No. 72; Ruth H. Sesna, Reichling Parlor No. 97; Alice Mathias-Oldham, El Carmelo Parlor No. 181; Ethel C. Enos, Morada Parlor No. 199, incumbent; Evalyn G. Towne, Miocene Parlor No. 228, incumbent; Mary B. Noerenberg, Californiana Parlor No. 247, incumbent.—C.M.H.

Hannah Gray gave her annual inspiring talk, likening Joaquin Parlor to a large, firmly-rooted rose tree from which two branches of the Order have sprung. She concluded by presenting a large red rose to President Evelyn Wells. Mary Ricker was chairman of the evening.—H.C.

"Glorious California."

Sacramento—La Bandera No. 110 had its annual history night March 18. The program theme, "Glorious California," was preceded by a delicious dinner. Honor-guests were Grand Vice-president Edna B. Briggs, Past Grand Dr. Eva Rasmussen, Supervising Deputy Maude Fassett, Deputies Edith Kelly, Helen Aunger, Anne Tilden, Lorene Patterson, Mary Curry, Sylva Dusdal, Louise Krull, Marie Goodman and Mildred Stout.

Talks were given by Pauline Freundt, Doris Clark, Leatha Foster, Georgia Minahen and Ernestine Ward, and musical numbers by Anna Cippa, Mary Louise Hecker, Claire O'Brien, Maryann Taylor and Lucinda Price. General Chairman Ruth Peterson was assisted by Nell Flanders, Veryl Hoppenbrock, Anna Kehl, Helen Aunger, Ernestine Ward, Blanche Perret, Marion Lund and Ada Peterson.—L.H.

To Honor Parlor Founder.

San Jose—Vendome No. 100 was hostess to over 250 Natives at its annual jiggs dinner, which was in charge of Mms. E. A. Weller, Mildred Stone, Ada F. Seifert, Margaret Farnsworth, Clara Gairaud and Julia Waddington, and Miss Tillie Brohaska. The effective finale of the fine program was the parade of the colors.

In Pioneer Hall, Vendome is going to place a plaque in honor of Miss Tillie Brohaska, the founder of the Parlor. Private bridge parties are being given for this purpose. May 11 will be past presidents night, and for the sake of "Auld Lang Syne" the members are asked to wear old-time costumes.

Irish Tunes Add to Jollity.

Hollister—Copa de Oro No. 169 joined with San Juan Bautista No. 179 in jointly welcoming Grand Vice president Edna B. Briggs at San Juan Bautista. A dinner before the meeting featured table decorations honoring Saint Patrick. Plate favors were potatoes disguised as fine Irish gentlemen with green top hats and ties, white collars and meerschaum pipes. Songsheet covers were fashioned as Paddy's pig, and the singing of rollicking Irish tunes added to the jollity of the dinner hour. President Nell Zook of San Juan Bautista as toastmistress introduced the honor-guests.

At The Adobe, home of No. 179, initiatory ceremonies were conducted. Present and past grand officers and the presidents of the two Parlors were presented with flowers and gifts from an emerald hued wheelbarrow trundled by a colleen in green, while a group in shamrock-trimmed white organdies sang Irish airs. Honored guests in addition to Grand Vice president Briggs were Supervising Deputy Maxine Moran, Deputy Cecelia Achadina and Past Grand Bertha A. Briggs.

April 6, Copa de Oro commemorated the Easter season in program and refreshment table decorations. During the evening Past Grand Briggs was honored with a surprise birthday party at which he was the recipient of a huge lighted birthday cake, a corsage of gardenias, a large bouquet of velvety red roses and dainty handkerchiefs as the members sang "Happy Birthday To You."

EVERY WOMAN THE SCULPTOR OF HER CHARACTER--GOD GIVES THE TOOLS

NATIVE DAUGHTERS GOLDEN WEST.)

"ANOTHER YEAR OF PROGRESS HAS passed, bringing us to the beautiful City of Santa Barbara, with its historical background and always the city of true California hospitality, where we will convene for the Fifty-second Annual Session of our beloved Order.

"As we legislate from year to year, we do so with the Faith we have for the betterment of our Order—encouraging constructive criticism to the furtherance of our opportunities.

"Glorious California, the land of our birth, truly a priceless heritage! We are rich, indeed, when we pause for just a moment to review our gifts of the past. Ever mindful of our possessions of the present, and with the peace of our Great Nation today, we may look forward to golden opportunities for a greater California.

"We have endeavored to carry on with the courage of our inheritance and the principles upon which our Order was founded—Love of Home, Devotion to Our Flag, Veneration of the Pioneers, and an abiding Faith in the existence of God.

" 'The sea is mine and the sky is mine
And I own the purple hills.
No one has a better claim to them,
Or the rapture of their thrills.
I own the breeze that carries fragrance
Sweet from the fields of clover.
No one has a better right than I
To be a wildflower lover.

The carolings of the joyous birds
Belong just as much to me
As to those who own vast sums of gold
In the coin of treasury.
The trees whisper secrets dear to me
As they nod and bend and sway.
The treasures they give are mine to share,
Counting my riches today.

The joys of the sunrise, too, are mine,
And the gold of sunset bars.
A clasping hand, a smiling face
As bright as the shining stars.
No one can rob me of all these joys,
Though other possessions flee,
I'm still surrounded with true friends;
I'm rich to have all these!'

"It is with gratitude to our Founder, Lilly O. Reichling-Dyer, and the Charter Members of Ursula Parlor No. 1, that we now enjoy the many pleasures of our Order. These noble women were rich not only to have enjoyed the beauties of early California, but were wealthy in the possessions of a beautiful character which has set the example for us to follow.

"Every woman is the sculptor of her own Character, and the tools with which she equips herself are of her own choosing. We must first have Knowledge, of which there are many kinds. We must also have Ambition to use what we know.

"But if we are to develop Character that will cause us to be honored among people, that will make us useful to ourselves and to others, we must make good use of a third tool. That tool is Integrity!

"This simply means we must be honest, be incapable of taking unfair advantage of other people, be worthy of the trust and confidence of people whose lives run parallel with our own. Any woman who has these qualities has Character.

"But they are not bestowed upon us, inherited by us, or created for us. They must be of our own creation, for we are our Character-makers.

"In giving Life to us, God builds a marvelous temple in which we are privileged to spend our days. Many things are in that temple that are mysteries to us—remain mysteries as long as we live. Perhaps it is the Divine intention that we should never know everything about ourselves.

"The source of Life, the differences of station to which we are born, variations of physical and mental qualities which distinguish us all, are some of the unexplained things which possibly profit us most the less we know about them.

"Certainly God builds the temple, and equips it with most of the things that enable us to live with satisfaction. But one important thing God does not give to us is Character. We build that ourselves!

"There is no mystery about Character. It is not a quality with which one is born, another is not. It is the part of the temple God has left for each of us to equip for ourselves.

Mrs. Ethel I. Begley,
Grand President N.D.G.W.

"As we succeed in that, we succeed in living. It is an empty temple, indeed, if we fail. The part of the temple God has left for us to finish is the most important part of all. For if the all-important element of strong Character is not built into it, our Life runs a fruitless course.

"A great church, for instance, is not truly a House of God because it is a magnificent edifice, because it has costly trappings, beautiful windows, inspiring altars. The edifice becomes a church when people enter it humbly to worship God, and to pledge themselves to the Truths revealed to those who accept Faith.

"Likewise, a house is not a home because people live in it, because it is secure against the elements, because it is equipped to assure the comfort of those who dwell therein. It is made a real home by the capacity of men and women and children to bring into it the homely blessings of love, of understanding and of respect for each other.

"The meanest cottage can be the grandest home, if the people dwelling in it are homemakers. Mansions fall far short of being homes without this essential ingredient of human happiness.

"The tiniest shelter, in wilderness or in city slums, can be the truest House of God, the real Church, if those who enter it come with Faith. The loftiest cathedral, though its great spires reach into the clouds, is empty of God if the hearts of the people who enter it are empty of Faith.

"So must each of us be a Character maker to complete ourselves. God leaves that job to us, but gives us the tools with which to do it. If we use them as God intends they should be used, we will complete the temple of our Life by making it helpful.

"Life comes to us by Divine authority. But the Character by which we distinguish a useful life from a wasted career is of our own making.

"It is our responsibility as Native Daughters of the Golden West to make our lives worth living in this wonderful State of California."

OUR PIONEERS

Friends, today our thoughts hark backward
As we list to old-time tale
Picturing trek of covered wagons
Winding slow o'er emigrant trail.

Caravans were moving westward,
Slowly winding o'er the plain,
Through hills and lonely passes
To the Land of Golden Fame.

Pioneers came ever onward—
Fighting, struggling, building, too;
Never thinking of the hardships
They were ever going through.

Came into this Northern region,
Then an isolated spot,
Named it then in soft Castilian
"Valley of the Mountain Top."

Built their homes upon the river,
Called the village "Dorris Bridge."
There grew tall, waving bunch grass
From Pitt River to the ridge.

Everywhere were Indian warriors,
Waiting near to scalp the band
Of brave and sturdy builders
In this strange and lonely land.

Fleet-foot antelope roamed the mountains,
Mule-deer herds were numerous, too;
Prairie chickens 'round the cabins
Fed in flocks where wild oats grew.

Juniper crowned the distant hillsides,
Sagebrush covered the flats below,
Willows bordered the winding river
Born in Saddleback's drifts of snow.

South, the swamps, thick with tules,
Stretched away toward rimrocks high;
Granite cliffs above Crook's Canyon
Vigils kept where soldiers lie.

"Dorris Bridge" became "Alturas,"
Changes came with fleeting years,
But your sacrifice and courage
We revere, oh, Pioneers!

As of old, California's latch string
Hangs outside to greet the guest;
So today we bid you welcome,
Builders of our Golden West!

(The above came to The Grizzly Bear from Alturas Parlor No. 159 N.D.G.W., with which the author is affiliated. It is dedicated to the memory of her mother and father, Julia Ann and John C. Denson, Pioneers of Modoc County, California.—Editor.)

HISTORY OF SANTA BARBARA CITY AND QUEEN OF MISSIONS ENTWINED

James French Dorrance

IN THE OLD SPANISH DAYS OF ALTA California the capital, Monterey, stood first in prestige, but ranking right behind it was the Mission-Presidio of Santa Barbara, acknowledging no peer anywhere on the Pacific in point of Castilian aristocracy. In the initial structure of the civic entity to which the Grand Parlor N.D.G.W. now comes for a second time in the organization's history there were implanted at their best the essential fibres, the civil, the military and the ecclesiastic, of the distinctive civilization of a new land of promise. Warm hearts and love of living, high pride and noble bearing, supreme faith and continuing devotion—these were the elements of Castile's gift to Santa Barbara, and the bequest has never been squandered, thanks in recent years to the combined activities of the Native Sons and Daughters of the area.

The history of Santa Barbara, as a city and the Queen of Missions, is, of course, entwined.

Some contend that Santa Barbara was the mission and that the mission is still Santa Barbara. Historians disclose that Santa Barbara and the Channel Islands which form its seaward buffer were visited by Europeans 150 years before Friar Junipero Serra, "the pathfinder," started his long mission-founding trek northward from San Diego. The Indians that were here before the coming of the Spaniards were neither the highest nor the lowest in social development and intellect, but they showed nothing of the progress associated with the Aztecs of Mexico or the Incas of Peru.

At the time the padres arrived in the Santa Barbara area, the Indians here were split into small tribes, each named from the district they populated. Early travelers say they were not unattractive in appearance.

The first European to visit the site of Santa Barbara was Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, a Portuguese in the service of Spain. The date of his visit is placed as mid-year of 1542, more than 200 years before the mission fathers were here.

The Cabrillo party arrived in the bay just fifty years after Columbus discovered America. They were met by natives who came to the ships in canoes and gave demonstrations of friendliness. Other voyagers stopped at Santa Barbara, some in 1602. Then California was neglected, and for more than 150 years no European reached its shore.

In 1750 word reached Spain that Russia was contemplating marching southward from Alaska and taking California. The news stimulated action, and in 1768 orders were issued by King Charles III of Spain to the Viceroy of Mexico that San Diego and Monterey, the only two known points in California, be occupied and garrisoned.

When Father Junipero Serra, who had charge of the missions in Lower California, heard of the expeditions, he at once signified his intentions of accompanying one of the expeditions and establishing missions in the new land.

In 1769 the two expeditions started, one by land and one by sea. San Diego Mission was founded, and the expeditions, searching for Monterey, landed on one of the channel islands. A small cross was lost ashore, which was found by the natives and returned to the Spaniards just as the ship was leaving. Because of this act, the island was named Santa Cruz.

Monterey Mission finally was founded, and in rather rapid sequence for those days, other missions were founded along El Camino Real. For some reason, the Santa Barbara area was neglected until 1775. At that time Father Serra recognized the importance of having a mission on Santa Barbara Bay.

On April 21, 1782, Santa Barbara was founded. The troops began work immediately on the presidio. The tract assigned centered at the present corner of Santa Barbara and Canon Perdido streets.

In 1793, just eleven years after the city was founded, the governor of California referred to the Santa Barbara Presidio as being in the best condition of any in California.

In 1797 it was completed and was dedicated on the festive day of Saint Guadalupe. Some of the adobe buildings which formed the southwest side of the presidio are still standing and in daily use.

Until the discovery of gold in California, Santa Barbara was one of the most important cities in Alta California. In December 1812 a severe earthquake destroyed a number of the mission buildings and did great damage to the presidio. For a time the changing of the location of the city was considered, but failed to materialize.

In 1821, during the command of Captain Jose Antonio De la Guerra y Noriega, whose command was to extend over a period of twenty-one years, Mexico declared its independence and Alta California became a territory of the new republic. Late in 1846 Fremont crossed the Santa Ynez Mountains and entered Santa Barbara with his battalion of Americans. The presidio had played an important part in the early days of Santa Barbara, but with the coming of Fremont its days of glory were over.

Following completion of the American conquest of California, a regiment of occupation and settlement, under Colonel J. D. Stevenson, was organized in New York. Three hundred members of the regiment were assigned to Santa Barbara, arriving here in April 1847, and were quartered to the Aguirre House.

An outstanding incident of this period was a serious community upheaval resulting from the disappearance of an old cannon. History books reveal that the American brig Elizabeth was wrecked off this coast. One gun was saved, but no one wanted it and it was left on the beach. One night it disappeared, and a suspicious presidio captain started the rumor that it had been spirited away by Indians who were planning to use it to attack the town. At last Monterey Presidio officials were notified, and they ordered the citizens of Santa Barbara to produce the lost cannon or pay $500.

There was keen public resentment over the matter, which finally was adjusted through the diplomacy of Don Pablo de la Guerra. The event has been commemorated in the name of Canon Perdido (lost cannon) street.

Discovery of gold in California in 1848 had a marked effect upon life in this valley. Prior to the discovery, historians say, the people here had been living in patriarchial simplicity. The town, or pueblo, was little more than a trading post, and cattle, produced on the huge ranchos, had little value.

The influx of Americans after the discovery of gold, however, gave cattle a fabulous value. The Californians were not used to large quantities of money. They were dazed by prosperity. Days of heavy spending, high living, gambling, bullfights and cockfights followed. The "silver-buttoned" caballeros moved in "gay cavalcades," records disclose.

The serious business of providing Santa Barbara County with governmental machinery was undertaken in 1850, with Joaquin Carillo named the first county judge. Edward S. Hoar was the first district attorney, Pablo de la Guerra the first state senator, and J. M. Covarrubias and Henry Carnes the first state assemblymen.

Coming of the Americanos stimulated land sales, which had been extremely rare in earlier days. Street fights with gun play over land title arguments also became frequent. Many of the Americans, records declare, resented the fact that such large tracts of land were in the hands of natives.

With the boom in the cattle market, resulting from the gold rush, cattle buyers often traveled lonely trails with immense sums of cash in their saddlebags. Highway robbery soon became a major problem to law enforcement officials. Historical records mention Solomon Pico's gang of Los Alamos as one of the most notorious bands of desperadoes of this period.

SANTA BARBARA HAS ENDLESS CHARM

PRESLEY LANCASTER JR.
(Secretary Santa Barbara County Chamber of Commerce.)

Because of its convenient location, less than one hundred miles from Los Angeles and three hundred and forty-seven miles from San Francisco, Santa Barbara has long been a popular convention center for California groups. Of late years, however, a number of well-known national organizations have chosen Santa Barbara for their meetings, drawing attendance from all parts of the United States.

Climatically and scenically, Santa Barbara is favored. Its fame as a beauty spot has rung around the globe. Ocean, mountains, and a spacious spreading countryside blend in perfect harmony and give the region endless charm. Being a year-round resort, outdoor life and recreations are possible almost any day out of the three hundred and sixty-five. Architecturally, Santa Barbara is interesting. The Spanish motif predominates in practically all buildings, whether civic, professional, business or dwellings, a tribute to the Spanish past and traditions of the place.

For convention visitors there is much that is appealing—the world-known old Franciscan mission, a Court House so striking in decoration and architecture that it has become a mecca for travelers, ancient rose-covered adobes, and tours to famous estates and gardens being among the numerous attractions. Ever since the distant days when the only means of reaching Santa Barbara from the East was by sailing vessel, Santa Barbara has catered to travelers.

Scenic drives skirting a coastal highway, or following wide roads traversing historic San Marcos Pass to La Cumbre Peak Lookout, with its spectacular hundred-mile views, intrigue visitors to Santa Barbara. Drives through the winding tree-shaded roads of Hope Ranch and Montecito offer glimpses of magnificent gardens and estates.

Since January first of 1938 more than thirty-six important conventions have chosen Santa Barbara for their meetingplace this year.

The Chamber of Commerce extends to all visiting Native Daughters and their friends a cordial invitation to view its art gallery, devoted to the work of local artists, and to make use of its facilities.

MODERNISTIC METHODS NOW SUPPLANT OLDFASHIONED SCARECROWS.

When wildlife, protected by game laws, becomes injurious to agriculturists, methods developed by the United States Biological Survey supplant the oldfashioned scarecrow.

Wild ducks and other migratory birds, menacing crops such as fields of ripened grain, are now driven off by flash guns, revolving lights, and especially designed "move-on" noisemakers. Even fireworks, a most effective agent, are brought into play in special situations when the value of the crop warrants the expense.

The Biological Survey desires protection for valuable field crops without damage to the country's wildlife.

SANTA BARBARA NATIVES CLOSELY ALLIED IN THEIR OBJECTIVES

Dorothy A. Yule

(President Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126, Native Daughters of the Golden West.)

THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS AGO SANTA Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W. sponsored and organized regional Native Daughters of California in the formation of Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126, and they have never outgrown this sponsorship. Nowhere in California, perhaps, are the two Orders more closely allied in furthering the objectives presented to them by their respective Grand Parlors, in perpetuating the glories of the Golden State's past, in aiding its development and in maintaining its prestige.

Through this unity of purpose the Native Sons and the Native Daughters have accomplished much for the good of the Orders, building up a sincere community interest in their principles and their own mutual projects. We have worked hand-in-hand for the preservation and the restoration of history and landmarks, for civic and educational enterprises, for homeless children's welfare, and for the veneration of the pioneers of both the Spanish and the American occupational periods. Our annual program begins in January with a joint installation of officers, the beauty and dignity of which has won the praise of our public, leaders of other organizations being our honor guests on that night.

aims under their particular sponsorship. Our aid has been found invaluable by the Community Chest, the American Red Cross and other organizations. We serve as workers and hostesses for many observances of general public interest, and at important cornerstone layings have acted with the Native Sons, as, for instance, in the planting of memorial trees at the opening of Santa Barbara's new Federal building.

Even the Rancheros Visitadores, who ride on a three-day trek to the hinterland ranches, have included the Native Daughters in their program by inviting them to join with them when they receive the benediction of the padres as they end their trek before Santa Ines Mission. This participation has now become one of our annual historical obligations.

In many of these joint affairs the Native Sons share our responsibilities, both financial and otherwise. In appreciation of our response to their requirements, Santa Barbara Parlor entertains Reina del Mar Parlor with a spring barbecue, where we forget business and renew social acquaintance. In preparing for entertainment of the forthcoming Grand Parlor, the co-operation of the Native Sons has been very valuable to us. We find this co-operation extremely beneficial to the success of our programs with which we serve our Orders and our State.

Many of the Grand Parlor members will visit Mission Santa Ines the Friday following the close of the Santa Barbara Session. Here are members Reina del Mar Parlor entertaining Los Rancheros Visitadores at the Mission Mothers Day.

Each summer, when Santa Barbara celebrates her annual "Old Spanish Days Fiesta,"—an event of nationwide interest—Native Sons and Native Daughters play a large part in the four-day program, sponsoring its Pre-Fiesta Tea on the Sunday afternoon preceding Fiesta in quaint old Restaurante del Paseo. Here, with song and dance and constructive address, Barbarenos are carried into the spirit of Fiesta which has true hospitality as its foundation. We also serve as hosts and hostesses at the public reception held in the Court House, following the opening parade, and we participate also in the program of the Franciscan Friars at the Queen of Missions on Fiesta eve.

The work of our Homeless Children's Agency in this area is carried on jointly by Native Sons and Native Daughters. On Admission Day, the two Parlors again act together in venerating pioneers of the American occupational period. Taking over the beautiful Rockwood home of the Santa Barbara Women's Club, we hold a reception on September 9th for representatives of the county's old families. The Daughters have charge of the "Pioneer Roster," which is rapidly becoming a volume of real historical significance, each reception adding names and dates of arrival. As part of the program old-timers are called upon and many a tale of real historical interest has come out of these reminiscences.

Reina del Mar Parlor is recognized by other civic organizations for assistance in furthering

FRANCIS W. HILTON

(Author of "Gray Sage," "The Pioneer Herd," "The Long Rope," Etc. Historian of the Ninth (1938) Annual Cavalcade of Los Rancheros Through the Santa Barbara County Hinterland.)

Nothing exists more typical of California than Los Rancheros Visitadores. Founded on one of the grandest traditions, today, after more than a century, Los Rancheros best exemplify the neighborly spirit of our Golden State.

While in the eight years since the modern Rancheros cavalcade has ridden the inland trails of Santa Barbara County it has become an institution international in interest, the true meaning of the annual ride is etched deeply in the hearts of Native Sons and Native Daughters, progeny of those grand old families who, for decades, were California.

Here the rodeo was born—in the days when Santa Barbara County stretched from San Diego to Monterey. Here where the towering Santa Ynez pitch down to the sealine, is the birthplace of Los Rancheros Visitadores.

Each spring pioneer ranchmen banded their remudas and started for the rodeo grounds to help their distant neighbor gather his cattle, which roamed over vast unfenced areas. Then, when rodeo was over, they made la fiesta and held their barbecues. There, as they vied in their feats of daring, the modern arena rodeo was born.

The Gardens of the Queen of Missions at Santa Barbara are rarely beautiful and greatly appreciated by the Franciscans, whose cell-like rooms look down upon them.

In traditional manner the ninth (1938) cavalcade of Los Rancheros bowed for the blessing of the padres of the "Queen of Missions" before riding forth from Santa Barbara to the springtime rodeo which took them to Ray Skofield's Rancho Paraiso, Dwight Murphy's Rancho Los Prietos and finally to John J. "Jack" Mitchell's Rancho Juan y Lolita. At the ride's end, before the old Mission Santa Ines, they received the traditional blessing of the Franciscans. There devoted women of Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W. of Santa Barbara, following established custom, prepared a reception for the riders, offering graceful greeting by beautiful women in authentic Spanish costumes.

To Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West, Los Rancheros Visitadores mean far more than an annual ride of men famous in the world of finance and industry. They see re-enacted in the pageant of prancing horses and flashing silver a chapter of their history—history made by their blood kin a century ago. To the members of these closely allied California organizations, Los Rancheros Visitadores stands for something out of a day long dead; something that perhaps too many times is overlooked in the modern age—the brotherhood of man.

CALIFORNIA ISLANDS ARE PROCLAIMED NATIONAL MONUMENTS.

Because of their geological and scientific interest, portions of the Channel Islands off the southern California coast have, by proclamation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, been designated as national monuments. Included are 538 acres on Anacapa Island and 581 acres on Santa Barbara Island.

The order describes the islands as containing "fossils of Pleistocene elephants, ancient trees and noteworthy examples of ancient volsanism, deposition and active sea erosion in addition to other objects of geological and scientific interest."

The National Association of Credit Men will hold its forty-third annual credit congress in San Francisco June 5-10.

THE MOTORIST'S PRAYER

Grant me a steady hand and watchful eye,
That no man shall be hurt when I pass by.
Thou gavest life, and I pray no act of mine
May take away or mar that gift of thine.
Shelter those, dear Lord, who bear me company
From the evils of fire and all calamity.
Teach me to use my car for others' need,
Nor miss through love of speed
The beauties of thy world; and thus I may,
With joy and courtesy, go my way.

PROCEEDINGS SAN JOSE N. S. GRAND PARLOR

(CLARENCE M. HUNT.)

WITH GRAND PRESIDENT ELDRED L. Meyer of Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 presiding throughout the deliberations, the Sixty-first Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West was in session at San Jose, Santa Clara County, May 16, 17 and 19.

The reports of grand officers and committees dealt, mostly, with matters heretofore given full publicity in The Grizzly Bear. Follows a summary of the San Jose Grand Parlor proceedings, with no reference, however, to proposed legislation that failed of passage:

CHANGES IN CONSTITUTIONS.

Grand Parlor:

Art. VI, Sec. 11 amended to read: "The Grand Historian shall be a member of the California History Board. He shall collate all possible information in reference to the early history of our State and our Order, and shall collect such records, pamphlets and books of which he may have knowledge and care for the same in the name of the Grand Parlor.

"He shall also prepare and present to the Grand Parlor, following his appointment, a current history of the activities of the Grand Parlor and of those activities of Subordinate Parlors deemed sufficiently important, in a volume to be provided by the Grand Secretary. Such current history shall include the Grand Historian's written data and printed articles or documents applicable to the activities of the Native Sons of the Golden West. He shall prepare and send to each Subordinate Parlor a monthly summary of such activities."

Art. XI, Sec. 11 amended to specify the supplies for Subordinate Parlors that must be purchased from the Grand Parlor at prices to be fixed by the Committee on Printing and Supplies.

Subordinate Parlors:

Art. VI, Sec. 3 amended to provide that the Recording Secretary "shall be bonded with the Grand Parlor Insurance Fund in such sum as the Parlor may require."

Art. VI, Sec. 5, Par. 1 amended to provide: "All checks, withdrawals or transfers of funds emanating from the Subordinate Parlors shall be upon checks or orders signed by the President, the Recording Secretary and the Treasurer, any two of which signatures will make them payable. They shall be drawn on a bank, or banks, designated by the Parlor."

Art. XVI amended by adding: "Sec. 2a. Each Parlor may, by the procedure outlined in Section 2 of this article, set aside and transfer to a fund to be designated as the Athletic Fund a sum equal to five cents (.05) per member per month, from the general fund. All funds so set aside shall be devoted to athletic purposes."

BUSINESS TRANSACTED.

Vallejo, Solano County, was chosen as the place for holding this year's statewide Admission Day, September 9, celebration.

San Francisco was selected as the meeting-place for the Sixty-second (1939) Grand Parlor. It was also awarded the Admission Day celebration for 1939.

A committee of three was authorized to meet with a like committee of Native Daughters to prepare a joint installation ceremonial.

Ordered, that the Order "continue its policy of awarding two traveling fellowships in California history and . . . continue to set aside such annual sums of money . . . to continue the further exploration and study abroad of the history of California."

"Loyal Native Sons March," by Les Schellbach of Glendale Parlor No. 264, was ordered adopted as the official marching song of the Native Sons, and $250 was appropriated to purchase all rights thereto from the author.

The Grand President, the Grand Secretary and the Board of Grand Officers were authorized to incorporate "the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West as a corporation under the laws of the State of California, the said corporation to have perpetual existence."

Ordered that the Grand Parlor present to the Golden Gate Exposition, a Pageant of the Pacific, a California State (Bear) Flag, "with the request that the same fly from the top of the California building each day during the exposition."

The Grand Parlor and the Subordinate Parlors were requested to make an earnest effort to encourage the placing of United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags in each and every schoolroom in the State of California.

A design for an official emblem of the Order to be used as a windshield sticker was approved, and the Grand Secretary was authorized to have the stickers prepared and to sell them to the members.

A statewide public speaking contest during 1938-39 on subjects dealing with California history was ordered sponsored, and $250 was appropriated for the purpose. A special committee of five, the chairman to "be an ex-officio member of the California History Board," was authorized to supervise this activity.

The Grand President was "empowered and instructed to appoint a committee to compose, as soon as possible, a suitable ceremony of dedication, to be used only on those occasions when permission cannot be secured to install a plaque or marker, this ceremony to be submitted to the Board of Grand Officers and, on their approval, to become effective."

Ordered "spread upon the minutes of the Grand Parlor at this time that George Hofmeister"—elected Deputy Grand President at the 1882 Grand Parlor in Sacramento—"was a ranking grand officer, and is entitled to be introduced and honored as a former grand officer."

The incoming Grand President was "instructed to appoint a special committee of five members to investigate the possibility of the Grand Parlor guaranteeing the beneficial obligations of Subordinate Parlors, and the possibility of members of surrendering Parlors retaining their membership cards in the Order."

The incoming Grand President was instructed to appoint a committee of fifteen from the membership of the Subordinate Parlors to make a study of the Constitution of the Order during the year and report to the 1939 Grand Parlor, "recommending such changes as they believe will . . . make possible a revival of interest on the part of the present membership and tend to increase the" membership. To pay necessary expenses of the committee, an appropriation of $250 was made.

A committee was authorized to work jointly with a committee of Native Daughters to the end that the Orders may annually sponsor a celebration of the arrival of swallows at San Juan Capistrano Mission, Orange County.

The charters of the following Subordinate Parlors were revoked: Oakdale No. 142 of Oakdale, Honey Lake No. 198 of Standish, and Orestimba No. 247 of Crows Landing.

A new Funeral Ritual was submitted, and ordered referred to the incoming Board of Grand Officers, with authority to act.

"IN UNITY THERE IS STRENGTH"

JOSEPH J. McSHANE of SAN FRANCISCO, affiliated with Twin Peaks Parlor No. 214, became the Grand President of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West at the Sixty-first Grand Parlor, which met in San Jose, Santa Clara County. Addressing the assembled representatives of the Subordinate Parlors from all sections of California following his induction into office, May 19, he said:

"Worthy Junior Past Grand President Meyer, Past Grand Presidents, Fellow Grand Officers, Delegates to This Grand Parlor and My Brothers: Many historic events have transpired in this beautiful Santa Clara Valley in years gone by. Particularly have I in mind the establishment by the Franciscan Fathers of the Mission San Jose, the marking of the headquarters of the Explorer Portola at the Palo Alto Tree on San Francisquito Creek in the city which now bears its name, the founding of the wonderful universities of Stanford and Santa Clara, and many other historic events too numerous to mention. But none of them are of such importance to me today as having been chosen as the Grand President of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, a station in life which is envied by many, but reached by few. In my mind, my brothers, this lofty position is second only to the governorship of this great State of California, for it typifies all that the name implies, the Grand President of the Native Sons of the Golden West, an honor and a glory which I cherish most graciously, and for which I now offer you my sincere thanks.

"Little did I think, my brothers, when some twenty years ago I became a member of Twin Peaks Parlor that I would at some time or other become the leader of this great fraternity. And now that I have reached the pinnacle I want you brothers to know that I intend to give to this fraternity a generous administration, with the thought foremost in mind of making the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West the leading fraternity in the State of California.

"Realizing, as I do, the big task that confronts me, I am ever mindful of the fact that I cannot reach this goal single handed, and therefore I am calling upon every member of our Order to give me a helping hand. Because, in unity there is strength, and with united effort this fraternity cannot help but prosper. Do not commence with a little spurt and a limited amount of enthusiasm, but you delegates from the smaller populated areas show the same vim and vigor that are shown in the larger cities, 'True Native Sonism.'

"The Order of Native Sons of the Golden West stands out in front for its many activities. First and foremost, for good and true Americanism. It is strongly opposed to Bolshevism, Socialism, Nazism, Communism, or any other of the isms, so prevalent at this day and age, that have a tendency to break down our beloved American form of government. We are steadfastly opposed to the admission into this country of Oriental aliens who have for their purpose the usurping of the work of the unskilled laborer, engaging in the farming as well as the fishing business in our beloved State.

"We stand for good, clean government in the State of California, and I urge upon our members to see that it is kept clean and above reproach.

"We are proud of many other features of our work, particularly the Traveling History Fellowships, to which we contribute annually through the University of California, so that the students of that institution may delve into the archives of the various countries of the world, seeking data concerning the origin of our great State. A suitable committee has been appointed by me to carry on this great work, which justifies our very existence. This feature of our endeavors has cost us approximately one hundred thousand dollars.

"The Homeless Children work, which we have been carrying on for many years and for which we have been highly commended by the courts of this State, is another of our cherished activities. We have placed for adoption over 5,000 children in childless homes at an expense of approximately one-half million dollars, spending

THE PROGRAM FOR THE FIFTY-SECOND Annual Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West has been worked out with all possible care by the officers of Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126, working in close cooperation with representatives of other southland Parlors and with the advice and direction of grand officers.

Sunday, June 19—The afternoon will bring the opening of registration at Recreation Center on East Carrillo street, one block from State street, the Channel City's chief business thoroughfare. Registration will be more than a formality, for there will be in attendance competent aides to help delegates establish themselves in the hotels of their choice.

Mrs. Dorothy A. Yule
President
Reina del Mar N.D.G.W.

Beginning at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon informal welcoming of the delegates will get underway at Santa Barbara County's $1,500,000 Court House, one block north of the registration headquarters. There will be a band concert in the sunken gardens of the Court House, and opportunity will be afforded to inspect that world-famous building, the Spanish architecture, the mural decorations and the other distinctive features of which have received wide acclaim.

The Fiesteras group of the hostess Parlor, costumed as Spanish senoritas, will be available within the building to act as guides. Supervisor Samuel J. Stanwood of Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W., the convention committee of Reina del Mar Parlor, and a number of county officials and employes who belong either to the Native Sons or the Native Daughters will aid in making delegates feel that Santa Barbara is theirs for the duration of the Grand Parlor.

Monday, June 20—Registration will continue at Recreation Center, and at 9:30 a.m. Dr. Anna E. McCaughey, convention chairman, will call the Grand Parlor to order. As escort to the Grand Officers, the Founder, the Past Grand Presidents and the Past Grand Secretaries, a delegation of members of Marinita Parlor No. 198 of San Rafael, the home-Parlor of Grand President Ethel I. Begley, will officiate.

Following the flag salute, Dr. McCaughey will introduce Mayor Patrick J. Maher of Santa Barbara, who will extend the city's official welcome. Past Grand President Cora B. Sifford will offer a word of appreciation, and Grand President Ethel I. Begley will respond.

Feature will be made of the introduction of Founder Lilly O. Reichling-Dyer of Ursula Parlor No. 1, Jackson, Amador County, and she will be appropriately honored. Judge Atwell Westwick of the Santa Barbara County Superior Court, a Native Son, will deliver the address of the morning. Memorial services will follow, conducted by Marinita Parlor No. 198 of San Rafael. Mrs. Ruby D. Bried, State Chairman of Music, will direct the community singing throughout the sessions.

The Monday afternoon session of the Grand Parlor will be given over largely to hearing the reports of standing committees. Miss Grace S. Stoermer, Past Grand President and State Chairman of Education, will at 2 o'clock introduce as the guest speaker W. Ballentine Henley, A.M., LL.B., M.S.P.A., LL.D., Director of Coordination of the University of Southern California, who will address the Grand Parlor on "The Modern Intellectual Cauldron."

Monday evening brings the official dinner of the Grand Parlor Board of Grand Officers at the Hotel Biltmore, to be followed by a formal reception and grand ball at which Reina del Mar, the hostess Parlor, will be assisted by Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 Native Sons of the Golden West. The grand march is scheduled for 10 o'clock.

Tuesday, June 21—The Grand Parlor will receive the annual visit of the Grand Officers of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, with Grand President Joseph J. McShane bringing the greetings of that organization. Grand President Begley will respond for the Native Daughters. Officers will be nominated this morning.

Luncheon at El Paseo on the "Street in Spain" will find Mrs. Marion Parks Partridge, Californiana Parlor No. 247 of Los Angeles, history adviser, presiding at a program arranged by the history, the landmarks, the roster and the ritual committees of Reina del Mar Parlor.

Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock Past Grand President Stoermer will introduce James Mussatti, Executive Secretary of the California Taxpayers Association, as a guest speaker. His subject will be "California's Tax Problem."

Tuesday evening the delegates will gather at the new Santa Barbara Armory of the California National Guard for exemplification of the ritual, with Supervising District Deputy Grand President Amelia Acres in charge, and Reina del Mar Parlor members in the ritual work.

ADDRESSING THE NATIVE SONS FRIDAY Luncheon Club recently on "Japan and the Stolen Mexican Oil," Arthur R. Hinton of Ramona Parlor No. 109 said, in part:

"Enter Japan! You may recall the Japanese attempt to get possession of Magdalena Bay, Lower California, years ago. Japan still has her eyes on Mexico as a base for ultimate use against us. Some weeks before the oil expropriation a Mexico City newspaper announced the Japanese navy had been granted a base at Mazatlan in return for a contract for Japanese construction and improvement of Mexican Pacific ports. Prompt denial came from the Japanese minister to Mexico, but within a few days after the expropriation he confirmed, with amazing frankness, the report that Japanese capital was negotiating to buy 25,000,000 barrels a year of the confiscated oil, to build a 150-mile pipeline from the oilfields to Salina Cruz on the Pacific Coast, where Japanese tankers would call for it, and that in addition Japanese sought to build and improve Mexican Pacific ports, exactly as previously reported. He again denied any plan to get a naval base, saying 'I do not believe the Japanese navy is so stupid as to seek a base where it would cause friction with the United States.'

"Clearly, he thus intimates that the purchase of the stolen American oil and the acceptance of concessions which will undoubtedly lead to rapid Japanese penetration and control of the country lying right on our national southern border will cause no friction. Has he received any assurance to that effect? If so, from what source? The American people have a right to know. What the Japanese minister told newspapermen in Mexico has also been fully confirmed at Tokio by American correspondents.

"If we allow Japan and Mexico to 'get away' with the deal admitted by the Japanese minister we shall bitterly rue our folly! Given ten years or less to establish themselves in Mexico, Japan will be prepared to attack us whenever we may allow pacifism to force reduction of our naval and military defenses, or we commit again the folloy of entering a European war and send our navy and army to the Atlantic and to Europe. If that condition ever arises,—and, make no mistake, here it may arise—California and the adjoining states may have to fight virtually alone with such men as the government has left behind. It needs no word from me to show what a tremendous advantage Japan will then have in its possession of Mexico as a base of operations. Mexico is no friend, no 'good neighbor' to us, except as she may fear to be otherwise."

GRANDMOTHERS TO HAVE NIGHT.

The Mothers Day party given by Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. was very entertaining, and the dinner, cooked and served by the members, was appetizing and satisfying. The mother of all N.D. Parlors, Lilly O. Reichling-Dyer, gave a helpful and instructive talk, which was followed by the presentation of the Parlor's wedding gift to the recently wedded president, Esther Rinne Stubblefield, who responded graciously. Henrietta Hoover was instrumental in obtaining the Schuder Ross group of dancers and entertainers for a full evening's program. The oldest mother present was Mrs. Weldon, aged 81, mother of Evelyn Weldon. The youngest mother was Virginia Johnston, daughter of Mrs. Clara Bird.

Mrs. Mildred Ripling of 740 No. Kings road is loaning her garden and remada to the history and landmarks committee of the Parlor for a desert bridge garden party June 11, Saturday afternoon at 1 p.m. There are a limited number of tickets to be sold at thirty-five cents; call Gertrude R. Allen for reservations. The grandmothers of the Parlor are to have their night, June 15, for exploiting the wonders of their grandchildren. Dahlia Vucovich and Clara Bird are in charge of arrangements. A "whoopee" party June 29, with several members acting as hostesses in their own homes, should please many and add funds to the Parlor's treasury. Contact Juanita Porter for details or your willingness to be a "hostess."

Los Angeles Parlor's June calendar: 1st, initiation and election of officers. 8th, sunshine friend party, home of Sophie McGowan, 989 Hancock avenue, West Hollywood. 11th, desert bridge garden party. 15th, grandmothers' party. 18th, sewing club meeting home of Jane Spinner, 3659 West Fifty-ninth place, 1 p.m.; potluck luncheon. 29th, whoopee party.—G.A.

ANNUAL BARBECUE.

Santa Monica—Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. will initiate a large class of candidates June 9. In Santa Monica Canyon, Sunday, June 26, the Parlor will hold its annual barbecue, to which all Natives and their friends will be welcome. Tickets are seventy-five cents each. Games will be provided, and a good time is assured.

PROUD OF MEMBER.

Glendale—Glendale Parlor No. 264 N.S.G.W. is proud of one of its members, Les Schellbach, whose composition, "Loyal Native Sons," was adopted as the Order's official march at the San Jose Grand Parlor.

The Parlor's spring dance April 30 was attended by an enthusiastic group that thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

TO PLAQUE SAN GABRIEL MISSION.

Mrs. Gertrure H. Rounsavelle, chairman of the educational committee of Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. and member of the Los Angeles City Board of Education, presided at the Parlor's luncheon program May 10. Speakers were Miss Catherine Bourland, Fremont High School student and winner of the Native Sons public speaking contest, whose topic was "Soldier of the West," and Miss Marjorie Watson, Garfield High School, who spoke on "Juan Bautista de Anza." They handled their subjects in a masterful manner. Vierling Kersey, superintendent Los Angeles public schools, spoke on various phases of the city schools.

In the afternoon, Louis Curtis, supervisor of music in the city schools, provided a delightful musical program, beautifully executed by a string ensemble and vocal numbers by young people from John Marshall High School. Mrs. Leo B. Hedges discussed what is being done in the schools through visual education, and Paul Cox presented a number of motion pictures to illustrate her points.

May 2, Mrs. Florence Irish entertained the Gertrude sewing circle at her lovely new home at Hollywood Riviera. The ways and means committee, Mrs. Ruth Bilger chairman, made a wonderful success of the annual spring bridge luncheon and fashion show May 18. Mrs. Maria Welch gave a surprise birthday party for President Marcella Palethorpe. The happy honoree was showered with dainty gifts. High tea in the merry month of May was enjoyed the 24th. Mrs. Faye Hammeras and her committee were hostesses. In commemoration of Mothers Day, mothers of the members were honored. A music festival and folk dancing were features.

June 6, the history and landmarks committee of Californiana, under the supervision of the chairman, Mrs. Dexter Monroe, will place a plaque upon old San Gabriel Mission. High mass will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m., followed by a luncheon and program.—O.L.

MEMOIRS OF EMILY ROLFE

"I WAS BORN IN MAINE, JANUARY 28, 1832, and moved to Massachusetts when ten years old. I was married to Ianthis Jerome Rolfe August 31, 1854, and came to California, arriving the last of October of the same year. We stopped at Grass Valley for three weeks while Mr. Rolfe bought a house and prepared for my coming to Nevada City.

"Our house was on Spring street opposite the home of Mr. Z. P. Davis and was situated on a rise of ground at the back of what is now Rosenberg's store (later Dickerman's drug store). It was battened, which means it was constructed of wide boards with narrow strips nailed over the cracks. Some of the boards and strips just reached the sills, some covered them, and others below were of all lengths, making the house at the back look like some old broken toothed comb. It had two front doors, each leading into a front room, and strips running across the boards. There were just boards for steps, with no backs to them.

"As we drove to the house I could see under the house through to the back yard. It was not enclosed, or artistic in any way. The house had five rooms; two front rooms, two bedrooms and a small workroom. In the workroom, or sink-room, was a slide-window under the sink. I washed the window, which made the room so light that I threw a pan of dishwater against it thinking it was open.

"The rooms had been papered and painted, which made them look clean, but after a fire had been made in the cook stove the paper soon showed grease spots and I noticed two little pyramids shaped like blocks on the top of the base boards below the spots on the paper. I investigated and found them cold grease that had piled up from frying pans that had evidently been hung up to dry by the miners, without having been washed. The grease had drained from the pans and had been painted over. On the sides of the front doors I noticed a great deal of sticky stuff where the miners had cleaned their knives after scraping the remains of the table to the pigs that ran the streets.

"The first night in our new home I slept but little, owing to the pigs and fleas. The pigs slept under the house, and I was told that where there were pigs there were fleas. I had never seen a flea till I came to California. I caught a few to send to friends in the East as a curiosity. The next morning I told Mr. Rolfe that the house must be enclosed to keep out the pigs, and he told me that pigs were healthy as they ate the refuse that was thrown out of the house and that the refuse under the house must be cleaned out. He sent a colored man next day and it was astonishing to a person from civilization to note the miscellaneous things that came to light: gum boots, old coats, pants and vests, red shirts, blue shirts and white ones, any number of old socks, bottles of all sizes, tin cans of every shape and size, and old bones that the dogs had carried there. I cannot describe the odor, nor remember the number of wheelbarrow loads that were dumped in the creek. The fleas were still there, but not in such numbers after the pigs were shut out. Our house was lined with cloth, and when a gust of wind came it would sail up and down. I imagined myself on shipboard and felt seasick.

"The view at the back of the house included the backs of all the Broad street houses from Spring street to the alley at the National Hotel, and the buildings were mostly used for saloons. Many saloons had small pines grouped at the back to cover the drunks that were hauled out after they could sit no longer in their chairs. One day I was at the sink when the window was darkened and on looking up saw a Digger Indian naked to the waist with a strap over his shoulder from which was suspended a knife. He had striped sticks in his ear lobes and looked anything but pretty. It soon rained and snowed, and Mr. Rolfe would bring little Addie Davis over to spend the day and carry her back in the evening.

"After I was settled I decided to make bread, and having directions on how to make potato yeast I tried it. One of the directions said to put it in a stone jug and tie the cork down with a string. When ready to make the bread, I untied the cork, which went to the ceiling, the yeast following it and coming down in a fountain. After changing my clothes and washing my hair, which was no small job as one can tell who has had a bath with potato yeast, I did not have enough yeast left to make bread. At the time, milk was $1.00 a gallon and eggs $2.50 a dozen. One day a man called offering peaches for sale, but having no change I declined to buy. Mr. Rolfe came in soon after, I told him of it and of my regret at not having one. He said, 'The man is on Broad street now. I will go and get one.' After eating it I asked how much he had paid for it and he said 'Only a dollar.' In astonishment at the price, I remarked that I had a mind to take an emetic.

"We had several fires. When the first occurred I was chopping meat for mince pies. I had heard the cry of fire and was waiting for the bells to ring when Mr. Rolfe rushed in and told me to pack up, as the town would probably burn. However, the fire was stayed. Only a few buildings were burned, the theater which was on Main street being one of them.

"The peculiar opinions of people that associated together from all parts of the world were at times very amusing. One lady asked my religion, and when I informed her that I had been raised a Universalist, she exclaimed, 'Well, I suppose you would as soon kill anybody as not.' I asked her belief and she told me she was a New Presbyterian, but when I inquired the difference between the new and old school Presbyterians she did not know.

"There were two Methodist Churches here, the North and the South. I had met the minister from the South, and a friend from Tennessee. He asked me what state I was from. When told Massachusetts, he said, 'Well, I suppose there are some good people there.' Various dialects were amusing. I would say 'I be,' 'do tell,' 'you don't say so.' Others from the South would say 'shucks,' 'a mighty sight of things' or 'a heap of things.' Associating together soon caused us to drop these peculiarities.

"The dress of the newly made rich was sometimes very noticeable. I went to the wedding of a hotelkeeper. It was policy to invite all the respectable ladies of the place, and of course we dressed our best. One lady had so much jewelry I took an inventory to send home to my friends. A gold comb surmounted her head, a gold chain at her neck with a gold watch attached, and a brooch at the neck and another at the opening of her stomacher. A gold buckle at her belt and a gold chain bracelet on each wrist. I afterward became acquainted with the lady, and she was very plain in dress, but her husband had given her these presents from time to time and wanted her to wear them to show his generosity to her.

GRIZZLY GROWLS

NOTE—Expressions of opinion in these "Growls" are, unless indicated otherwise, those of the Managing Editor.

CLARENCE M. HUNT

ADDRESSING THE GRADUATING CLASS of the University of California at Berkeley, Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, the president, declared:

"Within nations, professional wreckers, marching under the banner of a false liberalism, have created the impression, none too subtly, that a man who rises above the mass in any field of human effort other than destruction, owes his success to illegal methods.

"Banker, new dealers, professor, legislator, bureaucrat, rugged individualist, the police and the courts, the pulpit and the platform, all are looked upon with suspicion. To some in the world of today, this is a most desirable state of affairs. It parallels the background against which communism came into power in Russia, and that paralysis of action which brought naziism to Germany.

"But, for those who believe in democratic institutions, nothing is more alarming than the rapid growth of mistrust and intolerance within our national borders.

"The compelling task of your generation is to maintain and strengthen democracy, upon which alone can ever be built a world of peace.

"The peril of America today is a developing arrogance which, for wealth, created its own privileged class morals, and, for labor, justifies violence and condones cunning. This is an ominous state of affairs, for what little wisdom men have acquired in the course of their cruel history clearly demonstrates that no one knows enough to rule another violently, and that no end is good enough to justify the sacrifice of the methods of persuasion. By this wisdom are quarrels composed, violences averted, and the democracy maintained by which men live and let live.

"The principle which is paramount for democracy is this: Political progress comes through the suppression of lawless and arbitrary violence in human affairs, and through the laborious development of habits of courtesy and good will in the relations of men.

"The United States has no social or political problem which cannot be worked out by counting heads instead of breaking them if our people will but play the game according to its simple, elementary rules."

Sacramento Parlor No. 3 N.S.G.W. has for several years been sending congratulatory cards to persons celebrating eighty or more birthdays and to couples observing fifty or more wedding anniversaries.

Recently a card was sent Sir Temulji and Lady Nariman of Bombay, India, both 90 years old and celebrating their eighty-fifth wedding anniversary. In reply, the Parlor has received this note, signed by Sir Temulji: "Lady Nariman and I thank you all most sincerely for your congratulations and good wishes. I wish you all success and prosperity."

The California Joint Immigration Committee, with which the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West is identified, reported to the Sixty-first Grand Parlor in part as follows:

"The Joint Committee was particularly active during 1937 because of Japan's organized demand for repeal of the exclusion law, efforts in Congress to neutralize the law by grant of exception in special cases, and the continued measures to convert public opinion to Japan's cause through propaganda or misleading information in public school textbooks and books of reference.

"In March 1937 Japan, finding this country divided by political and economic differences, served notice through announcement in the diet that she was about to make demand for entrance of her citizens as immigrants to the United States. Ken Sato had already been sent over on a 'mission,' which he stated in published interviews was to inform 'American editors, Congressmen and the President' that the concession referred to was necessary to insure continuance of friendly relations between the two countries. He prosecuted that mission diligently from coast to coast. Visiting delegations of prominent Japanese from official and commercial circles performed similar service in a less blatant manner. To meet the issue the California Joint Immigration Committee abandoned its long established policy of silence and published in 'The Story of Japanese Immigration' the complete history, with verifying records, of the two Gentlemen's Agreements, of Japan's breeches of faith in regard thereto, and of the resultant effect on the United States. To that document no answer was made; and Japan's 'mission' collapsed. . . .

"A number of bills have been introduced in Congress granting in each case to a certain individual, or to several individuals, ineligible to American citizenship special exemption from the nationality law. One bill, H. R. 3506, declares that every Filipino lawfully admitted prior to May 1, 1934, and who was in the employ of the Federal Government on February 21, 1938, is, ipso facto, a citizen of the United States. The Joint Committee entered formal protest in a letter to the House Immigration Committee January 31, 1938, against approval of all such bills, because such special exemptions will create 'holes in the dyke' and lead inevitably to general exemption and ultimate nullification of the exclusion and nationality laws, and abandonment of the policy on which they are based. Similar action has been taken by a number of national and district organizations, all pledged to exclusion of aliens ineligible to citizenship."

Referring to Mexican Indian immigration, the report concludes with the statement that, under Federal State Department instructions, "Mexican Indians are still admitted on the same basis as other Mexican citizens. Repeated attempts in Congress to place Mexico and Latin America under quota have failed."

Leopold Edward Wrasse, 89-year-old Caruthers, Fresno County, farmer, has donated to the University of California $100,000 for direct financial aid to worthy California agricultural students and the furthering of agricultural research.

Wrasse's generosity is in appreciation of the farming knowledge he obtained from farm center meetings and the University of California Extension Service. Born in Prussia, he came to the United States and accumulated his wealth through hard work. He never attended a university.

State Relief Administrator Pomeroy calls attention to California's growing relief load. And it is going to continue to grow, by leaps and bounds, so long as millions of the taxpayers' dollars are used by the politicians for publicizing the state and thereby attracting thousand of migratory workers and other dependants here.

Unless the taxpayers put a stop to that waste of public funds, they will soon become bankrupt and their property will be confiscated to provide relief payments.

The Federal House of Representatives has passed and sent to the Senate a bill designed to prevent aliens from fishing in Alaskan waters. The measure has a long, and tough, road to travel before becoming a law, for the Jap lobby will endeavor, by every means, to kill it.

MY NATIVE TREES

(GRANT WILLIAMS.)

You who have seen with awed, uplifting eyes
The miracle of verdure laced to skies
On russet shafts that pierce the heaven's disc
Like sculptured, sunbeamed obelisks—
Who, in the rifled bore of living spars,
Have gazed in wonder at the daylight stars—
What prouder words sing in your heart than these:
They are my own, my native trees.

You who have stood, with bowed humility,
In presence of crowned sequoia tree
Whose brawny trunk out-thews the vaunted thigh
Of mighty Atlas shouldering the sky—
Whose belted girdle would enwrap a score
Of lesser monarchs on the forest floor—
What sweeter paean lilts in Sierra breeze:
They are my own, my native trees.

You who have felt, with muted rhapsody,
The apparition of eternity
In deathless forms that breathed ere Adam's lip
First drew from Eden's breast his primal sip—
That calmly dream amid their realms of snow
While centuries arise and strut and go—
Kin of the mountains, kin of the western sea,
Be this my hymn of praise to thee:
My own, my native trees.

MEMOIRS

"There was an incident that occurred to me after the fire of '56 and less than two months before my first baby was born. Mr. Rolfe had bargained for a building lot on Piety Hill, but the papers had not been signed, and after the fire the owners thought that residence property would be in demand outside of the business part of the town, and they raised the price. Mr. Rolfe then refused to buy. We moved then to Piety Hill and commenced to build a fence around the lot, and we expected trouble. I was standing at the door and saw two men crossing the bridge, one of whom I knew to be a part owner of the property. They came on the hill above where my husband was working, and one of them knocked Mr. Rolfe down. I screamed, and ran toward them. I fell and, in getting up, picked up a stone intending to throw it at the man, but when I got near was afraid of hitting Mr. Rolfe, so I caught the other man, George Jacobs, by the hair and struck him with the stone. I had thought to strike him on the temple, but his friend Smith pulled me off in time to save the life of his friend. I later learned that the wound I inflicted required three stitches to close. Quite a crowd had gathered to witness the affray, and when I went to the house Mr. Rolfe followed me and picked up my petticoat, which had fallen off in the struggle.

"Later we moved to Broad street. I hired a Chinaman who could not speak English to assist with my housework. We were invited out one evening and hired a woman to come in to care for the baby. I failed to tell the Chinaman. She came, and we were summoned by the neighbors and found the woman and the Chinaman chasing each other around the house, in one door and out another. He thought she was going to steal the baby, and she was afraid of bodily harm. I found it very difficult to explain matters to them, and they were enemies ever after. Those who came West who were select in their associations found it hard to meet freely those with whom they were brought in contact."

(For some time the N.D.G.W. Grand Parlor has sponsored a "Pioneer Woman's Story" contest under the supervision of Past Grand President Esther R. Sullivan, and annually a five-dollar prize is awarded the best story. At the 1937 (San Jose) Grand Parlor seven stories were presented, and the one here published, "Memoirs of Emily Rolfe," submitted by Laurel Parlor No. 6 of Nevada City was declared the prize winner. The story was just recently received from Miss Sullivan for publication in The Grizzly Bear.—Editor.)

NEW TREE IN DEATH VALLEY.

THINK THIS OVER!

The order of Native Sons of the Golden West is, we believe, with the exception of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, the only organization that limits membership exclusively to NATIVE-BORN AMERICANS.

Knowing the serious conditions in this country today, this fact alone should impel every Native Son of California to immediately SEEK AFFILIATION with that American-born and American-operated institution, the man-power and wealth of which are pledged to the protection of American institutions in times of peace as well as in times of war.

Native Sons of the Golden West

VALENTINE STUART McCLATCHY, outstanding native Californian, died suddenly May 15 at San Francisco, survived by his wife and seven children. He was born at Sacramento, August 29, 1857, the elder son of James McClatchy, California Pioneer who founded the Sacramento Bee. "V.S." as he was familiarly referred to by his numerous friends and business associates, was affiliated with Pacific Parlor No. 10 N.S.G.W. of San Francisco. As a memorial to his father, he purchased and donated to Sacramento a tract of land now known as James McClatchy Park.

In 1883 V. S. and his brother, Charles K. McClatchy, lately deceased, assumed full control of the Sacramento Bee, and they jointly continued its publication until 1923, when C. K. acquired the interest of V. S. During his newspaper career, he was prominently identified with the American Newspaper Publishers Association and the Associated Press. He also took a keen interest in reclamation, and from 1912 to 1917 served California well as president of the State Reclamation Board.

Valentine Stuart McClatchy
Outstanding Native Californian

It was, however, as an advocate of Oriental exclusion that V. S. McClatchy rendered invaluable service to his native state. He was a human encyclopedia of information on immigration, and he was the author of innumerable news stories and booklets overflowing with facts pertinent to the Jap menace. He was largely responsible for the passage of the Alien Land Law by the State Legislature, and for the passage by the Federal Congress of the law excluding from the United States all aliens ineligible to citizenship.

For years he was the executive secretary of the California Joint Immigration Committee, which embraces the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, the American Legion and the State Federation of Labor. In that capacity, he kept a sharp lookout on the Japs, and their tricky maneuvers—their "peaceful invasion" of the Pacific Coast—were forcibly called to the attention of the people and the national and state lawmakers.

Referring to the death of V. S., the Sacramento Bee of May 16 said editorially: "The full and active life of Valentine Stuart McClatchy . . . was fruitful in good things that will not be interred with his mortal remains. . . . And of him it also can be said that he fought the fight and kept the faith of a staunch American." The Sixty-first N.S.G.W. Grand Parlor, in session at San Jose, recessed May 16 out of respect to the memory of Valentine Stuart McClatchy.—C.M.H.

SAN FRANCISCO

"HONORING THE PIONEER MOTHER" was the theme for the monthly luncheon-card party held May 14 at the N.D.G.W. Home. It was sponsored by the San Francisco deputies, with Supervising Deputy Katherine Keating as the general chairman. The flag salute was led by Orinda G. Giannini, and Ann B. Dippel offered the invocation. Mrs. Giannini was also the main speaker, her subject being "Pioneer Mother." She related the life of Stella Eleanor Royce, who arrived in California April 30, 1849, and lived in Weaverville, Trinity County, Sacramento and San Francisco.

Past Grand President Dr. Mariana Bertola spoke on "Forgotten Women of the United States," and referred to Savage May, an Indian who proved loyal to her people; Ann Royal, who always championed the less-fortunate, and Sarah Hale, who took the initiative in having a national day of thanksgiving proclaimed. Vocal selections were rendered by Mae Baumeister and Gertrude Collins.

Among others in attendance were Grand Outside Sentinel Loretta Cameron, Grand Organist Mae Ethel O'Keefe, Past Grand Presidents Mae B. Wilkin, Evelyn I. Carlson and Emma G. Foley, Deputies Helen O'Connell, Georgia Nelson, Marilyn Metcalf, Gertrude LaFortune, Edna J. Bishop, Ann Duddy, Irene Milan and Eileen Taube. Presentation to the Home of a Ry art bowl for flowers was made by the day's hostesses.—E.G.F.

NEWSY N.D.G.W. PARAGRAPHS.

The deputies of San Francisco County will have their annual luncheon Saturday, June 4. Grand President Ethel I. Begley will be the honor-guest, and Supervising Deputy Katherine Keating will preside.

Orinda Parlor No. 56 had a banquet May 4 in observance of Mothers Day. Chairman Edna Maggi presided. Fifteen mothers were honor-guests, and special guests were Alice Bond Mohaupt, Margaret A. Barrett, Past Grand Emma G. Foley and Mrs. A. Junker. Mrs. Elios P. Anderlini entertained with a movie of her honeymoon trip to Honolulu, Mrs. Mary Maggi rendered vocal selections and Mrs. Celia Kenny gave a reading. Past Grand Foley, for Orinda, greeted the mothers.—A.G.L.

Guadalupe Parlor No. 153 was hostess May 9 to eighteen of the members' mothers. Among others present were four generations of one family: Mrs. Schulz, her daughter, Mrs. Mae Walsh, her granddaughter, Mrs. Estelle Thomas and her great-granddaughter, Jacquelline Thomas. Mrs. Belle Silva had charge of arrangements for the evening.—R.S.

Golden Gate Parlor No. 158 enjoyed May 9 a "magic show," with Tom Dethlefsen as magician. The many members who had the privilege of viewing the numerous tricks are still talking about them and trying to figure them out. May 23 Golden Gate had its annual Mothers Night. Many of the members' mothers were present and enjoyed a very pleasant evening of entertainment and refreshments planned by Eda Meinen. —B.M.N.

Castro Parlor No. 178 had its annual Mothers Night May 18. Thirty of the members' mothers were in attendance, and each was presented with a gift and a corsage. Following an enjoyable entertainment the guests were escorted to refreshments. Lovely pink roses decorated the tables, and favors were old-fashioned boquets made of candy. The Parlor plans past presidents night for Wednesday, June 15. Past presidents will fill the several stations, with Muriel Hayes as president.—M.H.

Twin Peaks Parlor No. 185 sponsored a sports night at the San Francisco Veterans Facility, and the veterans and the recreational aide declared it the best and most unusual entertainment given there in months. A program of boxing, wrestling and tumbling acts was arranged by Al Sandell of Twin Peaks Parlor No. 214 N.S.G.W. The C.Y.O., San Francisco Boys Club and Y.M.C.A. supplied the athletes. Kay Jensen of the Parlor's veterans welfare committee was assisted by Ethel Hanson and Merle Sandell. This committee has collected many bundles of warm hose and magazines, and delivered them to Letterman Hospital.—M.S.

In honor of Mothers Day, Past Presidents Association No. 1 was hostess May 2 to thirty-two mothers of its members. Dinner was served, and dancing kiddies furnished entertainment. The honor-guests, also Founder Leah Williams, were presented with gifts. Mrs. Ann Dippel was chairman of the evening.—R.S.

PIONEER NATIVE DAUGHTER PASSES.

Mrs. Jennie Greene, a pioneer Native Daughter, died May 16. She was a charter member of Alta Parlor No. 3, and a few years later became a charter member of Buena Vista Parlor No. 68. For thirty-four years she served the latter Parlor as recording secretary. She was one of the few who formed the original San Francisco Board of Relief, from which developed the N.D.G.W. Home. In the course of a eulogy, Past Grand President Dr. Mariana Bertola said of Mrs. Greene's life:

"It is a story of a fine warrior who feared God only, and did her work as she found it at hand. A story which is good for the citizens of America to hear today! May her family inherit these qualities of valor with God's blessing. And for us, the lesson is plain. It is the lesson America needs: courage to do the task at hand, to work steadily as long as possible, to inculcate love of country, of our State and of our Order. Thus will the world grow better, and America will stand pre-eminent among the nations of the world."

CATALA OF SANTA CLARA

Dr. Peter T. Conmy

Grand Historian N.S.G.W.

(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR.)

MAY 16, 1938, THE SIXTY-FIRST SESSION of the Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West convened in the City of San Jose, the oldest municipality in California, having existed continuously as such since its founding November 29, 1777, one hundred and sixty years ago. Because of their age, San Jose and its environs are centers of historical interest. It is an area rich in both the lore and the relics of the past. It is one of the few places in California that has enjoyed an uninterrupted growth since Spanish days. Of all the historical personages who have contributed to the development of this section of California, none is more unique or interesting than the subject of this article, Magin Catala, priest of the Franciscan Order, stationed at Santa Clara Mission from 1794 until his death in 1830. Father Catala served Santa Clara Mission for a longer period than any other Franciscan. From 1777 until 1804 the people of the Pueblo of San Jose journeyed on Sundays to Santa Clara for mass. In the latter year, however, erection of a church in San Jose was deemed necessary, and the honor of inaugurating this pioneer service fell to Father Catala of Santa Clara Mission.

Fr. Magin Catala's long period of service at Santa Clara and his celebration of the first mass in San Jose, while facts of historical interest, do not of themselves make him famous, nor justify a presentation of the facts of his life to the reading public. The reason why Father Catala is remembered along with the great Franciscans, Serra and Lasuen, is because of the fact that, with one exception, he is the only Franciscan missionary of California to have been recommended for canonization as a saint of the church. First steps in this direction were taken in 1883, and were repeated in 1909. In 1911 he received the title of "Venerable," which is the first of the three steps in the process of canonization. The others are "Blessed" and "Saint." They have not, as yet, been awarded to Catala. It is interesting to note, in passing, that Father Catala died in 1830, and that thirty-three years later the first formal attempt to present his name for canonization was made. In 1937, one hundred and fifty-three years after his death, the Catholic Archbishop of Los Angeles presented the name of Padre Junipero Serra for sainthood. Fathers Serra and Catala are the only California missionaries to have been so honored. The fact that Father Serra's possible canonization has been delayed so long, while that of the obscure Father Catala was proceeded with, indicates the great respect with which the latter was regarded by all who knew him or knew of him.

Magin Catala was born in Montblanc, Catalonia, Spain, January 30, 1761. Little is known of his early life and education, but the records of the Franciscan Order show that at the age of sixteen he entered the monastery of that order at Barcelona. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1785. It will be recalled that Father Serra died in 1784. The deaths of the great Mission President and other priests had depleted the ranks of the Franciscans in America, and so the call for volunteers for the American Missions was sent to the Franciscan houses in Spain. Filled with the missionary spirit, Fr. Magin Catala volunteered and was accepted for this difficult service. Arrived in Mexico, Fr. Catala served in the famous College of San Fernando, which a generation previously had housed Junipero Serra and other famous missionaries. In 1793 Catala was sent to California, and in 1794 took up his residence at Santa Clara Mission, where he officiated until his death some thirty-six years later.

While not as large as some of the missions establishments in the southern part of California, Santa Clara was one of the most successful missions. It is estimated that there was an Indian population of about 1,400. As time went on the White population grew heavily because of the Pueblo of San Jose in the vicinity and because of the fertility of the soil. Fr. Catala's career at Santa Clara seems to have been entirely spiritual. Unlike many of his religious confreres in the missions to the south, Fr. Catala was not a builder, not an organizer, and not a financier. He was wholly and essentially interested in the religious side. His only non-spiritual activities of which there seems to be a record are that he had palm trees planted along The Alameda, a road connecting Santa Clara and San Jose, and his refusal, as a citizen of Spain, to take an oath to support the government of Mexico until Spain should, by treaty, acknowledge the independence of that country.

Fr. Catala devoted himself to two pursuits, namely, (1) his own religious perfection and (2) the spiritual development of the souls entrusted to his care. The latter, however, may well be thought of as a manifestation of the former, because Fr. Catala's example of piety and true Christian conduct had a marked effect on his Indians and the Spanish laity. To this end and purpose, he spent much of his time in prayer. Especially he prayed before a large and imposing crucifix, carved in wood and painted so as to make it lifelike. This crucifix was brought from Spain. It survived the fire which destroyed the mission. Today it is preserved in the church which adorns the campus of Santa Clara University. Tradition has given to it the name "miraculous crucifix." This great devotion to prayer made Fr. Catala other-worldly and correspondingly impersonal in his dealings with people. It is recorded that when people approached him for advice he would pull his hood over his head, close his eyes and listen attentively, without looking at the speaker. Then he would proceed to give advice in this same impersonal manner. Another splendid feature of Fr. Catala was the strong example which he gave in the use of wine. Except for such small portions of wine as he was required to consume at the post-communion of the mass, Fr. Catala was a total abstainer. This example was especially good for the Indians. He was also temperate in his eating. This was difficult, in view of the fact that the Spanish people were given to feasting, and the padres were often invited to join them.

When historians of the California Missions refer to Santa Clara Mission, they are wont to speak of Fr. Viader as the head of the mission. This, however, is not correct. By seniority, Fr. Catala was superior. However, he disliked business management so thoroughly that he turned so many duties over to Fr. Viader that he is commonly thought of as the head of the mission. As a true follower of Francis of Assissi, Fr. Catala had an uncompromising aversion to money. Whenever it was given to him for the mission he would refuse it, saying "It will not open the gates of heaven."

Fr. Catala was in poor health for a number of years before his death, and during his last year was unable to walk. He would not retire, however, and insisted on preaching from a chair each Sunday. It was by sermons delivered during this last year that he proved himself to be a man who understood political affairs as well as religion. When his political predictions came true, many people believed that he had been inspired with the gift of prophecy, which may or may not have been the case. Some of these matters are reported by Englehardt as follows: "People from almost all nations of the earth will come to this coast. Another flag will come from the East and the people that follow it will speak an altogether different language, and they will have a different religion. These people will take possession of the country and the land. On account of their sins the Californians will lose their lands and become poor. . . . The Indians will be dispersed, and will not know what to do, and they will be like sheep running wild." At the close of the same sermon Fr. Catala is said to have made the following statement: "I shall not see this, but there are those alive that will see it. There will be no Franciscans here then, but other fathers will arrive."

Fr. Catala died Monday, November 22, 1830. After his death there was great sorrow among the people of the Santa Clara Valley. They felt that a saint had passed from their midst to the eternal life. As a consequence, they rioted, as it were, for relics. After his remains had been placed in his casket, so many patches were cut from his habit by relic seekers that it was necessary to reclothe the remains, and to prevent further depredations the Father Superior promised that all present should receive some keepsake from his things. Following a pious Catholic custom of praying for the dead, the communicants of Santa Clara Mission for many years to come requested priests to offer mass in honor of Fr. Catala, but not for the repose of his soul, because they were convinced that he was a saint and did not need their prayers.

As a result of this popular belief concerning Fr. Catala's holiness, Archbishop Alemany in 1883 and Archbishop Riordan in 1909 recommended his name for honor by the church. While the N.S.G.W. Grand Parlor was in session last May the writer visited Santa Clara Mission, a side altar of which is the tomb of the great Franciscan. That ecclesiastical interest still is strong in the canonization of Magin Catala is evidenced by the fact that at the door of the church there were leaflets for distribution issued by the present Archbishop of San Francisco under date of December 8, 1937, in which he calls upon the laity to pray for miracles by Catala so that the canonization may be pressed to a successful conclusion and "the Holy Man of Santa Clara," as Englehardt has called him, be hailed as "Saint Magin Catala."

Fr. Catala was buried under the mission church. In 1860 his body was exhumed for identification in connection with the proposed canonization. It was then reburied. After the mission was destroyed by fire, his bones were again exhumed and today are within the walls of the new mission church which graces the campus of Santa Clara University.

DEAR LITTLE ROSEBUD

(FRED GIBBS.)

"Dear little Rosebud
Why do you weep?"
Asked a sweet little Violet
Close to her feet.
"My dear little Violet,"
Said the Rosebud so fair,
"Those are just dewdrops
Left by the air
While passing, when mists
Were afloat in the night.
As the moon sent me kisses
So tender and light,
I was not weeping
But shedding sweet dew,
Sparkling with sunbeams,
To sprinkle on you."

PROCEEDINGS N.D.G.W. GRAND PARLOR

(CLARENCE M. HUNT.)

THE FIFTY-SECOND GRAND PARLOR of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, with Grand President Ethel I. Begley of Marinita Parlor No. 198, San Rafael, presiding, convened June 20 at Santa Barbara, California's "Queen City," for a four-day session. Members of Marinita Parlor, in gowns of American beauty, presented a colorful escort for the Grand Officers, attired in dresses of fuschia and blue shades, Founder Lilly O. Reichling-Dyer and the Past Grand Presidents.

Dr. Anna E. McCaughey, chairman of the general arrangements committee of the hostess-Parlor, Reina del Mar No. 126, presented Mayor Patrick J. Maher, who extended a welcome to the visitors, and Superior Judge Atwell Westwick, who spoke on "The Abilities and Responsibilities of Native Daughters in California Life and Affairs."

By the hundreds who attended from all parts of California, the Fifty-second Grand Parlor was unanimously declared the most outstanding one in the Order's history. They were thrilled beyond description at the grandeur and the extent of the entertainment features provided, and left for their homes extolling the Queen City for its unbounded hospitality. Members of Reina del Mar Parlor and Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W., as well as the citizens of Santa Barbara generally, were showered with unstinted praise and thanks.

Grand President Begley gave an extended account of her reign, and Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler gave a detailed report of the numerous transactions of that important office. All reports showed the Order to be in a flourishing condition, with a substantial membership increase the past year.

In most instances, the reports of grand officers and committees dealt with matters heretofore given publicity in The Grizzly Bear. Follows a summary of the Santa Barbara Grand Parlor proceedings, with no reference, however, to proposals that failed of passage:

LEGISLATION ENACTED.

Art. VI, Sec. 10, Constitution Grand Parlor, amended by adding: "the Deputy Grand President to a Parlor [shall] be present on the occasion of the examination of the books of the Parlor."

Art. IV, Sec. 1, Constitution Subordinate Parlors, amended to provide that "All officers . . . shall be . . . installed during the months of January, and July and August."

Art. VI, Sec. 5, Constitution Subordinate Parlors, amended to provide: "When forwarding remittances to Grand Parlor, the Treasurer is required to specify fund to which same shall apply, and to draw individual checks for each fund as, Per Capita Tax, Native Daughters Home, Death Benefit, and Supplies."

Art. VI, Sec. 5, Constitution Subordinate Parlors, amended to provide: "Whenever possible the check system must be used in the settlement of claims against the Parlor. All checks must be signed by the President, the Treasurer and the Financial Secretary."

Art. VII, Sec. 8, Constitution Subordinate Parlors, amended to provide: "A member who has resigned, and who wishes to again affiliate with the Parlor, shall not be required to pay the initiation fee, provided six months dues are paid in advance."

Art XIII, Constitution Subordinate Parlors, amended by adding Sec. 6½: "The holder of an expired Withdrawal Card [may] be allowed to rejoin the Parlor upon the payment of the same amount as required of a member who has resigned, and who wishes to rejoin the Parlor."

Art. XIV, Sec. 1, Constitution Subordinate Parlors, amended to provide: "The President of each Subordinate Parlor shall be declared elected delegate number one to Grand Parlor, thereby omitting her name from the ballot; if the President declines, the usual procedure follows."

Slight changes were also made in the Rituals and the Installation Ceremonies.

BUSINESS TRANSACTED.

San Francisco was selected as the meeting-place for the Fifty-third (1939) Grand Parlor.

The granting of charters to Loyal Parlor No. 264, Loyalton, Sierra County, and Sebastopol Parlor No. 265, Sebastopol, Sonoma County, was ratified.

Recommended to the Federal Congress "that that part of the Social Security Law pertaining to fraternal and benevolent organizations be amended to read as follows: 'That all fraternal and benevolent organizations shall be exempt from taxes under Title VIII and Title IX of the Social Security Law, where the tax is less than $1.00 per month'."

Miss Mary E. Brusie, for more than a quarter-century the highly efficient and devoted secretary of the N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Central Committee on Homeless Children, was unanimously voted a Permanent Member of the Grand Parlor.

The mileage bill for the session, $4,176.51, reported by Past Grand Emma G. Foley, chairman Grand Parlor Transportation Committee, was allowed.

Subordinate Parlors that failed to have representatives at the Grand Parlor were, on motion, exempted from fines.

On recommendation of Grand President Begley, $50 was donated to the restoration fund of Santa Ynez Mission.

The percapita tax was, on recommendation of Past Grand Sue J. Irwin, chairman Grand Parlor Finance Committee, fixed at $1.00, payable 50 cents in July 1938 and 50 cents in January 1939, and the Home assessment was fixed at 35 cents.

Ordered that copies of the proposed "Joint Installation Ceremony" be sent to Subordinate Parlors requesting them, and that final adoption of the ceremony be taken under advisement for a year.

The incoming Grand President was authorized to appoint a Roll of Honor Committee.

The name of Mrs. Winifred Davidson of San Diego, author of "Where California Began" and other California history books, was ordered added to the Grand Parlor Roll of Honor.

A Dedicatory Ritual, for use in the dedication of public buildings, was ordered prepared and submitted to the next Grand Parlor.

The incoming Grand President was directed to appoint a committee, with Past Grand Esther R. Sullivan as chairman, to secure and present to the next Grand Parlor a design for a fifty-year membership emblem.

Ordered that a member of a Subordinate Parlor may nominate herself for office in that Parlor.

University scholarships were, because of exceptionally good grades, again awarded the following: Marien Brien of Eshcol Parlor No. 16 and Gertrude Hampton of Antioch Parlor No. 223, at the University of California, Berkeley; Roberta De Luce of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124, at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Margaret Eleanor Willoughby of Yuba City and Mary Spooner of Middletown were again awarded the Mills College scholarships.

The Grizzly Bear Magazine was re-endorsed as the official organ of the Order, and financial provision was made for the publication of the Official Directory of Subordinate Parlors therein.

"A design to be used as an automobile windshield sticker, and which will be known as the official emblem of the Order to be used as indicated," was adopted.

MEMORIAL CEREMONIES.

Impressive memorial ceremonies for deceased members of the Order were conducted the morning of June 20 by eighteen members of Marinita Parlor No. 198, San Rafael, directed by Dorothy Vossbrink. Clad in gowns of white, they placed flowers on the pages of the "Book of God," whereon the names of the departed were written. As a cross was formed with white gladioli, Past Grand Estelle M. Evans, accompanied by Grand Organist Mae Ethel O'Keefe, sang "Vale."

THE STRIPE AND THE STAR.

(GEORGE HOMER MEYER,
First President Santa Rosa Parlor N.S.G.W.,
September 9, 1885.)

With the flag of all others we love and revere,
And whose stars float above us today,
Let us blend the Bear Flag of the brave Pioneer
While we wreath them with laurel and bay.
With the names of our Pioneer Fathers its white folds engrave;
No dishonor its history mars.
And today we hold it as fitting to wave
By the side of the Stripes and the Stars.

Unseemly and crude on that fair June day morn,
Was the banner they lifted in air,
Yet the deed marked the hour when an empire was born,
And the Spirit of Freedom was there.
So they raised up this flag by the westernmost sea,
The flag of the grizzly, the star and the bar.
Its sponsors were men, and its folds floated free,
The flag of the Stripe and the Star.

"BUILD WITH PUBLICITY."

" 'Build With Publicity' has been the accepted theme," said Past Grand Bertha A. Briggs, chairman Publicity Committee, in the course of her excellent report. "This has been a busy and, we sincerely hope, a valuable year. Through untiring and concentrated effort, our group feels justified in believing that certain desired results have been attained in the definite widening of the Order's sphere of influence and the awakening of the world to the assurance that this is indeed a progressive organization which, like the giant redwood of California, sends forth innumerable branches, both small and large, and which needs but time to prove its ever-increasing usefulness. From all over our State come gratifying reports of renewed activity and of outstanding achievements. . . .

"A very definite and satisfactory way in which Subordinate units and individual members can keep in touch with other units and other members, at least in part, is through The Grizzly Bear Magazine. Remember, it is our only official journal, reflecting and representing our Fraternity as a whole. Every number carries a message of the lofty purposes of the Order, with stories of our power as a benevolent organization, of our attractive social features, and current news of worthwhile projects sponsored by Subordinate groups. It would seem that any reader of the pages of this, our fraternal organ, must be led to a sympathetic interest in our aims and our activities. Its perusal by non-members should incite a desire to enlist in our ranks. Let us do our part to keep it alert and newsy and a vital phase of our fraternal life, as well as an interesting periodical for those not numbered among us. . . .

"Impressive golden jubilee observances, held by Parlors founded in the early years of the Order's existence, certify that this is truly a firmly established organization with a noteworthy past record and a future of bright prospects. . . . The purchase of books on California and the writings of California authors for presentation to public libraries is a commendable undertaking of various groups. Moral support and financial assistance rendered to community projects everywhere demonstrate our increasing civic-mindedness. . . .

"The history of human thought tells us that reading is the true medium of exchange between mind and mind, our expectations being determined chiefly by what has been pictured to us. So, in the final analysis, we must return to the printed word as the ultimate medium for the transmission of our messages to those whom we desire to impress and to those whose viewpoints we wish to enlarge. This thought has motivated the endeavor to 'tell the news—and to write it right'." . . .

Towne of Miocene Parlor No. 228, Emily E. Ryan of Las Lomas Parlor No. 72, Mary B. Noerenberg of Californiana Parlor No. 247, Alice M. Oldham of El Carmelo Parlor No. 181.

They, together with Ethel I. Begley of Marinita Parlor No. 198, who automatically became the Past Grand President, were publicly installed by Worthy Supreme Grand President Florence D. Boyle, assisted by Supreme Grand Chairman Claire Lindsey, Supreme Grand Marshal Hazel B. Hansen and Supreme Grand Organist Pearl N. Reid.

Numerous presentations were made at the close of the ceremonies, including a ring, emblematic of the Order, which was presented to Past Grand Begley by the Order, the grand officers, the supervising deputies, the deputies and the Grand Parlor committee chairmen. Past Grand Sue J. Irwin made the presentation address. In responding, Mrs. Begley expressed appreciation to Grand Parlor chairman, Dr. Anna E. McCaughey, and members of Reina del Mar Parlor for the wonderful Grand Parlor.

Grand President Edna B. Briggs was escorted to her high station by eighteen members of the Sacramento County Parlors gowned in white and carrying boquets of white stock, while Harriette Foothaker of Woodland Parlor No. 90 sang "Indian Love Call" and "For You." Mrs. Briggs, too, was the recipient of many gifts, among them a movie camera from her husband and sons, who were present to witness her installation. She addressed the Grand Parlor on "California's Heritage, History and Development." Her address, in full, appears in this issue of The Grizzly Bear.

JUNIOR AUXILIARIES APPROVED.

At the San Jose Grand Parlor last year a Junior Auxiliaries Committee was authorized to investigate and report to the Santa Barbara Grand Parlor. Florence D. Schonemann of Rubecinda Parlor No. 230 was made chairman.

The committee submitted a report, which was adopted, recommending the establishment of Junior Auxiliaries, sponsored by Subordinate Parlors. Membership will be limited to native daughters of California between the ages of 12 and 16. The sponsoring Parlor is to name the officers of the Auxiliary the first year, after which time the Auxiliary will elect its own officers. The Auxiliary must report annually to the sponsoring Parlor.

HOMELESS CHILDREN REPORT.

One of the highlights of the session was the report of Secretary Mary E. Brusie of the Central Committee on the homeless children project. It was, as always, most interesting and inspiring, and was roundly applauded. Prior to the report, Superior Judge Robert Scott spoke on "As the Court Sees It." Past Grand Emma Lou Humphrey, the first secretary of the Committee, told of the beginning of the work.

For this most worthy cause, President Dorothy Rule of Reina del Mar, presented Miss Brusie a check for $175, a contribution of one dollar per member from the hostess-Parlor, and Grand President Begley handed the overjoyed Secretary $255.57, collected during the official visits. As state chairman of the Homeless Children Committee, Past Grand Ariana W. Stirling expressed thanks for the generous donations.

Throughout the Grand Parlor session, Miss Brusie maintained a homeless children display that won the praise of all onlookers. It was made up of the pictures of many of the Central Committee's children, and quantities of dainty baby things made by Native Daughters and donated by the Parlors with which they are affiliated to the cause.

GRAND PARLOR COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Reporting for the Education Committee, Past Grand Grace S. Stoermer, chairman, said one of the most valuable lines of education is to study proposals on the ballot. Vote for those that are for the betterment of the state, and vote against those that are detrimental. There are 217 libraries with 12,235,626 volumes available for higher education. Last year 225,000 transients came into California; each family had two or three children.

For the History and Landmarks Committee, Past Grand Esther R. Sullivan, chairman, reported the work increases steadily and that numerous requests for information are received. One request was for a Bear Flag poem, the inquirer being unable to find one in a three-weeks search. Flag Day, June 14, ceremonies should include both the United States of America and the California State (Bear) Flags. [Miss Sulli-

CALIFORNIA'S HERITAGE, HISTORY AND DEVELOPMENT

MRS. EDNA B. BRIGGS OF SACRAmento, affiliated with La Bandera Parlor No. 110, became the Grand President of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West at the Fifty-second Grand Parlor, which met in California's Queen City, Santa Barbara. Addressing the assembled representatives of the Subordinate Parlors from all sections of the state following her induction into office, June 23, she said:

"I wish to thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me. It is my earnest desire to maintain the standard created by the worthy Past Grand Presidents of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West. Your Grand President is anticipating a pleasant year—a year which will provide greater opportunity for service in an organization whose watchword over a period of fifty-one years has been service. In order to have endured these many years, surely the foundation of this Order was laid carefully and well, so it is fitting that we pause and give thanks to our Founder, Lilly O. Reichling Dyer, and the charter members for their splendid endeavors.

"The work of a leader in an organization is not so much to direct the activities of the groups, as it is to co-operate with them. It will be the privilege of your Grand President to learn in more detail the constructive methods by which this organization is operated and, perhaps, to lend a cheering hand to a particular group of workers. The different departments have been functioning for years, led by experienced officers who, in turn, teach and guide others, so that the work is carried on in the most efficient manner. To your Grand President is given the pleasure of having a more intimate contact with the various branches of the Order and with the leaders who are continuing the work of the builders of our great organization.

Mrs. Edna B. Briggs
La Bandera Parlor, Sacramento
Grand President N.D.G.W.

"When the Order of Native Daughters was first formed, it was developed in the minds of true builders, who followed closely along the trail outlined by the Pioneers. They came imbued with the idea of building an empire. From a virgin country, they created a state known throughout the world. Although gold, as a metal, was the cause of great development, the gold in fruit and grain created agricultural wealth, and the golden sunshine made the state's name, California, synonymous with health.

"One of the most romantic tales of history concerns the builders of this Western Empire. The two distinct types of people who brought about its development, the Spanish and the American Pioneers, were so contrasted in temperament and in background that the heritage California has brought down from these ancestors is vitally interesting. The warmth of hospitality and the appreciation of beauty from the Spanish, coupled with the robust vigor of the Americans, all go toward making California the place of charm for which it is known the world over.

"When the King of Spain asked the Order of St. Francis to establish missions in the new country, Father Junipero Serra was chosen to do this pioneering. A grand man was he, well fitted by a natural nobility of character for the tremendous task. He was known everywhere for his courage, wisdom and patience, and they were needed for the gigantic undertaking of settling California. Father Serra left a life of ease and power in Spain to settle in Mexico, and to take over the duties of a missionary among the Indians. His remarkable success in this field made him the logical choice for the establishment of missions in Alta California. When he began the long journey to the new land, he was in very delicate health. However, he lived a full and complete life, doing all in his power to settle and to develop the country. He entered San Diego Bay the middle of the eighteenth century, and founded the first mission near the mouth of the San Diego River. By careful selection of land, nine missions were founded and flourished under the guidance of this courageous priest. Gaspar de Portola, the great explorer, accompanied Father Serra with a group of soldiers. He wandered up the Pacific coast and, while searching for Monterey Bay, came upon a large body of water now known as San Francisco Bay, which he named in honor of St. Francis.

"We Californians of today owe a great debt to the wisdom of these Spanish builders, for they did much to develop our agricultural wealth. The Spanish found the soil and the climate very much like that of countries of the Mediterranean Sea. They imported figs, dates, oranges, lemons and olives and many other plants from these countries. They arranged to bring water down from the sloping hills, and irrigated the fertile valley lands. The industry of the Spanish grew, and they soon had great herds of cattle and horses, in addition to fields of wheat and barley.

"As the missions developed in number, many families from Spain and Mexico were attracted to the new land. These people prospered, living on the natural wealth of the country of their adoption. A new feeling of independence grew within their hearts. The work of the Spanish builders was taking concrete form in a definite stand toward the government, for when Mexico freed herself from the Spanish yoke in 1822, California became a province of Mexico.

"Due to isolation by sea and mountain, California had few transient guests. However, a few Americans from time to time penetrated the fastness of the forbidding Sierra. One of the first of these was a trapper by the name of Jedediah Smith, who made a heroic trek across the Rocky Mountains and the high Sierra into California.

"The development of northern California really began with the settlement of the Swiss pioneer, John Augustus Sutter, on the banks of the Sacramento River in 1839. Little did Sutter realize he was laying the foundation of one of the most important entities in the creation of the magnificent empire of the Pacific states. The fort which he established in Sacramento became very popular with the Pioneers, and they looked forward to their arrival at this point as the culmination of their journey across the continent. His well-known hospitality beckoned to them across the plains, giving them courage in the face of great suffering.

"Events followed in rapid succession the growth of this interesting country. The Mexicans were not too pleased at the advent of more Americans, and were less pleased when Fremont came out to establish a new route from the United States to the Pacific Coast. The Mexican commander made an issue of their presence, and ordered Fremont, his scout, Kit Carson, and their sixty men to leave the country. In reply, Fremont imprisoned General Vallejo in Sutter's Fort and, in June 1846, the Republic of California was born at Sonoma, and the Bear Flag, California's own emblem to this day, was raised.

"Commodore Sloat had been ordered by the United States to seize the ports of Upper California, because the United States and Mexico were at war. So in July he entered Monterey Bay and, over the old Custom House, ran up the

AS MELLOWED CHIMES RANG OUT from the ancient bells of Mission San Gabriel Archangel, Sunday, June 5, the history and landmarks committee of Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. unveiled a bronze plaque on the wall facing Mission boulevard of the ancient pueblo. The carved words read: "Mission San Gabriel Archangel, founded September 8, 1771. Marked June 5, 1938, by Californiana Parlor No. 247 Native Daughters of the Golden West." Many Native Sons and Native Daughters, Pioneers and residents of the mission town and southern California attended the solemn and interesting rites of the plaque unveiling.

Mrs. Alfred A. Sitton, program chairman of the Parlor, presided and gave an inspiring history of the ancient pile, stating the mission had played a most important part in the history of California, and paying tribute to the foresight of the brave men who pioneered the new world. "Close your eyes on the world of today," she said, "and visualize the Alta California of 175 years ago, when Spain feared an invasion and, in 1765, decided that occupation and settlement of San Diego and Monterey should be made. The cross marched side by side with the sword, the leaders being Governor Portola and the Franciscan padre, Father Junipero Serra."

The story of the selection of the site for San Gabriel Mission, the erection of various buildings, the planting of crops and the conversion of hosts of Indians by the friars held the rapt attention of the audience. "Slowly civilization encroached upon the mission territory," continued Mrs. Sitton, "and today the historic structure is in the heart of a thriving city, still carrying on the work for which it was founded 167 years ago. . . . As we leave this beautiful building," she concluded, "and go forth into the busy world of today, let us pause to reflect upon the history that lies in these walls, that the world of today may carry the same message of heroism and unselfish devotion to the world of tomorrow as we have received from the past."

Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer spoke pleasingly of the work of the Native Daughters. Mrs. Dexter Monroe, chairman of the history and landmarks committee of the Parlor, said one of her great-great grandfathers, Sergeant Ortega, discovered San Francisco Bay, and the other, Governor Jose Arguello, gave the land for the mission from his grant. She unveiled the plaque. Mrs. Harold J. Palethorpe, president of Californiana and the great-granddaughter of the hardy Kentucky trapper and California Pioneer, William Wolfskill, told of her pleasure in carrying out the Parlor's long-desired plan of marking the aged mission church, and presented the marker to Father de Prada, who accepted it with a few fitting words.

Other speakers were Commissioner Arthur W. Kennedy of Los Angeles and Mayor Albert J. Grieb of San Gabriel. School children of San Gabriel in colorful costumes sang stirring songs. Mrs. Maria Lopez-Lowther threw open her lovely old adobe home and, with Mrs. Arthur Holliday as co-hostess, served tea to many guests.—O.L.

NEW N.S. PARLOR TO BE INSTITUTED.

A newly organized N.S.G.W. Parlor, to be known as East Los Angeles, will be formally instituted at the Poppy Trail Villa July 11 by Grand President Joseph J. McShane and other grand officers. Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz will be the chairman of the evening, and the ritual will be exemplified by officers of Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 and Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267. Organization of this parlor has been promoted by Sheriff Biscailuz, Junior Past Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, Deputy Grand President Bernard G. Hiss, Clarke Greenfield, Walter Smith and Tony Leyva. Much of the credit for the success of the efforts put forth is due Allen R. Martin, who will be among the initiates institution night, and also Evelyn White, who contemplates the organization of a parlor of Native Daughters in the district in the immediate future.

At 6 o'clock the evening of the institution there will be a spectacular parade down Whittier boulevard to the music of the Whittier State School band, and the drum and bugle corps of Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. in their colorful Spanish uniforms. In line will be the charter members of the new parlor, officers and members of surrounding southern California Parlors, and many city and county officials. In honor of Charles Ripple, president-elect of East Los Angeles, the parade will be escorted by the State Highway Patrol. June 7 members of the new Parlor met and completed organization by the election of a complete corps of new officers, including Allen Martin, senior past president; G. W. C. Baker, junior past president; Charles Ripple, president, and Newell Ralphs, recording secretary.—B.G.H.

GRANDMOTHERS CREATE FUN RIOT.

Fourteen grandmothers of Los Angeles No. 124 N.D.G.W. entertained other members of the Parlor June 15. During the meeting prior to the program they were presented with lovely corsages, and prizes were given the youngest and the oldest grandmothers. After the meeting closed all dignity was laid aside to present "Aunt Suzy Q's Family Album." Mary McAnany, the narrator, was assisted by Ellen Wilson, the new grandmother who called to show off her first grandchild. Clara Bird provided appropriate background music.

Those presented as pictures were Clara Bird, banker's daughter, the social butterfly; Caroline Pinger, the suffragette who campaigned for women's rights; Dahlia Vucovich, Uncle Snazzy, the gay old clog; Verna Wells, Floradora the risque chorus girl; Mabel Martin, a weeping bride; Clara Hunt, the editor's wife who ran the gossip column; Ethel Kennedy, the gay widow; Sophia McGowen, the village milliner; Kate Williams, the mother who untiringly worked for family and needy friends; Ella Sherwood, the pretty schoolteacher; Rose Hughes, the family dressmaker, and Mary Thomas, everyone's idea of the sweet, kind and adored grandmother. The program ended with the entire cast singing "Till We Meet Again."

The riot squad was almost called as the author of the skit appeared as Uncle Snazzy, dressed in brown suit, derby and striped purple sweater, and adorned with false hair and moustache. Assisted by Edna Holcomb, refreshments of homemade cake and coffee, prepared by all the grandmothers, were served.

The newly-elected officers of Los Angeles, with Miss Anna T. Schiebusch as president, will be publicly installed July 15 at 8:30 in Gibson Art Salon of the Friday Morning Club, 940 South Figueroa. A reception and a program will follow the installation ceremonies. All Natives are cordially invited.

ANNUAL BARBECUE.

Santa Monica—Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. elected officers June 2, and Gene C. Elliott was selected for president. The Parlor's membership-roll continues to grow, nine candidates being initiated June 9. Another large class will be initiated July 28.

Santa Monica Bay June 26 featured its annual barbecue in Santa Monica Canyon. It was a most successful affair, largely attended by members of all the neighboring Parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters. Ysidro Reyes was chairman of the arrangements committee. The Parlor is sponsoring a card party the second Tuesday of each month at Native Sons Hall, 1334½ Fifth street.

SUN DIAL FUND ENRICHED.

Long Beach—Members having birthdays in June were honor-guests of Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. June 16. Visitors included Grand Marshal Hazel Hansen, Supervising Deputy Ione Gillette, Deputy Rebecca Hasson and members of Verdugo Parlor No. 240. Ruth Johnson was chairman of the evening.

The California thimble club, an auxiliary of Long Beach, met June 9 in the garden at the home of President Johanna Reed. An enjoyable card party was held June 18 at the Downey home of May Gillies. A goodly sum was realized for the sun dial fund.—A.W.

The Parlor entertained Deputy Flora M. Jacobson at a Chinese dinner.

"LET THERE BE MUSIC."

June 14 marking the tenth birthday of Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W., a luncheon honored charter members and friends. The tables, beautifully decorated, were arranged to mark the twelve months of the year, the 135 in attendance being seated according to their birth months. Mrs. Charles W. Decker, program chairman, introduced a number of the honor guests, including Rev. Erick Bloy of St. Paul's Cathedral, who delivered an invocation; Grand Marshal Hazel Hansen and Grand Trustee Mary B. Noerenberg; Deputy Betty Sanders, who was presented with a gift; Supervising Deputy Ione Gillette; Chairman Mabel Socha of the City Park Commission, and Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer, who organized the Parlor.

As the occasion also celebrated Flag Day, Mrs. Decker gave the history of the origin of the pledge of allegiance to the Stars and Stripes, saying "The honor goes to Frank Bellamy of Cherryville, Kansas, who, when a boy, won a school prize offered for the best pledge. His remains rest in an unmarked grave." The speaker said she would make an effort to raise funds for a monument, and might request help from the Native Daughters.

Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, a charter member of the Parlor, delivered a thrilling address on "Let There Be Music." She said there had always been music in this state, from the primitive rhythm of the Indians to the wonders of the present, when the eyes of the world are musically upon southern California and the Hollywood Bowl. President Marcella Palethorpe introduced Patricia Provost, Cornelia Niles and Raymond McFeeters, who pleased with musical numbers and dances. Marybelle Chapman charmed with a group of lovely Spanish songs.

The Gertrude sewing circle of Californiana was delightfully entertained June 6 at the magnificent and spacious San Marino home of Mrs. Lillian Thompson. Assisting her were Edith Adams, chairman of the circle, and Nellie Sander. Delia Price directed the community sing. Gifts were presented Agnes Kreinwinkel, soon to become a bride, Dolores Wanrmund, a high school graduate, and Deputy Betty Sanders. It was a glorious occasion! Officers of the Parlor, with Mrs. Marian Johnson as president, will be publicly installed July 12 at the Hollywood Studio Club.—O.L.

In appreciation for the splendid co-operation she has given all activities during her years of membership, the honoree was presented with a lamp.—R.B.

GRAND PRESIDENT ETHEL I. BEGLEY of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West was honor-guest of the thirty deputy grand presidents of San Francisco at a delightful luncheon June 4. Supervising Deputy Katherine Keating presided. There was a very large attendance of Native Daughters and Native Sons, including grand officers, Past Grand Presidents and representatives of various Subordinate Parlors.

Director Fred Parr of the Golden Gate International Exposition addressed the throng on "Treasure Island," and interesting previews of San Francisco's 1939 exposition were displayed by Publicity Director Frank Peterson. Grand President Begley was also a speaker, and a program of instrumental and vocal music was presented. The occasion was a huge success.—H.B.N.

TWENTY-FOUR INITIATED.

The first official visit of Grand President Joseph J. McShane was made to Presidio Parlor No. 194 N.S.G.W., May 23. The occasion was the initiation of a class of twenty-four candidates at the Parlor's new meetingplace, El Presidio Hall, 2451 Lombard street.

Grand President McShane, in the course of a stirring address, praised the Parlor for its progressiveness and outlined his plans for the year. Other speakers were Grand Trustee Lloyd J. Cosgrove and Grand Historian Dr. Peter T. Conmy, the latter a member of Presidio.

HISTORICAL NAME FOR NEW BUILDING.

San Francisco's new Federal Post Office Building, located at Mission and Spear streets, will, it is expected, be given a historical name, Rincon.

At the request of Postmaster McCarthy and Assistant Postmaster Burke, Grand Historian Dr. Peter T. Conmy of the Native Sons investigated the possibility of the historical name Rincon being applicable to the area in which the new structure stands. He reported that the Post Office Building may very appropriately be given the name, as it is located on what was Rincon Point.

SUPERVISING N.D. DEPUTY HONORED.

Katherine Keating, N.D.G.W. supervising district deputy grand president of San Francisco was honored at a June 12 breakfast given by the county's twenty district deputies. Grand President Ethel I. Begley was a guest. Mrs. May Baumeister was general chairman of the affair, and Mrs. Ida Corrigan had charge of the beautiful table decorations. Mrs. Keating was presented with airplane luggage.

Deputies in attendance included Katherine Askew, Margaret Barrett, Genevieve Martell, Ann Dippel, Eileen Taube, Marilyn Metcalfe, Mona Theisen, Mazie Roderick, Ellen Gooch, Orinda Giannini, Thelma Flake, Georgia Nelson, Mary Sullivan, Gertrude LaFortune, Evelyn Kilkenney, Edna Brilliant, Ruth Truesdale and May Baumeister.—H.B.N.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY IN NEW QUARTERS.

The California Historical Society recently opened new headquarters at 546 McAllister street. The two-story building is in the nature of a museum of California history, and there are facilities for research.

June 4 the Society had open house for members of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, and a large number visited. As representatives of the Grand Parlor, Grand President Joseph J. McShane, Grand Secretary John T. Regan and Grand Historian Dr. Peter T. Conmy signed the roster.

A REAL NATIVES WEDDING.

Mary Elizabeth Duval of Twin Peaks Parlor No. 185 N.D.G.W. and District Deputy Grand President Bernard Jeremiah Dillon, past president of Guadalupe Parlor No. 231 N.S.G.W. were wedded June 4. Mrs. George Langley, sister of the bride and also a member of Twin Peaks N.D.G.W., and George A. Langley of Twin Peaks Parlor No. 214 N.S.G.W. were the bridesmaid and the best man.

"Cupid" Almon Wolcott, treasurer of Guadalupe Parlor N.S.G.W. issued the marriage license, and the marriage ceremony was performed by Municipal Judge George W. Schonfeld of South San Francisco Parlor No. 157 N.S.G.W.

N.D.G.W. NEWS BRIEFS.

Miss Audrey Becker has been elected president of Dolores Parlor No. 169. June 8 "German night" was staged, and folk dances, recitations and musical numbers rounded out an evening of pleasure. June 27 the drill team was entertained by Juanita Blanchfield, Alice Kane, Mabel Lewis and Hazel Nelson at the home of Mrs. David Lewis.—H.B.N.

Castro Parlor No. 178 had as honor-guests June 15 the Charter members and the past presidents. The latter, attired in styles of days gone by, filled the several stations. A delicious repast was enjoyed. Mrs. Grace Browne was chairman of the committee that handled the successful affair. Agnes Briggs, president-elect, heads Castro's new corps of officers. The Parlor is making plans for a public whist party in the near-future.—M.E.H.

The first structure erected by White men on the peninsula south of San Francisco was built in 1778. It was known as the Mission Hospice, the "Halfway House" between Mission Dolores in San Francisco and Mission Santa Clara.

ADMISSION DAY AT VALLEJO

VALLEJO—VALLEJO PARLOR NO. 77 N.S.G.W. is making splendid progress with arrangements for the three-day, statewide Admission Day celebration to be held in this Solano County metropolis September 8, 9 and 10. The Board of Supervisors has endorsed the celebration by a contribution of $1,000 to help defray expenses. The Parlor's general committee that for some time has been meeting and working out the numerous details connected with the celebration includes:

Luther E. Gibson, chairman; T. J. O'Hara, first vice-chairman; Harry G. Williams, second vice-chairman; W. J. Towney, secretary; S. J. McKnight, treasurer; L. J. Bussboom, J. J. Combs, George C. Demmon, Dan Foley, Orvin B. Gaston, G. G. Halliday, Werner B. Hallin, William N. Hatt, M. L. Higuera, F. J. Holdever, B. L. Johnson, B. W. Johnson, J. J. Madigan, C. L. Miner, George Roe, F. C. Segoria, Harry V. Soanes, Jack Thornton, Arthur J. Valli, W. H. Wiggins, Dr. E. J. Casper, Russell F. O'Hara and John P. Ryan. Representing the Native Daughters on this general committee are Celia Barskey, Elvena Woodard and Guilda Keller of Vallejo Parlor No. 195.

The tentative three-day program for the Vallejo Admission Day celebration is overflowing with feature events. The outstanding one, of course, will be the Admission Day, September 9, parade in which Native Sons and Native Daughters from all parts of California will participate. The parade will be in charge of Grand Marshal Harold J. Zimmerman, who has named Sheriff John R. Thornton as his chief aide.

A local feature having to do with the celebration will be the selection of a Girl of the Golden West and her Caballero to reign over the Admission Day festivities. This contest will get under way during July. It will be open only to native-born sons and daughters of California.

Special District—Donner No. 162, Liberty No. 193.

Much other business of a routine nature was transacted, and at 5:45 p.m. the Board adjourned out of respect to the memory of Past Grand President Judge Charles E. McLaughlin, deceased.

There are thousands of fine eligibles just waiting to be extended an invitation to affiliate with the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West. Be a recruiter—extend the invitation today, not tomorrow!

CALIFORNIA'S HERITAGE AND HISTORY

Stars and Stripes. Commodore Stockton, Captain Fremont and General Kearney all worked toward the conquest of California. And so, to these builders of a material type do we owe today our allegiance to the United States, for through their efforts California became a part of the United States. September 9, 1850, she was admitted to the Union as the thirty-first State.

"The majority of us are unaware of the great hights to which our State has attained in modern industry. The natural resources at our command on land and sea give us an unprecedented place in world commercial affairs. It is natural for us to accept these conditions and this state of development without giving thought to the toil and the labor required for the successful completion of this work by our Pioneer Fathers and Mothers.

"When the world thinks of California, the picture of gold comes instantly to mind, the fabulous stories of gold so prolific in mountain and desert. The Indians knew of gold in the gravel streams near Los Angeles as early as 1841, but it was when James Marshall found gold in Sutter's mill race at Coloma, El Dorado County, that the covered wagon trail grew wider and deeper. Many millions in gold have come from California's mines, and at present they produce about one-fourth of all the gold mined in the United States.

"Little thought is given to the terrific hardships endured by the '49ers in their search for gold. It was their courage and endurance that led to the rapid growth of this State, for with the discovery of gold the population was greatly increased and by 1850 California had close to 100,000 residents. Certainly no greater monument can be placed to these great builders than is our entire Golden State.

"With the inrush of goldseekers, food prices became fabulously high. At first a few, and gradually more and more, of the men turned from mining to farming, and what the soil refused them in mineral nuggets it yielded in golden fruit and grain, and eventually led them into the raising of stock. The plentiful mountain streams rendered the land productive of an amazing variety of crops. Agriculture is one of the really great developments of our State. On account of the variety of climate, soil and altitude, sensational discoveries are still being brought to the attention of farmers the world over.

"Forests of a great variety of trees constitute a great natural resource which provides much beauty and pleasure for Californians. We have the tallest of all living things, the sequoia sempervirens, and the largest of all trees, the sequoia gigantea. Sugar pine, fir and incense cedar grow in the mountains, and in the foothills and valleys are the oak and the sycamore. We are indebted to Australia for the stately eucalyptus, and Peru for the graceful pepper tree. The early Pioneers recognized the value of these great gifts to mankind, and they began the work that has made California prominent in the production of lumber. Truly they may be called builders in a literal, as well as a figurative, sense.

"Another medium for the promotion of industry is the coastal line of this State. For one thousand miles it extends out into the ocean, with harbors and bays providing shipping for the exports and the imports of the middle West. Because of its great length, there is a bewildering variety of fish. To California goes the distinction of producing one-fourth of all the fish taken in American waters. The great natural resources of this State stagger the mind. When oil was discovered in California, industry was stimulated more than had ever before been dreamed of. This discovery marked the beginning of manufacturing on a large scale in the State.

"Fortunately, the climate of California is good for crops and good for man. There is a variety of raw materials which seem inexhaustible. The development of hydro-electric power gives an assurance to industry for many years to come. Manufacturing projects of this State have a glorious future, for they will be obliged to supply the needs of a fast-growing population. There is also the increasing trade with our Pan-American neighbors to be considered. So, to the builders of these various industries go honor for their vision in the development of California.

"Much of the romance of the West is centered in the progress of transportation. The thrilling episodes of the covered wagon, the pony express, the stagecoach, the first railroad, and now the luxury steamships, the airliners and the clipper ships, make a story which leaves one breathless in the telling.

"William H. Seward, who was Secretary of State under President Abraham Lincoln, declared 'The Pacific will be the chief theatre of the world's activities.' These prophetic words were spoken a comparatively few years ago, and how true was the prophecy, for the Pacific Ocean is one of California's greatest assets. No demand or tax upon man's ingenuity is too great for the California builder. With the rapid development of our State, it has become necessary to harness her water supply to take care of the increasing demands made upon her by industry and agriculture.

"All the great engineering feats of the past seem to fade into insignificance when compared with the three great works of progress of chief concern to Californians: Boulder Dam, the two great bridges over San Francisco Bay, and the Central Valley Project. The fact that the Colorado River was a yearly flood menace to southern California and that that section would soon be in need of an increased water supply, finally led the United States Government to undertake the gigantic Boulder Dam project, which called for an expenditure of 300 million dollars. With its completion the danger of a water shortage in southern California will be ended, and vast amounts of additional water will be provided for irrigation.

"Southern California is destined to advance greatly, for electricity generated at the Boulder Canyon power plant, 270 miles from Los Angeles, will be supplied to all cities and towns, to ranches for pumping irrigation water, and for many other uses. By the development of the All-American Canal, Imperial and Coachella Valleys will have a supply of water for over one million acres of land.

"The modern miracle which confronts the ocean voyager as he steams into San Francisco Bay is too stupendous for expression in mere words. Leland Stanford, in 1867, was the first to declare that the San Francisco Bay between Oakland and San Francisco should be bridged. Now, the dream of this great Pioneer has come to pass. New problems in engineering have been met and conquered in the construction of the Golden Gate and the San Francisco-Oakland Bridges. They can be classed among the wonders of the world.

"The Central Valley Project is intended to solve the water problem of some 800,000 acres of productive lands. The area principally affected is in the great Valleys of the San Joaquin and the Sacramento. The harnessing of rivers—conserving their flood waters for seasonal needs—is another engineering feat that will rival other present-day accomplishments. Not only will these great farm areas increase in value and navigation on the Sacramento and the San Joaquin Rivers be greatly aided, but the project will stimulate further development of our Golden State.

"The name Marshall has been closely identified with the development of California. Strangely enough, it was a man by that name, Colonel Robert Bradford Marshall of the United States Geological Survey, who first brought to California a vision of water conservation. From 1891 to 1921 he campaigned for the development of this plan to protect the State's food supply. In 1935 funds from the Federal Government became available, and work has now begun on this vast Central Valley Project, which is another instance of the vision of the builders of California.

"When we consider the heritage left us by our Pioneer Fathers and Mothers, the natural resources of this great State, and the marvelous development accomplished by the builders, we feel the necessity for carrying on in the manner which they originated, that we may create in our children the same degree of inspiration that prompted the builders of California and the Native Daughters of the Golden West."

Best pioneer woman's story, $5 to Vista del Mar Parlor No. 155, "History of Mary Martinez Gonzales." Honorable mention was given Cora Nettie Yarbrough of Desert Gold Parlor No. 250 for "My Pioneer Life in Kern County," and Eloise Schilling of El Carmelo Parlor No. 181 for "A Pioneer Mother—Her Story."

Governor Frank Merriam addressed the Grand Parlor June 23, and pledged support to the proposal to make a state reserve of the Donner Lake area.

In extending the Grand Parlor an invitation to meet in San Francisco next year, the delegation from that city, attired as pirates and led by Past Grand Anne Thuesen, put on an amusement "stunt." Mae Ethel O'Keefe and her accordion furnished the music.

There was an attractive display of exceptionally good scrapbooks, sixty-one in number, and Past Grand Bertha A. Briggs, chairman Grand Parlor Publicity Committee, announced the following awards: Group No. 1, Laurel Parlor No. 6, Nevada City, best; Naomi Parlor No. 36, Downieville, and Marysville Parlor No. 162, Marysville, special mention. Group No. 2, Morada Parlor No. 199, Modesto, best; Rudecinda Parlor No. 230, San Pedro, and Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126, Santa Barbara, special mention. Group No. 3, Argonaut Parlor No. 166, Oakland, best; Long Beach Parlor No. 154, Long Beach, and Vendome Parlor No. 100, San Jose, special mention.

Representatives of the six Parlors of District No. 25—Santa Cruz No. 26, Santa Cruz; El Pajaro No. 35, Watsonville; Aleli No. 105, Hollister; Copa de Oro No. 105, Hollister; Junipero No. 141, Monterey; San Juan Bautista No. 179, San Juan Bautista;—met at an informal breakfast Tuesday morning, with Supervising Deputy Mayme Moran presiding. Miss Mary E. Brusie was the honored guest, and many regrets were expressed at the absence of Editor Clarence M. Hunt of The Grizzly Bear, usually in attendance at the gatherings of this group. A round-robin letter was sent him with best wishes for a speedy recovery and the sincere hope that he will be with us next year. Leona Geyer led in singing spirited songs of early California.—B.A.B.

RITUAL EXEMPLIFICATION.

The ritual was exemplified Tuesday evening in the new Santa Barbara Armory, which was attractively decorated with United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags. Ten candidates were initiated, nine for the hostess-Parlor, Reina del Mar No. 126, and one for Miocene Parlor No. 228. Officiating were the following officers and members of Reina del Mar, attired in white and carrying boquets of white gladioli and stock tied with apricot-hued ribbon:

Mrs. Dorothy Yule, president; Mrs. Wesley McCormick, past president; Miss Vivian Cavett, recording secretary; Mrs. Paul Miller, financial PAST GRANDS' REUNION.

The annual reunion dinner of the Past Grand Presidents was held Tuesday evening, with Grace S. Stoermer as hostess. The tables were beautiful with bowls of choice flowers in varying colors, lighted tapers in tall crystal candelabra and nut cups carrying out the fiesta spirit. Myriads of balloons honored the "baby" member, Florence D. Boyle, who was welcomed by the hostess and presented with a toy Scottie for her watchdog during membership in the College of Past Grands.

The members joined in singing oldtime songs played by an orchestra, and Estelle M. Evans, by request, sang "Sweet Mystery of Life." Congratulations were extended Emma Gruber-Foley on her birthday, and Olive Bedford-Matlock on the twenty-fifth anniversary of her administration as Grand President. Carrie Roesch-Durham told interesting incidents of early Grand Parlors.

During a brief business session, Emma Lou Humphrey and Bertha A. Briggs were re-elected as president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Informal discussions related to various matters of vital importance to the Order in general. In attendance at the delightful affair were Past Grand Presidents Carrie Roesch-Durham, Dr. Mariana Bertola, Cora B. Sifford, Ariana W. Stirling, Emma Gruber-Foley, Emma Lou Humphrey, Mamie G. Peyton, Olive Bedford-Matlock, May C. Boldemann, Grace S. Stoermer, Mary E. Bell, Bertha A. Briggs, Sue J. Irwin, Mae Himes-Noonan, Esther R. Sullivan, Estelle M. Evans, Evelyn I. Carlson, Irma W. EVENING OF THRILLS.

Wednesday evening Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W. entertained at the Tecolate Ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Silsby M. Spalding. The setting was entrancing! Under large oak and sycamore trees, 1,000 were treated to a delicious barbecued chicken dinner, served by members of the Parlor in caballero costumes.

After dinner a program of Spanish songs and dances was presented, mostly by members of Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W. Then followed a spectacular and thrilling exhibition of horsemanship in the hills above the barbecue grounds. Harry C. Sweetser was in charge of this evening of thrills.—F.H.

AMERICANS MUST CHOOSE—"The Constitution represents a government of law. There is only one other form of authority, and that is a government of force. Americans must make their choice between these two. One signifies justice and liberty; the other tyranny and oppression. To live under the American Constitution is the greatest political privilege that was ever accorded to the human race."—Calvin Coolidge.

Evidence has been discovered that a "Mayan-like" race inhabited the Mojave Desert at least 5,000 years ago, according to David Banks Rogers, anthropologist of the Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History.

A Marine Festival (Semana Nautical), presenting a nautical program of widespread interest, is set for July 2-4 at Santa Barbara.

Emma Lou Humphrey
(PAST GRAND PRESIDENT N.D.G.W., First Secretary N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Central Homeless Children Committee.)

KNOWING NATIVE SONS AND NATIVE Daughters as I do, I feel sure they share my enthusiasm and pride in the accomplishments of the N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Central Committee on Homeless Children. Each year, when the annual report appears at the Grand Parlors of the Orders, it is received with greatest interest because it records the activities of the thousands of California-born men and women who hold as their greatest philanthropy the giving of love and tenderness to the homeless children of their native state through fine homes and adoring parents.

Having directed this work in its infancy, I look back with pride and thankfulness in my heart that we have survived and grown into a great organization. Many of you may not know we began in most modest fashion—one room in the Phelan building, San Francisco, one telephone, your humble servant for one year the only worker, and office hours of from two to four because during other hours, homes must be investigated and children selected to fit them and institutions must be visited and children free for adoption listed. Week-ends were used to deliver children to homes, even as far as Los Angeles. There were many appearances at juvenile court, and thousands of other duties that could not be attended to from an office desk.

I often wonder what some folks might have thought of the line on our door "Office Hours 2 to 4 P.M." They probably smiled then, as I do now, but they would have laughed heartily had they seen five typewriters on the floor, on chairs and the table, and the secretary, in between jumps, practicing first on one then the other, in an effort to perfect herself in that great game of all beginners, the two-finger method, and trying, in the meantime, to decide which machine would make life easier. One seemed just as bad as another, but it was finally decided a choice must be made and the $105 spent. I must confess a most courteous salesman really made the decision and, to make myself feel perfectly satisfied, I remembered Mazie Roderick had said it was a good machine.

I knew perfectly well when I accepted the secretaryship twenty-eight years ago I would stay only long enough to get out letters announcing to all Parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters that the office was opened, and sufficient funds were available to really start the fine work they were told of as I traveled about the state as Grand President of the Native Daughters that year. I was sure I just couldn't stand seeing hundreds of children needing homes, and only a few people willing to take them in. However, the pioneer courage of which we read urged me to muster all the enthusiasm I had toward making as gallant a start as possible.

Needless to say, the first letters were not typewritten, but printed and sent out. Newspapers gave us the unusual publicity. Applications began to arrive, and in ten days my mind had changed about how long I could stay. Had I then been asked to relinquish my post to another, my heart would have been broken. I realized there were really more people wanting children than there were children wanting homes, and that here was an opportunity for building a monument to ourselves that would be everlasting.

Enthusiastic letters telling of the appointment of homeless children committees in all Parlors came promptly, and the eagerness with which the chairmen sought children for their applicants was most gratifying. Suddenly I remembered Grand Parlor was but a few weeks away, and my report as Grand President must be finished. Remembered, too, I must have a mighty interesting and enthusiastic report on the homeless children work, after one month of operation, in order to stimulate interest already shown by Parlors, and I must not forget a task not light was ahead. Courage might have failed, had it not been for the thought my Grand Parlor was to be in Santa Barbara, and there I had had devoted friends throughout the year—friends who believed in me and the things I had endeavored to promote, members of Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W.

The Grand Parlors of both the N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. received the news of the opening of our office with enthusiasm, and how well the Native Sons and Native Daughters have continued that enthusiasm you well know. At the end of twenty-eight years, we find ourselves more keenly alive than ever before to the importance of the magnificent thing we have done, and it is Mary E. Brusie who has been the inspiring power for the past twenty-five years.

And so, it is with thankfulness I review our progress and share in the laurels that have come our way. I am proud to have been a member of the first committee of men and women who drafted our original plans, for I still see no flaws in them. Especially do I wish to mention our first chairman, Senator Charles M. Belshaw, who was determined our "charity be voluntary and thereby reach ideal perfection." Our success throughout the years has demonstrated the wisdom of his belief.

It is to our credit that we have used our influence in perfecting laws governing adoption of children in California and setting an example for other states to follow. Being for some time interested in adoption laws of foreign countries, the past year I had an opportunity to visit many of them and learn at first hand how their laws differ from ours. In many instances, we could tell them much.

The practice of adoption has prevailed in most civilized or semi-civilized nations from earliest times. In India it is general, based on customs or religious and social ideas which vary in different parts of the country and among different classes. The probability is, that any Hindu who has no son will contemplate adoption, and the effect every adoption has on the disposition of property causes endless disputes, so the courts, including the Privy Council on Appeals from Indian tribunals, are constantly occupied with litigation on the subject.

Adoption was also common among the Greeks and Romans. The Roman law was well defined and clearly stated by the jurist and, in this as well as in other subjects, had an important influence on the law of most modern European countries, except England. Important changes were made from time to time, but it is to be noticed that from earliest times some intervention on the part of the state—official sanction—was required to give legal effect to adoptions. This principle has been generally accepted in the legislation and practice of modern states, and is also the basis of the recent change in English law.

By the French code, conditions are laid down under which adoption may take place. To give legal effect to it, inquiry must be made by the court (1) whether the conditions have been fulfilled, (2) whether the adopter is of good repute. The act of adoption must be published and registered. The adopted person reserves his rights in his natural family of origin and gains no rights of inheritance as regards the property of the relatives of the adopter, but in the property of the adopter himself has the same rights as a legitimate child. According to the French code, the adoptive parent must be fifty years of age.

In Germany, adoption is recognized and plays an important part in the social life of the Germans. It is regulated by a number of elaborate and carefully drawn provisions contained in the civil code. As in the French code, confirmation by a competent tribunal is necessary to give legal validity to an adoption. It is noted that though the adopted child acquires the legal position of a legitimate child of the adopter, the adopter acquires no right of inheritance and the person adopted acquires no rights as regards the relatives of the adopter.

Adoption is also provided for in the legislation of the British dominions. In West Australia, for example, a male may be adopted by a man eighteen years his senior or by a woman thirty years his senior, or a female may be adopted by a woman eighteen years her senior or a man thirty years her senior.

In view of this widespread recognition of adoption by law both in ancient and modern states all over the world, it seems strange that until 1926 "adoption," in the sense of the transfer of parental rights and duties in respect of a child to another person, was not recognized by the law of England. By the British Adoption of Children Act of 1926, for the first time a definite system of legal adoption was introduced. Under that act when a person makes application to be authorized to adopt an infant the court may make an order authorizing the applicant to do so. In this procedure, English law follows the precedent of the Roman law and that of most other countries, including the dominions, in requiring the sanction of a judicial or public authority for adoption of children. The welfare of the child is the paramount consideration. No payment or reward is received by the adoptive parents, unless sanctioned by the court for some special reason. The adopted child does not lose rights of succession to the adopter, but all rights and duties of parents or guardians as to future custody, maintenance and education are to vest in the adopter as though the adopted child was born to the adopter. The applicant must not be under twenty-five years of age, must as a rule be twenty-one years older than the person adopted, and the court must see that consent of proper authorities has been obtained.

In Polynesia, childless Tahitians adopt children, and those blessed with children take over additional ones while giving away some of their own. In such cases the practice cements the friendship of the households concerned and the children divide their time happily between their two homes. Adoption is an old institution in India and Japan. In Rome, since the religious headship of the family and the inheritance of property passed from father to son, the motive recognized by the law providing for adoption was the desire for an heir who would promote or continue the prestige of the family. Adoption was carefully considered in the preparation of the Napoleonic Code and with limitations the Roman provisions were followed.

Legal provision for adoption is now practically universal in Europe, Great Britain, the United States and Canada, but not so universal in South or Central America. Reports indicate adoption is probably much less frequent elsewhere than in the United States, but is increasing since the war and since new legislation recently enacted.

We have reason to feel fairly well satisfied with our accomplishments and methods and, after hearing people in various countries say, "Oh, we love Americans, they are so clever," and "America is a woman's Paradise," I have concluded that our ways of doing things have appealed to the world in general as being superior ways. As for the future of the homeless children work, that is assured, from the standpoint of the general public, for we now know there is a desire to adopt every child free for adoption. Our only problem then is financial, and this is important.

Let us constitute ourselves members of a great public speaking organization. Let us be well-versed in the real business of the N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Central Committee on Homeless Children—the cost of operation, the number of children being supported all the time, and the number placed. Let us be ready at any time to address a Parlor; to lend enthusiasm to the members who have known about the work but perhaps have grown listless; and, by interesting facts and stories, inspire new members with a desire to know more about the great project they have pledged to support. Financial support for so worthy a thing goes hand in hand with an honest, enthusiastic appeal.

BAKER'S DEFENSE OF CORA

Dr. Peter T. Conmy
Grand Historian N.S.G.W.
(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR.)

THAT CHARLES CORA AND JAMES Casey were hanged by the San Francisco Vigilance Committee in 1856 is a fact generally known by all who know anything about California history. Many of the less-detailed histories, especially those written as textbooks, leave the impression that the Great Committee, as it was called, was precipitated by murders committed by Casey and Cora. This impression is not correct. The fact of the matter is that the murder of James King of William, editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, in May 1856 by James Casey, whose record as an ex-convict from Sing Sing he had exposed, did move the masses of San Francisco to action and did bring about the establishment of the committee.

In the killing of James King of William, Charles Cora had no part. For the greater part of six months he had been confined in the county jail awaiting trial on a charge of murdering one William H. Richardson, United States Marshal, November 17, 1855. Richardson had many followers and Cora many enemies who clamored for his paying the supreme penalty of the law. Therefore, when the community was aroused to pitch heat by the murder of King, the flame smouldering against Cora again burned fiercely, and he, along with Casey, was taken in hand by the Vigilance Committee and executed.

N.S.G.W. EXCURSION TO HETCH HETCHY

DURING THE GRAND PARLOR OF the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West at San Jose last May, one of the most enjoyable events of the occasion was the annual reunion and banquet of the Past Grand Presidents, held at one of the leading hotels of that city. These fraternal gatherings bring back to those in attendance delightful memories of years of close association in the patriotic and charitable work of the Order.

Those present at the gathering in San Jose concluded to get together the following month in an excursion to the great O'Shaughnessy Dam, which occupies what was once the Hetch Hetchy Valley on the Yosemite National Reservation. This great dam, which is to supply the City and County of San Francisco with water for its domestic and industrial purposes, has lately been raised eighty-five and one-half feet and is the largest dam in the State of California, impounding at the present time over one hundred billion gallons of water.

The Past Grands, in a caravan of automobiles, left the San Francisco City Hall at noon of Saturday, June 25, crossed the great bridge spanning the bay, proceeded through Dublin Canyon, Livermore Valley and Altamont Pass of the Coast Range, then across the San Joaquin Valley and the foothills of the Sierra Nevada, viewing the historic mining camps of Knights Ferry and Chinese Camp, and rested Saturday night at the attractive club house of the San Francisco Moccasin Creek power plant, at the foot of Priest's Hill.

The next day, Sunday, following the Big Oak Flat highway, they ascended the Priest's Hill grade, and proceeded by Big Oak Flat, Groveland, Bret Harte's cabin, Buck Meadows and Mather to the O'Shaughnessy Dam, which is constructed in the deep, rocky canyon of the Tuolumne River.

It has 459 square miles of watershed, including therein some of the highest peaks of the Sierra Nevada range, among them Mount Lyell, over 13,000 feet in elevation, the rugged snow-crowned mountains in the farther distance, over 90 percent of the area being above 6,000 feet elevation, and the pine-clad ridges in the foreground, with matchless waterfalls of unsurpassing beauty leaping from lofty crags or down the canyons and presenting a wonderful landscape of unrivalled grandeur.

The total height of the dam above bedrock is 430 feet; the total length on the crest 900 feet; the length of the water-impounding reservoir or lake is eight miles, and the capacity thereof one hundred and seventeen billion gallons, sufficient to supply the needs of San Francisco for a period of six years. The elevation of the roadway on the crest of the dam, above sea level, is 3,812 feet, and the length of the tunnels and aqueducts conducting the water from the dam to San Francisco is 167 miles. There are eighty-two miles of tunnel, the one through the Coast Range being the longest continuous tunnel in the world, 28.6 miles.

An attractive club house of architectural charm, conforming to the Alpine beauty of the surrounding Sierras, has lately been constructed on a rocky point overlooking the great lake, and on the porch thereof, with a matchless panorama of California mountains and waterfalls before them, the excursionists enjoyed a bountiful luncheon and liquid refreshments.

Those who participated in this most interesting and instructive outing were: Past Grand Presidents Judge Frank H. Dunne, Judge William M. Conley, Lewis F. Byington, Walter D. Wagner, Herman C. Lichtenberger, Clarence E. Jarvis, James F. Hoey, Edward J. Lynch, Judge Fletcher A. Cutler, James A. Wilson, Chas. A. Koenig and Harmon D. Skillin; Grand President Joseph J. McShane and Grand Secretary John T. Regan. L. T. McAfee, Chief Engineer of Hetch Hetchy construction, acted as director and guide.

That Cora did kill Richardson was an admitted fact. Whether the killing could be classified as murder, or whether it was manslaughter or self-defense was a subject of grave doubt. Cora was tried commencing January 8, 1856. The case was given to the jury the 15th of the same month, and after being out and in disagreement for forty-one hours was discharged, and the defendant remanded to jail to await a new trial. It was while Cora was so confined that the Vigilance Committee took him.

His chief attorney during the trial was Edward Dickinson Baker, one of the most distinguished of early Californians. Baker became a United States Senator from Oregon in 1859. In 1861, when the Civil War broke out, he accepted a commission as colonel in the Union Army and was killed in the Battle of Ball's Bluff in Virginia in July of that year. Famed as orator, soldier, lawyer and statesman, Baker left posterity no greater monument to his genius than his address to the jury in Cora's trial. A few of the facts will be briefly summarized at this point, after which Baker's defense oration will be commented upon.

The feud between Cora and Richardson had no connection with the latter's official position as United States Marshal. Historical evidence shows that Cora was an underworld character, a gambler. It also shows that he associated with a woman of illfame from whose illicit business he frequently received money, and who went by the name of Belle Cora. Richardson was known as a man of quick temper and given to heavy drinking. A few nights before the killing, Cora had taken Belle Cora into the dress circle of a theatre where Richardson and his wife were seated. The feud grew out of remarks which Richardson made to Cora concerning the propriety of bringing a woman of illfame into the presence of respectable ladies like Mrs. Richardson.

Whether Cora or Richardson initiated the deadly assault must forever remain a mystery. Some accounts, such as the one given by the historian, Bancroft, state that Cora attacked his victim without warning. On the contrary, other versions say that Richardson assaulted Cora, who was forced to kill in self-defense. This view is upheld by James O'Meara, a pioneer California journalist who lived in San Francisco at the time. He says: "But many of Richardson's intimate friends . . . . . after due reflection and deliberation came to the conclusion that, under the circumstances, standing as he was placed before Richardson, who stood with his hands in his pockets and a derringer in each pocket, pressing his demand on Cora, the latter had one of two things to do: either kill Richardson or allow Richardson to kill him."

Baker's defense address is unusual in that he had to deal not only with the mooted points of the evidence, but also with (1) public prejudice against Cora and (2) Cora's relations with Belle Cora. The presentation is unique because Baker did not seek to pass over or to controvert Belle Cora's position. On the contrary, he admitted her relationship with the accused but gave it a majestic polish. He said, in part:

"In plain English, Belle Cora is helping her friend as much as she can. It may appear strange to him (the prosecutor), but I am inclined to admit the plain naked fact; and, in the Lord's name, who else should help him? If it were not for her he would not have a friend on earth. This howling, raging public opinion would banish every friend, even every man who once lived near him. The associates of life have fled in the day of trouble. Sunshine friends, who basked in the noontime of its beaming, have vanished in the hour of its decline. It is a woman of base profession, of more than easy virtue, of malign fame, of a degraded caste—it is one poor, weak, feeble, and if you like it, wicked, woman,—to her alone he owes his ability to employ counsel to present his defense. . . . . A bad woman may lose her virtue; it would be infinitely worse to lose her faith according to her own standard. . . . . A man who can attach to him a woman, however base in heart and corrupt in life, is not all bad."

Concerning the mooted evidence Baker said: "What could Cora expect from Richardson? Could he say, with the pistol to his breast, 'This man is too magnanimous to shoot—he has lived a life of purity and peace too long to vary from his usual course.' Gentlemen, there is no character to throw into the scales against us. Richardson bore no flaming sword of reputation to weigh against our cause and make it touch the beam."

Space will not permit further quotations. The address remains on file, and is well worth reading by anyone who is interested in California's inner past. The jury which tried Cora was not a packed one. It consisted of some of the best men of San Francisco at the time. They stood six for manslaughter, four for first-degree murder, and two for acquittal. It is quite likely that on a second trial Cora would have been acquitted. Certainly, in no case would he have been condemned to suffer the death penalty. That Cora's hanging by the Vigilance Committee was somewhat unexpected is borne out by a letter which General William T. Sherman wrote at the time the vigilance movement was at its hight.

Sherman foresaw the death of Casey, but did not mention Cora. He said, in part: "The Vigilance Committee seems to take the old one of 1851 as their model, and as that one hung their prisoner at three p. m. Sunday, I take it for granted that before the ink dries on my sheet Casey will be hung."

The hanging of Cora by the Vigilance Committee was, therefore, somewhat regretable. Admitting that he was a bad man, the question of his guilt or innocence, the question of his premeditation or self-defense, was never passed upon. On the other hand, his summary execution had an effective deterrent effect upon wrongdoing for a long time to come.

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

CEREMONIAL RITUAL AND COLOR marked one of the most outstanding installations in the history of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. when Miss Anna T. Schiebusch was inducted into the president's office July 15 in Gibson salon of the Friday Morning Clubhouse. Over 400 persons attended. The new officers wore white gowns and carried boquets of pompom dahlias in red, white and gold, and the installing officers from Californiana Parlor were attired in bouffant frocks of dusty-rose net over taffeta and carried nosegays of marguerites. Deputy Flora Jacobson officiated. The salon was lovely with many vases of flowers in the color theme of the evening.

Deputy Olinda H. Kerby acted as chairman of the evening, and Miss Grace Norton, the acting marshal, was assisted by Miss Betty Gaskill. Honor-guests were Founder Lilly O. Reichling-Dyer, Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer, Postmistress Mary Briggs, Assistant United States Attorney Betty Graydon, Supervising Deputy Hazel B. Hansen, and Grand Trustees Evalyn Towne and Mary Noerenberg. Members of Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W. acted as ushers.

At the close of the installation ceremonies, Miss Schiebusch gave an inaugural address incorporating thanks for the honor conferred on her and briefly, in an inspirational vein, mentioning some of the outstanding plans for the term. Her address was based on principles upon which the Order is founded. Referring to "Love of Home," she brought out the thought that the late Annie L. Adair personified this phrase and, in recognition of her work for the homeless children, a memorial fund was inaugurated bearing her name. "It is hoped Los Angeles Parlor will fulfill its part in this obligation during the new term," she said. Miss Schiebusch also added, referring to the phrase "Veneration of the Flag," that she will do all possible to enlarge the scope of the Parlor's participation in civic affairs.

Founder Dyer spoke of the co-operation between the Orders of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West in the early years of their existence, and expressed the hope that it would not only continue but become greater. Mrs. Elsie Amidon, on the Parlor's behalf, presented a past president ring to Mrs. Esther R. Stubblefield, retiring president. A musical program, featuring harp solos by Mrs. Julie Keelar, and vocal selections by James Meehan, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Louise Crawford, was followed by a reception at which were served ices and cake carrying out the theme of red, white and gold. President Schiebusch is foreman of the Scheme Section of the Los Angeles Post Office Department, an executive position rarely filled by a woman. She was educated in the grade school of Catalina Island, and is a graduate of Saint Mary's Academy.

Los Angeles Parlor will have no meetings during August, but a beach party at Malibu LaCosta is planned for the evening of August 8; the new officers will be the hostesses. Swimming will naturally attract, and there will be beach games and a picnic lunch. At Griffith Park Clubhouse, October 15, a mammoth card party will be held to raise the Parlor's quota of the Annie L. Adair memorial fund.—H.M.

N.S.G.W. NEWS BRIEFS.

SWIMMING PARTY.

The Interparlor Committee N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. is sponsoring a swimming party and dance at the Royal Palms Hotel, 360 South Westlake, Tuesday, August 23. Refreshments will be served. The purpose of the party is to build up a fund to assist Parlors in their big undertakings.

Tickets, 50 cents per person, may be procured at any Parlor or at the door. All Natives are urged to support the worthy cause.—A.M.D.

VACATION BEING ENJOYED.

Following a year of very worthwhile activity, Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. installed July 12 a new staff of officers, with Mrs. Wynfred B. Johnson as president, and is now enjoying a well-earned vacation until September 13. The installation rites were beautifully carried out by Deputy Leola Temby and a corps of assisting grand officers from Long Beach Parlor No. 154. They were gowned in pale green and carried harmonizing flowers, while Californiana's officers, clad in soft rose, used fascinating old-fashioned nosegays, the picture being a lovely symphony in pastel. Blue and yellow blossoms were artistically arranged as decorations. Following the ceremonies, delicious punch and cake were served. Jose Arias and his troubadours played soft music, and Marybelle Chapman rendered delightful solos.

In her installation address, President Johnson paid tribute to the retiring president, Mrs. Marcella Palethorpe, recounted the good work of the past term in the Order's projects and in civic interests, and hoped for continued friendly cooperation. She said a drive would be made for new members, a number of whom will be ready to enter the Parlor soon after the vacation recess.

The concluding social event of the Parlor's year was a delightful surprise luncheon given June 30 to honor Mrs. Marcella Palethorpe, retiring president. Twenty-five officers and committee chairmen were present, and the tables were beautified with clusters of lovely blooms. Grand Trustee Mary B. Noerenberg presented the Parlor's gift, an elegant silver tray, and Mrs. Palethorpe responded in a few well-chosen words.—O.L.

SAN BERNARDINO

CITY AND COUNTY — THE GATE WAY TO GOLDEN CALIFORNIA

A NEW LAKE CREATED THIS YEAR IN the ever-popular San Bernardino Mountains already is "grown up." Full to the brim and flowing over the spillway is Lake Gregory, in Houston Flats between Crestline and Valley of the Moon. Motor travelers thus have a new sight to see one and one-fourth miles north and slightly east of Crestline, reports the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Cradled in wooded hills, the ninety-five-acre reservoir is unique in that both the 115,000 cubic-yard dam and filled lake were created within a year. The $260,987 project was a WPA job. A rebuilt road extends around the north side and across the dam, connecting Crestline and Arrowhead Highlands on the Rim of the World route.

The new lake will be entirely open to the public, although all of the usual recreational facilities have not as yet been provided. It will center a major recreational region in an area which already attracts more visitors than any other national forest in the state. It lies 4,520 feet above sea level. The lake was named for Arthur Gregory, founder of the project.

ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED.

San Bernardino—Arrowhead Parlor No. 110 N.S.G.W. observed its fifty-first institution anniversary July 21. A good program was presented, and refreshments were served. August 3 the Parlor will initiate a large class of candidates.

Hiskey, H. Charles Vatcher and A. E. Selvidge becoming the respective presidents. Grand Trustee Walter C. Richards was a visitor and addressed the assemblage. Concluding the meeting refreshments were served.

Native Daughters of the Golden West

SACRAMENTO—GRAND PRESIDENT Edna B. Briggs, in a June 28 letter to the officers and members of the Subordinate Parlors, said: "As a Grand President assumes the duties of her office, she can easily be overwhelmed not only by the complexity of duties of such an organization, but overcome by the high standard set by Past Grand Presidents.

"However, when one pauses to think of the number of able assistants throughout our Order, and their enthusiasm for the particular work at hand, the problems seem to be shared and thus made less burdensome. Then too, your Grand President realizes that by the sharing of our work we are developing greater efficiency and setting another high mark for our Order.

"There are many ways to achieve this point, and one plan would be to give your support to the development of each project. In this work you will find a new note of spirit and interest creeping into your activities. For instance, in membership: looking about you there is sure to be some neighbor or friend who would be happy to be approached on the subject of joining the Native Daughters. It might be the means of making a new friendship. Certainly the sharing of the worthy projects of our Order is a source of greater fulfillment and richness in the life of every woman.

"We can follow every project through in the same manner and bring each one up to a point of efficiency, thus creating a monument to the builders of our Order. You can count on my entire co-operation throughout the year."
